NO. 1286.

The Register

Is published every FRIDAY, by JOSEPH GALES & SON, At Three Dollars per annum, or One Dollar and a Half for half a year—to be paid in advance.

ADVERTISEMENTS Not exceeding 16 lines, neatly inserted three times for a dollar, and 25 cents for every succeeding publication; those of greater length in the same proportion. COMMUNICATIONS that fully received. LETTERS to the Editors must be paid.

Fifty Dollars Reward.

STRAYED or Stolen from the Stable of Archibald Davis in Franklin county, on the night of the 9th instant, a likely BAY HORSE, with a black mane and tail, both hind feet white, 6 years old this spring, full 15 hands high, trots remarkably fast and vigorously. The said horse got an accidental fall last summer on very hard ground, which took the skin entirely from both knees, the effects of which may be discovered if examined closely. No other marks recollected. The above reward will be given to any person that will return the Horse to Dr. Gillett of Raleigh, or to me in Louisburg, and secure the Thief in any Jail in the State; or twenty-five dollars for the recovery of the Horse.

MILO LATIMER, Louisville, Feb. 18. wptf

Land for Sale.

ON the Tuesday of Wake County Court, in May next, will be sold to the highest bidder, before Mrs. Jeter's Tavern in the City of Raleigh, the tract of Land whereon the late Isaac Hunter lived, containing, by a late survey, 313 1/2 acres. This tract of Land has on it, a large and convenient two story Dwelling House, with four rooms below and four above stairs, and a Piazza the full length of the House; a good framed Kitchen with two Brick chimneys; a good framed Smokehouse and Dairy, and a large Granary, together with other necessary out buildings. There are three never failing springs of excellent water, either of them convenient for use to the House. This land lies within 3 1/2 miles of the City of Raleigh, and on both sides of the stage-road leading from Raleigh to Louisburg. Any gentleman who wishes to purchase a handsome, healthy and pleasant situation, would do well to attend the sale, of this land, as there is not a more desirable situation (in my opinion) in the County of Wake. One third of the purchase money will be required down; one-third next Christmas, and the balance in twelve months after the sale. Negotiable paper in either of the Banks in the City of Raleigh would be taken in payment. JAS. HOUZE, Franklin County, 16th April, 1824. 46-1s

Virginian.

It is deemed unnecessary to say more of Virginian, than that he will stand at my house in Brunswick county, at Penington's Old Ford, on Meherrin River; and will be put to Mares at thirty-five dollars the Season, which may be discharged by the payment of thirty, if paid within the season, which will expire on the first day of July next. Sixty dollars to insure. One dollar to the Groom in all instances. Mares that went to Virginian last season, and may, from any cause, have failed, will be covered again this season, gratis. Mares may be fed with grain if required, at the neighborhood price. All persons living above Mr. J. C. Goode's, and wishing to send Mares, may send them to him, and he will send them on to the Horse. JAMES J. HARRISON, March 4, 1824. 32t1m

VIRGINIAN will stand a Fall Season in or near the City of Raleigh, at 25 dollars, which may be discharged by the payment of 26 dollars at the time of putting the mare.—The season will commence the 6th of July and terminate the 15th day of August. Myself or agent will be seen at Mr. Wm. Ruffin's Tavern at any time after the 6th July. JOHN C. GOODE, April 21. 49 1m

Fifty Dollars Reward.

RAN-AWAY from the subscriber living in Guilford county, on the 20th June, 1823, two negroes, CALEB and JUDY.—Caleb is about thirty years of age, light complexion, stout made, broad across the shoulders, speaks slowly, and is about 5 feet 8 or 9 inches high. He has a long, loping walk, and bends forward considerably, as he walks; he has marks of the whip. He had on when he went away, a brown bombazett surtout coat, a striped (yara) black and white, jacket, blue cotton pantaloons and a wool hat. Judy is about forty years of age, middle size, copper coloured, quick spoken, and blinks her eyes very much, when detected in an error. She also has the mark of the whip. Judy took among other clothing the following with her: a blue grounded cotton calico frock and two muslin ones, and an old fashioned black silk bonnet. She is an excellent Weaver.

I suppose they are lurking about as free persons. I will give the above reward for their delivery to me, or confinement in Jail, so that I get them, or in proportion for either.

ABRAHAM PEEPLES, Guilford county, April 28, 1824. 49-3m.

Land for Sale

In Granville County. THE subscriber is authorised to sell Tranquility, that valuable tract of land lying in Granville county, formerly the residence of Chesley Daniel, sen. dec'd; containing 1405 acres; situate on the waters of Grassy Creek. There is a dwelling house on it containing four rooms below and three upstairs, which only needs some repairs to make it very commodious. The soil of this land is of superior quality, containing a great quantity of the most fertile creek low Grounds, and a large quantity of the best Tobacco land to clear. It abounds with the best Springs, and is otherwise extremely well watered.

The situation is distinguished for its healthiness, and lies in the neighborhood of good society. The range for Hogs is excellent, and it is in the centre of the best Grass range probably in the State. This tract of land is about sixteen miles distant from the Roanoke, the Navigation of which is now considered complete. The terms will be accommodating. The subscriber resides near the premises. WOODSON DANIEL, February 28. law3m

Notice.

I have about 10,000 acres of Land in several tracts, within the Chickasaw purchase, State of Tennessee, on the Losahatchie, Hatchie, Forked Deer and Tennessee rivers, well situated and of good quality, which I would sell or exchange for valuable lands within 40 miles of this place. The titles to the different tracts are indisputable and secured; and their situation can be ascertained on application to John C. M'Leomore, Esq. of Nashville, Tennessee, or myself. Also, I would sell the very valuable Lot and Store occupied by Mr. Nevin M'Laurin and Wm. Widdifield, jr. situated on Haystreet, extending to (and the same width on) a back street opposite the State Bank lot, within 80 feet of the Town House square; and I can with safety say, inferior to none, in point of location, for mercantile purposes, in this place. SAM. P. ASHE, Fayetteville, N. C. April, 1824. 43-6w.

Cape-Fear Navigation Company.

PURSUANT to a Resolution of the Stockholders at their last annual meeting, notice is hereby given, that the next annual meeting of the Stockholders of the Cape-Fear Navigation Company will be held at the Town-House in Fayetteville, on Friday the 30th day of May next, at which time the presence of the Proprietors, or their Representatives, is required. ROBERT STRANGE, Prest. Fayetteville, April 21. 47

Land for Sale.

THE subscribers offer for sale the Lands belonging to the estate of Thomas Bonner, dec'd, lying in Bertie county, on the waters of Cashie river, adjoining the lands of Jonathan Cooper, William Johnson and others, containing 1000 acres by estimation, most of it wood land, well timbered and watered. The land is equal if not superior to any in the neighborhood. It may not be improper to observe that the contiguity of this Land to the river, may make it desirable on account of the transportation of lumber, &c. A farther description is deemed unnecessary, as it is probable any person wishing to purchase, would first view the premises. Terms made accommodating to the purchaser. For farther particulars apply to the subscribers living in Franklin. TOLLIVER TERRELL, WILLIAM T. BONNER, Franklin, April 6, 1824. 42-3m.

EXECUTION.—On Friday last, according to sentence LEMUEL LEWIS was executed for aiding and assisting in the murder of Hinton Pugh. The unfortunate malefactor persisted to the last, that he had not inflicted any wound on the deceased, the testimony of several witnesses notwithstanding. We forbear to publish the particulars given to us in the presence of some of the Reverend Clergy of the City, for on the dead it might cast obloquy, and the living it might implicate still deeper in guilt. We deem it a duty, here to state, that Lewis lacked no spiritual or temporal comfort, which his situation demanded. The Clergy were regular and kind in their attendance, and the Deputy Sheriff, on whom devolves the care of the Jail, evinced that spirit of kindness, which is his characteristic, and which every unfortunate prisoner, from whatever cause confined, experiences at his hands.

Of the worse than uselessness of public executions, we have frequently dilated, and every new instance strengthens our opinion on this subject. It was with unpleasant feelings, although we did not witness the last struggles of nature, that we saw the hundreds, who had collected to view a fellow creature suffering the penalty of crime. Amongst the number collected, we regret to add that a vast proportion of females of every age and colour, in gay attire and with thoughtless levity, eagerly sought an opportunity to witness the separation of a soul from its earthly tabernacle, under circumstances the most awful. It is still more revolting to state the fact, that many thoughtless men returned from the scene of misery in a state of complete intoxication! What a comment on the value, as a moral lesson, of these public displays of ignominy.

Murder is the consummation of all villainy—but it is ever, nearly or remotely connected with the sins which corrupt and degrade mankind. This crime of darkest dye, may be traced to connecting vices, which too often lead to a final and terrible issue. Drunkenness, swearing, sabbath-breaking, gaming, are the strongest links in the chain which lead to destruction.

We have already exceeded our limits, but we have furnished our readers with "materials for thinking," on a subject pregnant with importance; and we trust that an impartial investigation of the subject will prepare the members of our next Legislature to vote for a PENITENTIARY.

We are glad to hear, that the Small-pox in the neighborhood of Oxford, is confined to the negro woman in whom it first appeared, and she is convalescent, so that there is no cause of alarm in respect to that case, and we do not hear that the disease spreads either at Halifax or Washington.

There have been numerous foreign arrivals, within the last fortnight, at different points of the sea-board, but the intelligence brought by them is generally uninteresting.

CONGRESS.—We have not deemed it necessary to copy the proceedings of Congress, received since our last in detail. The tariff bill continues to occupy the attention of the Senate, to the exclusion of almost every other subject, and promises to be a fruitful source of debate for several days to come. With regard to its ultimate fate in a modified shape, much is supposed to depend on the arrival of the new Senator from Illinois, who is said to be daily expected.

Nothing of striking importance has occurred in the House of Representatives since our last. On Monday, Mr. Hamilton, from the military committee, made a report on the Massachusetts claim for services rendered during the late war, adverse to such part of the claim as did not occur for services performed by the militia of that state when called out in conformity with the desire of an officer of the general government to repel invasion, or under a well founded apprehension of invasion during the late war.—On the same day, Mr. Taylor of N. Y. from the committee appointed to consider the subject of the day for terminating the present session of Congress, reported an amended resolution, proposing to substitute the 19th of May for the bill proposed by the Senate.—The report was laid on the table where it will probably continue, until Mr. Edwards is brought back to the city, and some definitive steps taken in relation to his memorial.—The Bill to reduce the several acts regulating the Post Office Establishment, has been taken up with an earnestness, which seems to indicate a determination to go through it.

The Daily National Intelligencer of the 7th instant, contains the following letter from Gen. Jackson, in answer to an enquiry made of him by Mr. Kremer, whether he had ever written a letter to the President, advising him to form his Cabinet "of two distinguished Federalists and two distinguished Republicans."

DEAR SIR: I have received your letter of yesterday; and with much cheerfulness and candor, shall reply to your enquiry.

It has been repeatedly pressed before the public, that I had written a letter to Mr. Monroe, recommending him to select for his cabinet "two distinguished republicans and two distinguished federalists;" and that to Mr. Lowrie and Mr. Findlay, Senators from the State of Pennsylvania, the letter had been read. I have not been able to persuade myself that the fact was so, inasmuch as our correspondence was private and confidential—because Mr. Findlay, who was present, has no recollection of it—because no such letter was ever written by me—and because the President denies that he read any such letter, or indeed any letter at all. I regret that Mr. Lowrie, in presenting this matter, should not recollect one material circumstance. When first it was spoken of, he stated to me and to others, that a letter purporting and declared to be mine, had been read to himself and Mr. Findlay, by the President, which advised that his cabinet should be formed of "two distinguished republicans, and two distinguished federalists." My reply to him was, that no such letter had ever been written by me; that so far as I could recollect, only one person, Col. Drayton, of South-Carolina, had been recommended to him; that I had suggested to the President the propriety of appointing him Secretary of War; for the reason that he was a man of high and honorable feelings, honest, virtuous, and of energetic character. Personally, I knew not Col. Drayton; but from information of his general character, felt satisfied he could do more to correct the feuds which unhappily prevailed in the army, than any other man of whom I had any knowledge. The contents of my letter, as read to him by the President, that two distinguished republicans, and two distinguished federalists, should be selected, was not only stated by Mr. Lowrie to me, but to yourself, and to Mr. Eaton, of the Senate, and to others.

He has changed, however, his ground, and now says, it was a recommendation to the President, to form his Cabinet from the two great leading parties of the country. Both statements are alike unfounded; no such letter was ever written by me; on the contrary, my advice to the President was, that, in the selection of his Cabinet, he should act upon principles like these; consider himself the head of the nation, not of a party; that he should have around him the best talents the country could afford, without regard to sectional divisions; and should, in his selection, seek after men of probity, virtue, capacity, and firmness; and, in this way, he would go far to eradicate those feelings, which on former occasions, threw so many obstacles in the way of Government; and be enabled, perhaps, to unite a people heretofore politically divided. I gave it as my opinion, that the best evidence of devotion to the government, its constitution, and laws, which any could afford, was when, these were assailed, to venture forth in their defence, and maintain them amidst privations, and at the sacrifice of domestic quiet. That names were mere bubbles; and he who would, as Col. Drayton had done, abandon his fire-side and the comforts of home, and continue in the defence and protection of his country, through the war, merited the confidence of the government, let him bear what name of party he might; such a man I did recommend to Mr. Monroe; he was one I had never seen; yet one whose conduct, character, and good qualities, entitled him to any and every confidence. As well might the conclusion be adduced, that I had recommended a selection exclusively from one or the other of the parties, as that the cabinet, from a motive of policy, should be kept equally poised, by appointing two of each, for my advice was, to select men of probity, virtue, and talents, without regard to party.

The voice of Washington, in his farewell address to the nation, was, that party animosity was not to be encouraged, because "it was calculated to distract the public councils, and enfeeble the public administration;" and, with his, the voice of every patriot will accord. Virtue being the main pillar of a Republican Government, unless virtuous men shall be drawn into its administration, the fabric must tremble.—Designing and corrupt men may cover their intrigues under a pretended love for virtue and patriotism; but a truly pure man will be without disguise, verifying, as he passes along, the old adage, that the tree is best known by its fruit.

My letters have, by the President, and with my consent, been placed in the hands of a mutual friend, Mr. Eaton, with permission to publish them whenever he pleases to do so. I care not when it is done, for I am without concealment of any kind. My opinions and sentiments, such as they have been written, or expressed at any time, each and every one are at all times welcome to. In public or in private letters, I breathe the sentiments I feel, and which my judgment sanctions; and no disposition will ever be entertained by me, either to disguise or to suppress them.

I am, very respectfully, your most obedient servant.

ANDREW JACKSON.

GEORGE KREMER, Esq.

The National Intelligencer, Richmond Enquirer, and indeed all the papers we receive that are friendly to Mr. Crawford's Election, are remarkable for their strict decorum, and the respectful and temperate manner in which they treat the subject of the Presidential Election. On the other hand, many of the opposition papers, such as the Washington Republican, New-York Patriot, &c. are teeming perpetually with the most vulgar abuse; using such unmeaning slang as "King Caucus"—"Romp Caucus," &c. and calling their opponents Radicals, Rads, Traitors, &c. merely because they entertain an honest difference of opinion. Can a good cause require such support? ZANESVILLE MESSENGER.

MARRIED.

In Randolph county, on the 7th ult. Mr. Alfred H. Marsh, to Miss Sarah Abbott.
