

PRESIDENTIAL

FOR THE REGISTER.

A VOICE FROM THE FOREST.

At a respectable meeting of the inhabitants of Wake Forest and its vicinity, at Mr. Harrison Smith's, on the 29th ult. convened conformably to public advertisement, "in consult on the subject of the pending Presidential election, &c." Mr. JOHN BARRHAM was called to the Chair, and Mr. SAMUEL ALSTON appointed Secretary.

After considerable discussion and interchange of sentiment, a Committee was on motion appointed to report opinions and resolutions expressive of the sense of the meeting.

The Committee retired, and after some time reported the following preamble and resolutions, which were adopted by a very large majority:

It is the right and duty of the people to consult on public measures; to investigate the conduct of their representatives; to examine the pretensions of those who are candidates for offices of trust; to guard against the usurpation of their just rights by bodies of men or individuals; and to express freely their sentiments on all subjects connected with the liberties and happiness of the nation.

In the exercise of these rights and in the performance of these duties, (recognized and guaranteed by the 18th and 21st articles of the Bill of Rights) the people of Wake Forest and its vicinity, feeling themselves now to be free, but with a fearful looking for of the time to come, are impelled to turn their attention, first, to the monstrous and dangerous usurpation of power by a body of men at Washington, elected and sent there for other and special purposes; who, known by the odious name of a Caucus, have undertaken to dictate to the people of the United States who shall be their President; and next, to the servile body of the same name and character at Raleigh, who have registered the acts of the master Caucus, and like the first have endeavored to persuade the people into a tame surrender of their rights and privileges.

Against these practices and principles we enter our most emphatic and solemn protest:

Because the members of Congress who compose the Caucus are elected for other purposes;

Because they may become the Judges of the election by the people;

Because they are the constitutional electors in the last resort, and ought not to commit themselves by prejudging the case;

Because they are exposed by their local situation and public duties, to the influence of bribes and other improper influence from official expectants that surround them;

Because they are too often office-seekers themselves, whereby their suffrages may become articles of barter and sale;

Because they always have and from the peculiarity of their situation, connection and hopes, always will, prefer a member of the Cabinet, a man of executive appointment forming a combination of the worst features of aristocracy and monarchy; affording too many opportunities, and too strong temptations for improper influence to be practised by the good or tolerated by the free.

Because they exercise a power unknown to the Constitution, and not being recognized is therefore forbidden;

Because the pleas of expediency and necessity, now and heretofore used, and forever to be used, which have in all countries and ages been unhappy's plea, would justify all and every assumption of power;

Because the further and more insulting plea proffered by the Caucus advocates, that the people want information and are not able to decide for themselves, is going at once to establish the principles of aristocracy and slavish submission, confirming by words what has been attempted in practice;

Because, in the same proportion as a Caucus has influence, it diminishes the influence and undermines the rights of the people and unless the tendency is exposed and the practice arrested, will soon grow up into a resistless power of aristocracy and monarchy, the natural tendency of all free governments and which has been the final consummation of all free governments that ever existed; finally,

Feeling it to be a duty to ourselves, to our posterity and to the world (which may profit by the success of our example) to use every endeavor to avert, or at least to delay such a calamitous catastrophe to the only well established free government on earth (after the hundreds that once existed, but are now no more) it is by this meeting, as a means of giving effect to our desires and exertions, Therefore,

Resolved, That ANDREW JACKSON, coming from the ranks of the people; possessing neither power nor patronage; unaffected by Caucus engagements; looking to no support distinct from the merited favour of his fellow-citizens; whose whole life has been a course of useful devotion to the public service; whose integrity has ever been above suspicion; and whose talents in all situations have ensured success to the noblest exertions; is, in our opinions, eminently qualified to protect the rights and subserve the interests of the people, in the high and responsible office of President of the United States.

Resolved, That we approve of the nomination of our highly esteemed fellow-citizen, JOSIAH CRUDUP, as elector on the people's Ticket.

Resolved, That his Excellency Gov. Holmes has our approbation and thanks, for his patriotic defence of the just rights of the people against Caucus usurpations, in his memorable message to the General Assembly of this State at its last session.

Resolved, That Copy of these proceedings, signed by the Chairman and Secretary, be forwarded to the Editors of the two weekly papers in Raleigh, for publication.

Test JOHN BARRHAM, Ch'n.
SAM. ALSTON, Sec.

WILLIAM H. RAWFORD.

FROM THE RICHMOND ENQUIRER.

During the whole Presidential canvass, we never felt so warm an interest in the success of Mr. Crawford, because we never have entertained so deep a respect for his character, as at this moment. His virtues and his talents win upon our regards, the more we hear of the man, the more we witness his conduct. Circumstances, which have lately come to our knowledge, have impressed us with the deepest sense of his value. Elevated above all the arts of intrigue, he has kept himself from all the electioneering expedients of the Presidential contest. On every other subject he is as frank, as bold, and independent, in the expression of his opinions, as Thomas Jefferson himself. There is no trick or temporising about him. He comes out at once, with a free and a fearless spirit; what he thinks, he utters.

Of his talents and temper, his Reply to N. Edwards furnishes a conclusive proof. Here is a man, who has been diseased for more than six months—confined to his house during almost all that period—obliged to employ a reader and an amanuensis, on account of the condition of his eyes; yet, under all these circumstances, preparing a vindication out of a voluminous mass of documents, so clear, so complete, that even his most prejudiced enemies are compelled to acknowledge its conclusiveness. And yet not one harsh word, not a single ebullition of ill temper towards his untiring enemy. We will not extol the dignity of this paper by any invidious comparisons with any other. But, if such talents, and such a temper, do not recommend a man to the first office in the gift of the nation; if a man gifted with such sound judgment, thus independent, thus virtuous, thus self possessed, thus elevated above the violence of the passions, is not qualified to become the President of the United States, we know not where we shall find a candidate who has higher pretensions.

During a period of six months, when he has been so much afflicted by disease, so much visited by persecutions, (and in a situation so well calculated to excite all his sensibilities,) not one murmur, scarcely one complaint, has escaped him.

FROM THE BOSTON STATESMAN.

SPLENDID TRIUMPH.

It is well known that the Committee to whom the charges of Edwards against Crawford were referred, was composed of Messrs. Floyd and Randolph, who were favorable, and five other gentlemen who were opposed to his election. It is also well known, that Mr. Randolph has gone to England, and that Mr. Floyd has been, during the investigation, confined to a sick bed; thus leaving Mr. Crawford in the hands of his political opponents. And what is the result? A most splendid triumph! A complete vindication from every charge! His whole conduct for a long series of years, investigated by a Committee composed of supporters of other candidates, and no spot or blemish found on his political or moral character. He has been weighed in the balance and has not been found wanting. His stern republican integrity has stood the test of every ordeal which his enemies can devise, and every trial but fixes him still stronger in the affections of the people.

The Anniversary meeting of the Raleigh Peace Society will be held at the Baptist Meeting-House in this city, on Sunday the 4th day of July, and a sermon delivered on the occasion. On Monday, the day following, the members are requested to give a punctual attendance on the business of the Society.

Trust Sale.

Valuable Lands and Plantation on Roanoke and upwards of Seventy Negroes at Auction for Cash.

ON Wednesday the 14th July next, I shall proceed to sell for cash, on the premises, and continue from day to day until the objects of the deeds of trust shall be satisfied, the valuable lands and plantation lying in the counties of Warren and Mecklenburg in the States of North-Carolina and Virginia, on the south side of Roanoke river, occupied at present by Mr. Richard Boyd, consisting of about 4000 acres. This tract, it is believed, contains more than 800 acres of flat land, inferior in quality to none on the river. The entire plantation is sufficient for the employment advantageously of 50 hands; the high land bordering on the low grounds affords healthy and agreeable situations with a number of excellent Springs. The plantation is well provided with all necessary buildings and improvements; in different parts of it there are two dwelling houses with necessary out-houses sufficient for the accommodation of the family of any person who may be disposed to purchase. These lands lie about four miles above Robertson's Ferry on the Stage Road, 70 miles from Petersburg, 30 from Weldon's Orchard, and 12 from Warrenton. Gentlemen who may be disposed to purchase are requested to view the premises before the day of sale; and I cannot do better than refer them to Mr. Henry Pitts and Mr. Francis A. Thornton, who live in the neighborhood, and will take pleasure in affording any attention or information that may be desired.

It will be an object with the Trustee to dispose of his valuable estate in such lots or divisions as may best suit those disposed to purchase, and advance the interest of the parties concerned.

At the same time and place, I shall offer upwards of 70 Negroes for sale, at present in the possession of Mr. Boyd, unless the purpose for which they were conveyed shall be sooner satisfied. These Negroes consist of all descriptions, many of them young and valuable as house servants, field hands or mechanics. Further particulars made known at the sale.

This land lies on both sides of the main road leading from Raleigh to Oxford, and contains valuable improvements—consisting of a large and commodious dwelling house, with the usual houses appendant, necessary for the accommodation of a family, and all the necessary farm houses; a small dwelling-house with other houses necessary for a small family, to which is attached a good store-house, and an ordinary good Grist Mill. There are few tracts of land better watered than this; it abounds with good springs, and never failing streams. Fifty Dollars Reward.

RANAWAY from the subscriber living in Guilford county, on the 20th June, 1823, two negroes, CALEB and JUDY.—Caleb is about thirty years of age, light complexion, stout made, broad across the shoulders, speaks slowly, and is about 5 feet 8 or 9 inches high. He has a long, loping walk, and bends forward considerably, as he walks; he has marks of the whip. He had on when he went away, a brown bombazet surtout coat, a striped (yarn) black and white jacket, blue cotton pantaloons and a wool hat.

Judy is about forty years of age, middle size, copper coloured, quick spoken, and blinks her eyes very much, when detected in an error. She also has the mark of the whip. Judy took among other clothing the following with her: a blue grounded cotton calico frock and two muslin ones, and an old fashioned black silk bonnet. She is an excellent Weaver.

I suppose they are lurking about as free persons. I will give the above reward for their delivery to me, or confinement in Jail, so that I get them, or in proportion for either.

Notice

IS hereby given to the public generally, that the Stage Line from Raleigh to Newbern will be continued, I was under the impression, for some time past, that I should be compelled to abandon running my Stage on this route, in consequence of my pay being too inconsiderable to defray the expences of this establishment, but knowing that it was a desirable thing to the public generally that the Stage should continue to run on this route, I have lately, together with many respectable gentlemen, petitioned the Postmaster-General to give me some additional compensation for conveying the mail in a Stage, and thereby enable me to continue running a Stage for the accommodation of Travelers; and, through the means of my respectable friends, the department has agreed to add some additional compensation to that of my former contract; therefore I shall continue to run a Stage punctually without doubt. This Stage route intersects with the Fayetteville and Norfolk line of Stages at Waynesborough. I have lately added another team of horses to the route, and my Stage being in good repair, I pledge myself that nothing shall be wanting on my part to render those comfortable who may think proper to travel with me. I have a good careful driver and good horses on the line. The Stage will leave Raleigh and Newbern as heretofore (say, leave Raleigh every Friday at 6 P. M. and arrive in Newbern on Monday by 2 P. M. Leave Newbern every Tuesday at 6 A. M. and arrive at Raleigh on Thursday by 6 P. M.). Any person wishing to send trunks, boxes, or other packages of any kind, shall have them conveyed safely, and at reasonable rate. I therefore hope to merit a portion of encouragement from the public.
