ELECTION RETURNS.

Columbus.....Alexander Forme S. Luke R. Simmons and Caleb Stephens C. Sampson.....Thomas Boykin, S. David Underwood and.....Joiner C.

The New-York Statesman, speaking of the Congressional Elections in this State, says, "of the eleven gentlemen from North-Carolina who attended the Caucus, all except one or two remain at home." Before people make positive assertions, it is strange they do not take pains to discover the truth of what they are about to advance. There were only nine (not eleven) of our delegation attended the Caucus. Of these, four have been re-elected to Congress, and a fifth, Hutchins G. Burton, (though a Caucus man) has been elevated to the Governorial Chair. There are also two members who did not attend the Caucus, left at home.

The time approaches rapidly, when he who has been a "Nation's Guest" for more than a year will leave our shores for his native land. The beautiful frigate Brandywine, which will have the honor of bearing him to his friends & home, is, we learn in complete readiness for his reception. The eighth is the day fixed for his embarkation.—In a letter to Mr. Skinner of Baltimore, he says, that he dines on Thursday with Commodore Morris and a large company; on the 6th of September, his birthday, with the President; on the 7th, he will leave Washington to meet the Brandywine at the nearest point, and embark on the 8th. On the evening preceding his departure, the President's house will be thrown open, that all may have an opportunity of bidding him farewell. He will carry with him the benedictions of the whole nation, and many an aspiration will be offered up to Heaven for his prosperous voyage.

On Friday last, the two Regiments of the Militia of this County were reviewed by Brigadier-General Blount, of Nash, accompanied by his Aid-de-Camp, Major Drake.

Agriculture.—The Committee appointed by the Board of Agriculture of this State, to prepare and attend to the publishing of a Volume on Agricultural Subjects, for the use of our Agriculturists, containing also Professor Olmsted's Geological Report, have made considerable progress in the Work; and as soon as certain expected Essays shall be furnished by the Gentlemen who have promised them, (which it is hoped will not be much longer delayed) the work will appear and be distributed as directed by the Legislature.

The citizens of Washington are about giving Commodore Porter, a public dinner, as a testimony of their respect for his private worth and public services. This must be peculiarly gratifying to the hero of the Essex, under existing circumstances. We regret to perceive that some papers, not content with promulgating the sentence of the Court Martial, are filled with ungenerous and cruel reflections on the Commodore. He will not, we trust, regard their ill-natured remarks; for he should know by this time, that,

He who ascends to mountain's tops will find The loftiest peaks most wrapt in clouds and snow;
He who surmounts or subdues mankind Must look down on the hate of those below.

The Family Visitor, a religious paper printed at Richmond, announces the publication of a pamphlet, entitled 'Irenicum, or an humble attempt to make a Reconciliation between the Bishop of North-Carolina and some of his dissenting brethren, by shewing that they do not differ so widely as the public have been led to suppose, by the Rev. Robt. B. Cross.

The last Fayetteville Observer states, that of the signers of the Cumberland Compact, published in the Register not long since, three are yet living in Cumberland County, besides David Shepherd, who resides in Fayetteville.—They are Samuel Carver, John Elwell and Benjn. Elwell.

The President of the United States has appointed Alfred Conckling of N. York, to be Judge for the Northern District, vice Roger Skinner, dec'd.

Bolivar.—It has already been stated in the Columbian papers, that two attempts had been made to assassinate the Liberator Bolivar. A letter from Bogota, published in the London journals, says that this friend of mankind had escaped the dagger of the assassin, which had been raised against him, no less than seven or eight times. In the recent secret murder, at Lima, of Mr. Montegudo, it was ascertained on examining the body, that he had been stabbed with a sharp instrument. This led to the examination of all the cutlers in the city, when one of them stated that he had sharpened two poinards, at the request of a negro, with whose name he was unacquainted, but that he should know him if he saw him again. "A proclamation (continues the writer) was immediately issued, ordering a general enlistment for the army, but excepting all slaves and black men. It was a trap laid for them as necessary for the service of the city; to which effect they were ordered to call for a bill of exception at the office of the Adjutant-General. They presented themselves accordingly; and the cutler, who was concealed, easily knew the owner of the two poinards, who having been suddenly grasped, as the murderer of M. Montegudo, and asked where the two poinards, were, answered by confessing his guilt, and producing one of the two; he added, that as he could not have been discovered but by the decree of Providence, he would declare that he had been seduced to that crime by the Governor of the castle of Caflao (see the model of that infamous Ferdinand!) and that the other poinard was to be found within the sleeve of the left arm of General Bolivar's head servant, who was to murder him in the night of that very day. The poinard was found as it was said."

We learn from the Norfolk Beacon, that the whole French fleet, which lately put in there, got under weigh on Monday morning, and stood out for sea with a west wind. On the Friday evening previous, the officers of Fortress Monroe gave those of the fleet a very splendid Ball, which was likewise attended by all the respectable citizens of Norfolk, Portsmouth and Hampton. Admiral Grivel was present, accompanied by most of the Captains of the fleet and such of the Sub Officers as could be spared from duty; but Admiral Jurien was prevented, by indisposition, from attending. Such acts of national hospitality are always attended with the happiest consequences.

The Mobile Register of the 9th inst. estimates the deaths in that city, of yellow-fever, at 25 to 30, within the preceding three days. The city is almost depopulated. The public offices have been all removed into the country—and a guard has been established to keep watch day and night, for the preservation of the property of absent citizens.

Hebrew Christians.—Erasmus K. Simon, who has, for some time past, in different parts of this country advocated the cause of a Hebrew Christian Community, and solicited protection for it during its struggling infancy, has lately declined the invitation given him by the New-York Board of Directors for the proposed Community to reside on a farm recently leased by them in West Chester, for the purpose of a settlement, objecting to the regulations proposed by the Board for the government of the Community.

A London Literary work of the 2d July, states, that the life of Napoleon, by the Author of Waverley, is certainly to be forthcoming. It is to be comprised in four volumes, besides a preliminary volume, bringing down the history of the French Revolution, to the day when Napoleon commenced his military career.

Propelling Force.—The Newburgh, N. Y. Gazette says, that Capt. Henry B. Myer, of that village, has invented an improved method of propelling vessels. The superiority of this plan over the common paddle wheels, says the Gazette, "has been tested by careful and fair experiment; and at the most unfavorable trial, the result was 41 to 26 in favor of his machine, the same power being applied to each."

Lamentable Occurrence.—Mr. John Adamson, one of the most respectable citizens of Camden, S. C. was found dead, occasioned by wounds from a gun. Mr. Lewis Ciples, another respectable resident of the same place, has been arrested on a charge of having perpetrated the deed.

NEW-YORK.—It is stated, that a finished house, without a tenant, is not to be found in this great city!—and that well-dressed families are observed to be occupying houses, of which the builders do not appear to have accomplished the work so far, as to have fully closed them in by doors and windows!

A St. Thomas paper of Aug. 3d, received at the Philadelphia Coffee House, says that the late storm raged with terrible fury at St. Kitts, St. Martins, Dominica, and Martinique; but that of all the islands, Gaudaloupe suffered most severely. At Bassaterre, five hundred houses, and most of the public buildings were destroyed, and one hundred and fifty dead bodies dug out from under the ruins.

A letter from St. Thomas of the same date says, "we have just learned that all the vessels at Porto Rico have been driven ashore."

More Benefits from Canal Navigation.—We are informed upon good authority, that numbers of fine species of fish, hitherto taken in Lake Ontario and its tributary waters, and commonly called the Oswego Bass, have been caught, within a few days in the Hudson, at Stillwater. To arrive at Stillwater they must have come via the St. Lawrence, the Sorelle, Champlain, Wood Creek and the Champlain canal! Troy Sent.

Courage is one of the most dazzling of virtues. It always challenges our admiration, and according to Doctor Johnson, our respect too.

Sir George Lisle signalized himself upon many occasions in the civil war, during the reign of Charles I. particularly in the last battle of Newbury, where in the dusk of the evening he led his men to the charge in his shirt, that his person might be more conspicuous. The King, who was an eye witness of his bravery, knighted him on the field of battle. In 1641, he rose for his majesty in Essex, and was one of the royalists who so obstinately defended Colchester, and who died in its defence.—This brave man, having tenderly embraced the corpse of Sir Charles Lucas, his departed friend, immediately presented himself to the soldiers who were ready for his execution. Thinking they stood at too great a distance, he desired them to come nearer: one of them said, 'I warrant you, sir, we shall hit you.' He replied, with a smile, 'friends, I have been nearer you, when you have missed me.'

Agricultural College.—An attempt is making in Massachusetts to establish an agricultural institution for preparing young men for a life of agricultural pursuits. In this age of professions, when every boy, whose parents can scrape money enough together to buy a diploma, must have a profession, we think no plan could be more useful.—Only make agriculture a profession (in the polite sense of the word) and it will be the most honorable in the world's estimation, as it is in fact in the eye of wisdom, of all the callings of men.—The plan is the most laudable undertaking we have seen. Agriculture is a science, the most useful, healthful, and delightful, of all the departments of human employment, and only requires to be taught in a scientific manner, to make it sought after with more avidity, than any other of the learned professions.—Balt. Pat.

Important Discovery.—Mr. Frederick A. Mayo, of Richmond, in company with a person lately from the Mines in Saxony, after exploring the greater portion of the Western part of Virginia, for Minerals, have nearly succeeded in discovering a Copper and Tin Mine, each of considerable extent, and, as it respects quality, as good as any in Europe; one in Wythe and the other in Grayson county. We are also informed that a positive arrangement, in writing, has been entered into between a company of gentlemen in Richmond and the owners of the land, by which the former are to pay the latter (after all expenses are paid) a certain dividend of the net profits arising from the Mines—the Company to have the privilege of the land, ore and metals, with the necessary use of timber and water, as long as the persons composing it, or their representatives may require. It is impossible to estimate the immense importance to Virginia and to the United States, of this discovery, if the Mines be properly worked, as both of these valuable metals (Copper and Tin) are used in large quantities throughout the Union, in our manufactures, independent of the quantity of Copper used for our shipping—& more particularly as we are forced to obtain both articles from Great Britain, under considerable disadvantages. We therefore wish this enterprize all the success that it deserves, and that may be reasonably expected to result from it. Our informant also states, that, in the same body of land, a bed of Zinc Ore was discovered at the same time; and if this be the case, the advantage of the other discovery will be greatly enhanced, as Zinc is a metal used to convert Copper into Brass.—Whether the Copper Ore contains any other valuable Metal, (which is sometimes the case) we are not yet informed. We confine ourselves to the facts stated, of the correctness of which there is no doubt.

Lynchburg Virginian.

Fire in New-York.—A fire broke out about three o'clock in Greenwich street, New-York, on the morning of the 23d ultimo, between Murray and Warren street, which destroyed about twenty buildings.

Tennessee.—The following is a complete list of the Representatives from this State, to the 19th Congress:

A. A. Alexander, Robert Allen, Jno. Blair, John Cocke, Samuel Houston, Jacob C. Isacks, John H. Marable, James K. Polk, James C. Mitchell.

Caution to Ladies.—We understand that at a fashionable tea-party in this city, the young lady of the family, as usual, was called upon to perform the honours of the tea-table. In the course of it, she had occasion to rise from her chair, to reach an article on the opposite side of the waiter. In the act of resuming her seat, the end of her corset bone unfortunately hitched in the rim of the waiter, and terrible to relate, tilted the whole of its contents in her lap!—Hot coffee, boiling tea, cream, toasts, cakes, &c. in one indiscriminate mass! The scene of confusion which followed, may be easily imagined. As this is given to us for a fact, we deem it a fit occasion to admonish parents, particularly mothers, entirely to discountenance these unseemly articles of female attire. Consequences to health, far more injurious than scalds, are known to have followed their use.—Phil. Gaz.

Queer Case.—The Grand Jury of St. Lawrence county, N. Y. have found bills of indictment against the Judges of the county for repeated vexatious neglect of duty, and for suffering the terms to pass without opening the court.

A Mr. Coventry, of London, has published a book to prove that Lord George Sackville was the real and sole author of the famous letters bearing the signature of Junius.—It is said that he has succeeded in his object.

Great projects in Egypt.—It is stated in a late French paper, under the head of Alexandria, (Egypt,) May 1st, that the great demand for Indigo from foreign countries, has induced the Viceroy to order the cultivation of this plant in several of the provinces to the eastward of Cairo.—The Viceroy has also ordered the construction of a new Canal, which will cross Cairo and extend more than 30 miles into the Serkant. To execute this great work, thirty millions of talari, (one hundred and twenty millions of francs,) and four years labor will be necessary. Three thousand houses in this city will receive indemnity in lands, with the obligation to plant them with Indigo. More than fifty thousand men will labor day and night in digging the Canal which will convey a great quantity of water into the provinces beyond Frajum. N. Y. Mer. Ad.

THE OLD MAN'S COMFORT.

BY SOUTHBY.
You are old, Father William, the young man cried,
The few locks which are left you are grey;
You are hale, Father William, a hearty old man;
Now tell me the reason, I pray.
In the days of my youth, Father William replied,
I remember'd that youth would fly fast,
And abused not my health and my vigor at first,
That I never might need them at last.
You are old, Father William, the young man cried,
And pleasures with you pass away,
And yet you lament not the days that are gone;
Now tell me the reason I pray.
In the days of my youth, Father William replied,
I remember'd that youth could not last;
I thought of the future, whatever I did,
That I never might grieve for the past.
You are old, Father William, the young man cried,
And life must be hast'ning away;
You are cheerful and love to converse upon death;
Now tell me the reason I pray.
I am cheerful, young man, Father William replied;
Let the cause thy attention engage;
In the days of my youth I remember'd my God,
And he hath not forgotten my age.

MARRIED.

Mr. Jas. Marsh to Miss Ellen Bowen, both of Beaufort county.
And Mr. Wm. Woodard to Miss Carolina Blount.
In Rowan county, on the 23d inst. the Rev. Jas. Stafford to Miss Dovey Johnston.
In Montgomery county, on the 24th ult. Jno. B. Martin, Esq. to Miss Nancy Harris.
Also, in Montgomery county, Arthur Harris, Esq. to Mrs. B. Harris.

DIED.

On the 29th ult. after a violent indisposition of only four days, Mr. Jas. Bullock, a very wealthy and respectable planter on Nutbush in Granville county. Mr. Bullock always bore the character of an honest and industrious man, an affectionate husband, a humane master, a good neighbor and a fond and indulgent father to his children, of whom besides grand-children, he has left eleven to cherish his memory and to mourn his loss.
Death has again been among us, and stricken down an Elder of the People—a good & venerable man—an useful and respected citizen—a pious, learned, and eminent Minister of the Gospel. The Rev. Dr. Richard Furman, departed this life on Thursday afternoon, followed to the grave by a very large and respectable number of his fellow-citizens, & interred in the cemetery of the Baptist Church of this city, over which he had presided for the last thirty-eight years.
Charleston City Gaz. 27th ult.
At Morgantown, 30th June, Bess Bell Cassine, so well known by the character drawn of him in Capt. Riley's Narrative. He was apparently in perfect health in the afternoon, but on leaving the Mosque, after performing his devotions at sunset, he complained of a pain at the heart, went home, and in an hour he was no more. He bore an excellent character, and was greatly esteemed by all who knew him.
