Raleigh Register.

TUESDAY, OCTOBER 4, 1825.

The Superior Court for this County, commenced its Fall Term yesterday, Judge Donnell presiding. It is believed, that Jared Chamblee who was committed to our Jail, last April, charged with having murdered Edwin K. Lyle, and a man named Kelly, committed about the same time, on a charge of Grand Larceny, will be tried during the week.

We have heard with a degree of pleasure, in which we believe, that all our friends who knew the man in life, will participate—that the gentlemen of the bar practising in Salisbury district, in a tone of liberal feeling, that reflects the highest honor upon themselves and their profession, have raised an adequate sum, by subscription, for the purpose of erecting a monument over the grave of the late ARCHIBALD HENDERSON. It has been designed by Mr. Nichols of this city, and is to be constructed of white marble, and sculptured under his direction, with suitable emblems and an inscription. The drawing which we have seen, executed by that architect, is in his usual style of chaste and classic elegance, and will, when completed, place almost in sight of the Appalachian mountains, where but a few years ago, the savage and the beast of prey contended for the dominion of the forest, one of the choicest specimens of the refinement of art and civilized life.

No lawyer of this State has left an earthly bar to appear at a heavenly one, within our remembrance, whose memory presents stronger claims to the grateful veneration of his brethren, than that of Mr. Henderson's. The rare endowments of his mind, never called into exercise, but under the invariable direction of unblenched integrity—his pure and elevated sentiments of professional duty—the cordial and undisguised detestation he felt for all the little arts of chicanery & perverted ingenuity that tended to obscure or conceal the real merits of a case, and the disinterested zeal, with which he was ever ready to engage in the cause of persecuted merit or oppressed virtue—had long since placed him at the summit of legal fame, and contributed in no small degree to illustrate his profession, by cleansing from it those weeds of vulgar malignity and rooted prejudice, which the casual but almost unavoidable admission of unworthy members, would occasionally nourish. The wit and satire, and we may add calumny, of which the law has been prescriptively, a fruitful theme—the curious Saint that was assigned to it as a patron, became pointless and colourless, when aimed at a profession of which he was the head and universal exemplar.

At est bonus, ut melior vir Non alius quisquam

We learn from the Philadelphia Aurora, that the President of the United States left that city on Monday, at 12 o'clock, for Quincy. Mrs. ADAMS, being still too much indisposed to travel, will remain with her son and niece, in Philadelphia, until she may sufficiently recover to pursue the journey. If she should not regain her health in a few days, she will proceed no further north. Mrs. Adams not being by any means dangerously ill, the President was induced, by a strong sense of filial duty and affection, to complete his visit to his father, who anxiously & confidently expected him the present season.

Messrs. Gales & Seaton have just published the first volume of the Register of Debates in Congress. It contains 512 large octavo pages, in small type, price four dollars. Besides the Debates of the last Session, there is an Appendix, containing the most important public documents, and the whole of the Laws of the last Session.

The New-Haven Register states, that the State of Connecticut has about 30,000 dollars in the stock of the Eagle Bank, which has just suspended its payments. The notes of this Bank were selling, on Friday last, at New-Haven, at a discount of from 10 to 12 1/2 per cent. and, on the day preceding, had been disposed of at 25 per cent. loss.

An application is to be made to the Vermont Legislature, at its next session, for the grant of a canal to connect the waters of Lake Champlain and Connecticut River.

The Montreal Herald of the 17th inst. says, "By yesterday's mail we have received a New-York paper of the 13th inst. coming in three days, being the first that ever came in as short a time.

The Creeks... It appears by the following order issued by Gen. Gaines, on the 12th inst. that Mr. Adams has resolved to enforce the Creek treaty of cession:

Head Quarters, Eastern Department, Milledgeville, Geo. Sept. 12, 1825. ORDER.

The Commanding General of the Department, publishes for the information and government of all whom it may concern, the 8th article of the Treaty between the United States and the Creek Indians bearing date the 12th day of February of the present year, which is as follows:

"Art. 8. Whereas the said emigrating party cannot prepare for an immediate removal, the United States stipulate for their protection against the encroachments, hostilities and impositions of the whites, and of all others; but the period of removal shall not extend beyond the 1st of September in the year eighteen hundred and twenty-six."

The party designated in this article, as the "emigrating party," is deemed to consist of every Indian residing within the ceded territory, embraced in the treaty. Measures are taken, pursuant to orders from the Department of War, to ascertain, at each village within the ceded territory, the names of the Chiefs and warriors, with the actual number of men, women and children, residing therein, preparatory to a meeting to be held in the said territory, for purposes connected with the treaty, on the 20th of November next.

The commanding officers in the Creek nation will afford every requisite facility for the safe and speedy accomplishment of this duty—and they will protect the Indians agreeably to the treaty. Intruders and mischief-makers found among the Indians, will be arrested and turned over to the civil authority, to be proceeded against according to law.

Reports and other communications for the General, will be addressed to him at Augusta, until otherwise directed. By order of Maj Gen. Gaines. E. G. W. BUTLER, Aide-Camp.

Gov. CASS and Gen. CLARKE, who had been appointed by the Government for the purpose, have succeeded as mediators, in the establishment of a general treaty of peace between the nine nations of Indians of the Upper Mississippi. The meeting took place at Prairie du Chien between the mediators, and the representatives of the Sacs, Foxes, Iowas, Ottawas, Chippewas, Pottawattamies, Menomines, Sioux, & Winnebagoes; and resulted in the amicable adjustment of all differences, and has happily prevented a war, which but for the timely and wise intervention of our Government, would have been inevitable.

We are sorry to find, from the subjoined paragraph, that sickness has again assaulted the infant colony of free blacks at Mesurado:

A letter from Mr. Hodges, the U. States' Consul at the Cape de Verd Islands, to the Editor of the New Bedford Mercury, states that it was very sickly at Sierra Leone, and that many of the Europeans were leaving. The American colony at Cape Mesurado was also said to be in a deplorable state.

many of the colonists sick, and Mr. Ashman, the Agent, dangerously ill of a fever. Mr. W. H. Mortimer died at Sierra Leone, June 14.

The following extract from the Troy Sentinel, shows, that the great improvement which has been made in our modes of travelling is not confined to the communication between our Atlantic Cities:

Rapid Travelling.—The rapidity of travelling in the United States, and the means of public conveyance, have so increased within a few years, as to become a matter of astonishment. A friend informs us, that a gentleman now in Troy, travelled from Erie, a distance of 490 miles, in 79 hours, and was detained by business at Buffalo and Canandaigua from two to three hours; this is about 130 miles a day. Another gentleman arrived at the same time in 10 days from the Falls of St. Mary, which are a little side of Mackinaw. He was detained two days at Detroit and four hours at Utica, leaving seven days and twenty hours to travel 1100 miles, which is near 140 miles a day.—Such are the signs of prosperity in a land of freedom. No wonder the country grows and strengthens so fast, when every part enjoys such easy intercourse with all the rest.

Outrageous.—On Thursday evening, the 8th inst. an attempt was made to take the life of one of our citizens, which fortunately proved unsuccessful. The facts, as related to us, are these: a little after dark, the wife of Mr. Wm. Hicks, residing near this place, had occasion to go out of doors, when she discovered some person near the house in a standing position, which alarmed her very much. She instantly called her husband to come there and see who it was, whereupon a gun or pistol was flashed at Mr. Hicks; he turned to run, and as he entered the house a pistol was fired at him, but did not take effect. The miscreant took to his heels and made his escape.—Halifax Press.

A murder of a very aggravating nature was committed in Anson county, on Richardson's creek, on the 16th inst., for the particulars of which we are indebted to a gentleman of this town, who has recently been travelling in Anson. It appears, that a man by the name of Leigh, in company with his nephew, went to the house of Frederick Staton, for the purpose of enquiring into his conduct for unmercifully beating a negro woman, belonging to the elder Mr. Leigh. After some altercation a quarrel ensued, and as Mr. Leigh was in the act of stepping into the piazza, Staton discharged a gun at him, but he fortunately being in reach of it, directed its course, and the contents were lodged in the ceiling. After which, Staton immediately raised the gun, and with one blow brought Leigh to the floor: he then stabbed him in several places, which soon terminated his existence. As soon as the elder Leigh was despatched, a battle took place between Staton and the nephew, whom he soon brought to the floor with the breech of his gun, and also stabbed him; he then left them both weltering in their blood, and locked himself up in a room. His family, it appears were all at home at the time the horrible transaction took place. He was found in his room on the evening of the same day, in a state of intoxication, and is now lodged in jail to await his trial. Catawba Journal.

Some confusion took place on Monday night in the old Baptist Meeting house, where Miss Ripley, a lady of the Quaker persuasion, was preaching, in consequence of a false alarm in the gallery. A bench broke down or cracked, and the alarm was given that the gallery was breaking down. The house was very much crowded, and many, not knowing how far the alarm was founded, rushed from the gallery and house to the doors. There was a great noise, and many persons were squeezed, and one or two thrown down amid the confusion, and somewhat bruised; but we are glad to hear of no limbs being broke. Such panics frequently seize on large crowds; self-possession on the part of the resolute, and an attempt with a loud energetic voice to quell the steps of the flying, are the best modes for arresting the tumult.—The preacher stood firm, as well as the Minister of the Church, doing what they could to abate the alarm. Some of the congregation remained; and the service concluded with a prayer and singing.—It is unnecessary to say that the pillars of the Church still stand fast. (Ricord. Compiler.)

Chapter of accidents.—A tremendous fire in Montreal on the 7th ultimo, laid waste 25 houses. Ten persons were seriously hurt and one killed, on the 6th inst. in Wiscasset, Maine, by the premature blowing up of a rock, charged with 3 lbs of powder.—An idiot was shot dead lately, by mistake, in Montreal, by five men who were watching for a robber. Mr. Gayle, of Richmond, Va. accidentally shot himself with a gun, while climbing a tree by aid of an Indian ladder.—At Columbus, N.Y. on the 5th inst. a young man's gun went off while he was resting his chin upon the muzzle—and killed him. While insane, John Shorick, sen. hung himself on the 10th inst. at Bellefonte, Pa. Eight houses were burnt down in Philadelphia on Saturday week. On the 11th inst. two heavy shocks of an earthquake were felt in Burlington county, New Jersey. Part of the tunnel of the Union Canal, near Lebanon, Penn., lately caved in on eight laborers, of whom four were killed.

A man by the name of Caldwell, was lately indicted in Massachusetts for the crime of embracery. The indictment alleged, that Caldwell, knowing that the Grand Jury had been impanelled for the purpose of acting on such matters and things, as should come before them, and that a complaint had been preferred against himself, said to two of the Grand Jurors, "You will have a complaint against an essence pedlar before you to day, and I hope you won't find a bill against him, for he is a very clever fellow: however, you may do as you please." The prisoner was found guilty, and sentenced to pay a fine of fifteen dollars.

The subjoined remarks of the Editor of the Massachusetts Spy on this subject, are worthy of notice:

"This offence, in the present instance, under the circumstances of the case, may be thought to be a very slight one; but jurors ought to be most strictly guarded against all bias or corruption; and, therefore, embracery is described as being "any attempt, whatsoever, to corrupt, or influence, or instruct a jury, or in any way to incline them, to be more favorable to one side than the other, by money, promises, letters, threats or persuasions, except only by the strength of the evidence, and the arguments of the counsel in open court, at the trial of the cause, whether the jurors, on whom such an attempt is made, gave any verdict or not, or whether the verdict be true or false."—It being a common law offence, the amount of the fine is at the discretion of the Court. The crime is also punishable by imprisonment."

By an arrival at New-York, from France, advices from Paris are received to the 19th ultimo; but they do not furnish any additional intelligence from Greece.

The Spanish finances are represented to be in a most distressing situation. There is not enough on hand to pay the door-keepers of the Treasury; and every one is railing at the monks, who detain in their possession sufficient to pay all the national obligations. It is said that the object of the French troops in returning to Spain, is to insist on the sale of their effects.

The visit of the Duke of Wellington to Paris is stated in one of the journals of that city, to be connected with the present embarrassed situation of Spain.

AGRICULTURAL HYMN.

Great God of Eden! 'twas thy hand, That first clad earth in bloom, And shed upon a smiling land Nature's first rich perfume: Fresh at thy glance the flowers sprang, Kiss'd by the Sun's first rays— While plain, and hill, and valley rang With life, and joy, and praise.

God of the Clouds! thy hands can ope The fountains of the sky, And on th' expectant thirsty crop Pour down the rich supply. The Farmer, when the seed-time's o'er Joys in the mercies given— Thanks on thy promis'd harvest's store, And smiling looks to Heaven.

God of the Sheaf! to thee alone Are due our thanks and praise, When Harvest's grateful labor's done, On Plenty glad we gaze: Then shall our thoughts on Heav'n rest, Thy grace we will adore, And thank that God, whose mercy's blest Our basket and our store.
