

POETRY

FROM THE KENTUCKY ARGUS.

TIME.

O'er yonder cliff which, towering high,
Restrains Kentucky's foaming pride,
I viewed the torrent hurrying by,
Swelled by a thousand streamlets' tide,
And rushing down with dreadful sweep,
To join the billows of the deep.

SIR HAL

C. within a few miles of William Bullock's store, and will be let to mares at the moderate price of twenty dollars the season, if paid before it expires, or twenty five dollars, payable the 25th day of December next, with one dollar to the groom in every instance, payable when the mares are put—very excellent pasturage well enclosed, for the benefit of mares left with the horse, gratis; they shall be fed according to directions, at the neighborhood price, the money for which to be paid before the mares are taken away—every attention shall be paid, but no liability for escapes or accidents. Should any gentleman prefer to put by the leap or insurance, he can do so by writing to that effect, on proportionable terms with the season.

SIR HAL is 8 years old this spring, the handsomest, most elegant mover, best formed and substantial horse, ever on the American turf—a fine dark brown, fifteen hands high, with black legs, mane and tail. Perhaps there never appeared on the turf, a horse so generally admired. Read his performances—see if they have ever been equalled;—and then examine the records of the different Jockey Clubs, and see if they are not correctly stated.

MILLBROOK, FOR SALE.

The Subscriber wishes to sell a large and highly improved situation, having thereon a most superb dwelling house, the workmanship of which is no inferior to any in the State; with every out house thereto attached for its convenience, and a spacious ice house. A Mill, on Big Fishing Creek, within two hundred yards of the dwelling, having four grists, viz. one pair of Burrs, one pair Cologne, two pair Albany stones, two sets bolting cloths, one screen and fan, a cotton gin with 52 saws nine inches in diameter, and a saw mill, all in good repair;—a tumbling dam, filled with rock nearly one hundred yards in length, with a fine rock foundation, which renders it safe from undermining at all times. To these conveniences may be added about three thousand young apple trees and twice that number of young peach trees, all of which are beginning to bear and ere long will yield an abundant harvest; as great pains have been taken in pruning and manuring them. At the Quarter, (one mile distant) is a very valuable granary 32 by 36 feet, with two sheds 32 by 22 and 30 by 22 feet. There are attached to the premises about 2000 acres of Land, well connected; about 240 of which is pine wood, the rest may be considered creek lands, and first rate for this part of the country, good for corn and very suitable for cotton, tobacco and wheat, with twelve constant running springs thereon. A residence of ten years has sufficiently proved this a healthy situation. A quantity of household and kitchen furniture may be had with the premises, should the purchaser need. Those wishing to purchase, I presume, will first view the premises, and I flatter myself they will be highly pleased; as it is generally reckoned one of the most desirable situations in the state.

GEORGIA RIVER LANDS.

For Sale, a Bargain, 1030 ACRES OF FIRST QUALITY LOW GROUNDS IN ONE BODY.

ON the margin of Ocmulgee river, about 10 miles below Fort Hawkins, the depth and richness of the soil equals that of celebrated Old Fields. Some part of the land is cleared and under fence, the remainder covered with large trees and big cane, affording a plentiful support to Hogs and Cattle, has no undergrowth, and is easily cleared, and has several good fishing places in it—lies remarkably level, and is all fit for cultivation, with the exception of a few small Lagoons, Creeks and Cuts, an inconsiderable part only adjoins the Back Swamp. None but the high winter freshets rise on it from the Back swamp. There is not the least long mass on the trees, and the first settlers, living ever since on the margin of the swamp, found the situation extremely healthy. Two convenient Pine Wood Bluffs are on the opposite shore. The soil is peculiarly adapted to bring the richest Crops of all kinds of Southern Produce, chiefly Corn and Cotton—the Sugar Cane has been successfully tried in the neighborhood, and is expected in a short period to become one of the principal staples. The produce is cheaply conveyed in Boats to the port of Darien, and what is not sold there, at a small expence to Savannah. Suitable situations for settlements in the adjoining high pine woods can be had reasonably. Several respectable Farmers from North Carolina who intended to move to the westward, purchased Land there in preference, being sensible of the superior facilities this country affords to new settlers, with the advantage of selling their produce at home or conveying it to an old established and sure market.

Individuals or Companies disposed to remove to rich and healthy Southern River Lands, may find it worth their trouble to examine those offered, which Mr. Robert Johnson, (near Mr. Ferril Belcher's) will show. For further particulars, a line addressed to the undersigned proprietor, will be duly attended to—whose attention being directed to mercantile pursuits, will give a bargain for the whole, or a part. PROPOSALS.

By ABRAHAM SMALL, No. 112, Chesnutstreet, Philadelphia. For Publishing by Subscription, a new and improved Edition of Willich's Domestic Encyclopedia. In three volumes octavo—corrected, amended and rendered more valuable by many Additions, particularly in the articles relating to Domestic Medicine, the Veterinary and Culinary Arts.

By THOS. COOPER, Esq. Profes or of Chemistry, SOME years ago, Dr. Willich of London published a work under the title of Domestic Encyclopedia; a work not intended to present a full account and present state of all arts and sciences, geography, biography and history, but a brief view of those articles of knowledge which a master and mistress of a family would wish to be informed as to a Parvular Dictionary, not of words, but of things—a book of family reference, in a moderate compass.

The public felt the want of such a book, and it sold with great rapidity. In this country Dr. Mease was engaged to edit a revised and improved American edition of it. He did so; and added greatly to the value of the work. A very large edition was sold, and the public now call for another.

The American edition of Dr. Mease was in 5 volumes octavo; objections have been made to the size and to the price of the work. A new edition is now offered, in which these objections have been attended to. It will be comprised in 3 volumes octavo.

It is requisite to give some account of the improvements proposed in the present edition; for it ought to keep pace with the knowledge of the day. The publisher has applied to professor Cooper to superintend it, who has undertaken to do so. Many of the articles of Dr. Willich's work were useless; many were unnecessary views and opinions, which the present state of science requires to be corrected; many articles of great use, and appropriate to such a work, require to be added. The articles of Domestic Medicine, in particular, require attention and additions; the Culinary, the Veterinary part of the work is too brief in the former plan. Much that a family would desire to know is omitted, and much is contained in the work that tends to increase its bulk and its price, without adding to its utility. To all these points the present editor, Mr. Cooper, will certainly attend; and he promises, without new-modelling the work, or encroaching unnecessarily on Dr. Willich's part of it, to make such additions and corrections, as will render it a truly useful family book, and, conformable to its original title and intention, a Domestic Encyclopedia.

It shall be printed in three large handsome octavo volumes, on a superfine paper. It shall be illustrated with many plates and cuts, applicable to, and explaining the subjects treated of. It shall be delivered to the subscribers at $3 50, in boards, per volume, or in complete sets, at $10 00 per copy. The price will be advanced to non-subscribers. Subscriptions received by J. GALE, Raleigh.
