

POETRY.

AMAN'S HYMN.

Lord of the deep and stormy wave!
When billows roll, and tempests rave:
When clouds career, and lightnings flash,
And bursting thunders loudly crash—

Lord of the Ocean's boundless space!
Look down from thy high dwelling place;
Control the winds, restrain their power;
And when portentous threatenings lower,

Lord of the whirlwind, storm and cloud!
Preserve upon the uncertain shroud
The seaman's steps, when mounting high;
He sees above one boundless sky—

Lord of the earth, and sea, and sky!
At whose behest our prospects lie,
On thee alone our hopes depend,
Be thou the vent'rous seaman's friend;

Lord of the wide and trackless sea!
Whose presence fills immensity,
Protect our bark from rock and shoal,
And waft us for our wished for goal;

Lord of the ocean deep and drear!
No foe can hurt if thou art near;
Lord of the heavens, earth and sky!
Oh! hear the shipwreck'd seaman's cry,

A NEGRO MAN COMMITTED.

ON Saturday night last, a negro man was taken up here by the City Watch and lodged in Jail. He appears to be about 22 years of age, of a middle size. Says his name is DICK, and that he belongs to John Pearce, but gives no intelligible account of the residence of his master, who, he says, lately purchased him from Mr. McEachern, of Robeson county, in this State. All which may be false, as he appears to give a confused account of himself and his owner.

The owner of this Negro, on proving him to be his property, and paying the expences incurred by his confinement, may have him restored.

And in cases of claims preferred for the benefit of any other than the claimant, the memorial to be exhibited must further set forth, when, why, and by what means, such other has become entitled to the amount, or any part of the amount, of the said claim.—The memorial, required to be exhibited by all claimants, must also set forth, and certainly declare, whether the claimant, as well as any other for whose benefit the claim is preferred, is now, and at the time when the said claim arose was, a citizen of the United States of America—where he is now, and at the time the said claim arose was, domiciliated—and if any, what change of domiciliation has since taken place. The said memorial must also set forth, whether the claimant, or any other who may have been at any time entitled to the amount claimed, or any part thereof, hath ever received any, and, if any, what sum of money or other equivalent or indemnification, for the loss or injury sustained, satisfaction for which is therein asked.

And that time may be allowed to claimants, to prepare and file the memorials above mentioned; it is further—
