RAN AWAY

FROM the MISSES PULLIAM, on the 20th instant, their Negro Woman LYDIA.—She carried off with her a homespun checked light-ground frock, a striped muslin do. a white cambric do. frilled, a light calico do. one bed, two sheets and a blanket. If any one will be kind enough to take her up they will be rewarded for their trouble.
Lydia is tall, yellow complexioned, rather a dead-looking eye, stoops in her shoulders, her teeth not good and has lost part of her back ones, as may be seen when she laughs.—She is very artful, and can tell a good tale, so as to be believed by those who are not well acquainted with her. She is about 30 years of age. All persons are forwarned from harboring her.

NOTICE.

SOMETIME in the month of August last, I gave a permit to William Johnson, my apprentice, to come up from Fayetteville to his mother's near Raleigh. He at that time had a very sore leg & wished to be with his mother, in which request I indulged him the said William. He has not yet returned.
The said Apprentice is about 18 years of age. Masters of vessels and others are cautioned against harboring, employing or carrying him off, or aiding him in any respect; as the law will be rigidly enforced against all such offenders.

FRIDAY, JANUARY 25, 1822.

City Officers.—The annual election for Intendant of Police and Commissioners of the City, took place on Monday last. J. Gales was re-elected Intendant. John Dunn, Charles Manly and John Y. Savage, Commissioners of the Middle Ward; Isham Hendon & John Gorman, Commissioners of the Eastern Ward; and Richard Roberts and Wm. F. Clarke, Commissioners of the Western Ward. This evening the newly elected officers will organize themselves, and appoint their Treasurer, Secretary, Constable, &c.

The citizens of Wilmington have resolved at a late public meeting, to petition Congress for a repeal of the present restrictions on the West-India trade, and in favor of passing a Bankrupt law.

Counterfeit Notes.—The Branch Notes of the Farmer's Bank of Virginia are so well counterfeited, that it requires the nicest scrutiny to detect them. Several of the Banks have been deceived by them. The paper of these Notes is rather lighter than that of the good Notes, and the shading of the Vignette, particularly the under-part of it, is paler than the original; and what is most material, the dot under the No. in both ends of the Note, is open, whereas in the counterfeit it is entirely black. The same plate has been used for the different Branches and for Notes of $0, 50 and $100. The letters are A. B. C. and D.

We perceive by the papers, that imprisonment for debt is abolished in the state of Kentucky.

The Legislature of Maryland has granted an annuity of 300 dollars to Luther Martin, Esq. once the pride of the Maryland Bar, now labouring under Providential affliction.

The Legislature of Maryland have before them a bill for the improvement of the River Susquehanna, which authorises the Mayor and City Council of Baltimore to create a stock, and issue certificates to the amount of 50,000 dollars for that object, at an interest of not more than six per cent. the payment of which the state guarantees.

United States Senator from Ohio.—We learn, from Columbus, (Ohio,) that the election for a Senator of the United States, vice William A. Trimble, deceased, resulted in the choice of Ethan A. Brown, the Governor (at the time) of the state of Ohio. The election was closely contested; and, on the 9th ballot, the other candidates being dropped, Mr. Brown received a majority of one vote over Thomas Worthington, formerly a Senator from that state. The other two persons voted for, were John McLuan and William Henry Harrison.

Cesar A. Rodney, now a Representative in Congress from the state of Delaware, is elected a Senator of the United States from that State for six years from the fourth day of March last.

Levin Wales has been appointed, by the President of the U. States, with the consent of the Senate, to be Surveyor of the Lands of the United States, south of the State of Tennessee, vice T. Freeman, deceased.

Col. Trumbull's picture of the surrender of General Burgoyne with his army to the United States' forces under the command of General Gates, in October, 1777, has been placed in the room of the Academy of Fine Arts, in New-York, for exhibition, previously to its being carried to the seat of government. This is the third of the series of paintings, by this distinguished artist, under the authority of the National Government, the whole of which are to be placed in the Capitol at the City of Washington.

Remnant of Royalty.—In the state of New-York, (says the Petersburg Republican) Gov. Clinton still adheres to the royal custom of delivering a speech to the two branches of the Legislature, instead of following the republican practice of sending a message. In the year 1820, the Assembly objected to the continuance of this remnant of royal custom: but the objection has not been attended to. At the present session of the Legislature of that state, a committee was appointed to take into consideration Gov. Clinton's "most gracious speech," who made a lengthy report on the subject, and recommended the adoption of the following resolutions:

Resolved, That this House approves of the declaration of the late Assembly, "that the custom of delivering a speech by the executive to the legislature, at the opening of the session, and of returning an answer to the same, is a remnant of royalty, not recommended by any consideration of public utility, and ought to be abolished."

United States Fourth Census.—The following statement of the population of the United States for 1820, is given in the National Intelligencer of the 1st inst. In 1810, the number of inhabitants in the U. S. were 7,238,421.—In 1820, 9,625,734, making an increase in ten years of 2,387,313.

According to the late Census there are in the United States, Foreigners naturalised, 53,755; persons engaged in Agriculture, 2,065,558; in Commerce, 79,397; in Manufactures, 849,247. Free persons of color, 233,998.

The duties on manufactured goods in 1818, amounted to $11,947,200; in 1819 to 8,676,161; and in 1820 to 4,420,959; being a loss to the revenue from that of 1818, of upwards of seven millions and a half of dollars. The total revenue which accrued in 1818, amounted to $26,095,300; in 1819, to $21,425,700; and in 1820, to $15,184,546; a loss of the revenue between 1818 and 1820, of $10,910,654.

A bill was reported in the House of Representatives yesterday, the title of which is "a bill to authorise the occupation of the Columbia river." Yes, reader, you may believe it, for it is true, that a bill is before Congress, and for aught we know ought to pass, for establishing a Colony now, to be hereafter a Territory, at the mouth of the Columbia river, about forty degrees of longitude west of Washington, and by water distant, how far we know not, but at the least ten thousand miles. The territory, however, belongs to the United States, and we understand that already our Eastern brethren resort there for timber which they transport to the Southern Provinces of America, where that article is scarce. It will soon become necessary, if it be not now, to establish a post there; and it may be well to anticipate those who may else undertake to establish one for us, seeing that their attention is already turned in that direction.

The first section of the bill provides, that the President of the United States shall be authorized and required to occupy "that portion of the territory of the United States on the waters of the Columbia river," and to extinguish the Indian title to a portion of it; that every actual settler, being the head of a family, shall be entitled to a certain quantity of land, and every unmarried settler, or mechanic, also, shall be allowed so many acres, after a probation of a limited time. When the population of the settlement amounts to two thousand souls, all that portion of the territory of the United States, north of the 42d degree of latitude, and west of the Rocky Mountains, is to constitute a territory of the United States, under the name of the TERRITORY OF OREGON. The bill then goes on to provide how the government of the said Territory is to be organized and administered.—Nat. Int.

Conspiracy against the Law.—A society has been formed in Pittsburg, (Mass.) the members of which are to refrain from going to law with their brethren, and are required to settle all disputes between themselves, however important, by arbiters, selected from a board created for that purpose, who receive as compensation, at the rate of 75 cents per day. It is called the "Adams Patriot and Economical Society," and now consists of about 200 of the most respectable citizens.

Maj. Kearney, of the U. States Engineers, & his associates, (Lieutenants Thompson, Turnbull and Alston) are now engaged in surveying Mobile Bay, Bay and Harbor, and the passes leading from the Bay to the Western lakes or inland passages, so much used by vessels bound to the Mississippi coast, New-Orleans, &c. One of the principal objects of the survey being, we learn, to ascertain the propriety of constructing works of fortification, on Dauphin Island, as well as to furnish useful information to the navigators of our waters, which are so rapidly increasing in importance, a fact we are pleased to find our government mindful of, as is manifested in this mark of their attention.—Mobile Com. Ad.

A new system of propelling boats by steam, has been invented by a person in New-Bedford, by which a boat 36 feet long may be propelled by 2 men 4 miles in 20 minutes; and it is thought the plan may be applied to propelling the largest steam-boats with more velocity and much less power than is required by the present system.

The Roman Bridge in Holland.—Groningen. The Roman Bridge, which was discovered in Holland in 1818, is now wholly cleared from the turf with which it was surrounded. It is 3 miles long and 12 feet broad. It was laid by the 15th cohort of Germanicus, over the marshes, in which deep beds of turf have since been formed, and in all probability, it gradually sunk into the marsh by its own weight. The resinous particles which are in the marshy soil, have probably contributed to preserve the bridge, which is entirely of wood. Every six feet there were posts to support the railing, as may be judged by the holes in which they were fixed. This great work, which consists of a judicious number of beams, appears to have been wrought with very large axes; the workmanship is admirable.

CONGRESS—LATEST PROCEEDINGS.

THURSDAY, JAN. 17.
Mr. Floyd, from the committee to whom was referred an enquiry into the expediency of occupying the mouth of the Columbia river, and of regulating the intercourse with the Indian tribes; reported, in part, a bill to regulate the intercourse with the Indian tribes within the United States, and territories thereof; which was twice read and committed.

On motion of Mr. Walker, the committee on the post office and post roads was instructed to inquire into the expediency of establishing a post route from Waynesville, at Haywood courthouse, in North-Carolina, to a place laid off for a town seat, on Tennessee river, in the late purchase made by the United States from the Cherokee tribe of Indians.

An engrossed bill, to provide for the due execution of the laws of the United States in the State of Missouri, and for the establishment of a District Court therein; was read the third time, passed, and sent to the Senate for concurrence.

The House resolved itself into a committee of the whole on the bill for apportioning the representatives of the several states to Congress, according to the Census of 1820.

Mr. Lowndes thought it improper to consider the bill at this time, not only because complete returns had not been received from S. Carolina, but because the State of Delaware was without a representative on the floor—one (Mr. Rudney) having been elected a Senator, and the other (Mr. M'Lane) having gone home on account of sickness.

Mr. Ball, thereupon moved that the committee rise and report—which motion was negatived.

After some discussion of the subject, the House agreed nem. con. to consider the word "forty," before the word "thousand," in the bill as reported by the committee a blank, so as to leave the apportionment unfettered by any rules or questions of order. The following numbers for the ratio of apportionment, were thereupon proposed:

By Mr. Keyes, of Vermont.	75 000
By Mr. Van Wyck, of N. York.	55 000
By Mr. Morgan, of N. York.	52 000
By Mr. Tracy, of N. York.	50 000
By Mr. Williams, of N. C.	49 000
By Mr. Unham, of N. H.	47 000
By Mr. Mallary, of Vermont.	47 000
By Mr. Abbot, of Georgia.	46 000
By Mr. Wood, of New-York.	45 000
By Mr. Barber, of Ohio.	44 000
By Mr. Gebhard, of N. York.	43 000
By Mr. Edwards, of N. C.	42 00
