CONTRACTORS WANTED.

TO complete the residue of the Clubfoot and Harlow Creek Canal, situated in Carteret and Craven counties, N. C. This Work will consist of about 100,000 cube yards of excavation.

Also for building a Timber Lock on the said Canal.

Proposals in writing for both or either of the above Works will be received at my office, where Plans and Specifications are ready for the inspection of those disposed to contract. HAMILTON FULTON, State Engineer. Raleigh, Feb. 14. 69

$100 REWARD.

RAN AWAY from the subscriber, living near the Cheraw Hills, South-Carolina, Negroes DAVID and HARRISON. David is an old man, and as I bought him in Hertford county, it is probable he is lurking somewhere in that quarter. Harrison is a young man, and is no doubt harbored or concealed somewhere in Southampton county, Virginia, where he was bought. I will give the above reward for the apprehension of the said Negroes, or sixty dollars for Harrison and forty for David, if delivered to me or confined in any Jail, so that I can get them. DANIEL COOKE. 71 St. Feb. 27.

UNIVERSITY OF NORTH-CAROLINA.

THE undersigned (being the Building Committee) will receive Proposals to the 1st day of April next, for the following Work, to be done at the University, to wit:

1st. Putting an additional story on the old building, making it three stories high—covering it with heart-pine or cypress shingles—and finishing the additional rooms in the same style with the other rooms in the same building.

2d. Erecting an additional building of the same dimensions with the old College building, and finished in like manner.

3d. Repairing the walls and roof of the principal building and making alterations in the arrangement of some of the rooms.

The Proposals must state the cost of the materials, and the price of the workmanship. The Undertakers will be expected to find every thing necessary for the buildings.

Further particulars may be known on application to Suicide.—A young man, named Wm. Hornsby, who had been employed for a short time by Captain Cobbs, in the carriage-making business, was found, a few days ago, hung in his cravat, on the limb of a dogwood tree near Neuse River, so low, that he was upon his knees. Hornsby was from Baltimore, and is supposed to have been in a state of partial derangement, symptoms of which had been observed whilst residing here.

Ploughing Match.—On Wednesday the 27th inst. a Ploughing Match will be held at the Parish House, in Surry county, Va. for the following Prizes offered by the Agricultural Society of that county, viz. the 1st prize, a Silver Cup, of the value of $30, for the best double-horse plougher; the 2d and 3d prizes, two Ploughs, for the best & second best single-horse ploughers. We should be glad to see a practice so well calculated to promote the improvement of Agriculture, adopted in this State.

A new Turnpike Road.—An act has passed the Virginia Legislature establishing a Turnpike Road from Petersburg to the Northern Boundary-line of this State. We hope the time is not far distant, when this State will authorize and continue to the South-Carolina line, a good substantial Road to meet it, so that we may at least have one good road through the State. Mr. Fulton, our State Engineer, is already directed by the Board of Internal Improvements to make a Survey and Report on the road from this City to Fayetteville, which will doubtless lead to the making of a good & durable road.

Clubfoot & Harlow's Creek Canal. We are happy to learn that this important Work will probably be finished in the course of the summer. To the growth of Newbern, and the improvement of the neighboring country, one great obstacle has heretofore opposed itself as insurmountable—the want of a safe, expeditious and convenient navigation. This obstacle will now be removed, and for a smaller advance of money than a fourth of what is annually wasted in the expence of lighterage. At Beaufort there is an Inlet from the Ocean, wide and direct, with eighteen feet of water—and a harbor perfectly safe, capable of containing fifteen hundred sail, and from which a vessel may reach the Ocean in one hour's sailing. The Canal is but ten miles from Beaufort, & twenty-seven from Newbern. In twelve hours, boats carrying three hundred barrels may pass from Newbern to the sea shipping at Beaufort. Our merchants will no longer have to dread Occoek Bar and the Swash. They will be saved the constant drain of lighterage, the heavy expences of detention, & the dreadful hazards which are the necessary attendants on our present miserable navigation.

The steam-boat Maid of Orleans, arrived at Charleston, from N. Orleans, is intended to supply the place of the Commerce, between this and Cheraw. She is a fine boat, with copper boilers—supposed to be the fastest boat of her power now running. Is particularly adapted to the trade—of a light draft of water, carrying her own freight—193 tons burthen, & can take on board from 1000 to 1200 bales of cotton.—It is contemplated by the owners of the Pee Dee and Maid of Orleans, to form a regular line from this place to Cheraw, to meet half way & exchange loads. This arrangement will much facilitate the intercourse between this and the western parts of North and South-Carolina, and give to Charleston the trade which nature intended. Already, there have been upwards of 10,000 bales of Cotton shipped from Cheraw; beside this, the company have further contemplated connecting this line with the line of stages running to Fayetteville, Raleigh, &c.; thereby taking off nearly 150 miles of land conveyance, between Charleston and Fayetteville. This route will be equally as cheap, if not cheaper, and will avoid all the bad roads, and high and dangerous rivers between this and Fayetteville: They also intend conveying carriages and horses as well as passengers.—Ch. Courier.

Under an act passed by the Virginia Legislature providing a Commissioner to attend the Legislature of Kentucky, and for other purposes. Benjamin W. Leigh is appointed, to repair to Frankfort in the State of Kentucky, for the purpose of calling the attention of the Legislature of that State to the Preamble and Resolutions adopted by that Assembly, on the subject of the claims of the officers and soldiers, sailors and marines, entitled to bounty in lands, for military service, and to use his best endeavors to procure the passage of such laws as will best comport with the views of the Legislature as expressed in the said preamble and resolution. In case the Legislature of Kentucky should not accede to the measures above proposed, the said commissioner shall, in that event, ask of the General Assembly of Kentucky to cooperate with the Legislature of Virginia in organizing a Board of Commissioners conformably to the 8th article of the compact between the two States, with authority to decide all matters in difference between them. It shall be the duty of the Agent appointed by the Executive under the act of the last session of the General Assembly, entitled, "an act concerning the military lands lying southwest of the Tennessee river in the State of Kentucky," if the other duties of his appointment will allow it, to attend the Commissioner appointed under this act, at the seat of government in Kentucky, and afford him such information, as is in his power relative to military claims aforesaid.

The cultivation of the Sugar Cane has commenced in East Florida, with such prospects as to leave little doubt of its entire success. The planting took place in the first week of February—the cane being carried from Georgia.

The Senate of the U. S. has agreed to the Resolution proposing an amendment to the Constitution of the United States, as it respects the election of Electors of President and Vice-President of the U. States, and of Representatives in Congress (proposing that an Elector shall be chosen in each Congressional district) together with the following amendment proposed to the resolution by the Select Committee, to which it had been referred:

"And, at the same time, the two additional Electors to which each State is entitled shall be chosen by the persons so qualified to vote, in such manner as the Legislature of the State shall direct."

The Senate of the United States, on the 6th inst. having under consideration the bill to establish a government for the Territory of Florida, on motion of Mr. King, of Alabama, agreed to strike out the following section, 23 votes to 20:

"No slave or slaves shall, directly or indirectly, be introduced into the said territory, except by a citizen of the United States, removing into the said territory for actual settlement, and being, at the time of such removal, bona fide owner of such slave or slaves; and every slave imported or brought into the said territory, contrary to the provisions of this act, shall, thereupon, be entitled to, and receive his or her freedom.

A bill is now before the House of Representatives, having been reported on Monday last by the Committee of Ways and Means, the title of which is "a bill to revive and amend the several acts imposing duties on imports and tonnage." This bill proposes certain alterations of the present tariff of duties on imports; and we incline to think, has a chance of being discussed—and, if discussed, of being passed, at the present session of Congress.

The principal object of the bill is to increase the duties on silks, iron, hardware, and a variety of specified articles & to change certain duties, which are now ad valorem to specific duties. Nat. Int.

The Convention of the State of Vermont, chosen to consider certain amendments to the Constitution of the State, met at Montpelier some days ago. Jonas Galusha was chosen President of the Convention. They met on Thursday, deliberated on Friday, and dissolved and departed home on Saturday, leaving the Constitution as they found it.

New-York, March 5.

Yesterday being the day on which the state authorities took the oath to support the New Constitution, the event was celebrated in this city, by a grand military parade, the display of the national flag, salutes, illuminations, &c. The day was remarkably fine, and the whole ceremonies were performed in a very handsome style. According to arrangements, the brigade of artillery, under command of Gen. Stevens, formed the line at the Battery at 12 o'clock, and were reviewed by Gen. Moron, after which, three salutes of 52 guns were fired, which were answered by Fort Columbus, the Navy Yard, and the U. S. ship Cyane—all the bells of the churches ringing at the same time. The troops then took up the line of march through Broadway and the Park, when the marching salute was received in front of the City Hall. At 1 o'clock, the Corporation received the congratulations of the citizens and military. In the evening the City Hall, Theatre, Tammany Hall, Washington Hall, Museum, and many other buildings, were brilliantly illuminated, and exhibited appropriate transparencies.

Extract of a letter from a gentleman a Buenos Ayres to his friend in the city of New-York.

"Gen. Carrera is no more. He was treacherously delivered to his enemies by one of his officers, carried to the spot where his brother died, and was shot. He refused to be blinded and died like a martyr; but, horrid to relate, his head, arms and legs, were severed from his body, and sent to different provinces—Ramirez shared the same fate. Order is again restored in the interior. The present administration is very popular, and daily gaining ground; all their measures tend to the general good and prosperity of the country."

A person was lately asked to contribute his mite to educate the heathens in India! What are we aiming at? We have a capacious country, increasing daily in population. Every effort of the government, of states, and of individuals, is required to improve the condition and promote the happiness of our own people; to make them good citizens, moral and correct men; why, therefore, should we exhaust our resources in raising contributions for missionaries to go to India? Let us look at home; disseminate pure and tolerant views of religion, and we shall then have done our duty here, and have a right to expect approbation hereafter.

POSTSCRIPT.

CONGRESS.

SATURDAY, MARCH 9.

The Speaker having announced the order of the day, the House again resolved itself into a committee of the whole, on the bill to establish a uniform system of bankruptcy.

Mr. Randolph rose and resumed the speech which he commenced yesterday in favor of striking out the first section, and spoke about two hours.

Mr. Wright then rose and replied in a speech that occupied the House until 3 o'clock, when the question on striking out the first section of the bill was taken and decided in the negative—ayes 59, noes 79.

Mr. Tracy rose and remarked, that he had not felt disposed to say that Congress ought not to pass any Bankrupt bill, but he had not thought that the bill on the table, in its present shape, was entitled to the favorable consideration of the House. He would frankly admit that, in whatever degree he had lent to it his approbation, he had been more influenced by sympathy, than by any well-founded conviction that society would be benefited by its passage. Yet he could not forbear to remark that his sympathy on the occasion was as broad as the objects to which he could wish to extend it. He wished the bill to be not partial, but general in its provisions, if it should be allowed to prevail; and perhaps one of the most forcible appeals in its favour was, that the community had hitherto expected in vain from the States, that relief which it was proved they were not competent to afford. Under this impression he begged leave to submit the following amendment, to be added at the first section of the bill.

And provided, also, That all persons whatsoever not embraced in the foregoing description who may, within 12 months from the time of passing this act, apply, in writing, to the judge of the district court in which he shall reside, setting forth his willingness to comply with all and singular the provisions of this act, shall, to all intents and purposes, be deemed and taken to be a bankrupt; and the same proceedings shall be had in relation to such persons as if he, she, or they, were actually using the trade of merchandise by buying and selling in gross or by retail, and in manner herein before directed, declared a bankrupt, and on such application a commission shall be awarded in the same manner as in other cases provided for by this act.

Mr. Sergeant remarked that the question now presented was an important one, and entitled to reflection; he therefore moved to rise and report progress, which was carried.

The following appointments have been recently made by the President of the U. States, with the advice and consent of the Senate:

Ashur Ware, to be District Judge for the District of Maine, vice Albion K. Parris, resigned.

Jeremiah Cuyler, to be District Judge of the U. States, for the District of Georgia.

More Piracy.—The schr. Shepherdess, Capt. Frink, which has arrived at this port from the Havana, was, on her passage from Havana, when about 15 miles from the former place, boarded by a boat containing 15 armed men. They attempted to board the Shepherdess early in the morning, but refrained from so doing in consequence, as it was supposed, of the steam-boat, that runs between the two places, being in sight. These pirates treated the captain and crew in the most inhuman manner—beating the captain severely, and tortured him in a number of different ways, to compel him to disclose where the money was concealed that was on board; which he was compelled to do. They set fire to the vessel, and threw the captain overboard; but as it was a perfect calm, he was enabled to get on board again without injury; and the fire was extinguished before it did any serious damage to the vessel. They cut loose the boat belonging to the schooner, and robbed her cabin of every vestige of goods, furniture, &c.—They left the vessel very precipitately in consequence of a sail heaving in sight. The value of the articles, together with the money, taken from the schooner, amounted to about $1000. There is but little doubt that these villains intended to burn the vessel & murder the crew. It was understood at Matanzas, that the steam-boat would render assistance, on her passage, in case of vessels being boarded by pirates but upon the Captain making signal no attention was paid to it by her. The boat came from the shore to which she immediately returned. Cape-Fear Rec.

We have received another communication from Dr. Ward, of Tarborough, which shall appear in our next.
