"Who reads American Books," say the British Reviewers! To which we answer, who will hereafter forbear to read them? Every day multiplies the pretensions of America to literary taste, and establishes her claim to the character of a learned, a scientific and literary people.

We are led to these remarks from having recently received a few copies of Judge Johnson's (of Charleston) Sketches of the Life of Gen. Greene. Biography has been called the younger sister of History, and the designation is not inappropriate. It embraces those minutiae of life, those interesting domestic details, which remind us of scenes of juvenile pleasure, and the enforced, but necessary duties of early life. Such details, when narrated like the Biography before us, assimilate themselves to every man's feelings, & find corresponding sentiments in every heart. The early life of Gen. Greene, so ably, and so agreeably delineated by his Biographer, ought to be read by our youth as a text book, from which to copy their ideas of filial duty, of industrious habits; of persevering attention to mental improvement. Of pure aspirations after the acquirement of knowledge, and of that noble spirit of Independence which renders America the wonder of surrounding nations. To these traits of character, Gen. Greene added a spirit which courted difficulties, and encountered danger unappalled—unsubdued bravery, and that bold and fearless courage which led him to victory—to honour!

The Author has enriched his own impartial and energetic history of the "times which tried men's souls," with extracts from the correspondence of the great man whom he has honoured by his labours, and no one can read the letters of Gen. Greene without breathing to himself, "he was a great and good man." We presume not to speak of the intrinsic value of this Work, as a literary performance.—We leave this to able pens, to more enlightened judges—but we doubt not it will pass with credit the ordeal of public opinion.

To North-Carolinians, the life of Gen. Greene must be particularly acceptable, as in this State his military prowess was fully displayed, and there are still living some who partook of the dangers and glories of that period; and many who fell in battle, or have since deceased, have left families who must feel great interest in those times, which, though long passed by, can never be sunk in oblivion.

The Work is very neatly printed, in two handsome quarto volumes, embellished with a number of plates.—We have only one wish ungratified in respect to this work. It is calculated from its size to adorn a library, but we wish the respectable author would, at some future day, print a small and portable edition, which would come within the purchase of all ranks.—National Histories should be in the hands of the rising generation generally, and descend to posterity, as beacons to light them to future usefulness and honour.

When the narrow limits of a weekly paper will permit, we will enrich our columns with the early life of Gen. Greene.

Bridge at Milton.—We have pleasure in stating (says the Milton Gazette) that the Commissioners, appointed at a public meeting some few weeks since to take the necessary steps for opening a subscription for stock, and organizing a company to erect a Bridge across Dan River opposite this place, have, through the polite assistance of the State Engineer, Mr. Fulton, examined the bed of the river, which they find of an excellent foundation, and that the distance from bank to bank is only 530 feet. From the plan drawn by Mr. Fulton, it is proposed to have seven pillars of rock, besides the abutments, twenty-five feet high, the bridge to be sufficiently wide to admit the passage of a waggon & those on horse or foot at the same time; the whole of which, from the estimate, will cost considerably less than ten thousand dollars. There can be but little doubt, therefore, but that the stock will be readily taken, and yield to the stockholders a handsome dividend, as the plan proposed unites cheapness and durability.

Mr. Fulton, we learn, has gone to the Yadkin, and will, on his return, descend the Dan to this place, and from thence down the Roanoke. The polite and civil attention which he gave to such objects connected with the River, as the people in this place felt an immediate interest in, has greatly enlisted them in his favor, and added their esteem to the high opinion which his capacity would necessarily have commanded.

Commissioners on the part of the States of Virginia and Maryland have lately had a meeting at Georgetown, to determine as to the course of their proceedings, and to confer with the Potomac Navigation Company on the subject of improving the navigation of that river. Messrs. John Davidson, E. B. Caldwell and Wm. W. Seaton have been appointed by the Corporation of the City of Washington, and Messrs. Jonathan Swift, Thos. Swann and Humphrey Peake by the City of Alexandria, to meet with those to be appointed by Georgetown, on the 2d Monday in September next, to confer on the subject of the permanent improvement of the navigation of the Potomac.

The corner-stone of a new Presbyterian Church at Petersburg, was laid on Saturday last.

The corner stone of a Roman Catholic Church was laid at Brooklyn, on the 25th ult. by the Right Rev. Bishop Connolly.

The Commissioners for building a Lunatic Asylum and School for the Deaf and Dumb at Columbia, S. C. have made considerable progress in preliminary arrangements; and the work is expected to be executed with as much despatch as may be consistent with good execution. The Corner Stone was laid on the 22d ult.

The third commencement of the Transylvania University was held on the 10th ult. when the degree of Doctor of Laws was conferred on Gov. Brown, of Ohio, the Hon. Henry Clay, and Chief Justice Boyle, of Kentucky. The degree of A. B. was conferred on 27 students of the University.

Joseph Bonaparte, Ex-King of Spain, passed through the village of Buffalo last week, on his way to visit Niagara Falls, in company with Captain Rasy, who commanded the gun brig which conveyed Napoleon from the Island of Elba, on his return to France, in 1815.

A fire broke out on Saturday last in a building belonging to the Warwick Manufacturing Company, Centreville, R. I. It was extinguished by the exertions of the citizens, after it had been burning two hours, and a valuable part of the building was preserved.

William Gaston, Esq. was, on the 24th ult. elected by the Directors of the Planters' Bank of Georgia, President of that institution, vice Richard Richardson, Esq. resigned.

Henry M. Breckenridge, of Pensacola, has received the appointment of Judge for West-Florida. We understand that the Judge will proceed forthwith to organize his Court. Its first session is in October next.—Florida.

Louisiana.—From that one of the three Congressional districts of Louisiana, which embraces New-Orleans, Edward Livingston is elected without opposition. Mr. L. was a member of the House of Representatives, from the State of New-York, 25 years ago, and sat one year in the House after the removal of the seat of government to Washington City; and was afterwards, before his emigration, Mayor of the city of New-York.

Sea Serpent.—Several gentlemen at Nahant, Mass. it appears by the N. York and Boston papers, have lately had a full view of this celebrated monster of the deep.

Charleston, Aug. 9. The Court of Magistrates and Freeholders, which was formed on Saturday last, for the trial of certain slaves and others, accused of attempting to excite an insurrection in this State, adjourned yesterday, sine die, having disposed of all the cases which remained for trial. The following is the result of the proceeding of the Court, viz:—

- William Garner, the slave of Mrs. Garner. Guilty.—Death.
- Pompey, the slave of Mr. Lord. Guilty.—Transportation.
- Nero, the slave of David Haig. Guilty.—Transportation.
- Henry, the slave of Henry Butler. Guilty.—Transportation.
- George, the slave of James Evans. Guilty.—Transportation.
- George, the slave of Sam'l Parker. Guilty.—Transportation.
- Jack, the slave of Wm Cattell. Guilty.—Transportation.
- Adam, (otherwise called Bellamy,) the slave of James H. Merritt. Guilty.—Transportation.

The following prisoners were found Not Guilty, and discharged, the testimony against them not being deemed sufficiently strong to warrant their conviction:

- Philander Michau, a free man of color. Pompey, the slave of David Haig. Stephen, the slave of Thomas Walker. James, the slave of Thomas Walker. Harry, the slave of Jesse Nell. Edward Johnson, a free man of color.

William Garner, slave of Mrs. Garner, and William, slave of Mr. Palmer, stand over for execution this day, on the Lines, between the hours of 6 and 9 o'clock.

John Vincent and Billy Robinson, who were erroneously stated to be respited until the 9th of August, were originally respited by the Governor, until Tuesday, the 13th inst.—Patriot.

The newspapers at Charleston have been necessarily silent on the subject of the late attempt to excite an insurrection in that State, pending the investigation & the trials of the negroes supposed to be concerned therein.—By the following, from the Charleston City Gazette, we find that silence will be broken as soon as prudence will permit:—

"When the investigation and labors attendant on such a state of things shall have ceased; when justice shall be satisfied, and our city restored to its wonted tranquility—a succinct account of the whole transaction shall be given to the world. It will bring to view a scheme of wildness and of wickedness, enough to make us smile at the folly, did we not shudder at the indiscriminate mischief of the plan and its object. Those (they were but few) who at first thought we had no cause for alarm, must be overwhelmed with conviction to the contrary."

Norfolk, Aug. 7.

The U. S. frigate Macedonian has removed from Hampton Roads and anchored in the bite of Crany Island, where she has landed her sick. The Alert store ship was towed down to Crany Island yesterday to receive on board the healthy part of the crew, until the Macedonian can be properly cleansed. We understand that several new cases of disease have occurred on board the Macedonian since her arrival, and that the number of her sick yesterday morning was sixty. Doctor Cowdery of the Navy, has been added to the number of surgeons in attendance on the sick. Capt. Biddle has promptly seconded the measures of the public authorities here, by observing the utmost caution in avoiding every kind of communication with the shore except through the medium of the Health Officer, and there exists not the slightest cause for apprehension of danger to our town or the surrounding country, even in the minds of the most timid.

Since our last we have been politely favored with a list of the officers who died on board the Macedonian during her late unfortunate cruize, which is as follows:—

- Lieut. George W. Isaacs.
- Lieut. James Clements, (Marine Corps.)
- Doctor John Cadle, Surgeon.
- Midshipmen Isaac H. Rand, Oliver W. Wood, Christopher T. Emmett, Abraham Hossack, Alexander M. Murray, Herman Rutgers.
- Mr. John I. Sickles, Captain's Clerk.

POSTSCRIPT.

LATE AND IMPORTANT FROM THE COLOMBIAN REPUBLIC.

Baltimore, Aug. 9.

By the arrival of the schooner Mary and Ann, Captain Gates, in fifteen days from Laguayra, we have received letters and papers from Caracas to the 23d of July inclusive. An extra page of the Anglo-Colombiano of the 22d of July, contains from Bogota the following important "Gazette Extraordinary":—

"WAR OF THE SOUTH TERMINATED." "Gazette Extraordinary of Colombia, Monday, June 9, 1822.

"Government has just received accounts from the head quarters of the Liberator, at Pastos, dated June 8, inclosing the capitulations coelected by the Liberating army to the Spaniards who defended Pastos and Quito, in virtue of which those places were occupied—the first by his Excellency the Liberator President, on the said 8th of June, and the second by General Suere, on the 25th of May. The brilliant marches made from Bombona and Pichincha, preceding those capitulations, obliged the enemy to surrender, and the Liberators of the South were as generous as they were valiant.

"The Colombian guards have augmented their reputation, and the warriors of Pichincha have manifested that their love for liberty was paramount to all other considerations. "The war of the South has terminated with glory to the arms of Colombia. A million of Americans are thus added to the family of the Republic, and the conqueror of a hundred battles, the generous enemy of Spain, the creator of Colombia, the immortal Bolivar, has added new lustre to his immeasurable glory."

There is little else of moment in the papers before us; but a letter from an officer of rank, which we have had the pleasure to peruse, says: "A junction is about to be formed between the division of Maracaybo and that of Soulette, when Morales will be attacked, and his career terminated."

It appears that Laguayra and Caracas markets are glutted with produce and dry goods of every kind—more than can be disposed of," say the letters, "for months to come."

CAPE MESURADO.

The schr. Calypso, arrived at Baltimore on Wednesday evening, in 65 days from the United States' colony at Mesurado, having on board Dr. Aires and Mr. Wiltberger, agents of the Colonization Society. Dr. Aires gives very favorable accounts of the present state of the colony; the people are contented and happy; the country healthy and fertile, and a few of the colonists, who were disposed to be unruly and disaffected, have retired to the British settlements. The natives are very friendly to the colony, and all its concerns are in the most prosperous condition. Two of the colonists, Joseph Blake and Zera Hall, both of Philadelphia, have returned to take out their families. Blake's family sailed lately for Mesurado; and he unfortunately missed them in coming to this country. We learn that Daniel Cocker has retired from the colony, become a British subject, and is engaged in teaching a school at Sierra Leone.

THE GREEKS & TURKS.

New-York, Aug. 9.

By the arrival of the packet ship Columbia, at New-York, London dates are received to the 1st of July. The Royal Assent had been given to the West-India and American Intercourse Bill, the bill for amending the navigation laws, &c.

A most horrible event took place at Constantinople about the 25th of May, in the execution, or most barbarous murder, of a great number of the Greek Hostages, by order of the Porte. It is said that this horrible transaction will put a stop to the unfinished negotiations with Turkey, and that orders have been sent to the troops on the Turkish frontier to delay their march until it is known what feeling may be excited in Russia. The persons executed are stated, in one account, to be 72 Greek merchants, some of them the most respectable in the Levant, whose names are given. Some of them had relations in London, where the news occasioned a great excitement.

John Cobbler's Address shall be attended to in course.

MARRIED.

On the 4th ult. Mr. George Tunstall, late of the Floridian Office, and formerly of this city, to Miss Eloisa Matilda Mary, eldest daughter of David Tate, Esq. of Baldwin county, Alabama. In Mecklenburg, Va. on the 1st inst. Mr. John Howard, of Granville, aged 74, to Mrs. Susanna Overby, of the former place, aged 42.

DIED.

At William Hill's, Esq. Secretary of State, in this city, on Saturday morning last, Miss Harriet Harden, daughter of Mark Harden, Esq. Collector of the port of St. Marks, in Florida. The death of this young lady has awakened unusual sympathy, for she was in the sweet prime of life, when life itself is joyous, and hope anticipates future happiness. A very short illness terminated the earthly career of this promising young female. Literally will the language of the Royal Psalmist apply in this case: "In the morning they are like grass which groweth up. In the morning it flourisheth, and groweth up: in the evening it is cut down and withereth."

In Warren county, a few days ago, Miss Elizabeth Greene, daughter of Sol-Greene, Esquire. On the 10th inst. at Lawrenceville, Va. of Yellow Fever, Col. John B. Rice. And on the preceding Thursday, at the same place, an infant daughter of Dr. John R. Lucas, of black-voult.
