When the woodlands are cover'd with leaves In the loveliest time of the year; When the sky is now clear, and now che-quer'd with showers, And life rambles on thro' the warm sunny

Undimm'd with a shade or a tear : O: sweet are the feelings, that kindle and

As we gaze on the flowers and the sky; But to higher and purer devotion they turn, As water takes tint from the hue of its urn, When they burn in the light of thine eye.

And when, in the calm of a moonshiny night, A serenade steals o'er the bay; As it curls in the smile of her mellowest

But sweet as it breathes, when I hear it a It breathes like a flute by a wind-spirit blown, When I know, thou art listening near,

O! the music and beauty of life lose their worth, When one heart only joys in their smile; But the union of hearts gives that pleasure its birth, Which beams on the darkest and coldest of earth. Like the sun on his own chosen isle; It gives to the fire-side of winter the light, The glow and the glitter of Spring-O! sweet are the hours, when two fond hearts

And softly they glide, in their innocent flight Away on the motionless wing.

As the dove will clasp the arrow that is preying him. upon its vitals-so it is the nature of woman to hide from the world, the pangs of wounded affection. Even when fortunate, she scarcely breathes it to herself; but when otherwise, she buries it in the recess of her bosom, and there lets It cower and brood among the ruins of her peace. The great charm of existence is at an end, her rest is broken, the sweet refreshment of sleep is poisoned by melancholy dreams,-"dry sorrow drinks her blood"-Look for her after a little while, and you find friendship weening over her untimely grave and wondering that one, who but lately glowed with all the radiance of health and beauty, should now be brought down; to "darkness and the worm." You will be told of some wintry chill, some slight indisposition, that laid her low -but no one knows the mental malady that previously sapped her strength and made her so easy a prey to the

From her own lov'd Island of sorrow!

Worthily to love, and fondly if devote ourselves to the happiness of another, who deserves our high regard, is not condemned by religion. It is not even a weakness which it permits and deplores; but a virtue which it sanctions and commands. And the heart that is deceived or betrayed, need not augment its anguish by self reproach. Love is not only an innecent but a noble passion. When guided and controlled by religion, it is the germ of social virtues—the cement and the solace of the various relations of human life .- When rewarded with the hallowed possession of its object, it strews the path of duty with flowers, and scents the air with fragrance ;-when unfortunate and ill requited, it becomes at length, absorbed in high and holy principles; investing resignation with unwonted sublimity, and extracting from earthly disappointment, the calm satisfaction of heavenly hope. The process by which it is thus transformed . may impair the fragile tenement in which it is enshrined; and the dross of mortality, in such a surface, may melt away into its kindred earth ; but the soaring unrobed spirit, returns to God who gave it, and at last enjoys re-

CLARENDON BRIDGE.

THE Stockholders of this Bridge would I inform the public, that great alterations in the floors and other parts of it. have been made, and are making, so as to render it perfectly safe, even in the darkest nights, to cross it without lights. there being a timber on each side to keep the wheels of Carriages in their proper place, and which will also keep the highest loads from catching against the timbers or braces of the Bridge. Reports having been circulated prejudicial to this Bridge, from interested and improper motives, it becomes necessary to state to the public, that such reports are without any good foundation whatever, that more than three years use and exposure to se rere gales, freshes, and at different times, uncommon weights upon it, testify most conclusively, that its stability and safety are equal to that of any wooden Bridge in the United States, and the very best attention shall constantly be paid to keep

The Tolf-keeper will make yearly contracts with any and all persons wishing it, at a very low rate.

The distance from Raleigh to Fayetteville, on the east thie of the river, and over this Bridge, is but three and three quarter miles more than by M'Neill's Ferry, as ascertained by a late survey of the road; and it is presumed that the Bridge and the advantages of a more firm and less sandy soil will be greatly in favor of this road. No light or fire, in any manner, is permitted, in any case, or under any pretence whatever, to be carried upon the Bridge, under a penalty of twenty

April 30, 1823. 32 VALUABLE TRACT OF LAND FOR SALE.

IN Y virtue of a Deed of Trust executed to I me by Samuel Hobson, bearing date the 20th day of January, 1819, and duly registered in Rockingham county; and by virtue of a Decree of the Court of Equity for Caswell County, made at May Term, 1823, in a cause wherein Thomas Ruffin and James H. Ruffin, Executors of Sterling Ruffin, deceased, and myself are Complainants, and Samuel Hobson, Samuel Hill, Charles Mills and others, are Defendants, I shall, on the last Wednesday of July, 1823, on the premises, sell to the highest bidder, for ready money, at public auction, the Tract of Land whereon Samuel Hobson resides, in Rock ingham County: The Tract contains, according to the deeds, 1828 acres, more or less, and is situate on both sides of Lickfork Creek. There is a considerable quantity of excellent Creek Low-ground, probably from 120 to 150 acres-A fine plantation is cleared on the Tract, sufficient for the working of 15 or 18 hands, though much the larger part is in wood, fit for the cultivation of Tobacco, Corn, and all other kinds of grain. Taken altogether, this is one of the most valuable estates off Dan River, in the County, and was sold in 1818, for Twenty Thousand Dollars. According to the Decree, Capt. Hobson is to retain possession until the 25th of December next, when the purchaser is to be let into the full enjoyment: but in the mean while, the purchaser may enter at all times, after the 10th of September, to sow small grain. A conveyance will be made by the subscriber in fee simple, with special warranty, though no doubt is entertained of the title, as the sale is made by consent of the persons interested; and Captain Hobson is likewise to convey with general warranty.

RICHARD W. MICHAUX, May 16. Trustee and Commis'nr.

N. B. If the subscriber should not personally attend to make the said sale, it will be conducted by Andrew Harrison, Esquire, the Clerk and Master of the Court of Equity for Caswell County, who is appointed a Commissioner by the Court for that purpose.

R. W. ME HAUX, Trustee and Com.

I assent to this sale, and will convey to the purchaser as stated above. SAMUEL HOBSON.

FURTHER SALE OF LAND.

WHEN, the sales of Capt. Hobson's property, above advertised, shall be closed, the Subscribers, as Executors of the will of Sterling Ruffin, dec'd, will at the same day and place, offer for Sale the very valuable Tract of Land owned by their l'estator, on Dan River, in Rockingham County. It adjoins the lands of Mr. Broadnax, Messrs. Yancey and Bethel, and others, and extends along the River for more than a mile. It contains about one thousand acres of land, including upwards of two hundred acres of prime River bottom, which is equal to any land in the County for fertility and convenience, and is in good order for cultivation. The low grounds have been un-der lease for several years past upon a rent equal to five hundred dollars.

The terms will be made known on the day of sale: but it is expected a credit will be given of one and two years, upon satisfactory personal security, and a deed of trust on the premises.
