Raleigh Register,

TUESDAY, MARCH 14, 1826.

Judge Haywood, formerly of this State, has been named as a candidate, amongst many others, for the office of Governor, in Tennessee.

At a Convention held in Pennsylvania, for the purpose of selecting a suitable person to be supported by the Democratic Party of the State for the office of Governor, at the ensuing election, John Andrew Shulze was unanimously nominated. The Convention afterwards took up the subject of the next Presidential Election, and the following resolution was proposed and adopted by a majority of 98 to 7.

Resolved, That our confidence in the patriotism, talents and inflexible integrity of GENERAL ANDREW JACKSON, is unimpaired, and that his conduct during the pendency of and after the late election of President of the United States, is deserving the unqualified approbation of the American People.

Many present declined voting.

The Legislature of Virginia adjourned on Thursday last, after a session of ninety-four days.

The U. S. Ship, John Adams, sails in a few days from Norfolk. Col. Jno.
Williams of Tennessee, Charge d'Affaires to Guatemala, will take his passage in her.

Discretion is the better part of Valor.

—So thinks Gen. Ward, of the New-York Senate, who being convicted of having accepted a douceur for his vote on a certain occasion, has resigned his seat, to avoid the ignominy of expulsion, which would have been his fate.

As we expected, the intelligence brought by Capt. Tubb, relative to the abdication of Constantine in favor of his brother, has proved to be erroneous.

The blood-thirsty and lawless custom of duelling is so repugnant to religion, justice & mercy, and so strongly tinctured with the barbarity and ignorance of the Gothic ages which gave birth to it, that every fresh instance is a reflection on the humanity and policy of civilized nations, that at so advanced period as the 19th century, they do not adopt such rigorous measures as would annihilate the horrid practice. The occurrence which gives rise to these remarks, it will be seen, was attended with circumstances of an unusually sanguinary character—the parties were without seconds, and fought at a distance of two paces. Perhaps for a mere casual difference of opinion, one of these ill-fated young men has forfeited his life, and the other is forced to fly, carrying in his bosom a rankling thorn, which will not fail to embitter his existence!

Norfolk, March 6.

Another bloody business!—Lieut. William T.
Bourne, of the Marine Corps, attached to M. J.
Anderson's command, at the Gosport Navy Yard, was killed by a pistol shot, on Saturday morning last, near the foot bridge between the Marine Barracks and the Hospital. From the evidence given in at the inquest upon the body, and from other sources, we are enabled to state the following particulars respecting this shocking occurrence: Between the deceased and Lieut. Smith, of the same corps, a feud had for some time existed, originating in some bickerings upon points of duty. On the 5th inst. the guards were ordered to report to the officer in command every suspicious movement of these misguided young men, from which the intention of a rencounter might be inferred. Accordingly, on Saturday morning last, shortly after day-break, the sergeant of the guard reported to Capt. Linton, the officer on duty, that Lieut. Smith & Bourne were seen a few minutes before to leave the barracks together; upon which Capt. L. ordered him to take a file of men and go in quest of them across the foot bridge, and at the same time despatched scouts in other directions, with his orders for the absentees to return immediately to their quarters. The party proceeded as far as the hospital, distant about a quarter of a mile, without seeing the objects of their search, and were on their return, when they were startled by the report of two pistols, as near together as possible, within forty paces of them. They rushed to the spot, and beheld Lieut. Bourne lying on his back, and the blood flowing from a wound in his side, and near him stood Lieut. Smith, with a pistol in his hand, a similar one lying on the ground by Lieut. Bourne. Lieut. Smith inquired of the Sergeant and his men, where Lieut. B. was shot, and learning that the ball entered about two inches below the left breast, he hurried away. We understand he came directly to Norfolk, and is reported to have taken passage in one of the New York packets, which sailed Saturday afternoon, but we have conferred with a gentleman, who assured us, that he crossed over to Hampton, where he hired a horse and gig and proceeded on to York. Bourne survived only an hour after he was carried to the barracks. On account of the absence of the coroner, the inquest was not convened until yesterday. Their verdict was, that the deceased came to his death by a pistol-shot fired by Constantine Smith.

It is the general belief that they fought without seconds; and we understand that Smith has confessed that they fought at two paces distance! Lieut. Bourne was the challenger.

Herold.

The English papers are filled with details copied from the French Gazettes, of the life, character, public services and funeral obsequies of Gen.
Foy, late of the French Chamber of Deputies. If we can rely upon the fidelity of these accounts, the gallant General must by the consistency of his political conduct, the brilliancy of his parliamentary eloquence and the courageous resignation of his last moments, have made a deeper impression on his fellow citizens than any public man since the Restoration. A hundred thousand persons are said to have assembled to witness his funeral, and a subscription of 300,000 francs were immediately collected to provide for his children, and to erect a monument to his memory. A publication of his speeches, in two volumes is announced in aid of the latter object, along with a sketch of his history and appreciations of his character by different literary friends.

It appears that the numerous fires which have lately occurred in Charleston, were (as we expected) the work of incendiaries, some of whom have been discovered and have had awarded to them, merited punishment. In our last we mentioned the execution of one of the perpetrators, and the Charleston Courier of yesterday, states that Edinborough, a negro boy in the employment of the Rev. Arthur Buist, charged with setting fire to his master's premises, had been tried, and that his guilt was so manifest, the Court without hesitation found a verdict against him.
He is to be hung, next Monday.

A Virginia Physician, in reply to a communication which appeared in the National Intelligencer recently, from a Physician in this State, on the impropriety of blood-letting in cases of Influenza, says that his experience induces a different conclusion. That in all cases within his observation, the disease in its first stage being highly inflamatory, the lancet has afforded immediate and permanent benefit, by mitigating the anguish of the local affections and tranquilizing the violence of the general excitement. Emetics are also recommended by him as exerting a most salutary influence; and after the system is reduced by these evacuating medicines, blisters and sudorifics have a fine effect in allaying the cough.

Prizes.—The New York National advocate of Friday last says, "upwards of five hundred thousand dollars were paid during the week for prizes, by Messrs. Yates & McIntyre. This is a large amount of money to be paid in one week by a single house, and argues strongly in favor of their ability and disposition to meet promptly all demands upon them by the fortunate adventurers in lotteries under their management.

Small Pox.—To prevent unnecessary alarm, as well as to put a stop to unfounded or exaggerated reports, we deem it proper to state, that a solitary case of this disease has made its appearance in Charlotte. It was brought here from Charleston, by a man named Gardner Mays, belonging to Lincoln county, and is confined to him. From the precaution taken by the commissioners of the Town of placing a guard around the premises where the man is confined to prevent all ingress and egress, we entertain no apprehension that the disease will spread; and no one need be depressed, by fear of contagion from visiting the town. —Catawba Journal

Leesburg, (Va.) Feb. 28.

A shocking occurrence took place at Hillsborough, in this county, on Tuesday last, of which the outlines are quite sufficient for publication. One Lewis Hunt, formerly of this town, being engaged in a wrestling or fighting match, his son, a youth of 18 or 20, intending to aid his father, aimed a blow with a Spanish knife, at his antagonist. Missing his aim he stabbed his father, who almost instantly expired. The son has since been committed to the county jail for trial.

Washington, March 10.

From the Indian Frontier.—The following is a copy of a letter received by Gen. Wm. Clark, now on a visit to this city, from the commanding officer at Cantonment Gibson, containing information of considerable consequence to the tranquility of the Western frontier.
It goes to confirm the suggestions contained in the late Report from the War Department, of the necessity of a controlling power to prevent the mischief which otherwise results from placing hostile tribes in the same neighbourhood:

HEAD QUARTERS, 7th INFANTRY, Cantonment Gibson, 13th January, 1826.

Sir: I have the honor to apprise you that I have received very positive information of five Osage Braves, of Clermore's Band, having been killed of late by a party composed of Cherokees, Delawareans, and some of another tribe, perhaps Shawnees, on, or near Red River.

I have had a conference with Clermore, and some of his Chiefs on this subject. They assured me that their band would remain quiet, and depend on our Government for redress.

There is much reason to believe that it is the intention of the Cherokees to unite with the White River Indians in making war on the Osages as early as March or April next.
The Delawares have already been required to return to their town.

I trust it will be in your power to restore friendship between the Tribes on White River and the Osages, as their being at war would, in all probability, be attended with evil consequences to our citizens on this frontier.

I have written to his Excellency Governor Izard, and to Major Duval, the Cherokee Agent, on this subject, and requested the latter to restrain the Cherokees from further aggressions, until measures are taken to settle their disputes with the Osages in a friendly manner.

In order, however, to prevent difficulties between the Osages and any of the Tribes referred to, it is believed that a prompt and decided course is necessary.

I have the honor to be, &c.
M. ARBUCKLE, Col. Com.
General Wm. Clark,
Sup't of Indian Affairs, St. Louis.

1st day of January, 1821. The other note was made to myself, and given one day after date, some time in the latter part of the spring or early in the summer of 1821, for twenty-five dollars. One other note or due bill, executed to F. T. Leak, in the summer of 1821, for seven dollars. One other note two hundred & sixty-three dollars and eighty-five cents, for a book account—which note I am determined not to pay, as my notes against him were intended as a set off, and since the robbery on my Store he wishes to
