Raleigh Register.

FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 17, 1826.

The Federal Court is still in session and will probably remain so during the week. The Grand Jury were discharged the first day of the term, having no business before them. The attention of the Court has been taken up, almost exclusively, with the suit of Jonathan Whitaker v. Fredk. Freeman; for an alleged libel. This cause, which has excited considerable interest, was commenced on Tuesday morning and was not decided when our paper of necessity went to press. Contrary to usual practice in this State, the Jurors were dismissed from day to day—the Chief-Justice stating that the case differed materially from a criminal prosecution, and he knew of no instance in Virginia, or any other State, where, in a civil suit, the Jury were kept together during the whole trial.

The undecided case, of the People vs. Henry Eckford, Jacob Barker, &c. at N. York, is to come on for trial again on Monday next. No less than three hundred Jurymen have been summoned, and it is not improbable that of that number, twelve men cannot be found who have not either directly or indirectly, formed an opinion with regard to the merits of the case.

It is suggested that the Revenue of the United States, will fall short the present year, by one or two millions, of the amount anticipated for it in the official reports from the Treasury Department and Committees of Congress.

Tennessee.—A resolution has been introduced into the Legislature of this State, relative to the creation of a fund for the support of common Schools and Academies in each County of the State.

A resolution has also been adopted, appointing Monday the 30th ult. for a joint meeting of the two Houses. "For the purpose of taking into consideration the propriety of recommending to the people of Tennessee, at the next general election to vote for or against a Convention."

Georgia.—The Legislature of this State, met on the 6th inst. Thomas Stooks, of Greene, was chosen President of the Senate, having received 35 votes, and Allen B. Powell, (the former presiding officer) 25—William Y. Hansell was elected Secretary of the Senate—Hansell 35—James Smith (late Secretary) 27.

Irby Hudson, of Putnam, was chosen Speaker of the House of Representatives. Hudson 59—Duncan G. Campbell 34.

As all the newly elected Officers are Troop men, it is to be presumed that the above statement of votes shows the majority which that party has in each House.

Geology.—A meeting has been recently held at Philadelphia, for the purpose of considering a project for the geological survey of Pennsylvania. Some of the leading gentlemen were present, and an address was delivered by P. A. Browne, Esq. pointing out the advantages and necessity of such a survey. In no way in our apprehension could a sum of money be more usefully expended. To our own State we believe, is due the honor of having set the first example of the Scientific survey of an entire American State. Such enterprizes produce very important advantages to science, agriculture and other useful arts. We hope that the contemplated edition of the Map of North-Carolina will present at least the leading features of its Geology & Mineralogy. By the way, we learn that Mr. M' Rae has met with the most liberal patronage for his proposed Map and that it will certainly be published early in the Spring.

There has been some little difference, which has been noised abroad, between Mr. Poinsett, our minister in Mexico, and Mr. Ward, British minister at that place.—There was a public dinner on St. Patrick's day, given by the Irish and many Englishmen, at which both ministers were present. Mr. Poinsett, in giving a toast, addressed the party at some length, and expressed a wish that the Catholics of Ireland might obtain their Political rights. Mr. Ward replied with some warmth, in defence of the policy pursued by the British government towards the Catholics, and was about leaving the table:—Mr. Poinsett replied—

"He expressed his regret that the harmony of the evening had been disturbed by any thing which had fallen from him, & said he would avail himself of the present occasion to declare that he had no wish whatever to injure the British interests in Mexico, & had never taken any measures with that view, that he was fully aware that such measures had been imputed to him; that he came here and was here to support the interests of his own country, but that he sincerely believed those interests clashed in no way with the interests of Great Britain; the United States asked not, nor would they accept any exclusive, privileges, and that he would most cordially co-operate with the agents and subjects of his Britannic Majesty here toward the establishment in Mexico of the most liberal principles of trade, politics and religion.

Mr. Poinsett was frequently cheered.—Some of the London papers have accused him of intriguing against British interests.

DOMESTIC SUMMARY.

The editor of the Boston Daily Advertiser has made up a compend of the facts hitherto published respecting the ships engaged to be built in New York for the Greeks, derived principally from an able pamphlet by Mr. Contostavlos, the Greek deputy, and formerly a merchant of Scio. This compend occupies between three and four columns, and we can only pick up a few facts at present.

On the 24th August, 1824, the Greek Government issued a decree authorizing the Greek deputies in London to purchase or build, as soon as possible, eight frigates, 15 guns on a side. Application was made to two houses in New-York, Le Roy, Bayard & Co. and G. G. & S. Howland. After some negotiation these houses engaged to build two frigates; and in April, 1825, Gen. Lallemand arrived to superintend the building. The contractors managed to draw upon the Greek funds in London to a large amount, without completing the vessels, until for want of funds one of the frigates sold to the United States government last Winter, under a special act of Congress, for 253, 574, dollars to raise money to finish the other. The Greek government, finding their funds were wasting, and disappointed in not receiving any of the frigates, and moreover distrusting the Greek deputies in London, sent Mr. Contostavlos to London, where he arrived last January, and reached New-York in April following. He found that the accounts of the two houses were upwards of 800,000, and on submitting these accounts to General Lallemand and Captain Chanucey they pronounced them undoubtedly correct.—Mr. Contostavlos threatened a prosecution, and the contractors, after some time, agreed to submit the case to arbitration, and Abraham Ogden, H. C. De Rham, and Jonas Platt, after a good deal of negotiation, were chosen as arbitrators. Their award went to confirm most of the charges of the contractors, and they allowed themselves 1500 dollars each for their own services, being engaged the most part of a month. They allowed Captain Wolcott Chauncey 11,500 dollars, besides traveling expenses, although he continued to receive his pay as a captain in the U. S. Navy; 50,000 dollars was allowed for the use of two ship yards. Genl. Lallemand received £120, or 535 dollars per month from the Greek deputies in London. The frigate was sold to our government soon after the arrival of Mr. Contostavlos, in order to obtain money to finish the other. The fitting out of these vessels being tho't a violation of our neutrality, and the proceedings illegal, the contractors enjoined secrecy on the Greek agent, and having him in this predicament, they probably thought to rob him with impunity. £156,000 were expended, for which the Greeks will have one frigate if Mr. Contostavlos arrives with her in safety.

The above account seems to shew that poor, distressed and struggling Greece has been infamously plundered by a set of harpies who pretend to be her friends, in America as well as in England.

A correspondent of the New-York American, a few weeks since, challenged Mr. Maelzel, the proprietor of the Automaton Chess Player, to play against him for love or money. Mr. Maelzel has arrived in New York, and publicly accepted the challenge, proposing to play for from one to four thousand dollars, and he is authorised by gentlemen in Boston, who have witnessed the powers of the Automaton, to play for any amount.

At a military training in Salem, Mass. a man was shot through the leg, a boy was injured, and a horse took fright and ran away. If the company make such a havoc in the piping times of peace, what would they not do in war?

A fire broke out on Wednesday night at the corner of Seventh and Chestnut Streets, Philad. The loss was only about 20 dollars, but three persons were seriously injured.

A writer in a New-Hampshire paper asserts, that that state adapted the first written constitution in this country. They did so, it is said, two months before South-Carolina.

Achilles Murat, (son of Joachim, ex-king of Naples, or, as he has been termed, one of Bonaparte's journeyman kings) has lately fought a duel with Col. Macomb, in Florida, by whom he was slightly wounded. Murat is of a fighting family: his mother was sister to Napoleon, and his father was victorious in several duels, fought with swords, the French method, and that generally practised on the continent.

A few days since the steam-boats Pioneer and Niagara ran foul of each other on Lake Erie. Both boats sustained considerable injury, but the Pioneer the most serious. It is stated that a lady, who was a passenger on the latter boat, had a limb broken, and a gentleman his hand severely crushed.

A Massachusetts paper states that "a man who was at work on the steeple of a meeting house at Charlton, Mass. a few days since, fell upon the roof of the building a distance of 46 feet, with such force that it broke three rafters, and settled in the place where he fell so much as to prevent his sliding from the roof. What is very remarkable no bone were broken, and in a few days he was so far recovered from his fall as to be in the town attending to business."

On Sunday, an apprentice to the printing business, in South Third Street, Philadelphia, was left by his master in charge of the house. He left the house, got into bad company, and got intoxicated. In his hurry to get home, clambering over the iron railing round Independence Square, his foot slipped and he fell on one of the spikes. He ran home bleeding freely, was put to bed, and under the care of the physician. On sending yesterday morning to inquire after the state of the boy, it was stated that the spike broke the jaw bone in two places, and penetrated the jugular vein. Whether he will or will not recover, is yet uncertain.

Mr. Stephen Walker, a respectable inhabitant of Albany, put a period to his existence, by hanging himself in the wood-house in the rear of his dwelling. His mind had been partially deranged by pecuniary difficulties, which probably led him to the commission of horrid act.

A Mrs. Hamilton, of Palmer, Massachusetts, with her child about six months old, were found dead in that town, on the 29th ultimo, with their throats cut, the razor lying by their side. She was living in the house with her brother-in-law, and circumstances indicated that she took the child out of bed where it was sleeping with another child of her's, and committed the horrid deed.

A letter from an American gentleman at Paris, received at Boston, states that the news of the death of Adams and Jefferson, produced much effect among our countrymen in that capital, and the friends of liberty in general. Lafayette, the friend in youth and in age, of those venerable patriots, shed tears when the news was read to him. In the same letter the writer observes, that every thing of a political nature, which takes place in our country is read with avidity.

New Senate.—We learn from Delaware, that Daniel Rodney has been appointed by the Governor a Senator in Congress in the place of Mr. Van Dyke, deceased, until the meeting of the Legislature, which takes place in January.—The following notice of the election of a Senator, in New-Jersey, is derived from the Philadelphia Freeman's Journal: "Dr. Eph'm. Bateman, of Cumberland county, has been elected, by the Legislature of New-Jersey, a Senator in Congress, in the place of Joseph M'Ilvaine, deceased, and also for six years from the 4th of March next. Dr. Bateman represented the State in the House of Representatives for eight years. He is an old republican, and was in favor of the election of Mr. Crawford, but is friendly to the existing Administration. His opponent was Theodore Frelinghuysen, Esq.

the Attorney General of the State, a Federalist, also friendly to the Administration. The vote was a close one. Mr. Frelinghuysen having received 28 votes and Doct. Bateman 29."

Members of the House of Representatives.—We have sufficient returns from the N. York elections to ascertain that Messrs. Cambreleng, Johnson and Verplanck, are re-elected for the city—the first named, without opposition, the second by a majority of 800, and the third 1200 votes over their opponents. Mr. Ward is also re-elected by a majority of 800 votes over his opponent. Among the new Members is Thomas J. Oakley, several years ago a prominent member of the House of Representatives.

From Massachusetts we have a few returns of the Congressional elections. Mr. Webster has been re-elected almost unanimously for the Boston District; in four towns of the Middlesex district we perceive that Mr. Everett received every vote but 12, and is doubtless elected, though we have not the complete vote of the district. In Essex North district Mr. Varum is re-elected by a large majority over his opponent. We have no further complete returns, but Messrs. Crowninshield and Bailey are no doubt also re-elected, as we have heard of no opposition to them.

Philadelphia, Nov. 10.

The Grand Jury in the Circuit Court of the U. S. after a most laborious investigation, commenced on the 11th of last month, this morning laid certain documents before the Court. We attended at the request of several mercantile gentlemen, but the Judge having given directions that nothing which may prejudice the public should be published while legal proceedings are pending, we do not feel at liberty to make any more particular statement.

We go thus far in the hopes of appeasing the curiosity which it would now be improper to gratify. At a proper time every thing of moment shall be laid before our readers.—Gazette.

New-York, Nov. 9.

The New-Haven Herald states, that John Hinsdale, of the firm of J. & D. Hinsdale, was arrested by a United States' officer, in the main-street of Middletown, on Sunday evening last, at the suit of the U. States. Mr. H. resisted the officer personally, but was at length overpowered by the assistants of the deputy. A party of his friends rescued and carried him to his own house and withheld him from custody.

We have since been informed that Mr. Hinsdale surrendered himself to the Marshal on the following day, and is now safely lodged with his brother in the jail at New-Haven.

Both of these individuals will be remembered as having been largely indebted to the Eagle Bank at the time of its failure. Times.

It is worth the attention of the great number of our citizens opposed to the Penitentiary System, that no one state after having adopted that course for prevention and punishment of crimes, has seen fit to relinquish it; and that Congress, with all the experience derived from the use of Penitentiaries, in the several States, has thought it advisable to authorise the erection of one in the District of Columbia.

North Wester.—One of our keen north-westers, that is a preface to winter; a whistling precursor to "chill November's surly blast," occasions as much revolution in families as a sudden declaration of war sets a nation in motion. The rain on Sunday night gave way to a gale on Monday morning, and the housewives are all in bustle. Wood and coal not yet in—flannels not yet taken from the summer trunks—gloves and padded coats not yet in order for a winter campaign—new grates to be put up—the kitchen stove to be put in order—little Bill's breeches not yet finished—winter hats yet at the milliner's—velvet spencer requiring new pulls—merinos to be washed—curtains to be put up—carpets not nailed down—all is bustle confused, cold & clammy. This comes from not "taking time by the fore lock;" not regarding that golden proverb, "a stitch in time saves nine." "Look out for to-morrow," is a saying of substance and good sense, and we marvel that it is so generally neglected. N. Y. Enquirer.

A great bargain may be had in a valuable Tract of Land, very highly improved.

I am disposed to sell on accommodating terms the tract of land whereon I now live, containing 1150 acres, situated 14 miles northeast of Raleigh and 18 south of Louisburg; and on one of the main roads leading from Raleigh to Tarborough. The soil is well adapted to the culture of Corn, Cotton, &c. with sufficient cleared land to work 10 or 12 hands to advantage.—The situation is thought by good judges to be one of the healthiest and one of the best in Wake county, with excellent water. I would therefore invite the attention of those living in the lower or sickly part of the State, who wish a summer as well as a winter seat, to come and examine for themselves.—The Improvements consist in a two story dwelling House, 44 by 32 feet, with a 10 feet passage, 3 chimneys, 6 rooms, with a fire place in each, Kitchen, Grainery, and all other necessary out buildings; a new and commodious Academy, within 200 yards of the dwelling house, which might with a little expense be made a very convenient Store-house, and the site is thought to be as good a stand for a Store as any in this part of the country; a Cotton Gin with 40 Saws, which goes by water; an Apple Orchard, sufficient to make 40 barrels of Brandy, now coming into its prime; a Peach Orchard, containing about 1250 trees, just beginning to bear.

Also, two other Tracts of Land, situated 15 miles west of Raleigh, on Bear Creek, containing 350 acres each. This land is well adapted to the culture of Corn and Cotton. SETH JONES, 305 3t. October 19.

NOTICE.

THE Subscriber intending to move to the State of Alabama, wishes to sell a four acre lot in Chapel Hill, formerly owned by Francis Kollock of that place. Any person wishing to purchase can apply to me living in Chatham county; or in my absence, to Mr. Geo. W. Haywood, of Raleigh, or Wendon Lea, Esq. of Chatham, who are authorised to contract for the sale of it. Negroes will be received in part payment, and a liberal credit given for the balance. If not sold by 25th December next, it will be to rent. ED. PRINCE, Chatham county, 26th Sept. 1826. 99 4td
