Raleigh Register.

TUESDAY, MARCH 13, 1827.

On Friday last, we had no mail north of Petersburg, and on Saturday it failed altogether. On enquiry, we learn that these failures are in consequence of a new arrangement which is just entered into, for the regulation of the mail on that route.

Duels, or rather invitations to combat, seem to be the order of the day. The last National Intelligencer contains a correspondence of this character, between Messrs. Saunders of this State and Wright of Ohio.

Since the return of Gen. Saunders from Washington, he has publicly announced to his constituents, his intention to decline a re-election to Congress.

William B. Shepherd, Esq. of Camden county, is announced as a candidate to represent the First Congressional District in this State, in opposition to the present incumbent, Lemuel Sawyer.

The last National Intelligencer contains an article on the state of parties at Washington, which we shall hereafter republish, as belonging to the "Politics of the day."

A correspondent of the National Intelligencer thinks that the Bankrupt Bill may pass at the next session of Congress. This opinion is founded on this calculation:—Gov. Parris, the new Senator from Maine.

A public dinner was given to Governor Tyler, in Richmond on the 3d inst. by many members of the Legislature and citizens of Richmond associated, on his retirement from the Chief Magistracy of that Commonwealth.

"But, gentlemen, my political principles have for the first time been called in question, and an effort has been made to deprive me of the confidence of my native State. Heretofore, it has been my good fortune to have remained wholly unopposed for my public course, nor have I now any thing to fear from a reflecting community. Those doubts have been made to rest on the fact of my having written a letter to Mr. Clay, in a few days after the late Presidential election. From the clamour which this thing had made, one a stranger to me would almost conceive that I had been carrying on a treasonable correspondence, and plotting the overthrow of public liberty.

Richard H. Field has been elected by the Virginia Legislature, a Judge of the General Court in place of P. P. Barbour, who has resigned, and become a candidate for Congress, at the solicitation of a great number of his constituents.

From the statement of the Treasurer of the Mint, it appears that the coinage effected within the last year, amounts to $2,110,679, exceeding by $250,000 the coinage of any previous year, since the establishment of the Mint.

A bill has been introduced into the legislature of Maryland to prevent the sale of small quantities of spirituous liquors, and the recovery of debts contracted for the same.

The Fayetteville papers quote Cotton at from $8 to $8 65 per 100 lbs.

The Rev. Mr. Bedell, of Philadelphia (formerly of Fayetteville, in this State) recently delivered an Address at St. Paul's Church, on the sufferings of the Greeks, after which, a collection was taken up in their behalf, amounting to $372 00. Two gold Rings were also found in the box.

The physicians of Boston, have agreed to have a "medical converzazione," regularly once a month, the object of which is to cultivate feelings of friendship among the profession, to communicate any important facts which may have come to the knowledge of any one of them, and generally to promote the extension of medical knowledge.

Survey of Rowan County.—At the February session of the County Court of Rowan, held in this town, week before last, the Court ordered a Survey of the County, with a view to aid Mr. MacRae in the publication of a Map of the State.

A gentleman from Matthews, informs us that the jail of that county was burnt on the night of the 22d of Feb. between the hours of 12 and 1 o'clock, it is believed by a negro woman who had been confined in a room on the ground floor, as a runaway, and who had made her escape on the same evening; she was the only prisoner in the jail at the time, and had effected her enlargement by picking out the bats in the back of the fire place, which being shorter than usual were removed without much difficulty; and then by taking out the bricks, in which she probably used one of the bars, she made an opening sufficiently large to pass through.

Col. Clendinen, of Yorkville, S. C. has undertaken the cultivation of the Vine, and the making of wine. He is preparing a vineyard, and has obtained a variety of cuttings for planting. Should this enterprise succeed well, (and there appears a fair prospect of it) it is anticipated that, at no distant period, cotton will cease to be the great staple product of this section of country, as it will, in a measure, be superseded by the cultivation of the vine, the latter yielding a more certain profit, for the labor bestowed, than the former.

Emigration.—A letter from Asheville, in Buncombe county, N. C. to the editor of the Western Carolinian, states, that during the last four months, the flow of emigration through Asheville has surpassed any thing of the kind the writer ever witnessed. It was not uncommon to see eight, ten, or fifteen waggons and carts, passing in a single day, surrounded by groups of little children, who know not from whence they came, or whither they were going.

Advent of Martins.—These harbingers of spring, after having, without any outfit, performed the duties of their mission to South-America, have sent on special messengers to announce their return and to take possession of their old quarters. The whole Corps may be soon expected, as their avant couriers never precede the main body more than a week.

Warrenton Rep.

From Key West.—By the politeness of Capt. B. Sawyer, of the sloop Enterprise from Key West, from which place she sailed on the 4th inst. we are informed that Commodore Porter was then still in that port and that the whole of Laborde's squadron was employed in blackading him! The fact however is, that Porter was more advantageously employed in that situation, than he could be cruising—he himself, with a frigate remains in a supposed state of blockade while he is busily employed in making repairs and sends his brigs out to make prizes—they had both returned a day or two before Sawyer sailed—one with five and the other with three prizes.

Cotton.—We have been favored with the perusal of Liverpool circulars, received by a merchant in this town, dated the 6th and 18th of January, giving detailed statements and comparisons of the import and consumption of cotton in Great Britain, for the last and several preceding years, from which we have in vain endeavored to find a reason to hope for an improvement of prices of this chief staple of the South. Every view of the subject leads to a different conclusion.—Fay. Obs.

Cotton 9 a 10 1/2 cents.—Corn 3 a $3 1/4—Bacon 7 1/2 a 7 3/4 cts.—Flour 6 a $7—Tobacco a $9. The last arrivals from Europe, to the 15th January, bring information that all articles of American produce were very dull and rather lower; but it has had no effect on our Market.—Cotton and Tobacco still sell at the above quotations.—Petersburg Int.

Norfolk, March 2.

A gentleman from Matthews, informs us that the jail of that county was burnt on the night of the 22d of Feb. between the hours of 12 and 1 o'clock, it is believed by a negro woman who had been confined in a room on the ground floor, as a runaway, and who had made her escape on the same evening; she was the only prisoner in the jail at the time, and had effected her enlargement by picking out the bats in the back of the fire place, which being shorter than usual were removed without much difficulty; and then by taking out the bricks, in which she probably used one of the bars, she made an opening sufficiently large to pass through.

When the fire broke out it was not discovered until the entire roof was in a flame and near falling in, although there was a large party at a ball in the court-house, not more than 100 yards distant, celebrating the birth of Washington. A rush was made to the spot, but too late to stop the conflagration. Several gentlemen entered the room in which the prisoner had been confined, and there ascertained that fire had been set to the building between the lathing and outer wall, which by the aid of an air hole in the floor, had ascended rapidly to the roof, which being of shingles, was very soon in a blaze.

Female ingenuity.—We were, a few days since, shown a "garment without a seam" it was a cotton shirt, woven complete in all its parts, with a well-formed double collar, regular gathering about the neck and wristbands, with an appearance of gussets under the arms, straps on the shoulders, &c. ; and, in fine, as complete, in all its parts, as the best made shirts—with not a single seam in it! The only parts about it that are not woven, are the buttons, which are made of linen thread, but are woven to the garment.

Fire.—The Steam Saw Mill, in the upper part of the city, on the margin of the river, caught fire on Saturday night, about half past eleven, and before efficient assistance could be afforded, was entirely destroyed. None of the buildings in the neighborhood were injured. The fire is presumed to have originated through accident. The mill was owned by John P. Williamson, Esq.—cost originally $30,000—was supposed to be worth about 15,000 when destroyed, & was insured for 10,000. Lumber to the value of about eight hundred dollars was also destroyed.

New York, March, 5.

By the Crozimb, Capt. Mayell, a Liverpool paper of the 18th, and the London Courier of the 16th January, are received, being one day later than the papers by the Britannia.

LONDON, JAN. 16.

We have just received intelligence from Lisbon to the 2d instant. The Windsor Castle, Romney, Melville, Gloucester, and Wellesley, arrived on the 27th, and landed their troops. There is official intelligence of several actions having been fought between the Constitutional and Rebel forces, all of which are stated to have terminated in favor of the former. It is confirmed that Almeida had fallen into the hands of the rebels. A private letter of the 1st, says, "the English troops are landing, but it is believed they will have nothing to do."

Detachments from our regiments are ordered to embark this morning on board of Steam boats, for Chatham and Harwich.

We have received Bombay papers to the 5th of August. They state that the Pacha of Egypt was likely to throw obstacles in the way of the steam navigation communication with England, by way of the Red sea.

The sugar and coffee market opened more briskly this morning than last week. The successor to the Commander in Chief has not been finally named.

Extract of a letter from Liverpool, dated Jan. 18.

The letters from Manchester state, "our market generally has been very dull to-day—for cottons and yarns, particularly so, and for calico, a very limited inquiry, the last at a shade to 2 1/2 per cent. below the prices of the preceding week. If the demand does not revive soon, we shall, no doubt, experience a further depression."

Notwithstanding these accounts, our market yesterday was tolerably firm, and about 2000 bags of cotton were sold without any alteration in prices—the principal sales are of Uplands & Alabamas, at 6 7-8 to 7 1-4. At the E. I. Company's sales on the 16th, of 12,600 bales offered, about 10,600 were sold, generally at a decline of about 7-8d. per pound.

The Corn market continues very dull. The import of the new rice is not yet landed. Turpentine is very steady, and may be quoted at 10 to 13s. Tar sells slowly at 14s. for good quality.

FROM RIO DE JANEIRO.

Letters to the 10th of January, from Rio, have been received by the ship Georgiana at Norfolk. They announce the arrival at Rio of the frigate Baltimore, built at Baltimore, for Brazil, on the 10th December, making a passage of fifty-two days from Cape Henry to the anchorage at that port. "We had" (says one of the letters,) "a run of only nine days from the line to Rio, and the first land we made was that on each side of the entrance of the harbour. The weather, during most of the passage, was rough. We went into the harbour of Rio in fine style; the Baltimore sails well, and is the admiration of every one. It seems to be the general opinion here that the war will soon be brought to a close. Paraguay, it is said, has joined Buenos Ayres in the contest with Brazil, but she cannot muster much force. Most of the officers of the frigate will probably return home in the ship General Smith, to sail in a few days for Baltimore."

UNAWAY from the subscriber on the 14th ult. a negro fellow named Armstead. He is very tall being six feet high or the rise, very black, well framed, and from 22 to 25 years of age, when spoken to has a down look, and a countenance rather serious, has generally but little to say or seems less intelligent than he really is. Having gone off during the night unexpectedly to all and without any cause whatever, it is probably his design is to get back to Virginia, where he was brought from by one Samuel Hobson, of whom I purchased him in November last.

The above reward will be given to any one who will secure him in any jail so I can get him, and if delivered to me all reasonable expenses will be additionally paid.

THOS. H. REED, ALEXANDER SMITH, HENRY L. GRAVES, CHARLES L. REED. January 31. 35

THE NEW YORK MIRROR, And Ladies' Literary Gazette.

EDITED BY GEORGE P. MORRIS. "Here shall young genius wing his eagle flight, Rich dew-drops shaking from his plumage of light."

The Mirror will soon complete its fourth year, the editor thus seasonably presents himself before his numerous and highly respectable patrons and the public, with sentiments of profound respect, and a deep sense of the obligations which are imposed upon him. To say that his reward and encouragement have far exceeded his high expectations, but he but a faint expression of his feelings; for the pleasure of those feelings is immeasurably heightened when he reviews the names of those who make up the great portion of his supporters. To be distinguished with the countenance, and favour of the wise and virtuous, is at all times flattering to the pride of any man; but to a young man, it affords a charm too great for language to express. Every motive, therefore, which springs from the strongest impressions of honour and gratitude, will be called forth, not only to preserve, but to improve the character of a publication so kindly fostered, and so generously supported. We have unremittingly endeavoured, and shall hereafter go on with increased zeal in our endeavours, to call from the varied fields of literature, the choicest and most fragrant flowers, as a just though humble tribute, to our fair readers.

With a view to render the Mirror still more acceptable and valuable, we propose, on the commencement of the fifth year, and to continue it with each returning quarter, to accompany it with a splendid Engraving, executed in the finest style of which the state of the art in this country will admit. It is intended to present, in succession, the most accurate Views of our principal Public Buildings, followed by correct historical Descriptions, so as to preserve a knowledge of the period of their foundation, of the uses to which they are applied, and of such other circumstances connected with them, as may be worthy of preservation.
