Raleigh Register

TUESDAY, MAY 1, 1827.

Mr. VAN BUREN, a Senator in the Congress of the United States from New-York, and Mr. CAMBRELENG, a Representative from the same State...

A man by the name of Forkener, was tried at Warren Superior Court, for whipping his wife, and acquitted. The Reporter states, that Judge Ruffin laid it down as the law...

Virginia Elections.—The returns from the elections in this State, are so nearly complete, that their result may be safely calculated on. The following gentlemen will compose the delegation in the House of Representatives of the next Congress...

Col. John Williams, late U. S. Charge des Affairs to the Republic of Guatemala, is announced as a candidate, in the Knoxville papers, for the Senate of the next Tennessee Legislature.

The Salem Gazette, says that the ill state of Mr. Mills' health (late a Senator in Congress from Massachusetts) will compel that gentleman to withdraw from being a candidate at the next election. It says that Governor Lincoln will probably be the next candidate.

Swindling.—The N. York Enquirer intimates that it is a practice among a set of desperate speculators to defraud the ignorant part of the community, in the following manner, viz.—To walk through the upper wards of the city and in the vicinity of markets...

A public dinner was given at Carlisle, Kentucky on the 21st March, to General Thomas Metcalfe, in honor of his services as a Representative in the Congress of the United States.

We discover by a Treasury advertisement in the National Intelligencer of the 7th inst. that five millions of the six per cent. stock of 1813 is to be paid off at the Treasury and the several Loan Offices of the Government on the first day of July ensuing.

The lottery bill, passed in the New York Legislature, as a substitute for the bill rejected by the Governor, provides, that vendors of tickets, excepting managers of authorized lotteries in the state, shall procure licenses, and shall give bail not to vend foreign tickets; and prohibits all, except the managers from sharing tickets. It prohibits the sale of foreign tickets at tickets in private lotteries, subjecting the offender to fine and imprisonment, or both. The forgery of a lottery ticket subjects the offender to imprisonment not exceeding seven years.

Legislative Industry.—The Catholic Question, upon which the weal of the empire was, on both sides in the debate, declared to depend, was fully argued and finally decided in two sittings of the British House of Commons, on consecutive days. Adverting to this fact, the National Gazette remarks, let this despatch be compared with the duration of debate in our Congress, even on subjects of much less extent and relative importance.

The Resolutions of Mr. Giles in the Virginia Legislature are published in the London Morning Chronicle, to show that the disputes between the Southern States and the General Government are approaching fast to a crisis!

We understand that the health of Mr. Crawford is so far restored, that his friends think of proposing him for a seat in the Senate of the U. S. in the room of Mr. Cobb, who speaks of resigning.

The great Ox Columbus, is advertised for exhibition at Boston. He is stated to be 4,000 lbs. weight, and is probably the largest in the world. He certainly disproves Buffon's doctrine of the degeneracy of animals in America.

Alexandria, April 23. It became necessary, on Saturday last, for the Collector of this port, to enforce the President's Proclamation in relation to the British Colonial Trade. The English ship Killingbuck, of London, from Antigua, with a cargo of molasses, rum & wine, and several passengers, arrived on that morning and was promptly ordered to depart in 24 hours.

The Cheraw Spectator publishes the following instance of longevity in Chesterfield District, S. C. as a proof of the healthiness of that part of the State:—“Joseph Jordan died about one year since, aged 104 years. His relict, Julia, died on the 19th ult. aged 108 years.—These two persons have been married and lived together above 80 years; and have resided in this district upwards of 70 years.—They were both members of the Methodist Church, and lived pious and exemplary lives.”

Season.—Accounts from various quarters unite in representing the present spring as remarkable for its mildness; vegetation is much earlier than usual, and appearances indicate that the present will be an uncommonly fruitful season throughout the union. With us, with regard to the fruit trees, there have been seven years of dearth; for during that period the fruit has been more or less destroyed by the frost; last year, in this neighbourhood, the peach tree entirely failed. The present season, however, we are, as in other sections of the union, promised fruit in abundance; the frost, so far, having produced no injury, and the trees appear to have been made more prolific by the failures of the previous years. But the husbandman, this year, has more to cheer him than the prospect of an abundance of fruit; the beneficence of Providence appears also in his fields, and there, too, is promised a plentiful increase. For the two days past copious and fruitful showers have interrupted the long continued dryness of the season, and the industrious farmer can see nothing in prospect to mar his work; a rich harvest promises to rejoice his heart and call forth his gratitude.

Hillsborough Rec. Our season has been so far favorable to our fruits. All sorts of trees are full of them. Even the apricot has yet escaped the cold. Every sign bids fair at present for a good harvest in fruits and wheat; but it is a saying among some of the old people, that we are never safe against the frost, until the full of the moon in April. Our river yields a large quantity of shad—the chipping war-tins are swarming in great numbers; and the market begins to display comfortable stores of asparagus. The temperature of the air is very genial—fine warm rains, and yesterday some thunder and lightning. In truth, we have so far enjoyed a very seasonable spring. Richd. Compiler.

Greek fair at Baltimore.—The ladies of Baltimore, partaking of that generous and humane spirit which exists throughout the country, and which has been signally displayed in some of the large cities, in favor of the helpless famishing women and children of Greece, have adopted a novel and interesting manner of carrying their benevolent design into effect. They have organized a fair, at which fancy articles, the works of their own hands, are exposed for sale, the avails to be applied to the Greek fund. In this mode of managing their charity the great end is reached by a method as pleasing as it is uncommon, and that best of all recreations which addresses itself to the pure and hallowed feelings, accompanies the dispensation of the means of subsistence and comfort, to the wretched descendants of a People from whom the earliest sentiments of freedom and glory were derived. The throng was great, and too good-humoured on such an occasion not to be liberal; and the fancy merchandise is in a fair way to undergo a farther transformation into large stores of food and raiment for the objects of the charity, the amount received being about $1,500.

Tusculooza, Ala. March 24. In the case of Thomas M. Davenport against Jonathan R. Drish, upon a suit for the seduction of his daughter, Eliza M. Davenport, now Mrs. M. Farlane, the jury returned a verdict of 1525 dollars damages. The defendant moved the Court for a new trial, which has not been decided by the court.

Small Pox.—Upwards of one hundred and twenty persons are afflicted with this loathsome disease at Snowhill, Maryland; thirty have already fallen victims to it. With the knowledge of the protection against the ravages of small pox afforded by vaccination, which is within the reach of every one, is it not surprising that we so often hear of cases of this kind? Truly, “experience keeps a dear school; but fools will learn in no other.”

Small Pox.—This loathsome disease is existing at Camden, S. C. at this time. It was introduced there by a person who came from Charleston by boat about the 1st of March. It does not appear to have infected many of the inhabitants, & according to the certificate of Dr. Blanding, of that town, the danger may be considered as not great now, every precaution having been taken to prevent its extension. [N. C. Journal.]

When we refer to times long past, and recollect the violence of parties—how that by one of them all the acts of Great-Britain were justified, and by the other those of France palliated, extreme in one begetting extreme in the other, though it is now freely admitted that we were grossly wronged by both, and that like proceedings, on the part of either, will never hereafter be submitted to by the American people. In considering these things, the following beautiful lines have often occurred to us

“Breathes there a man with soul so dead,
Who never to himself hath said,
‘This is my own, my native land?’

And we are led most earnestly to desire that partly shall never again raise up a feeling in our country to stand opposed to any of its rights, as to be affected by the acts of foreigners. We shall have, and, perhaps, it is best that there should be, diversities of opinion on questions of internal policy, or as to preferences of persons—but no American principle should be given up on that account. We wish “peace, commerce and honest friendship” with all nations, without “entangling alliances” with any, & will demand reciprocity of every one. We will not, as it was reported to be the practice of the Dutch merchants of Japan, trample upon our best principles for the purposes of trade, nor solicit what we have a right to possess. We do not desire to impose conditions on any which we ourselves will not permit to bear upon ourselves, nor will we allow others to impose them on us.—Niles.

The article copied into the Register of the 20th ult. relating to the local improvement of Wilmington, was through inadvertence credited to the Wilmington Herald, instead of the Cape-Fear Recorder.

A valuable Plantation in Wake FOR SALE.

THAT valuable Farm, lately known by the name of West-Hill, lying on both sides of Swift & Williams's Creeks, adjoining the Plantation of Governor Branch, about nine miles from Raleigh, on the Road to Haywood, settled originally by Joseph Lane, the Grandfather of the late occupant of that name, at a time when farmers had choice of the best lands in the country. The whole Tract of land contains Two Thousand Two Hundred and Twenty acres—near 1200 of which is prime land—a considerable portion of it fine low grounds. The residue is well-timbered long-leaved Pine Land, and is supposed to afford the best range for cattle and hogs in the country. The farm under cultivation is between 3 and 400 acres, on which there is a tolerably good Dwelling-House, and other out-buildings, on as handsome and healthy a site as can be found in the county, or perhaps in the State. There is a small Grist-Mill, which is convenient for family and neighborhood purposes. The farm is in good order, and that the land may be viewed, on application to Mr. Thomas Howell, on the premises; and the terms of sale, which will be accommodating, will be made known on application to J. Gales. Raleigh, April 26, 1827. 59-tf.

NEWMAN'S CELEBRATED PATENT GRIST MILL.

The Runner at the Bottom A PATENT having been issued by the President of the United States, to Edward Newman, for his valuable improvement on the Grist Mill, the subscriber is fully authorized and empowered to make sale of Rights for using a single Mill, or the Rights for using said Mills in any County, or in any State in the Union, except Louisiana. Persons wishing to purchase Rights, can direct their letters to Samuel Morehead, Postmaster, Martinville, Guilford, N. C. and they will be immediately attended to.

The superior advantages of this Mill, consist in the grinding being done so near the centre, where the power is applied—the small size of the stones,—and the application of pressure to supply the absence of weight. The running stone is placed on the spindle, and facing upwards to the bed stone, which is permanently fixed. The pressure is applied to the centre of the runner, and the grain introduced into the mill through the eye of the bed or top stone. The simple construction of this Mill, its great durability and cheapness, and its convenience and usefulness to all persons having large families and stock, and the facility with which animal or water power can be applied, have given it the decided preference over all the inventions of this kind, with persons who can judge such things correctly.

SAMUEL MOREHEAD, Agent for Edward Newman, Patentee. March 30. 52 w6w t6m6m

The Editors of the Register are authorized to act as Agents for the sale of Rights, in Wake county.
