Raleigh Register.

TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 13, 1827.

Raleigh Academy.—The Semi-annual Examination of the students attached to this Institution, took place last week, and the proficiency manifested was highly gratifying.

On Friday evening, at the Methodist Church, the Report was read out, and Honorary Certificates and Golden Medals were conferred on Miss Felney I. Price and Miss Hawkins H. Lockhart, they having passed an approved examination on the various studies prescribed in our course of female instruction.

The Legislature of Georgia, commenced its annual session on Monday last.

We invite the attention of the friends of the Administration, to the notice contained in this day's paper, calling a public meeting in Carteret County, for the purpose of appointing Delegates to meet in this city on the 20th of December ensuing, to form an Electoral Ticket.

the charm dissolves apace, And as the morning steals upon the night Melting the darkness; so their rising senses Begin to chase the ignorant fumes that mantle Their clear reason.

The important developments which have taken place since April last, in relation to the charge of corruption brought by Gen. Jackson, have greatly increased the friends of Mr. Adams. He has passed through the ordeal uncontaminated, and has obtained a loftier elevation from the disgraceful attempts to abase him.

Virginia is making a great and magnanimous effort to obtain the triumph of learning & virtue over the delusive glare of military enthusiasm, and every indication is auspicious. Near fifty counties have called Anti-Jackson meetings, and appointed Delegates to attend a Convention in Richmond in December, which will contain some of the most distinguished individuals in the State.

Mr. James Abercrombie, Jun. of Baltimore, has undertaken to prosecute the proprietors of the line of Stages between Frenchtown and Newcastle, for the injury received by one of his relatives in the upsetting of the stage, which occasioned the death of Bishop Kemp.

rights, by properly defending which, they may be converted into majorities.

Since the above was written, we perceive that an Anti-Jackson Meeting has been called also in Pasquotank County.

Small Pox.—We are gratified to learn from the Edenton Gazette, that no new case of this dreadful malady occurred during the last week, and it is confidently believed that a stop has been put to its ravages.

As the Star of this place is republishing from the Kentucky Argus, a series of abusive letters addressed to Mr. CLAY, by its editor, Amos Kendal, we think it right to make the following extract from the Literary Cadet, that the character of this new and virulent enemy may be understood:—

Mr. Amos Kendal, has, for the last fifteen years, flourished as Editor of the Kentucky Argus and is an adventurer from New-England, and a native of Massachusetts. He migrated to Kentucky in the year 1811, and first made his appearance as a school teacher, and subsequently flourished as a Counsellor and an Attorney at Law.

With every minute you do change your mind And call him noble that was now your hate, Him vile, that was your garland.

This extract is extremely pertinent to the political course pursued by certain Editors. The Richmond Enquirer and its namesake of New York are at this time the most bitter opponents of the Administration and the greatest eulogists of Gen. Jackson.

From the Richmond Enquirer, Oct. 14, 1824. "We cannot consent to lend a hand towards the election of such a man as Gen. Jackson. He is too little of a statesman—too rash—too violent in his temper—his measures too much inclined to arbitrary governments to obtain the humble support of the editor of this paper. WE WOULD DEPRECATE HIS ELECTION AS A CURSE UPON THE COUNTRY."

From Noah's Enquirer, July, 14, 1821. Mr. Adams is a very extraordinary man. He excites but little interest: he appears to have no friends who are pressing him before the people, and who wish to secure to him an approbation which he does not merit, or a rank to which he is not entitled; & yet he occasionally presents himself to the world in a garb so alluring that men think highly of him, in reference to the "high places," against their will.

Great fire at Mobile.—Letters received at Augusta, Geo. mention that on Sunday, the 21st October, a fire took place in Mobile, which destroyed nine entire squares, embracing all the wharves, public buildings, taverns, &c. in all about one hundred and fifty buildings.

Attached to the way-bill received in Augusta from Montgomery, Ala. is the following:—"Information of undoubted character is received here, that the whole of the business part of Mobile is burnt."

Execution.—Nat, the felon convicted of Arson at the last term of Robeson Superior Court, was, in pursuance of the sentence of the law, hung at Lumberton on Friday last. We have just received his Confession, made a few days prior to his execution, before several respectable gentlemen of Robeson, and reduced to writing by an intelligent Magistrate of that county. We shall publish it, or at least parts of it. N. C. Journal.

William D. Freeman, recently convicted at Boston, of manslaughter, on the person of David Whitehead, a seaman on board the brig Floyd, was brought before the U. S. Court, in this city, Judges Story & Davis, to receive his sentence. The Court having fully considered his defence and all its accompanying circumstances, both of mitigation and aggravation, sentenced him to pay a fine of $100, and to suffer two years and six months imprisonment. The prisoner is about thirty years of age, and has a wife, but no children.—Boston Pat.

The Grand Lodge of Vermont lately voted a donation of one hundred dollars to the funds of the American Colonization Society; one of the subordinate Lodges in the same State, voted twenty dollars, and several others ten dollars each to the same object.

The Cattle Shows, in all parts of the country, appear to have been, numerously attended this season, and, in the Eastern States especially, to have exhibited highly approved samples of improved culture. At the great Exhibition at Worcester, in Massachusetts, on the 10th ult. the Exhibition, with the ploughing match, were not suffered to be interrupted, and scarcely to be slackened, by a deluge of rain.

The Present Anniversary of the Society.—Furnishing proof that the drenching of the man cannot damp the ardor of the farmer.

Our next Anniversary.—May I find us with warm hearts, and leave us with dry backs.

Agriculture.—The great chain of political union, which becomes brighter and stronger by use.

Manufactures.—Dependent for support on agriculture—they will repay that support by increasing the markets of the farmer.

The remnant of the geomancy of the Revolution.—Who stood by their country in an hour when "the bulwark held in his breath," their country should stand by them when it needs not their support.

The hardy labors of the ploughman, whose industry will not tire in sunshine, and with whom a wet coat never produces relaxed sinews.

The Sheriff of Monmouth county, New-Jersey, who arrested Mr. Lloyd, one of the members of the legislature on his way to Trenton, was brought before the house to answer for a breach of privilege. He pleaded ignorance, was discharged and Mr. Lloyd took his seat.

Morgan not found.—The Albany Advertiser publishes an extract of a letter from a gentleman in Rochester to his friends in that city, dated the 26th inst. which says that the body found at Oak Orchard Creek and since interred at Batavia, proves not to be that of Morgan, but a man of Canada. This is proved "by the wife of the dead man which was found, that it was her husband. She proved that the clothes found on the body were those of her husband, or the same he had on when he left home, and likewise the shoes he had on were a pair he had on when he left home; this was proved also by the person of whom he bought them. The tracts that were found in his pockets were proved to have been given him by a minister before he left. The wife and friends intend removing the body from Batavia to Canada, and have sent word to the Rochester Committee of their intention. It is very generally believed the body found was not that of Morgan."

Extraordinary preservation at Sea.—The ship Mary Ann, of about 100 tons, loaded about three weeks since, near Bangor, a full cargo of slate, with which she put to sea. The crew were surprised, after getting to sea, to find her very leaky, and that the leak gained very fast upon them. Considering the nature of the cargo and the impossibility to save her. They finally took to the boat, and rowing from her, lay at a distance to watch her sinking. They continued to watch far beyond the time in which they had calculated she would disappear. Surprised that she still continued to float, they returned to her, and found that the leak ceased to increase, but they were perfectly at a loss to account for the circumstance. They set the sails and finally got her into Milford Haven; & to their astonishment, found the leak had been stopped by the body of a fish, which had been forced in with some sea weed, by which means the ship and cargo were saved.

The Walls of Gibraltar have been lately repaired, and are now, perhaps the most beautiful specimens of fortifications in the world. They are built of large stones, cut out of rock, which are extremely hard, of a whitish colour, & have all the appearance and indeed consistency, of marble. The Moorish castle, which overlooks the town, and probably has stood these 5 or 600 years, is built entirely of brick. It bears sail marks still of the siege which the gallant Elliott, with 6,000 men, sustained for more than three years, against the combined armies and fleets of France and Spain. It is now a prison. There are about 600 guns mounted at present, & about 980 altogether could be put in activity in case of a siege.—N. Y. Eng.

A MOTHER TO HER FIRST BORN. 'Tis sweet to watch thee in thy sleep, When thou, my boy, art dreaming; 'Tis sweet o'er thee a watch to keep, To mark the smile that seems to creep O'er thee like day light gleaming. 'Tis sweet to mark thy tranquil breast Heave like a small wave flowing; To see thee take thy gentle rest, With nothing, save fatigue, oppress'd And health on thy cheek glowing.

To mark thee now, or when awake, Sad thoughts, alas! steal o'er me; For thou in time a part must take, That may thy fortunes mar or make, In the wide world before thee. But I, my child, have hopes of thee, And may they never be blighted; That I years hence, may live to see Thy name as dear to all as me, Thy virtue well requited. I'll watch thy dawn of joys, and mould Thy little mind to duty; I'll teach thee words, as I behold Thy faculties, like flowers, unfold In intellectual beauty. And then, perhaps, when I am dead, And friends around me weeping, Thou'lt see me to my grave, and shed A tear upon my narrow bed Where I shall then be sleeping.

MARRIED, In Orange county, Mr. John Compton to Miss Elizabeth Christopher.

DIED. In Orange county, on the 18th ultimo, Capt. William Hicks, a soldier of the Revolution. In Granville county, Mr. William Lassiter, aged 18 years.

MEDICAL DEPARTMENT.

THE lectures in this institution will commence as usual, on the first Monday of November, and terminate on the first Saturday in March. Anatomy and Surgery. By B. W. Dudley, M. D. Institutes of Medicine and Clinical Practices, By Charles Caldwell, M. D. Theory and Practice of Medicine. By John Estlin Cooke, M. D. Obstetrics and diseases of women and children. By W. H. Richardson, M. D. Materia Medica and Medical Botany. By Charles W. Short, M. D. Chemistry and Pharmacy. By James Byylie, D. D.

The edifice which has been erected during the present season, for the accommodation of the medical department, is rapidly progressing, and the faculty, with confidence, announce to the public, that it will be completed and ready for the reception of the classes before the commencement of the ensuing session. The building occupies a space, on its foundation, of 75 by 50 feet, and contains two spacious lecture rooms, large apartments for the library, museum and chemical laboratory, together with librarian's dormitory, and every other convenient and necessary appurtenance.

It is situated in a pleasant and central part of the town, immediately contiguous to the anatomical theatre and dissecting rooms, and together with these, will constitute an establishment not surpassed, in point of comfort and convenience, by any similar institution in America. The library contains upwards of three thousand volumes, and is constantly increasing by the addition of all the periodical and standard works on medicine and the collateral sciences. It is opened as a reading room every evening (Sunday excepted) throughout the session, and every student has the privilege, moreover, of keeping out two volumes at a time. The museum contains a variety of instructive preparations, both of the human subject and of wax and plaster imitations by the first artists of Europe. Students of medicine resorting to this school for instruction, will be accommodated in the most respectable families, with genteel board and lodging, together with all other incidental attendances, upon cheaper terms than at any other medical institution in our country.

The expenses of a complete course of lectures, including the matriculation and library ticket, will amount to $100 specie. The fee for graduation will be $20 in addition. By order of the Medical Faculty. C. W. SHORT, M. D. Dean. Lexington, Ky. August 24, 1827.

We are authorized to state that B. W. Dudley, M. D. Professor of Anatomy and Surgery in the school of medicine of this place, has promptly declined accepting the chair of Surgery in the medical department of the University of Maryland, to which he was of late unanimously elected; thus judiciously and much to the gratification of the friends of medical science in the west, preferring his situation and standing here, as a practitioner and teacher, to that so temporarily tendered to him by the eastern school.
