Grape Vines.

THE Secretary of the Board of Agriculture of this State, informs the several Agricultural Societies connected with the Board, that, agreeably to the instructions given him at their meeting during the late Session of the General Assembly, he has ordered a supply of Grape Vines from the Vineyard of Mr. LOUARY, on Long Island, and has received advice of their being shipped for Wilmington, in 20 Boxes, each containing 50 Roots of 25 different kinds, addressed to the several Societies. From Wilmington, they will be sent on to Fayetteville, to the care of Messrs. Horton & Hutton, to whom application will be made by the several Societies.—From a belief that it would be more convenient for some of the Societies to send to Raleigh than to Fayetteville, a few of the Boxes will come on to this place. Raleigh Register.

FRIDAY, MARCH 27, 1829.

The Supreme Court of the U. States adjourned on Friday last.

Internal Improvement.—We are pleased to learn that the Committees of Orange and Chatham Counties, appointed by the general meeting held in this city during the late Session of the General Assembly, on the subject of Internal Improvements, have met together, and fixed on a certain day for holding a general meeting of the citizens of each of the Counties, at which it is expected the subject will undergo a discussion which cannot fail to be of great public interest. The result shall be laid before our readers. We hope soon to hear that the Committees of the other Counties are attentive to their duty in this respect.

Fire.—The Kitchen and Smoke-house of Mr. Duncan Rose, of Roxboro, in Person county, was consumed by fire in the night of the 15th instant, and it was with some difficulty that his dwelling-house was saved. The mischief was occasioned by the fire made to cure his meat.

The Philadelphia Chronicle, speaking of Stephenson, the Banker's case, says, whether he be guilty of all the crimes imputed to him by the English newspapers, or, what is exceedingly difficult to believe, as innocent, comparatively, as he is said to have represented himself—his seizure was an act of lawless violence, and worthy of severe punishment, yet the civil process under which he is in custody, may detain him until demanded by the Government of Great-Britain.

It is contemplated to establish a Telegraph at Sand Key, which it is believed will be of great advantage to all persons engaged in the commerce of the Gulf of Mexico. Vessels going to & from Pensacola, Mobile, New-Orleans, &c. make Sand Key lighthouse, and frequently almost within speaking distance. The gentleman who resides there (if furnished with the necessary signals) has kindly offered to attend to the Telegraph, and no doubt the commercial world will be greatly benefited by his services. The Key-West Register could immediately communicate the result of the observations.

Manufacture of Linen.—In Pittsburg, the spinning of flax is now successfully performed, on a large scale, by machinery driven by steam; and from the thread are manufactured Table Cloths, Drilling, Shirting, &c. of a superior quality.

The cultivation of Sugar appears to be daily growing in favour at the South. The Savannah Republican speaks of some samples of Florida Sugar, made in that part of the territory called Alachua, which in grain, taste & smell, furnish indications of the highest quality that appertains to that article. Sixty hogsheads had been already secured, and it was thought twenty more would be realized.

Explosion.—The Newburgh Gazette of Monday informs us, that about 11 o'clock, the Powder Mills of Daniel Rogers, Esq. about 4 miles northwest of that village, were blown up. The explosion was tremendous, shaking the village to its foundation. Four men are missing, supposed to have been killed; the mutilated remains of two have been found scattered throughout the woods near the mills.

New mode of casting Types.—To the numerous inventions of the present day of dispensing with manual labour, has lately been added one for casting Printing Type, which is now in successful practice at Mr. White's letter-foundry, in New-York. Heretofore type was cast by a man holding a mould in one hand, and dipping up in a ladle, and pouring into the mould the liquid metal with the other. It has long been a desideratum with type-founders to devise a less tedious method of effecting this object; and what has baffled the skill of the mechanics of England for a century past, has been accomplished by a citizen of New-York. The mould now used varies but little in construction from the hand-mould; the difference consists in the machine itself performing the operation of filling and discharging the mould. A small boy, by turning a crank, does all that is necessary towards casting the Type. It is a most ingenious invention, and will no doubt be ranked among the many valuable presents which this country has made to the arts. It will also, we hope, have the effect of lowering the price of this, at present, costly article.

Appointments by the President since the adjournment of the Senate.
Mr. Isaac Hill, of New-Hampshire to be second Comptroller, vice Richard Cutts removed.
Mr. Amos Kendall to be fourth Auditor, vice Tobias Watkins, removed.
Mr. William B. Lewis, of Tennessee, to be second Auditor, vice William Lee, removed.

Catholic Convention.—The Roman Catholic Convention, appointed to be holden in this town, was organized on Sunday last, by the Rev. Bishop England.

St. Patrick's Chapel.—This building, lately erected in our town, was yesterday consecrated to the service of Almighty God, by the Rev. Bishop England. A large number of citizens assembled at an early hour, to witness the ancient and imposing ceremonial of its dedication. A luminous and eloquent explanation of the rites used on the occasion was then given by the Bishop, after which, the solemn service of high mass was performed. Our Catholic Brethren are indebted to the munificence of Mr. John Kelly, of this town, for this, the first, and we believe the only Catholic Church in the State.—ib.

Muscadel Grapes.—We are informed by Mr. Alexander M'Leod, of Adamsville, S. C. that the Muscadel Grape Vine has been raised in the neighborhood of that village from the seed of the raisin. He states that the vines are apparently thrifty and flourishing, & bid fair to produce fruit this season. We sincerely hope that the attempt to naturalize this delicious exotic may be crowned with success, and at the same time recommend to our agricultural readers a further trial of the experiments.—ib.

Anson Bailey, Esq. Coroner, was called on the 15th inst. to hold an inquest on the body of a man by the name of Newton C. Lane, about two miles from this town on the Camden road. The verdict of the Jury was, that the deceased came to his death by his horse running away and upsetting a cart which he was driving at the time. It is believed the deceased had no relatives in this county. Should this notice reach his relatives or friends elsewhere, they can have further particulars on application to the Coroner.—ib.

Fire.—The large and valuable dwelling house in the town of Hartford, owned by Gen. Jacobs and occupied by Mrs. Granberry, took fire accidentally on Sunday last, but by the active exertions of the population, it was extinguished after doing considerable damage to the roof.

Edgecombe Superior Court.—The trial of Redding Staton, charged with the murder of Solomon Bartlett, terminated in a verdict by the Jury of manslaughter. On Friday, Judge Strange sentenced the prisoner to pay a fine of $1000. No other case of importance came before the court, which terminated its Spring session on Saturday last.

Ezekiel Staton, brother of Redding, indicted for the same offence, has surrendered himself, and given bail for his appearance at our next Superior Court.

Non-Freeholders.—We are rejoiced, (says the Richmond Enquirer) to see them in motion. They ought to press on to the attainment of their just rights, with a firmness that will not be subdurd. Memorials ought to be circulated thro' the State, and signed by all the Freeholders. Now is the time for them to make an appeal to the justice of their fellow-citizens. Their wrongs, their numbers, ought to be fully and fairly exhibited before the Convention—and not only able Memorials, subscribed by all of them, ought to be presented, but a few enlightened Citizens ought to be delegated to state their claims in person, and to request to be heard at the bar of the Convention.—The proceedings of the Citizens of Rockingham, which we have the pleasure of laying this day before our readers, furnish a model in this respect, worthy of all imitation.

Pennsylvania.—By the laws of last year, this State is pledged to form, by its own resources, 1st. A complete communication between the city of Philadelphia, on the Delaware, and the city of Pittsburg, on the Ohio, by means of rail roads and canals. 2d. A branch of the canal from the mouth of the Juniata, on the Susquehanna, to the New York State line. 3d. A branch from the Susquehanna to the Bald Eagle, on the West branch. 4th. A canal from Carpenter's Point on the tide waters of Delaware. 5th. A navigable feeder for the intended canal between Pittsburg and Lake Erie. 6th. A rail road from Columbia to the town of York.

Glennhassett's Island.—The beautiful island of the Ohio which acquired unfortunate celebrity by the connexion of its owner with the fortunes of Colonel Burr, has been rendered classic ground by one of the flashes of poetry which brightened the dull mass of argument heaped up in the trial of the military adventurer. The spot which was once the seat of elegance & liberal hospitality, is said to be now waste & desolate. The embellishments of art have disappeared, the palace crumbled, and the ornaments of taste withered. Drift wood encumbers the grounds and ruins are strewn over the spot which was once an image of an earthly paradise. The former owner, unfortunately seduced by ambition to participate in the wild schemes formed by his bold visionary companion, shared in the ruin of fortune and the wreck of character. The island was abandoned, and is now a memento of the folly of its possessor, exhibiting that desolation which the decay of nature brings on the deserted works of art.

From the Southern Patriot.
Mr. Editor:—As every thing relating to Mr. John Randolph is interesting, and as it is said he prides himself on his Indian descent, I send you the following account of his genealogy. It is taken from a memorandum furnished by the great Virginian Orator himself, which he placed in the hands of a friend, and is transcribed in his own words, as you will see:

Pocahontas, (whose true name was Matouca) baptised by the name of Rebecca, married John Rolfe, Esq. and left on only son, Thomas; whose only daughter married Robert Bolling, of Bolling Hall, West Riding of York, who left a son, John Bolling, one of whose daughters married Richard Randolph of Custis, whose youngest son, John Randolph of Roanoke, married Frances Bland. Your humble servant is one of the only surviving issue of that marriage, and sixth in descent from Pocahontas.

Domestic Slave trade.—A bill has been passed by the legislature of Louisiana which forbids any person to bring into that State any slaves, with the intention of selling or hiring them, unless the owner or the person carrying them shall also bring with them a certificate for each slave above a certain age, signed by two or more freeholders of the County from which they are brought, that the said slaves, (describing them most particularly,) have not been guilty or convicted of any crimes, but have borne a good moral character. This certificate is to be signed by the clerk of some court, showing that the declaration was made on oath by the said freeholders; and that these are respectable and well known freeholders of the County. The act provides other precautions for identifying the slaves. Any of the citizens of Louisiana, who shall introduce any slaves for his own use, shall bring the same kind of certificate of moral character and good behavior. No persons emigrating with the bona fide intention of settling and establishing himself therein, shall sell any of their slaves until the expiration of 2 years—and these facts are to be authenticated in the most formal manner.—A penalty of $1,000 is to be levied for a violation of the first provision of this act. The City Council of New-Orleans are authorized to pass any ordinance to prevent the exposition of slaves that may be brought into the city, for sale or hire in the public and most frequented places thereof.

LATEST FROM EUROPE.
The ship Sarah and Caroline, arrived at Charleston, from Liverpool on the evening of the 20th inst. and brings papers to the 3d of February.

Parliament was to commence its session on the 5th. Mr. O'Connell was expected to take his seat early in the session.

The Gazette de France of the 20th of January says:—“We are assured that dispatches were brought yesterday by an extraordinary Express, which announced that the Emperor of Russia had sent orders to the Grand Duke Constantine to put himself at the head of the Polish army, and to march and occupy the Principalities. Letters from Warsaw add, that the Army of the Baltic has also received orders to march to the South.”

“Princes Metternich plied at Vienna on the 17th inst. in consequence of a milk fever.”

If the intelligence in the Paris papers be correct, the Turks have speedily disclosed the object for which they have been so largely strengthening their fortresses upon the Danube. One of these papers states, “The Danube is passed at every point. The Pacha of Widdin is marching with 30,000 men, against the Principalities, and it is thought that, unless the Grand Duke Constantine arrives in time to stop the invasion, the Russian army will be obliged to repress the Pruth.”

PARIS, JANUARY 28.
We have the following communication from Vienna:—“We learn from Constantinople that the negotiations of Mr. O'Leary, for the conclusion of a commercial treaty between the Porte and the United States of North America, have failed. The Americans required, as the first condition and the basis of the treaty, the free navigation of the Black Sea. It was known that the Reis Effendi had refused to make any concession in this respect. People consider this refusal as indicating a disposition to gratify England, and infer from it the possibility of an agreement with that Power.”

LIVERPOOL, JAN. 30.
We have had a very lively demand for Cotton this week, particularly yesterday and to day, and the business done is extensive at an improvement of 1/4 per lb. on Pernams, Maranhams and low American; good American are 3d. higher, and all descriptions are more saleable at the highest quotations of last week.

4000 bags taken on speculation, about half Brazils and the rest American.

Captain George, of the ship Superb, arrived at Philadelphia states, that Lisbon was in a very unsettled state, and a revolution daily expected: the prisons were all full, and many prison ships lying in the Tagus with prisoners, bound for Madeira and Oporto. A few days before sailing, heard that the first division of Portuguese, which left Plymouth, on the 6th January, had safely landed at Terceira, one of the Western Islands. Several men of war were fitting out at Lisbon, supposed to be for an expedition against that Island. It was expected that Don Pedro would send a squadron, to blockade the port of Lisbon, and that the Portuguese fleet would join them as they had received no pay for six months: several of the crews of those lying in the Tagus had mutinied, and were afterwards sent to prison. Press gangs and an armed police were continually parading the streets.

Communicated.—Departed this life, suddenly in Salem, N. C. on the 18th of March, instant, Mrs. Henriette Fredericke Reichel, daughter of the late celebrated Doctor Benjamin Vierling, in the 35th year of her age. She was born and educated at this place. During several years she discharged the duties of a Tutoress in our Female Academy. In the year 1816, she married the Rev. Benjamin Reichel, Director of the Female Academy, and she has since been the maternal guardian of near eight hundred daughters from various places, whose best interest she had always at heart, showing particular attention to the sick and indisposed of her large family, and uncommon fortitude in trying circumstances.—Truly, a mother in Israel has been taken from us! She had nine children, and received them as a “heritage of the Lord,” seven of whom are still in the vale of tears. No mother more attentive to her children, no wife than she more affectionate to her husband, ever administering encouragement in the discharge of his duties.—She was loved and esteemed most by those who knew her best. “Let all hear!”—she said, during her last sickness, “My sole dependance is on the grace and precious merits of Jesus Christ—O, for the lowest seat among the just made perfect!—The least corner in the heavenly mansion is all I ask and desire!” How refreshing to the drooping spirit of her bereaved husband and children, to her mother, brothers, sisters, and friends, that their irreparable loss is the everlasting gain of her to whom their hearts were knit in tender affection, and who is gone only a little before to the blest abode of the saints dwelling with Jesus.
