Thomas G. Scott, Esq. has been appointed Postmaster of this City, in the place of Daniel Peck, resigned.

A most appropriate and excellent Discourse was delivered at the Presbyterian Church, in this City, on Sunday last, by the Rev. W. Hoopen, in favor of the North-Carolina Branch of the American Tract Society, from Daniel, xii, 4. " Mamy shall run to and fro, and knowledge shall be increased." We were sorry that the inclemency of the weather deprived many of our citizens of the pleasure of hearing it.

Our Superior Court adjourned on Sa. turday. The charge of Forgery, which we mentioned in our last, was not substantiated. There was another case, which, at the time, excited considerable interest. It was a prosecution for breaking open a grave, in our public grave-yard, and doing violence to the corpse of a Stranger, who had just been interred, for the purpose of obtaining his teeth! Two persons were concerned in this scandalous affair : one of them only was brought to trial. He was convicted and fined 25 dollars.

Ireland .- We are in hopes, from the potice taken by the King of England, in his Speech to Parliament, of the disdi tracted, owing principally to the disabili ties under which the Roman Catholics labo.ur, that Parliament, during the present ression, will adopt some effectual measures for their relief. Our impressions on this subject have been strengthened by observing what passed in the flouse of Lords on the first day of the session. After the usual Address to his Majesty had been carried, "the Duke of Newcastle begged to know from the Noble Duke at the head of his Majesty's Government, whether it was his intention by means of moving for a Committee, to take into consideration the disabilities which had been thrown on the Roman Catholics, or whether it was his intention to bring in a bill for the removal of those disabilities." The Duke of Wellington, in answer, "had the honor of informing their Lordships, that it was the intention of his Majesty's Government, according to the course proposed in his Majesty's Speech, to present to Parliament, in the course of the present Session, a measure for the adjustment of what was called the to the removal generally of all the disabilities under which the Roman Catholics laboured, with the exception solely of that which rested on special grounds; it would be accompanied, also, by other measures rendered necessary by the removal of those disabilities."

The Boundary Question .- The N. York Enquirer of Monday, says, "We under- Euclid. When the diagram is presented stand that three Commissioners, Messrs. " Energy and Promptness .- With pride and exultation we inform the American People that, within 36 hours after the news of the late murders and piracies had reached the Department of State, peremptory orders were issued from habitant of our forests-the man whose the President to the Natchez, to sail in 24 hours so untions by which Ireland is at present at farthest, with instructions to the commander of the squadron, thoroughly to scour the West India seas without cessation, and to visit every port, which could afford the murderers any shelter, at least once a week. This is as it

it should be." But there is another circumstance to be mentioned, which, if we are correctly informed, is not, in our opinion, exactly as it should be. When the order was received at our Navy Yard, directing the Natchez to sail in twenty-four hours, she had her supplies already on board for a twelve months cruize, and might have put to sea at once. But this order was accompanied by another directing an entire change of the officers of the Natchez, from the commander downwards. This derangement in the affairs of the ship, as we are informed, will prevent her sailing for several days. Even the commander assigned, had not arrived yesterday. All the officers of the ship had their private stores on board for a year's cruise; these must be removed and the officers, newly assigned, must have time to make the like provisions for themselves. Meantime, however, most fortunately for our commerce, Com. Turner, of the United States ship Erie, tho' Roman Catholic Question, not going thro' he had but that day returned from a a Committee. The steam engine in five years has enabled us to anticipate a state of things which, in the ordinary course of events, is would have required a century to have preduced. The art of printing scarcely surpassed it in its beneficial consequences. In the old world, the places of the greatest interest to the philosophic traveller are ruins, and monuments, that speak a faded splendor, and departed glory. The broken columns of Tadmor, the shapeless ruins of Babylon, are rich in matter for almost endless speculation. Far different is the case in the western regions of America. The stranger views here, with wonder, the raests; and with which barbarism retreats before the approach of art and civilization. The reflection possessing the most intense interest is, not what has been the charac ter of the country, but what will be her future destiny."-Western Souvenir.

NATIONAL INTELLIGENCER Published in the CITY OF WASHINGTON.

BY WE'S GALES & SEATON

THE National Intelligencer is an old established Journal, at the Seat of the General Goveernment. It publishes, originally, regularly, and fully, the Proceedings and Debates of Congress ; also, all the State Papers and Documents of public interest, laid before Congress, or originating in that body, and all the Acts passed by them. These recommendations, in addition to a variety of other information which is to be found in its columns, connected with the General interests of our own country, with Literature and Science, and the Affairs of the world at large; together with the character of general fairness which the paper has sustained under its present editors for many years, make the National Intel ligencer useful and even valuable, to all who feel an interest in the concerns of this or of other countries. The National Intelligencer is not a party paper, but censures or approves where censure or approbation seems to be due to public measures. It supported the late Administration of the General Government, when the measures of that Administration were such as to meet its approbation. It avows a determination, though it opposed the election of General Jackson, to support the just measures of this Administration, but as certainly to oppose the unjust or the proscriptive. It will be, in principle, opposed to any Administration of the Government, whose measures shall show it to have the interests of a party at heart, rather than the great interests of the country. It is, in a word, what its title des notes, a National paper.

For the independent and impartial course which it has pursued, the National Intelligencer has been denounced, and an attempt has been made to put it down, right or wrong, by the strong arm of power directed by caucus agency. The attempt is as vain as it would be for any modern prophet to bid the sun to stand still .-Thirty years old, this National paper is not yet in its prime, but acquires strength and power with every day of its existence.

Without having ever sought for popularity, or courted public patronage, the National Intelligencer enjoys already the widest circulation of any newspaper in the United States. It is read in every State and Territory in the Union, and and in every city and town, as well as in the country. It is read in every capital in Europe, and possesses sources of information exceeded by no other Journal.

For the first time, an effort is made to enlarge the subscription to it, by sending forth this Pros pected to deal so generously with as to let it be seen, and our friends so kindly as to further our purpose with their aid and countenance. Heretofore, we have herdly wished to enlarge our subscription list. Intending hereafter, however, to devote ourselves wholly to the newspaper, and to a proper improvement of "the condition of the Press," we invite such further subscriptions, as, being punctually paid, will remunerate our labor and expenses.

The National Intelligencer is published daily, at ten dollars per annum, payable in advance. It is published, also, for the more convenient circulation where a daily mail does not penetrate, three times a week at six dollars per annum, payable in advance. A remittance of either of these amounts in bank paper, by mail, will ensure the prompt and regular transmission of ev ery paper that may be ordered.

Those subscribing will please to signify whether they desire the paper for a year only, and then to be stopped without further notice, or wish it to be continued until countermanded. Washington, March 5, 1829.

Statute of Limitation.

AVING lately seen a publication in the Register, charging me with having pled the Statute of Limitation to a just debt, I make no delay in replying to it, which, had the whole facts of the case been stated, I should not have thought necessary.

Marian Robertson had been called to my house as a Midwife, for which service she was paid, & expressed herself satisfied in the presence of witnesses. About a year afterwards she presented a lumping charge for some medicine composed of roots and barks, of two dollars, which, as I had never employed her to prepare, I refused to pay; and I heard no more of it. She never brought suit; but about three years afterwards, her son, Jacob Robertson warranted me for this account, and on the trial before Dorris Candy, J. P. I pled that the account was unjust, and therefore should plead the statute in bar of THOS. ROGERS.
