TELEVISION CONTRACTOR SUPPRES THURSDAY, JANUARY 7, 1830.

LEGISLATURE --- Several propositions have been before the Legislature, the present week on the subject of adjournment, and on yesterday both Houses agreed to adjourn to-morrow sine die.

The bill proposing to hold the Supreme Court, alternately, at Raleigh and Statesville, was rejected on Monday, in the House of Commons, on its second reading.

The bill to change the mode of compensating the Members of the Legislature, or in other words to shorten the sessions of that body, has passed the Senate. -variety of amendments which were proposed to the bill, (some of them eccentric enough) will be found in a preceding column

The bill passed by the Senate, proposing to establish a Bank on behalf of, and for the benefit of the State, was taken up for its 2d reading in the House of Commons, on Monday last; Mr. Joseph A. Hill moved that it be indefinitely postponed. On this motion, Mr. H. proceeded to shew that the bill was wrong, not only in detail, but in principle, and ought Goot to pass. He was followed by Mr. Swain, in opposition to the bill, who insisted upon the unconstitutionality as well as impolicy of the bill. The house adjourned without taking the question .-On the following day, the subject was again resumed. Mr. Stokes & Mr. Pearson spoke in favor of the bill, and complained of the unfairness of the course taken by its opponents, of calling for a decision of its merits before its friends had had an opportunity of amending it so as to meet their own approbation. Mr. Gaston followed, in a Speech of considerable length, in decided opposition to the bill, both as to principle and details .-The question on the indefinite postponement of the bill was carried by Yeas and

From Kentucky, we learn that George Robertson, one of the Associate Judges of the Supreme Court, has been appointed Chief Justice of the State, and that Richard A. Buckner, a Member of the last Congress, has been appointed Associate Judge in his stead.

A bill providing for calling a Convention had been rejected in the Senate of that State, by 19 votes to 18.

Colonization Society .- The treasurer of the Pennsylvania Colonization Society acknowledges the receipt of $2,691, subscriptions and donations, for the purpose of liberating the slaves offered to the American Colonization Society, on condition of their being sent to Liberia. Of the above sum, one subscriber has given $1000-on the plan of Gerrit Smith, pavable in 10 annual instalments, one of $300 in the same manner, the remainder in donations of $200 and under.

No news yet of the Hornet. We fear that the fate of the Insurgent, Wasp, and Epervier, has been her's. That no one has escaped to tell the tale of her loss. It is stated that Capt. Ballard has been assigned to the command of the Brandy19th Nov. 1829 :

communicate to you that the Stockholders in the Sunkey Canal, the most profitable the parish from the Rev. Mc. Wheaton. Canal in this Kingdom, rising from £100 to £1800 per share, have had a meeting this week, as is most confidently believed, to take into consideration the expediency of letting it dry and laying a Railroad on it. and that they are about applying to Parliament for this liberty. This very day Lord Grosvenor, the Earl of Derby, and five columns. the Marquiss of Stafford, with some of the Liverpool and Manchester Directors, are going over the road accompanied with Engineers, for the purpose of making examinations. These noblemen are very heavy brought to our jail yesterday. He was apholders of Canal property, and think it may be advisable to make them into Railroads.

A Railroad from this to London is contemplated, and I believe a negociation is at this mement going on between the Mar chester Railroad Company and certain powerful and influential holders of Canal stock, in order as far as possible, to make the Canal property available, provided they will support a bill in Parliament for the above object. This is, however, kept ling are invested in Canal property in this country, and its fall must therefore ruin many people."

Distinguished Traveller .- The New. Orleans Courier of December 1, announces the arrival in that City of the Prince PAUL WILLIAM of Wurtemburg, already known there by his visit about'six years ago, when he was going to explore the upper Fegions of the Missouri. After having, by his libral ideas, acted a conspicuous part in the Chamber of Peers of his own country," says the Courier, "this Prince, devoted to the sciences, now aims at nothing but that of stending the limits of knowledge and increasing the reputation he already enjoys imong the Naturalists and Geographers of our day. The aspect which the upper Mis--ouri offered to his eyes and his imagination, created in him, on his first visit, a desire to push forward his scientific, researches, but some business having forced him to return to Europe, he now comes again with a view to prosecute his former plan o go over the Rocky Mountains, and to repair across our vast continent to the Pacific Ocean." We had only time to mention in our last, the passage by the Legislature of the act to prevent the admission of free persons of color into the ports of this State. We cunnot procure a copy of the bill until its publication. It imposes however, as we before stated, a quarantine of 40 days upon vessels, having on board persons of the class referred to-this clause to take If ct upon vessels from ports of the U. states, in S months ; from all other ports, in 6 months. The act also prohibits all intercourse with such vessel by free persons of color or slaves, and compets captrins of vessels to convey back such persons on board ; renders copital the circulation of pamphlets of evil tendency, among our domestics; makes penal the traching of free persons of acolor or slaves to read or write; and prohibits the introduction of sloves into this State for sale. It is perhaps proper to state that the act referred to was passed in its present form (another having been previously on its passage,) in consequence of a message of Gov. Gilmer, on the last day of the session, founded upon a pamphlet of an insidious character, introduced into, and detected in this city, a copy of which was forwarded to the Executive Department.

The Honnet.- The New-York Commercial of Monday afternoon says := " Addifional arrivals from various ports of the Guil of Mexico, leave no doubt as to the melancholy fate of the Hornet. The gale in which she was swallowed up, was one of the most terrible hurricanes ever known in those seas. The Captain of a light brig who was in the edge of the tempest, reas quiet as possible. Thirty millions ster presents it as having been the most appalling speciacle that he ever beheld. The sea was wrought into a foam as though a thousand water spours were bursting over as many whirlpools, while the winds were driving with a fury that mountains only could resist. His own vessel was very light, and although but in the edge of the gale, he was borne almost through the air, he knew not how. The Captain thinks that no heavy ship, or ship heavily laden, could have stood that awful tempest."

> Power !- Some very interesting experiments took place on the Baltimore and Ohio rail Road on Monday last, and frave been continued during the week. A large Jan. 4, 1830. number of persons have attended to witness them, of whom many were distinguished strangers. Among the experiments, we notice these-

> Internal Improvement -- Were we possessed of the entire control of adequate funds for the improvement of the internal communications in North-Carolina, the following would be the plan we are inclined to adopt :

The experiment for deepening the Swash, now in preparation, should be fully tried. If this should succeed, the most important object, a good outlet and inlet would be gained. But whether it succeeded or not, we would, if found to be practicable, (and of this there can scarcely be a doubt) proceed to cut a Ship Canal of at least 12. feet water, from Neuse River into North River at or near Lenoxville, if this should be found to be the best route. We then ascend without obstruction with vessels drawing 12 feet to Newbern .- Neuse Riyer, to the mouth of Coteckney or Contentney creek, is navigable for boats at the people, being evidently opposed to him; forred the Resolution enquiring into the all seasons of the year. New York-There was a great excitement in the city, at the date of our last accounts, concerning the election of a Mayor. The following are given as the facts : Fifteen members of the Council (by whom the Mayor is elected) are said to be opposed to the re-election of Mr. Bownebut one of these is just now absent from the city ; thirteen members, with the recorder, are for his re-election, Mr. Bowne himself having also a vote. In this state of the case, some of the 13 have receiled. to prevent a forcing of the election until the absent gentleman returns to the city-The recorder is a state officer. that he would have drawn a gig over a smooth and hard road, moved two of Winans' cars, laden with Forty-one persons, at the rate of between ten and eleven miles an hour. The distance travelled, out and in, was about 5 m les.

Another horse drew 25 persons, on a carriage of another construction, to the end of the rails and back, in a lively troi. A second trip was made with the same horse, carriage and load, at the rate of 12 miles an hour. A single horse then drew two carriages and fifty-five persons, nine miles an hour; a third carriage was attached, and the whole, loaded with eightyfour men and women, and the horse performed the trip with the same ease and elocity.

Another carriage with seven persons, was rapidly driven by a winch, worked by wo of them. Two dogs attached to a car, trotted off with a load of six persons. Those who have not seen, can hardly beieve such things ; but they are true. Among the experiments on Tuesday, was one made by a car fitted with a sail. Though the breeze was gentle six persons were carried in it at a rapid rate. The experiment afforded much amusement to the spectators, and went to show that, with a large sail and a fresh breeze, carriages may be propelled with great velocity.-Niles.

Ignorance.-It has been ascertained hat out of 742 families, comprising a population of 5,310 souls, in Bullet county, Kentucky, 430 were destitute of the bible -of the 2,114 children in these families, only 100 were going to school ; and in 60 families out of the 742, not one member of either could read. We regret to believe this is not a very extraordinary case, even in some States much older than Kentucky. But we doubt if sixty such families could be found in all the New England States and New-York-unle-s of foreigners. Niles.

The friends of the Turf are promised much sport in Columbia at the races this month. Our course daily offers a scene of animation to the amateur, even at this early period. Twelve horses are now in training, and from what we have been able to learn, certainly not less than thirty, will be candidates for the stakes.
