HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

Saturday, March 6.

The whole sitting was occupied nearly, in the consideration of the contested e lection of Mr. Newton by Mr. Loyall.

Monday, March 8.

Numerous petitions were presented and referred. One of these petitions, presented by Mr. Strong, praying for the discontinuance of Sunday mails, called forth a few remarks from Mr. R. M. Johnson, on a motion to print it. The motion to print it was finally negatived, by a vote of 118 to 47. Sundry resolutions were then adopted or laid on the table for one day; then the House resumed the consideration of the resolution submitted by Mr. Vinton relative to the printing of the laws of certain States concerning the Indians. The resolution, according to the motion of Mr. Wilde, was committed to the Committee on Indian Affairs, by a vote of 133 to 49. The House then took up the subject of the Norfolk Election, when Judge Spencer delivered his opinions. He was followed by Mr. P. P. Barbour, Mr. Doddridge and Mr. Test, when the previous question was demanded, and the report of the Committee was concurred in, by a vote of 97 to 84. So that George Loyall was declared a member of the 21st Congress.

We have never known a stronger instance of tergiversation in any public body, than has been afforded by a recent transaction in the Senate of the U. S. About a fortnight ago, the President sent in the nomination of Lemuel Williams, as Collector of the Port of New-Bedford, vice Russel Freeman, removed; and the Senate, conscious of the crying injustice with which the latter gentleman had been treated, and a ware of Williams' total destitution of merit, put a patriotic negative on the recommendation, by a vote of 34 to 11. This event was hailed throughout the Union, as indicative of a determination on the part of honorable Senators, to throw off the traminels of party and to be guided only by a sense of justice and propriety. What then, must be the surprise of every | ject of absorbing interest, not from any have actully ratified his nomination.

Considerable excitement seems to prevail in Georgia, on account of the discovery of an infamous transaction which has just been detected. E. H. Burrett, one of the editors of the Milledgeville Statesman, has been corresponding with a free black in Boston, who has forwarded him pamphlets written and printed there, calculated to excite the colored population to insurrectionary movements. The Grand Jury have found a true bill against Burritt, under a law of the last session of the Georgia Legislature, which prescribes death as the punishment for his offence. The discovery was made by Mr Polhill, Burritt's partner, who, in the absence of the former, opened a letter addressed to B. as Editor of the Statesman, which proved to be from the black fellow Walker, mentioning the forwarding package of pamphlets, and referring to previous communications.

Cotton. - Havre dates to the 24th Janu ary, have been received at New-York, which state that Cotton had advanced in price a little, and that purchases were making in that market for English account. Owing to this intelligence and that received from Liverpool, this staple is now in good demand in all our markets. We perceive, that it sells readily in Petersburg, at 92 cents. It is quoted in the Savannah papers, at 10 cents. A lot of one hundred & seventy bales, from Rowan Court.
