

" Like orient pearls at random strung."

The following eminently heautiful production relates to the late King of England. We copy it as a master piece of poesy:

FROM THE LONDON TRAVELLER. THE CONTRAST. Written under Windsor Terrace, Feb. 17, 1820

I saw him last on this Terrace proud, Walking in health and gladness, Begirt with his Court, and in ale the crowd Not a single look of sadness.

Bright was the sun and the leaves were green, Blytt ely as the birds were singing, The cymbal replied to the tamborine, And the bells were merrily ringing.

I have stood by the crowd beside his bier, When not a word was spoken, But every eye was dim with a tear, And the silence by sobs was broken.

I have heard the earth on his coffin pour, To the muffle drum's deep roiling, While the minute gun with its solemn roar, Browned the death-bell's tolling.

The time since he walk'd in his glory thus, To the grave til I saw him carried, Was an age of the mightiest change to me, But to him a night unvaried.

A daughter belov'd-a Queen-a Son-And a Son's sole child have perished; And sad was each heart, save the only one, By which they were fondest cherish'd.

For his eyes were sealed, and his mind wasdark, And he sat in his age's lateness, Like a vision thron'd-as a solemn mark Of the railty of human greatness.

flis silver beard, o'er a bosom spread, Unvex'd by life's commotion, Like a yearly lengthening snow-drift, shed On the calm of a frozen ocean.

Still o'er him oblivion's waters lay, Though the stream of time kept flowing ; When they spoke of our King, 'twas but to say, The old man's strength was going.

At intervals thus the waves disgorge, By weakness rent asunder, A piece of the wreck of the Royal George, For the people's pity and wonder.

He is gone at lergth-he is laid in dust-Death's hand his slumbers breaking; For the coffin'd sleep of the good and just, Is a sure and blissful waking.

H's people's heart is his funeral urn, And should sculptur'd stone be denied him, There will his name be found, when in turn We lay our heads beside him.

A GREAT SALE IN ILLINOIS.

WILL proceed to sell, at Mount Carmel, Rapiels, or Falls of the Great Wabash River, on formerly advertised, Notice is hereby given, the first Monday (7th day) of April next, and that by virtue of a Deed of Trust, executed to continue for a week, or longer, until all are sold; me for the purpose therein specified, the said a number of in and out LOTS, of half acre and Press, Type, &c. will be sold to the highest house Lots on the Run; Town Lots improved, some Buildings being on them. Also, -a number of TRACTS OF LAND, from 80 to 1000 acre Tracts. At the same time there will be exposed to sale, by a person duly authorized, STOCK in the Wabash Nevigation Company, embracing the greatest water privileges in the whole Western country, to the amount of $250,000, perhaps $500,000. And in addition to the Canal, there will be offered SITES on the Grand Rapids for Water Works; and at Coffee Island, below Mount Carmel about 7 miles. The terms of sale will be made known on the first day of sale-(they will be in payments annually.)

There having been repeatedly publications ssued respecting this interesting part of the country, both in Europe and America, a minute description at this time is deemed unnecessary. But I would briefly remark, that Mount Carmel was laid out about 1818. It bas 6, 7 or 800 in Courthouse, brick Church, two Taverns, two Steam Mills, Iron Foundery, one ox Saw and Grist Mill, many good Dwellings, fine industrious and enterprising mechanics-growing into vast importance from its local situation, being thorough knowledge of their quality, acquired at the foot of the Grand Rapids at the junction by experience in working them for the last 15 Kentucky, and will sustain ou the Great Wabash | with him. Stage route from Louisville to St. Louis, and if the contemplated Rail Road from the Lakes to Dayton be extended to St. Louis, lies directly on the contemplated route; and when the short canal around the Falls of the Wabash are open-Eric Canal, opens the channel frum New-York to New-Orleans.

The country is healthy, fertile, abounding in good water, fine soil, and the best climate in the West, being the same as that of Lexington, Kentucky, 38 deg. 25 mm. North latitude. The country abounds in Iron Ore, Stone Coal,

There are preparations making for building ollige. Property will be sold to effect that object. There is not a more suitable place west of the mountains for the unition of the youth of the South-their morals will be protected, as Mount Carmel is the firs Temperance Town upon earth! having been organized and established on principle, before Temperance Societies, as such, had a being Letters (post paid) addressed to my son Jas. P. Hinde, or Joshua Beale, Esq. P. M. or ap olication made to my nephew, Mr. Benjamin T. Kavanaugh, who will travel at large through the United States to sustain the Canal and College concern, will be attended to, and all necessary information given. To the North-Carolina Bar. CONDENSED English Chancery Reports.

GRIGG & ELLIOT, Philadelphia, And TURNER & HUGHES, at the N. Carolina

Bookstore, Raleigh, HAVE PUBLISHED FIVE VOLUMES OF Condensed Chancery Reports of England.

THIS Work is held in the highest estimation by all the distinguished of the American Bar, and no Law Library can be constred complete without it.

Chancellor Kent, in speaking of the great vahie of this Work to all the American Bar, observes : " It has been judiciously edited, and is work that was much wanted. It was, indeed. indispensable to the circulation in this country of English Equity Law, (the best code in the world of ethical principles, justly and truly applied) for who could buy or become willing to wade through all the voluminous pages of English Chancery Decisions, when one half of the number is troublesome and useless with us."

Chancellor Williamson, of New-Jersey, in neticing this Work, says. "I have examined with great appropation, your edition of Condensed English Chancery Reports. The work appears with the Mare will forfeit the insurance; $1 cash to be ably executed, and entirely to supersede to the groom in every instance. The season will the necessity of the very heavy expense to gena sub-criber to the work."
