

THE REGISTER. RALEIGH, N. C.

TUESDAY, AUGUST 5, 1834.

State Elections.—The Annual Election for Members of the Legislature commenced in some portions of the State on Friday last.

James Wyche, S. Robert Potter and Sandy Harris, C. John D. Hawkins, S. William H. Battle and Joseph Maclin, C.

The Springs.—These fountains of health beginning to engage the thoughts of the valetudinarian and the followers of pleasure.

The Virginia Springs, we learn, are crowded to overflowing. The Opposition Ticket for Governor and Members of Congress has signally triumphed in Louisiana.

Moral influence of History.—It has been remarked by an eminent writer, and with much truth, that it is a fault with most historians, that they blend so intimately the good and bad characters of the individuals concerning whom they write.

The Whig Creed.—We are not very partial to Creeds of any kind, but the subjoined form given in the latest Northern Spectator by a Correspondent, who hails from Beaufort, in this State, is pretty much to the point.

Review reviewed.—In the last Wilmington paper, we find a Rejoinder by the New Reviewer Committee to the Review of their last Address by the writer of the Central Address.

Dinner to Mr. Brown.—The last Millionaire contains the particulars of a Dinner to the Hon. BERNARD BROWN, by a portion of his constituents in Caswell county.

Responsibility of Public Agents to their Constituents.—The vital principle of Republics, the responsibility of their public institutions, the responsibility of their public institutions, the responsibility of their public institutions.

Education, the main political institution, the main political institution, the main political institution, the main political institution.

It is worthy of remark, that among the Toasts, regular and irregular, we find six or seven, denunciatory of the Bank of the U. States. That Institution appears to have been the phantom which, like BACCHO'S ghost, was present at the feast, and ever and anon shook its gory locks at the revellers.

Foreign News.—The ship Caledonia, Capt. Graham, at New-York, brings London advices to the 17th, and Liverpool to the 18th inst. inclusive. The most important news by this arrival, is the account of the partial failure of the Potato crop in Ireland.

Supreme Court.—Thomas N. Herndon, of Anclon, has been admitted to the practice of the Law in the County Courts. Opinions have been delivered since our last, in the following cases:

HERNIN, Chief Justice delivered the Opinion of the Court in the case of Leitch v. Williams, Adm'r. from Probate, reversing the judgment below and ordering a new trial. Also, in the case of Featherstone v. Mills, from Danville, reversing the judgment below and rendering a judgment for the Defendant. Also, in the case of Den Dem. Avery v. Rose, from Burke, reversing the judgment below and rendering judgment for the Defendant. Also, in the case of Littlejohn vs. Isler, from Granville, overruling the exception taken to the Commissioner's Report and making a final decree.

DANIEL, Judge, delivered the Opinion of the Court in the case of Crow v. Holland's heirs, from Haywood, reversing the judgment below and rendering a judgment in favor of the defendant. Also, in the case of Bradley v. Suther, from Rutherford, reversing the judgment below, and rendering a judgment in favor of the Defendant. Also, in the case of Greenlee v. Tate's heirs, from Burke, reversing the judgment below and rendering a judgment for the Defendant. Also, in the case of Drayton v. Wm. W. Welborn, from Wilkes, affirming the judgment below. Also, in the case of Daniel Shipman v. Jonathan Mears and others from Bladen, affirming the judgment below. Also, in the case of Hardy Bryan v. Washington and al. from Jones, affirming the judgment below.

GASTON, Judge, the Opinion of the Court against the prayer in the petition of the Defendant, in the case of Nathan Chaffin v. John A. Chaffin, to reverse the interlocutory order for a sequestration, and to deliver up the bond executed in pursuance thereof.

We are generally Whigs—or Rebels, if you insist on it, in this County. We cannot and will not support a collar man for Congress. We are in favor of Clay's Land Bill—we are in favor of a National Bank, to regulate the currency—we are in favor of the course pursued by a majority of the Senate of the United States—we are opposed to the Kitchen Cabinet—we are opposed to the election of Martin Van Buren to the Presidency—we are opposed to the corruptions of the Post Office Department—we want to see this Augean stable cleansed—we are opposed to the usurpations of the Executive, and his violation of the Constitution, and laws of Congress—we are opposed to the union of the purse and sword in the same hand—we are opposed to the practice of President Jackson of appointing members of Congress to office. This practice, if not rigorously opposed, will soon destroy what small remains of liberty we possess.

The "North American," a Jackson Van Buren paper started at Washington City, some three months since, has been discontinued. This looks ominous. Mr. Lewis Tappan walked a few days since into the Office of the Commercial Advertiser New-York, to demand the insertion of an article, and was very properly walked out by the Editor. The dusky co-partnership of Abolitionists have such bad luck, that they will be forced to close the concern, and shut up shop.

Seven of the slaves, who were wrecked some time since in the brig Encomiagn, on her passage from Charleston for New-Orleans, arrived at Charleston, 19th ult. from Key West, voluntarily returning to their masters, Messrs. J. & H. Waddell, of this State. Straggling cases of Cholera have appeared on the river Ohio and in Cincinnati. On the river there were a good many fatal—in Cincinnati some six or eight. In Kentucky several persons have died from it at Mills Point, one at the Mouth of Sandy river, and eight or ten at Princeton, in Berke, Pa. there had been two deaths.

A case had proved fair, at Burlington, Vt. There have been some thirty or forty deaths in Montreal—several in Quebec and St. Johns. The University of Virginia had about 210 matriculates, at the last session; by far the largest number she has ever enrolled. At the recent examination, seven of the students obtained the degree of Master of Arts. Mr. Wm. C. Rives has been appointed by the Executive of Virginia a Visitor, in the place of Mr. Madison, resigned. Jos. C. Cabell, Esq. is appointed Rector; an office which Mr. Madison had filled since Mr. Jefferson's death. The Trenton, New-Jersey, Democrat furnishes an account of the dinner recently given by the citizens of Trenton, to the distinguished representatives of that State in the Senate. The reception which both Mr. Southard and Mr. Frelinghuysen have met with, on their return to their constituents, has been of the most gratifying and enthusiastic description. The exhibition of Faro having been made punishable in Tennessee by confinement in the Penitentiary, the ingenious dealers in that trade substituted for it a new game, differing from it in some of its details, called "Forty-eight." In the trial recently at Nashville of a man named McGowan, for the exhibition of this latter game, the Court ruled that it was Faro, in the meaning of the statute, and McGowan was sentenced to two years confinement in the Penitentiary.

From Major Downing's last letter we copy the following nation:— Party folks (not honest people) say this Monster (the U. S. Bank) must be put down; and unless the people look to it, and sit it, "the party" will do it. Mr. Van Buren has drunk a toast about it, saying it must be put down, and that's enuf; but he didn't say nothing about hard money in the place on't. That would do—he is too cute for that; the safety fund banks and the pet banks could'n't drink that toast no how; if it come to hard money it would be played hard for them, and nothing would save the safety fund, but to pass a law makin one hard dollar equal to five of their paper ones, and then they'd git out of the scrape as slick as a whistle.

Georgia.—The good people of Georgia, notwithstanding that they are all good Jackson men, are a little divided on local politics. The following paragraph from the Columbus Enquirer, is a specimen of the state of feeling among the opponents of the present Governor:— John G. Polhill, Esq. ex-Editor of the Federalist Union, and acting Postmaster at Milledgeville, has been appointed by the Executive, Judge of the Ocmulgee Circuit, in the place of Judge Lamar deceased.—Physic and Steam, Tartar and Calomel, Lobelia and No. 6. The times are out of joint; the body politic must be diseased. It appears to us that our worthy Chief Magistrate, disgusted with the present misshapen and disjointed system of Jurisprudence, has determined to throw more complete contempt thereon by an appointment which must inevitably effect that object. This is reforming the Judiciary with a vengeance. As we live, however, rather beyond the jurisdiction of the Appointee, and may never feast our eyes on the ermine of his Judgeship, we leave this matter between the Governor and the governed. If the people of the Ocmulgee district can stand it, we must.

Contest in Virginia.—The contest for next Congress has commenced early and will be prosecuted with vigor. In the Northern Neck District, Mr. Talliferro opposes Mr. Chinn, the present member. In the Charlotte District, Philip A. Bolling, Esq. of Buckingham, has entered the arena, against the present member, James W. Bouldin. In the Chesterfield District, Mr. Archer is to be opposed, provided flattery and caresses from head quarters, can prevail on John W. Jones, Esq. to enter the lists. A candidate will also be brought out by the Administration to oppose Col. Ghoslin. Gen. Gordon will probably be opposed by T. J. Randolph or one of the Mr. Rives.

Post Office Department.—The Deposition which follows is taken from the documents accompanying the Report of the Post Office Committee. These matters cannot be brought before the public too often. The infamous corruptions developed in that Department—the condemnation of Mr. Barry by the unanimous vote of the Senate—the fact that General Jackson still retains him in office in spite of his delinquencies—and the disposition manifested to sustain both Jackson and Barry in this position—are the most alarming signs of national degradation that we have yet seen.—Alex. Gazette.

Deposition of Mr. Isaac Tompkins.—"Had you any conversation with any contractor touching the embarrasments of the Postmaster General, and did you hear a proposition or plan by any one to relieve him? If any, state the name and residence of the person, and the proposition." In the fall of 1830, I had a conversation with Mr. E. Porter, touching the embarrasments of the Postmaster General. He proposed that a loan of about 5000 dollars should be made to Mr. Barry, that Mr. B's salary would enable him to refund it before many months. Mr. P. expressly stated that he acted without the knowledge of Mr. Barry. This plan was that a few of the principal contractors should make out this amount, and put it in some person's hands to loan to Mr. B. who should always remain ignorant of the source from whence it came. Mr. Porter resided at that time in Richmond, Virginia.

Do you know of any gift or gratuity made by any contractor to any person in the Department, and if so, what, and to whom? I have no knowledge of any gift or gratuity being made to any officer or member of the Department, except on one occasion, Colonel Avery (my partner and myself were in New York, and in consideration of the politeness and attention of Parson Brown, who had spent a great deal of time out of office hours to accommodate us, and expedite our business, we concluded to send him a gift of some value. We accordingly purchased a watch, directed to him, and sent it on board a vessel. I never heard whether it reached him or not—presuming it did.

In further reply to the first Question, I have to state that I do not know whether Mr. Porter's plan for the relief of Major Barry was carried into effect or not. I told Mr. P. that it would afford me pleasure to contribute to his plan for the relief of Major Barry, but the situation of my funds were such that I could not advance cash at that time; but in the course of many days I thought I could loan him the amount he desired, $500. A day or two subsequent to this conversation he called on me, and I made a draft in his favor for $500 on Messrs. J. T. Storm & Co. of New York, at ninety days or thereabouts. This draft I understood he had discounted at the Patriotic Bank. What he did with the avails I am not able to say; he acknowledged himself indebted to the amount, (500 dollars) and has since sent me word by my partner, Col. Avery, that he is not ungrateful that he owed that amount, and that it should be paid before long.—The only entry I have of said draft is contained in a small memorandum book, which is in the following words:—"Made draft on Storm, E. Porter, due 1st April: 500 dollars."

The club of Mail contractors making up a secret purse for the Post Master General's benefit, and the presents to Mr. B. in are facts which require no comment. The Senate.—Our readers know (says the National Intelligencer) in what quarters the Senate of the United States has lately been assailed, and what high crimes and misdemeanors it has been charged with by the parasites and sycophants who kneel at the footstool of the throne of power. The following passage from a speech of one of the Administration Senators, made a few short years ago, now brought to view by the Petersburg Intelligencer, is a whimsical bearing upon the clamor against that august body, to whose firmness alone, under Providence, the country is now indebted for protection against a legal despotism:— [From Mr. Benton's Speech on the Panama Mission.]

But great as are all these causes of popular excitement, the success and popularity of the mission is not allowed to rest exclusively upon them. The terrors of denunciation are superadded to the charms of seduction. Those who cannot be won by caresses, must be subdued by menace. A body co-ordinate, and bodies not co-ordinate, have been set in motion against the Senate. Loud clamors beset our walls.—"The cry of 'faction'—'opposition'—'unprincipled'—'reason thro' the streets'—"to the Senator that hesitates! Wo to him that refuses his advice! Wo to him that asks for information before he gives it! To withhold advice, is to deny confidence, is to oppose the Administration; to oppose the Administration is to commit a crime of the greatest enormity; for the instant punishment of which, the air itself seems to be alive and filled with avenging spirits."

A true Drawing.—We are not one of the admirers or profanators of Col. Crockett's bon mots, of which many are made for him and few are worth repeating, but he sometimes says a good thing, in his place. The following remarks of his on the appropriateness for harbors, present a picture of public affairs, which is unfortunately too true.—Boston Courier.

Mr. Crockett replied with much warmth to Mr. Crockett, after which Mr. Crockett rejoined, and said he had no idea of wringing his colleague; and he wished it distinctly understood, that he took nothing back of what he had said, but would re-assert every thing, and go further. He therefore now said, we have no Government at all, and God only knows what is to become of the country in these days of miserable misrule. I am done.

On Thursday last, DAVID OUTLAW Esq. by the particular request of the Masonic Lodge in this place, delivered an eloquent and pathetic Eulogy on the life and virtues of the truly patriotic and venerable LAZAYETTE, whose memory will live forever in the breasts of Americans. We trust that we shall be honored with a copy as soon as the author's convenience will allow; and thus be enabled to communicate to our readers the noble sentiments which he so ably expressed, inspiring the breasts of his hearers with love and veneration for the departed great man, deep-felt regret for his loss, and patriotic zeal in the cause of Freedom. Windsor Herald.

Dr. John P. Declary, a respectable physician of Louisville, Kentucky, recently committed suicide in the following scientific manner. Early on the morning of the 4th inst. he took the lancet which he usually carried about his person, and opened the carotid artery on each side of his neck.—The incisions were small—that on the right side not larger than the puncture in an ordinary case of blood-letting. The act was evidently committed with a singular composure. A gentleman who was sleeping in the apartment with him, had been conversing with the Doctor a few minutes before, and was awoke by the gushing of blood.—No groan or exclamation escaped the dying man. He quietly composed himself upon his bed with a gentle smile upon his countenance as if he were lying down to a pleasant dream. That smile remained upon his lips after they were closed forever.

Col. BENTON arrived in Town on Saturday, and proceeded the next day westwardly. Unlike the President of the United States, we understand he did not occasionally pay his Tavern Bills or Stage Fare, with gold—but with vile United States Bank Paper, with that scamp Nick Biddle's name on it. The Colonel, however, had a few Gold pieces, which he showed 'occasionally' as curiosities, and which served as texts for sundry dissertations upon the currency and his labors in behalf of the Gold Bill. Fred. Arena.

Fourth of July in Ohio.—By the Wooster (Ohio) Journal and Times, we learn that a party of gentlemen of that village celebrated the 4th by a hunt. They killed upwards of seven hundred squirrels, besides other game, when, after supper, they returned to the village, and marched through the principal streets, preceded by a band of music. No ardent spirits were used on the occasion. The public dinner given to Mr. Taney in Baltimore was numerously attended.—Mr. Benton was present, and made a speech.

Effect on the Air, of firing Cannon.—Mr. Robertson, the coroner, in his last ascension from Castle Garden, states, that he was very much annoyed by the firing of cannon, perhaps at the Navy Yard. Every discharge made his balloon shake like an aspen; and at times, he was not without apprehensions of danger from the circumstance. The increase of his distance from the earth, did not diminish the effect of the concussion.

Never before in print.—A person was seen a day or two ago walking rapidly down the middle of Main street with a cowhide in his hand apparently in search of some one, when he stopped suddenly and turned round to some gentlemen standing on the sidewalk and inquired, if they had seen a large stout negro man pass by? They replied they had not, and asked if he was a runaway? "No," said the man: "I voted for Gen. Jackson and Martin Van Buren, at the last election, and I was hunting for a big negro to lay me down and give me fifty....Natchez Courier.

Come Father.—Turning the corner of Church and Warren streets the other evening, our attention was arrested by the tender and plaintive exclamation of a young female voice—"Come father—do, do come!" We turned, and there stood a man, respectable looking and comfortably clad, holding by one hand on the railing, and supported by a little girl, his daughter, on the other side. She was tenderly entreating a drunken father, to go home. He started off, the child clinging to his side, and as he reeled and almost fell into the gutter, the little thing literally braced herself against the pavement, and held him up. She still supported him, as he staggered to and fro, until we turned from the painful spectacle. What a beautiful commentary this upon the affection of a daughter, and what a loathsome one upon the sin of drunkenness!—On that man should put an enemy to his mouth to steal away his brains!—N. Y. Com.

Penelon.—One of his clergy congratulating himself in the presence of this amiable Bishop, for having effected the abolition of the custom of the peasants, to dance on their Festival days, Fenelon replied,— "Mr. Rector, let us refrain from dancing; but let us permit these poor people to dance; why should we prevent them from forgetting for a moment the extent of their griefs?"

A young farmer, having purchased a watch, placed it in his fob, and strutting across the floor, says to his wife, "Where shall I drive a nail to hang my watch upon, that it may not be disturbed or broke?" "I do not know a safer place," replied his wife, "than in our meal barrel. I'm sure no fine will go there to disturb it."

The Shoeco Ball will take place on Tuesday, the 19th Aug. inst. at 8 o'clock on the 13th, as advertised, in the City Hall. August 2, 1834.

A Good Cook WANTED for the balance of the year, to whom liberal wages will be given. Apply at this Office. August 2, 1834.

State Bank of N. Carolina, Raleigh, 29th July, 1834. NOTICE is hereby given to all whom it may concern, that an adjourned meeting of the Stockholders of the State Bank of North Carolina will be held at the Banking House of the said Bank, in the City of Raleigh, on Monday the first day of September next. 59, D. W. STONE, Pres.

TEMPLE OF FASHION. William W. Taylor, MERCHANT TAILOR, INFORMS the Public through this medium, that he has removed to the new Brick Store, on Fayetteville Street, next door South of Messrs. Mann & Avery, at the Sign of the Golden Ball. Having fitted up this Establishment in a handsome style, and keeping always on hand a full assortment of CLOTHS, CASSIMERES &c. &c. with first rate Workmen to convert them into Clothing, he confidently anticipates a continuance of the generous patronage hitherto extended to him. Raleigh, August 1, 1834. 59

Medical College of S. Carolina. QUEEN STREET. Under the Superintendence of the Medical Society of South Carolina. THE LECTURES in this Institution will commence as usual on the second Monday in November next. The different Chairs will be occupied by the following gentlemen: B. B. Strobel, M. D. Professor of Anatomy, Wm. Hume, M. D. Professor of Surgery, B. B. Simons, M. D. Professor of Operative Surgery, Thomas Y. Simons, M. D. Professor of Theory and Practice of Medicine, Henry Alexander, M. D. Professor of Institutes of Medicine, Andrew Haskin, M. D. Professor of Materia Medica, Charles Davis, M. D. Professor of Chemistry, Francis Y. Porcher, M. D. Professor of Obstetrics and Diseases of Women and Children, E. Henry Deas, M. D. Demonstrator of Anatomy. The MARINE HOSPITAL and the HOSPITAL connected with the ALMS HOUSE in this City, are under the direction of the Faculty of this College. Clinical Lectures will be delivered twice a week, by two of the Professors, which the Students will be permitted to attend free of charge. THOMAS Y. SIMONS, M. D. Dean of the Faculty. C. B. STROBEL, Secretary. Charleston, July 25, 1834. 59 5w

University of Maryland. THE LECTURES in the Medical Department of this Institution will commence on the last Monday in October, and continue until the first of March. Nathaniel Potter, M. D. Pathology and the Practice of Medicine, Richard Winton Hall, M. D. Obstetrics, and the Diseases of Women and Children, Nathan B. Smith, M. D. Surgery, Julius T. Duce, M. D. Chemistry & Pharmacy, E. Geddings, M. D. Anatomy and Physiology, Ashley Doughton, M. D. Materia Medica, Therapeutics, Hygiene and Medical Jurisprudence, Chemical Lectures on Medicine and Surgery will be regularly delivered during the Session, at the Baltimore Infirmary. ROBERT DUGLASSON, M. D. Dean of the Faculty. 59 6w

HAT STORE. No. 150, Water St. New-York. THIS old Establishment, so extensively and favorably known when in the occupancy of IVES & WHITE, has since their withdrawal been conducted by SMITH & HARRIS, which Firm was dissolved on the 31st May last. CHARLES SMITH, late of said Firm, having associated with himself WM. C. WHITE, they will continue the business on their branches and on an extended scale, at the Store recently occupied by Smith & Hannah, 150 Water Street, where a complete assortment of HATS & CAPS is offered for sale, on as liberal terms as can be obtained in the City, by SMITH & WHITE. New-York, July 22, 1834. 59 6w

LOST OR MISLAID. IN March 1832, Mr. Bennet Bagan placed in my hands for collection, a Judgment in his favor against James Buffalow for the sum of $11 60.—Also—A small note of hand against Willis Noc, (Barber) for $5 70, which I have either lost or mislaid. I hereby forewarn all persons from paying the above to any person but myself, as I am alone authorized to receive the same. LEWIS HOLLOWAY. Raleigh, August 21, 834.

NEW BOOKS, Received at the North Carolina BOOK STORE. Ewell's Medical Companion, or the Family Physician, 8th Edition, revised, enlarged and very considerably improved, embracing a Treatise on Epidemic and malignant Cholera. A Treatise on Chemistry, Meteorology, and the Function of digestion, considered with reference to Natural Theology, by William Probst, M. D. being the 5th Vol. of Bridgewater Treatise. Corner Stone; by J. Abbot. Payson's Thoughts. Love and Pride; by the author of Sayings and Doings. ALSO, A FRESH SUPPLY OF Helen; by Maria Edgeworth. Pilgrims of the Iliad; by E. Bulwer. Struggles of David Crockett; by himself. Jones' Instructions and Movements, proposed for the Cavalry of the United States. Baynes' Notes on the Gospels, in 2 Vols. Gould's Latin Grammar. Adams' Arithmetic. Donaguer's small Lexicon, and many other School Books. TURNER & HUGHES. 7th Aug. 1834.