

POETRY.

For the Register. "LIFE'S BUT A STREAM." A stream came from a mountain's side, A babbling stream, a thing of play;

It was a clear and gentle stream; It claim'd the sunshine as a brother;

And whether it sinks in its mother earth, Or whether it melts in the boundless sea,

And so the child of man comes forth, And so he's seen for a few brief years,

And so he's seen for a few brief years, And so in the gloom of a closing tomb

He disappears! A PRECAUTION. Pat Murphy, my footman, desirous to suit,

Next morning I saw him intently at work (I scarcely could ask him for laughter;)

'Tis to let all the wet that comes in at the toe, Run immediately out at the heel.'
