Mr. Jordan, who voted yesterday with the majority on the question of rejecting the bill to divide Orange, with a view to the erection of a new county, moved for a re-consideration of that vote. He said that his vote against the passage of the bill proceeded from Constitutional objections; but, on more mature reflection, he had changed his opinion, and was now prepared to go for it. The House, however, refused to re-consider.

Mr. Satterthwaite introduced a bill to define what is meant by the word "Returns" in the Constitution of the State, in the clause which treats of the election of Governor; and, also, to compensate Sheriffs for attending to the election of Governor, &c. Mr. Jordan, from the Joint Select Committee, to whom was referred the Resolution directing them to report a bill for the acceptance of that portion of the Surplus Revenue, which may be coming to North-Carolina, under the provisions of the Deposit Act, reported a bill for that purpose, which had its first reading.

The bill directs the Governor forthwith to notify the Secretary of the Treasury, that the State accepts, and our Public Treasurer is instructed to receive it, and deposit the same in such Banks as he may select. The Committee were also instructed to report on the best plan for investing the same, but from this duty they begged to be relieved, on the ground that there were so many conflicting opinions, as rendered it almost impossible to agree. The Committee were accordingly discharged, and each member, therefore, will submit his own distinct proposition on the subject, and leave the whole Legislature to reconcile and harmonize the conflicting schemes.

Twelve o'clock having arrived, the hour fixed on by a joint vote of both Houses, for going into an election of U. S. Senator, vice Mr. Mangum, resigned, the House proceeded to that business. The result will be found under the Raleigh head.
