

STATE LEGISLATURE.

IN SENATE.

Monday, Nov. 19, 1838.

At the hour of 3 o'clock, a quorum appearing, the Senate was called to order and the credentials of the members having been examined, the prescribed oaths were administered by Thos. Cobbs, Esq., a Justice of the Peace for the county of Wake.

After which Mr. Edwards moved that the Senate proceed to the election of Speaker, and nominated for that office, Louis D. Wilson, Esq. the Senator from Edgecomb. No other nomination being made, the Senate proceeded to vote, via voce, as follows:

For Wilson—Messrs. Cooper, Arrington, Whitaker, Hawkins, Houder, Edwards, Exum, Jno. W. Williams, M'Diarmid, Bunting, Henry Hill, J. Foy, Melvin, Kerr, Reid, Allison, Baker, Reinhardt, Carson, Rabun, Fox—22.

The votes being equally divided, there was, of course, no election.

After some conversation, on motion of Mr. Morehead, the Senate proceeded to vote again for Speaker, with precisely the same result.—Whereupon the Senate adjourned.

HOUSE OF COMMONS.

A quorum appearing, the House was called to order, the members produced their credentials, and were qualified—the usual oaths being administered by Johnston Busbee, Esq., a Justice of the Peace for the county of Wake.

The House then, on motion, proceeded to the election of Speaker. Mr. Bedford nominated M. Hoke, Esq. of Lincoln, and Mr. Rayner nominated Wm. A. Graham, Esq. of Orange, for the appointment. The vote stood as follows:

Those who voted for GRAHAM are Messrs. Dunlap, Winston, W. Blount, M'Williams, Bond, Hill, Patton, Britton, Irwin, Carson, E. P. Miller, Bell, Guthrie, Clegg, Waddell, Paine, Smith, Hyman, Walsworth, Beall, Brummell, Gilliam, Roberts, Jas. Williams, Lindsay, D. Thomas, Kennan, K. Rayner, Farrow, J. P. Caldwell, Young, M'Laughlin, Ellington, Huggins, Siler, Harris, Pemberton, Wilson, Foreman, Gorham, Rush, Lane, McLain, G. Thomas, Crawford, H. C. Jones, Clement, W. J. T. Miller, Mills, Underwood, Matthews, Covington, Puryear, Boyden, Ogleby, M'Cluse, Guyther, Petty, Peden, Blalock, and Doak—61.

Those who voted for HOKE are Messrs. Nye, R. Rayner, Barkdale, Boger, Gwynn, Walker, Hollingsworth, Reid, Perkins, Jarman, Sullivan, Bryan, Baker, Howerton, W. P. Williams, Stallings, Heater, Daniel, Wilcox, Tomlinson, Davis, Killian, Holland, Monday, G. W. Caldwell, Orr, Taylor, J. T. Miller, Larkins, Pollock, Trullinger, Stockard, Sims, R. Jones, Chambers, Brogren, S. A. Williams, Eaton, Mangum, Massey, Rand, Stafford, Sloan, Bedford, Braswell, Cardwell, J. Blount, Tuton, and Barnes—49.

Mr. Graham having received a majority of the votes, was declared duly elected, and was accordingly conducted to the chair by Messrs. Rayner and Bedford, from whence he made his acknowledgements to the House in the following neat and appropriate address:

Gentlemen of the House of Commons:

I tender you my thanks for this mark of distinction. Without experience in the duties of the chair, I must needs bespeak in advance the generous indulgence of the House. If however, by a diligent, faithful and impartial administration of those rules and forms of proceeding which you shall adopt for your government, any equal can be made for your kindness, no efforts on my part shall be spared.—What those rules of proceedings shall be, is yet to be ascertained by your sanction—and to that subject I invite your attention. But all who are conversant with deliberative assemblies, will readily admit, that written rules, and the best intended exertions of a presiding officer are of little avail, for the preservation of decorum, unless a spirit of order pervades the House—and after all, greater reliance must be placed upon the mutual respect, the forbearance, and gentlemanly courtesy of members, than upon compulsory enactments.

This is the first time, gentlemen, in the history of our State, when a session of the General Assembly has not been held for a period of two years. If the occasion shall not demand of us double the ordinary quantum of labor, it at least requires redoubled zeal, fidelity, industry and vigilance over the public interests. Whosoever of wisdom or knowledge may fall to the lot of each individual member, will be no more than requisite, to the fulfillment of his duties here. "To make us love our country, it ought to be lovely," and a heavy responsibility attaches to those interested with its Government, if they contribute not all that in them lies to impart to it this character. But properly to discharge those high duties, it is necessary that prejudice shall be cast aside, passion subdued, personal collision avoided, and our minds left free to the impulses of patriotism and reason—thus conjoining our deliberations, we may confidently hope that they will proceed with harmony, and result in benefit to that people to whom our highest loyalty and best services are due.

On motion, Chas. Manly, Esq. was re-elected Chief Clerk, and Edmund B. Freeman, Esq. Assistant Clerk. Mr. Page, of Randolph, was elected Door-keeper, and after three unsuccessful ballots for assistant Door-keeper, the House adjourned.

SENATE.

Tuesday, Nov. 20.

On motion of Mr. Dockery, the Senate proceeded to vote again for Speaker, as follows:

For Wilson—Messrs. Cooper, Arrington, Whitaker, Hawkins, Houder, Edwards, Exum, Williams of Person, M'Diarmid, Bunting, Hill, Foy of Onslow, Melvin, Kerr, Reid, Allison, Baker, Reinhardt, Rabun Fox—20.

For Johnson—Messrs. Shepard, Spruill, Moody, Sharp, Clotry, Harper, Moxe, Williams of Beaufort, Biddle, Albright, Taylor, Dockery, Melchor, Montgomery, Redding, Morehead, Moore, Ribelin, Holt, Franklin, Jones, Davidson, Carson—23.

Mr. Joyner having a majority of the votes was declared duly elected, and was conducted to the Chair by Messrs. Morehead and Spruill, from whence he made his acknowledgements to the Senate in the following pertinent address.

Gentlemen of the Senate: I am deeply sensible of your kind partiality in having elected me to preside over your deliberations, and I feel it my very sincere thanks for this distinguished manifestation of your confidence. In experience in the duties of the Chair, and unexpectedly called upon to discharge those duties, I feel that I shall need much of your kind indulgence, for assistance and support. It will be my sincere desire as your presiding officer, to set in all things with strict fairness and impartiality towards every member of this body, and it will be most gratifying to my feelings to be able so to conduct myself as to meet your approbation. In the progress of our labors, it is to be expected that honest differences of opinion will arise; but I trust such differences of opinion will not be allowed to disturb the harmony and good feeling that should characterize our proceedings. I feel that a spirit of harmony and courtesy, not inconsistent with the most perfect freedom of opinion, is necessary to the proper discharge of our duties, and I shall foster such spirit with sincere good will, that our labors may be brought to a happy and speedy conclusion.

On motion of Mr. Morehead, Thomas G. Stone Esq. of Franklin, was unanimously elected Principal Clerk of the Senate.

On motion of Mr. Taylor, the Senate then proceeded to vote for Clerk Assistant. Gen. Cook, H. W. Miller and Asa Biggs, Esqs. were put in nomination for the appointment.—The Senate voted six times successively without a choice, as follows:

To the Editors of the Raleigh Register:

I have read in the last STANDARD, the comments of the Editor, on the remarks purporting to have been made by Mr. CARSON, of Rutherford, when about to cast his vote for Speaker of the Senate on Tuesday. These comments make it proper that my position in relation to a Bank of the United States should be distinctly understood. I am satisfied of the constitutional power of Congress to establish a Bank of the United States, and as to the expediency of creating the late Bank of the United States, I entertain no doubt. Independent of the important services rendered the Government by that Bank, I know it to have been eminently useful in equalizing the exchanges, and establishing a perfectly sound and wholesome currency throughout the country, and I regret, and the country has abundant cause to regret, that the Act of Congress, rechartering it, was not permitted to become a law. But inasmuch as that institution had gone out of existence, and several of the States of the Union had since established, and were about to establish Banks with large capitals, which able and distinguished financiers believed would be competent to perform for the country all the valuable services of a National Institution, I prefer that a fair trial should be made with them, and that until this trial should be given, (under all the circumstances which I should have influence in deciding the question.) I should be unwilling to see Congress create a Bank of the United States. If these services can be performed by State Banks, with branches as contemplated, of which I am somewhat doubtful, I should prefer them to a National Bank. If the experiment fails, I shall have no alternative but to return to my former position in favor of a Bank of the United States, properly guarded and restricted.

Having thus accomplished the principal purpose I had in view, it may be proper for me to say, that since my arrival in Raleigh, I have had no communication with Mr. CARSON, directly or indirectly, on the subject of a Bank of the United States, or on any other subject whatever, and that at the moment his name was called to vote on Tuesday, as he had voted against me on two previous occasions, I had not the most distant expectation he was about to change his vote in my favor. Indeed, so certain was I that the result of the voting then progressing would be the same as it had been, I proposed to the gentleman who was run in opposition to me, that we should both retire from the Senate Chamber when the next trial came on, to which he readily assented. I was afterwards informed that a gentleman who knew my sentiments on the subject of a Bank of the United States, in a conversation with Mr. CARSON, stated them to be substantially, as I have already done, which I suppose induced him to vote for me, but of this conversation, I had no knowledge whatever, when his name was called to vote.

November 22, 1838. A. JOYNEZ.

F. P. NASH,

PETERSBURG, VIRGINIA, Agent for the sale of Stadart, Worcester and Dunham's Piano Fortes, in Virginia and North Carolina.

TO THE INHABITANTS OF RALEIGH AND ITS VICINITY.

If at any time there should be persons so situated, as not to be able to send to Petersburg for Piano Fortes, either because of the distance or risk, or any other cause whatever, I will take it upon myself (for the additional expense of so doing) to send the Instrument or Instruments, to their houses, in any given time without trouble or risk, to themselves. Individuals, in want of this manufacture of Piano Fortes, ought to remember, that they are not at all bound to keep them, unless they are just what they are represented to be, that is, the very best quality. Many of the purchasers of these Pianos, (seeing that there was so little difference in their quality) have left the choice of their Instruments entirely to myself; and when this is done, if the Piano so chosen by myself, with the assistance of Amateurs and Professors, does not prove first rate, I will not only bind myself to take the same back, but also to pay the expenses of carriage to and fro.

Prices vary as follows, viz: For the plainest finish, 250 dollars. " Handsome, do, 300 do. " Still Handsome, do, 350 do. And so on up to six hundred dollars. Nov. 20, 1838. 4 3t

SMALL BUSINESS.

It may be a question whether so small a business as mine, is worth putting in the papers; but small or large, I cannot go ahead without money. I therefore respectfully ask of my friends to keep me no longer out of the little suns due. It is my intention to confine my sales as heretofore, to EATABLES only; with the exception of my Commission and Auction business, and to increase my Stock a little in amount and variety, some new articles being now on the road. Drinks I shall not meddle with, as the good being, without money or price, g.v.s to every body in abundance, and that of the best quality that was ever made in this world. Whilst grateful to the public for past favors, I wish to make it known that, in future, I had rather keep my Bacon and Biscuit and Butter, than third days; and then only to sell them, when they want say "call again," when I show them my bill. SAML. JOHNSON, C. M. E. November 22, 1838. 4 4ts.

TO THE CITIZENS OF NORTH CAROLINA.

"I speak unto wise men; Judge ye what I say!" PURGATION.

The principle of Purifying the body by Purgation, is beginning to be understood, as necessary for the acquisition of Sound Health; and all that will be of importance, which this doctrine is universally received, will be, whose Purgative medicine accomplishes this object in the easiest, and at the same time, in the most effectual manner.

BRANDRETH'S PILLS.

These Pills are an Assistant of Nature, and afford perfect relief whenever any organs of the body are unhealthy, teeming strength and health by removing accumulative impurities—otherwise, in simple languor, vitiated humors. This is following nature—this taking disease out of the body—and no other way can cure disease but taking it out. It must be carried away from the body, not merely changed, as is the case when Calomel is given, or any of the numerous mineral medicines. It is in consequence of the perspiration that arises from the Thomsonian practice that has brought it into notice—sweating is nothing compared to purging with Brandreth's Pills, in the good effects on the body. One dose of 10 Pills will remove more bad humors by the stomach and bowels, than a dozen vapor baths on Thomsonian or other principles could remove. Purgative medicine is all that is required to cure disease, no matter what kind; it can be cured no other way.

Brandreth's Pills are both sudorific and cathartic—that is, produces both sweating and purging. In some cases, they produce vomiting; this is only when the stomach is in such a state of foulness that it cannot clear itself by any other means. They always produce health, because they invariably excite every organ to healthy action—in other words they assist nature to bring about such a state of things as necessarily causes this desirable result.

No Druggist, Apothecary or Pedlar, are ever allowed to sell the genuine Medicine. All authorized Agents have a copper-plate certificate of agency duly executed with my own hand and seal.
