It is evident, that the coming Session will be one of peculiar interest, and it shall be the aim of the Editor, to give a full, fair and impartial account of its proceedings.

A NEW VOLUME

We presume that the commencement of a new volume, (with us now near a leaf) particularly when accompanied by a new dress, affects the Editor of a Newspaper with feelings, very much akin to those experienced by an individual on the return of his birth-day. It comes to him fraught with hopes and fears, with recollections of the past, and anticipations of the future. It opens new prospects to his enterprise, awakens his slumbering energies, admonishes him of his errors and imperfections, and incites him to correct the former, and remedy the latter. It is like a beacon on the stormy wave, and he moors his bark while under its friendly influence, that he may, with the greater care, survey the coast along which he is to pursue his perilous and, frequently, tempestuous journey. Re-assured by the well-known and friendly aspect of a familiar shore, he launches forth with renewed vigor and emboldened hope, and takes his new departure, with confidence and assurance, reaching his destination in safety, and with credit. Such, at least, are our feelings, as we usher in each successive Volume of the REGISTER. Panning while to consider our situation and prospects, the smiles of our numerous and increasing Patrons re-assure us—the approbation of the public endorses us—and, finally, a fair, and we trust, pardonable self-esteem, rivets us to the post we have occupied, and which honor bids us not betray.

IMPORTANT SALE

The attention of the Public is invited to the important Sale of Land and Negroes in Warren County, advertised in this paper.

We are informed that the Governor has been notified of the death of T. L. HURCHISON, Senator elect from Mecklenburg and Union Counties, and has ordered a new Election on the 25th of November inst. An Election for a Member of the House of Commons, has also been ordered in the County of Caswell, to supply a vacancy occasioned by the resignation of J. K. LEA, Esq., on next Friday.

NEW YORK BELIEFERS. BATTLE OF WATERLOO—ROUT OF THE ADMINISTRATION—THE VICTORY COMPLETE—A WHIG GOVERNOR—A WHIG ASSEMBLY—A WHIG MAJORITY OF CONGRESSMEN—THE COUNTRY SAFE!!!!

Enthusiasm is a miserably tame word, when used to express the feelings excited in every genuine Whig bosom, by the overwhelming victory just achieved in New York by the glorious Whig party—yes, overwhelming, whether viewed in reference to present benefits, or more remote and enduring advantages. SILAS WRIGHT, (unquestionably, the strongest Loco Foco in the Union) may now quit the field. St. Helena comes after Waterloo. A man that cannot carry his own State, with all the Federal and State patronage at his beck and command, must go into a state of retirement.

Official returns have not been received from the whole, but enough is known to render it certain—First—that JOHN YOUNG (Whig) is elected Governor over the present incumbent, SILAS WRIGHT, by a majority ranging from 10,000 to 15,000!

Secondly—that the Whigs have elected 23 Members of Congress out of 34, while, in the present Congress, they have but nine!

Thirdly, that the Whigs will have a decided majority in the Legislature, on joint ballot!!!

And, finally—that the Members elect to Congress, will vote for a Whig President, if the Election should go to the House of Representatives!!!!

It is but an act of justice to our trusty and able New York Correspondent, to add, that he has uniformly, as our readers will recollect, predicted, this glorious result—thus showing that his sources of information are most reliable, and that he does not allow his feelings to run ahead of his judgment.

And, now, what a lesson does this Election teach an Administration, which believes that, because invested with power, it may trifle with, and trample upon, the dearest interests of the country? Let the Whigs dedicate this victory to their country. Let them be prudent, wise, temperate and liberal, and the result in New York, Pennsylvania, &c., will be but the beginning of the end!

WELL DONE JERSEY BLUES.

Of the Election in this glorious little State, the story is soon told. The Whigs have swept the platform perfectly clean. A Whig Governor! A large majority in each branch of the Legislature!!! And out of five Congressmen!!! Nothing more could be asked of the Jersey Blues. They have come up, indeed, to the "high water-mark of glory."

NEUSE RIVER NAVIGATION.

The "New Bernian" announces the arrival that, of this new Steamer, designed to ply between New Bern and Smithfield. The trips will be immediately commenced. With this "New Bernian," we congratulate the friends of this enterprise upon the prospect which lies before them.

The Legislature of this State, convenes in this City, on Monday next, the 12th instant.

ABOLITIONISM AND THE "STANDARD"

The Editor of the "Standard," in his paper of the 28th ultimo, made the following alarming Proclamation:

"We shall have some startling disclosures to make next week, in relation to the connection existing at the North between the Whigs and Abolitionists."

We must confess, that when we read this "startling" announcement, we felt considerable concern to know what these alarming "disclosures" could be; and we waited with anxiety for the "next week" to arrive, which was to put us in possession of the facts, establishing such an unnatural and strange "connection." In due course of time, "next week" arrived, when lo! and behold! this monstrous "mountain in labor, brought forth a mouse." For, instead of finding any new developments, in relation to these "startling disclosures," it was the miserable twattle over again, which Father RIVER, of the "Union," at Washington, has been harping on, ever since the tide of popular opinion at the North, turned against the Administration. While the majority in the States of New Hampshire, Maine, Pennsylvania, &c. remained firm in their adherence to the Loco Focos, they were all clever fellows, and the very pink of patriotism; but as soon as the thunder tones of their reprobatum fell upon the ears of these devoted and immaculate "friends of the Union," then they denounce these States as bent on the destruction of the Union, and a great cry is made about a wicked alliance between the Whigs and Abolitionists. Truly, if these things be so—if the Whigs have gained their recent victories in the North, by an alliance with the Abolitionists, what a power of them must there have been in the Loco Foco ranks!!! For we find, that the Abolitionists proper, have, as usual, run candidates of their own, and they have received as large a vote as usual. So the "Standard" has been content to be "connected" with them for a long time, and would never have made those "startling disclosures," if they had remained the willing dupes of the Polk and Dallas frauds and impostors.

But, the "Standard" asks—How will the Whig people of North Carolina relish a connection with such men as Garrison and John P. Hale? Now, we will hazard the assertion, that GARRISON never voted for a Whig candidate for any office, when there was an avowed Abolition candidate in nomination; and so far from there being any connection between him and the Whigs, he has always labored with might and main, for the defeat of the Whig candidate, and the success of his favorite. And as it respects HALE, we will just call the attention of the Editor of the "Standard" to the following extract, from his own paper, of the 30th September last.—In speaking of the Whig U. S. Senators whose terms expire in 1846, he says—"Successors have been elected to Eaton, of Maine, Cilley, of New Hampshire, and Barrow, of Louisiana. The gentleman elected, are Jos. W. Brodway, JOHN P. HALE, and Solomon W. Downs, ALL DEMOCRATS." Now, then, according to his own showing, there is no "connection" between the Whigs and JOHN P. HALE, unless the Whigs are "connected" with the "Democrats," which, we presume, he will not agree to admit.

But the last "Standard" says—"What are the facts—what the signs of the times? Is 1844 forgotten?" We thank thee, Jew, for that word. "Is 1844 forgotten?" No, verily! The deep and damning stain of intrigue and alliance, formed between JAMES BENEY, the Abolition candidate for the Presidency, and his "Democratic" allies, the supporters of JAMES K. POLK, is not, and never will be forgotten! What! dare the Editor of the "Standard" have the unblushing effrontery to talk of Whig and Abolition alliance, in the face of these notorious truths, of but a short two years' occurrence? Let him hide his head in very shame and confusion, at thus attempting to palm upon a reading and intelligent people, such a perversion of notorious and recent facts. That the Abolitionists of the North were wheeled and coaxed into the support of POLK and Dallas—and that BENEY, the Abolition candidate, gave all the weight of his influence, to their success, are "facts," which, we think, even the "Standard" will not have the temerity to deny.

We would advise the Editor to drop this "sarcasm" for the "Whig people of North Carolina," are too well informed to be misled by such untruthful representations; and let him return to his colleagues of McKAY and the Tariff of '46, and to the leading out soft soap to Posey and Edgcomb.

REMOVAL OF THE DEPOSITES.

We learn that the United States Marshal for this District (our local Sub-Treasurer) has removed his "strong box" from the Vault of the Cape Fear Bank, and taken it into his own keeping. Being compelled to attend his Courts in the lower part of the State, he made a special and temporary, and not a general deposit, of Uncle Sam's Gold and Silver in the Bank. Really, we had no design of imputing any censure to our worthy Marshal by our late paragraph, but we merely desired to show up the ridiculous character of the Sub-Treasurer, as tested in its practical operation.

THE WAY THE MONEY GOES.

Mr. Walker has published in the Union, an official report of the receipts into and the expenditures from the Treasury, during the month of October.—The gross receipts were $8,735,950, of which $1,953,950 were on account of Treasury notes. The expenditures in the month were $14,088,661 27, or $5,352,711 27 beyond the receipts, and deducting the Treasury notes, over six millions and a quarter of dollars. Of the expenditures $8,153,650 were on account of the army, and $1,969,980 on account of the Navy. This is over ten millions, and for a year would give more than a hundred and twenty millions for the war! It is certain we are going to pay pretty well for all we get of Mexico.

"AND WE ALL DO FADE AS A LEAF."

ISAIAH, 64, v. 1.

We heard a few days since, a most impressive and appropriate Funeral Discourse delivered by the Rev. Mr. LACY, of the Presbyterian Church, from the above text of Scripture:—"And, we all do fade as a leaf." We shall not pretend to quote the language of the Reverend Speaker, or even to catch the spirit of his remarks, the solemnity of which was augmented by the season itself, "the saddest of the year," illustrating with each breath of wind, the moral of his Discourse; but the effect on the Congregation was most apparent. He spoke of the brief space of time, since the bright festival of Spring, with its bubbling fountains and gushing streams. It was but, as yesterday, that Summer beamed on us with its sunshine. Yet Summer's gone! The leaf turns pale, trembles, dies—the Groves are deserted—the last Sheaf is gathered in, and the cold harvest moon is pale and wan! There is something sad in the reflection, that Earth's loveliest things must fade—there is nothing too beautiful to escape the unsparring hand of time! That the fair buds, which have opened their folded leaves to the sun-beam, should wither, decay and die! But, said the Speaker, there is a heavenly sun-light amid these deepening shadows. There is a moral even in the "falling leaf," and perishing blossom! When all things are dying around us; when from our very windows, we see how "fares the leaf" late so gorgeous in beauty, we are admonished that change and decay comes to all; and that the chill frost of death cuts down alike the tenderest plant and noxious weed. As the head sinks upon the hand, and memory calls up the thronging images of the past; as the eye wanders around the friendly circle and finds it narrowed since the last "fall of the leaf," we must all feel and know, that in a few years or days, the falling leaves must also rustle about our resting place! May we all be enabled by a holy faith, and the earnest Preacher, to look forward to an immortal Spring-time!

RAIL ROAD CONVENTION.

We have conversed with one of the Delegates from this County, to the Rail Road Convention, held at Fayetteville last week, and are gratified to hear that it was a numerously attended and spirited meeting. South Carolina and Virginia were ably represented, and Delegates also appeared from eight or nine Counties of our own State. Gen. WILLIAM GIBBS McNEILL, of New York, was also present, having come on expressly to attend the deliberations of the Convention. We learn also, that a letter was read from Gen. GAINES, in which he states that the connection from Raleigh, via Fayetteville, to the South Carolina, is the only route to be thought of in a military point of view. The Delegates were treated with unbounded hospitality by the citizens of Fayetteville, and a public Dinner given them. WARREN WINNLOW, Esq. Magistrate of Police, was President of the Convention. We look with some anxiety for the proceedings.

P. S. Since the above hasty notice was prepared, we have seen the "North Carolinian," which gives the substance of the Resolutions adopted by the Convention as follows:

- 1st. A recommendation of the extension of the Railroad from Raleigh to Camden.
- 2d. That the interests of the country demand the immediate commencement, and speedy completion of this link in the Metropolitan line of communication between the North and the South; and setting forth the advantages to the public, and particularly to this section of country, to be derived therefrom.
- 3d. Expresses the conviction of the Convention, that the project is practicable and can be accomplished at small expense; and that the stock will be profitable, and worthy the attention of capitalists.
- 4th. Requesting the Legislature of this State to grant a charter to construct a railroad from the City of Raleigh by way of Fayetteville, to such point on the South Carolina line, as shall connect with the Railroad which may be constructed by the citizens of South Carolina, from the town of Camden, through Cheraw and Bennettsville, to the North Carolina line.
- 5th. Appointing a Committee of seven to prepare a document setting forth an estimate of the cost of constructing this link of Railroad to the S. C. line, and its probable income when completed; and to take other steps to attract public attention to the route.
- 6th. A Resolution to memorialize the Legislature of North Carolina on the subject.

The Convention was addressed by Messrs. E. L. Winnlow, Hon. Jas. C. Dobbin, Mr. Hollister and Mr. Moreland of Raleigh, Mr. McIlwaine of Petersburg, and Gen. McNeill.

Gen. McNeill pledged his reputation as an Engineer, that from his knowledge of the proposed line, the road can be built at a comparatively trifling expense, and would prove to be a most profitable investment for capital.

EDITOR'S CORRESPONDENCE.

New York, November 24, 1846.

The Steamship "Massachusetts," built some two years ago, by the wise men of Boston, to form the first of a line of Steamers to ply between that place and Liverpool, not having answered the expectations of her owners, has been sold to the Government for, I am told, a third more than her original cost! Of this I have hardly any doubt, so many instances of like folly, in the prosecution of the "existing" war with Mexico, having recently come to light in its recent purchases of similar articles of some of the Southern Cities. Glorious times, these, for the owners of old Steamboats and baggage carts; all they have to do, in order to realize a fortune, sometimes is to load their trimpery with a coat of paint, and "sell off" to "Uncle Sam!"

The "Massachusetts" has on board a battalion of four Companies, enlisted for the 4th, 5th, 7th and 8th Infantry, who are under the order of Officers, many of whom were engaged in the battles of the 5th and 9th of May. The whole number of recruits is about 600, who are chiefly enlisted under the provision of law, for the increase of the rank and file of the Regiments of the regular service. The majority of them Dutch and Irish.

The case of the slave boy, GEORGE KINN, the particulars of which I related two weeks since, has been the cause of much needless excitement in town, for the last week. At one time, during his examination in the Mayor's room, there were strong indications that the negro mob, on the outside of the City Hall, led on by their Abolition friends, would attempt a rescue. All, however, passed off peacefully, and the runaway was discharged; but he had not sooner reached Nassau street, than the Officers were again pursuing him, with another arrest warrant, issued out by the Captain of the Brig "Mobile," who did not feel satisfied with Judge GIBBS's decision. The negro, in the confusion of the moment, eluded the search of the Officers, but he had been seen to run into the large building occupied by the African Colonization Society, they kept a strict watch thereupon. Towards evening they saw two large boxes, apparently of some value, taken from the basement in Nassau street, placed upon a cart, and drove off. This created the suspicion of the Officers, (who have been instructed by the Chief of Police, to examine every thing that might be carried out of the building) and following the cart into Park Row, another large crowd, upon the cart, to examine the boxes, and saw the larger one of the two labelled: "REV. IRA MANLEY, ESSEX, NEW YORK."

This side up with eyes.

Boyle immediately stopped the cart, opened the box, and discovered the "niggers" snugly stowed away among a batch of Emancipation Tracts. He was taken out and conveyed to the Tombs, where he remained all this morning, when he was again brought to Court, and finally discharged.

The Bostonians, in these parts, just now, are being most sumptuously regaled with the glorious performances of many of the first artists in the world. Within a short time, we have had with us Ole Bull, Violentini, Sivori, (the pupil of the great Paganini) and Leopold de Meyer, who stand, each of them, at the head of his profession in Europe; now Henri Herz, the unprincipled and unpolished, but not uncomparable German Pianist, is chattering New York with his wonderful show on his favorite instrument.

By the way, they say, stands unrivalled in his performance in the French horn, is looked for in the next Packet from Havre. He was first heard in the Theatre of Grand Duke of Baden, and the many Concerts he has been giving all over England and Scotland, have met the most liberal encouragement. The great Romani, (who has not heard of him) his rival, rumor says, intends to come to the U. S. State shortly; but I fear his demands, as set forth "by authority," as it were, in "Le Courier de l'Etat," are entirely too extravagant for Yankee pockets. The demands to begin with a subscription for 80 performances at $1000 each. (Have had the greatest influence upon Charles V. of Tennesse, and have decided him to quit his peaceful retreat for the new world, figures the hope, which has been generally held out to him, of seeing the new Theatre, about to be built up in Troy, which he expects to inaugurate, baptized with his own name. This is a lounge which has already been rendered him by 3 of the principal cities of Italy; and such an event as the arrival of Rubini in America will create an epoch in the annals of the musical world sufficiently important to be thus consecrated.

The immense numbers of Moses Raymond and Waring, now on its way to winter quarters in Philadelphia, is making a short stay with us, and attracts a good deal of public attention. It entered the City with a long train of caravans, preceded by a large Persian Car, exquisitely carved and burnished, and drawn by a pair of magnificent Elephants, which dragged along the pavement apparently with the most contempt of the vast crowd which will nig block up their passage. They are indeed two majestic-looking animals. This Menagerie is undoubtedly the rarest and the largest in the world.

DEMOCRATS AND FEDERALISTS.

The Philadelphia Ledger—a neutral paper leaning to Democracy—in the course of some remarks upon the article in the N. Y. Globe, very sensibly and candidly says—"We would also ensure that every contemptible resort of modern demagogues, an attempt to confound the modern 'Whig' with the old 'Federal' party. The old 'Republican' and 'Federal' parties died long ago and their survivors are thoroughly intermixed with the modern 'Whigs' and 'Democrats.' Of the modern 'Whig' leaders, some of the most distinguished were old 'Republicans.' Of the modern 'Democratic' leaders, some of the most distinguished were old 'Federalists.'"

THE LAST YANKEE NOTION.

There is a chap, travelling in Connecticut, who has fitted up a large wagon into a sort of saloon, with a Daguerro-type apparatus, and is going about like a tin pedlar, calling at houses and taking pictures here and there, as he can find customers.

UNITED STATES SENATOR.

The Legislature of Rhode Island has elected J. O. CHAMBERLAIN, Esq. of Providence, Whig, a Senator of the United States from the 4th of March, 1847, in place of Mr. STURGES, whose term will then expire. The opposing candidate—presented and supported by the Democrats—was Thos. W. Dorr, who received 34 votes, while Mr. Clarke received 59.

The citizens of Wilmington have resolved unanimously, to apply to the next Legislature for authority to borrow and subscribe to their Rail Road to South Carolina, the sum of $200,000; and for authority to lay taxes to pay the principal and interest of the debt.

STATE OF NORTH CAROLINA—SHERIFF

In the matter of Thomas B. Sharpe, Starke Sharpe, John B. Sharpe, Jacob Sharpe and Linda H. Sharpe.

The Petitioners set forth that, under a Decree of this Court, in the said Elisha Scull and Sarah, his wife, against Lemuel Jernegan, certain moneys were paid into Court by the Defendant, in which it was declared the said Sarah was entitled as if of the same real Estate; that the said Sarah is dead, having never had any issue by the said Elisha Scull; that the Petitioners are her only heirs-at-law, and they pray that the said moneys may be paid to them; therefore, it is ordered that notice, by Advertisement in the Raleigh Register for six weeks, of the filing of the Petition, be given to Elisha Scull, that he may, if he thinks proper, appear at the next Term of this Court, and show cause, if he can, why the Prayer of said Petition should not be granted.
