A WAR WITH ENGLAND.

BY ADA E. FERRIS.

Hurrah for war with England! We're spoiling for a fight; We feel so big and valuant And mean to have things right. Great Britain's gobbling everything. By water and by land. Our Uncle Sam must load his guns And bring her to a stand. But what of that more ruthless power

That always, peace or strife, In city, farm or council hall, Sups every nation's life?

Hurrah for war with England ! Our mines or seals to save. hat never mind the boys that sink to fill a drankard's grave. We're wild to curch the Spaniard And set fair Cuba free. We warn the powers of all the world To let our neighbors de. in we dasn't touch the liquor trade Inst grasps us by the throat. Broanso our grand old party thin't spare the liquor vote!

We'll trach John Ball a lesson If he dares this coast to touch : at he who blas s our c'utildrea-He needs't fear us much. Ventzuela must have justice, B. free from foreign rule, hat our poor wives and mothers Must wrath to calmness school, Must writch their homes and gladness P ur down a drunken throat. For lags in mon have ballets. And women cannot vote!

Horrah for war with England ! Amen, with all my heart, f of the rum fi and's fearful c im s She matched the twentieth part!

"LAW is not a moral and regenerat ing force; it is restriction and has ref created to overt acts. And in this capacity it is legitimate and all sectors when it stops the trail cof the dealer duigs their curiosi y. in intoxicating drinks. It becomes every citizen to exert all his 'i.fl-tence' this monstrous vice. It is a shame monces and neglect and even foster auses. It leaves uncared for the hot beds of iniquity and shuts up the vagrant and the thief. With one hand it builds a gallows. Hearer where is membership of more than 1 500. your influence and your vote in the matter?"-Dr. Chapin.

and now, "If any man have not the spirit of Christ, he is none of his.' Dear reader, give prayerful and im mediate attention to these things.

SELECTIONS.

There are pious souls who cannot un derstand how God "giveth his beloved sleep" unless it refers to dozing over the Bible.

Any man can measure the Bible by his theology, but it takes grit, grace and brains to measure one's theology by the Bible.

The Bible can stand the criticism of its friends much better than it can take the compliments of its friends who never read it. ------

If we may know a man by the com pany he keeps we may also know him by the men who will not keep company with him.

The man who has never learned a few of the promises of God by heart is in poor condition to meet a sudden attack of the enemy.

In this day of "new and improved" machines we need to be constantly reminded that a thing may be new with out being improved-the new woman, for example.

We are sorry for preachers who can not give rich men a better reason why they should endow a college than that it is their duty to make a monument for themselves.

The reason why God gave some men signs and refused them to others was some wanted them to strengthen their faith others only wanted them to in

We are to forget as well as forgive old gentleman is now in his ninety in eracting legal safeguards against an injury, but we are not commanded third year, and continues to manifest to so far lose eight of the fact that a [u] inconsistency that the license law man has stolen from us to expose him should busy itself only with conse to the temptation of stealing again.

-A friend of Bareilly Theological Seminary has put in hand and guar anteed funds to educate annually from thirty five to forty preachers for a number of years. This timely gift has greatly enlarged the power of the in stitution to supply a native ministry, which is the hope of India's millions. -The Northwestern's returns from Conferences now voting on the amend ment to make women eligible to mem bership in Methodist Epi-copal General Conference atr ngly indicate the success of the measure. Representative and significant groups of Conferences are now voting quite unlike as they did four years ago. The summaries already show a large majority, as majorities on such questions go accord ing to the discipline and constitution of the church.

"SAVE BOWMAN FIRST." During her last voyage two of the crew of the African Royal Mail steamer

Angola fell into the sea, which was rolling high. Lifebuoys were thrown, down, and after hard pulling her crew reached one man, who was a more powerful swimmer than the other. being that his comrade was showing signs of exhaustion, he called to those in the boat, "Save Bowman first! Save Bowman first !" Eventually both men were rescued. The Christian work of saving perishing souls is done by men of this spirit-men who subordi nate their own case, comfort, and safety to the salvation of others.

or respondence of The Progressive Farmer, In reply to Rev. D. H. Tuttle's ser mon on "The Second Coming of Carist," in The Progressive FARMER of March 10th, which gives rise to some questione, I wish to ask, viz : His first reference, Matt. 25:3, is a connection of the same event with the preced ing chapters (for we know the original Bible was not divided into chapters and verses) which says: "This generation shall not pass away till all these things be fuifilled "--Matt. 24:34 Again: "There be some standing here that shall not taste of death until the Son of Man be come,"-Matt. 16/27, 28 Mark 13:30 has reference to the same event, that the second coming of Christ would be in that generation; his refer ence to John 14:1, 2, 3, doesn't he think that whole chapter teaches that Christ second coming was spiritual, when he set up his kingdom in the hearts of those who believed on him, and overthrew the Jewish religion, and established his Christian religion. His ref. ercuces as to the time of the second coming of Christ is Matt 24.6 7, 14. 1, 37, 38, 39, but leaves out the 15th.

"Ye have heard that it hath been marked unanimity. said, An eye for an eye, and a tooth thy coat, let him have thy cleak also. And whoseever shall compell thee to go with him a mile, go with him twain." These words are from our Saviour's Sermon on the Mount. Lots of folks say you can't live up to that sermon's requirements. Are you in that crowd? Is Corist not a "hard master" if he has required more than we can do? What did Paul say to the Pailippians? See Phil. 4:13 I know one man who, make it. when smitten on one side of his face, meekly turned the other to his assail ant saying, "If it will do you any good, hit this side also." The man hit that second blow, but as he went home the face and words of the good man he had struck weighed heavily on his conscience. He became deeply convicted and cried for mercy. When he went and begged the good man's pardon, G.d converted his soul and now be is leading an exemplary Christian life That church member was used back. She spoke of the viper of am bition, but was much affected, and her voice sometimes broke and she wept. "Ballington is my brother," she said, and together we were taught to love the great Father, and do all in our humble power to give words of cheer to the desolate and heart broken, and bring into the fold the tempted and abandoned. That Ballington has seen fit to break assunder the silken cords of discipline which my Christian father has bound about us is to be deplored, and I pray, as all of us do, that he will
