-The Ajmere District, Northwest India, Methodist Episcopal Mission re ports gratifying progress. There are 10,025 Christians in the District, living in 1 350 different places, some of which are 125 miles from each other. More than 1,125 converts we baptized; 11, 000 more are ready for baptism.

-Rev. T. J. Marsh visited friends at Lindsay, One, after an absence of five years in the Northwest. He came from Hay River and walken 700 miles, then drove 200 more to Edmonton. A A trader accompanied him from the far North; a dog train of four dogs carried their luggage and provisions. The time consumed was from February 1st to March 27th.

-The Methodist Episcopal Church Mission in Mexico reported 380 conver sions during the past year. The W. F. M. S. in Puebla City has 206 students: and the Institute in Mexico City had 143 students-fifty boarding scholars and ninety-three day scholars. The printing press sent forth over ten million pages of evangelical literature during the year.

-There were in India, in 1891, about two and a half millions of Christians. Of these, two and a quarter millions were natives of India, and one quarter million were Europeans and Eurasians. About one and three quarter millions Were Roman Catholic and Syrian Christians, and about three quarters of a milion were Protestant Christians. Now there are more than three millions of native Christians in India.
