stakes should be set securely in the soil by using an auger, or some other implement for the purpose. If the stacks are allowed to blow down, the nuts are more than apt to be damaged. There should be nailed to each pole, about 8 inches from the soil, a small wooden cleat, to keep the nuts and vines from coming in contact with the moist earth. The stacks should be put up as small around as possible to allow the air to penetrate and should also be made as tight as convenient. With the bunch varieties, we try to turn all peas to the pole, so the vines will protect the nuts from the rains and ravages of birds.

As soon as the kernels are dry enough to shake in the hull, they should be picked off. Years ago this was done largely by women and children, but to-day there are a number of machines on the market which clean them even better than hands. Some of these machines pick off from 300 to 500 bushels per day, and they have made it possible for the acreage to be largely increased.

FARMERS' NATIONAL CONGRESS.

The Farmers' National Convention, in session at Omaha, Neb., Oct. 5 to 12, elected Joshua Strange, of Indiana, President; Geo. M. Whitakers, Washington, D. C., Secretary, and John M. Stahl, of Illinois, Legislative Agent.

The meeting was reported a success, although the attendance was scarcely so large as usual.

Resolutions were adopted as follows:

1. Re-affirming position on immigration.
2. Urging more liberal appropriations for agricultural colleges and experiment stations.
3. Favoring conservation of forests and minerals.
4. Favoring an amendment to the Constitution which will prohibit the introduction into any State of an article whose sale there is forbidden.
5. Favoring National and State control of public service corporations, especially railroads and express companies.
6. Favoring laws for a Federal valuation of railroads.
7. Favoring legislation that will make it impossible to sell oleomargarine as butter.
8. Favoring a law forbidding interstate common carriers taking intoxicating liquors into dry territory.
9. Indorsing the tariff commission idea.
10. Affirming position in favor of conservation.
11. Favoring a National and State soil survey.
12. Favoring the establishment of State conservation commissions.
13. Favoring legislation for the protection of travelers on railways.
14. Favoring an experimental parcels post and urging members to write Congressmen in favor of it.

Be the Big Man

The difference between big men and little men is only a difference of training. Sheldon students who are moving ahead and leaving thousands of others behind, are not better men, but better trained men. The world is laying its prizes at the feet of the man who is successfully trained to cope with present day business methods, and the Sheldon course in the Science of Business Building will point out your latent capabilities, broaden your horizon, and enable you to fit yourself for the bigger things. If you want to stand out—if you want to be a big man—make the start today by sending for the Sheldon Book, which tells how The Sheldon School was founded, how its courses have increased the earning capacity of tens of thousands—how it will benefit you. A postcard request will bring it to you. Write
