JAPANESE SORGHUM.

Possibly there is no other variety of Sorghum that has met with as much favor with the syrup makers as has Japanese. We introduced this variety in North Texas in 1911. A prominent farmer near Van Alstyne, Texas, was the first to try it on a large scale. He made 200 gallons of syrup to the acre and sold it at 75 cents a gallon. He has tried the Goose Neck, Straighthead Texas Seeded Ribbon, the Sumac, the Orange, Texas Honey and all others, but he has discarded all of these and grows the Japanese exclusively. He made 5,000 gallons in 1914, and hasn't a gallon on hand, this the first of February, 1915.

We have but a limited amount of this seed and quote you as follows:

|                    |      |                            |         |
|--------------------|------|----------------------------|---------|
| 1 Pound, Post Paid | 25   | 25 Pounds f. o. b. Sherman | $ 4.00 |
| 3 "                | 65   | 50 "                       | 7.00    |
| 10 "               | 1.70 | 100 "                      | 12.50   |

As it requires only two to three pounds to plant an acre in drills anyone can afford to give this wonderful new crop a trial. Plant and cultivate just as you would any other Sorghum only leave the plants 12 to 15 inches apart in the drill to allow room for suckers, which increase the yield.

We have a supply of Japanese Sorghum Seed that was slightly mixed with other varieties which we are offering at sacrifice prices.
