The Eyes of America Turned on Her Farmers

AT last the American farmer occupies his rightful place in the esteem of the world. Manufacturers, merchants, bankers and city dwellers of all kinds heretofore have taken their food for granted and have overlooked the man behind the plow—the man who feeds them.

Conditions today are such that the producer of foodstuffs is recognized as the mightiest force—not only in the welfare and prosperity of the nations of the world but in the very existence of nations and their peoples.

A noticeable feature of the situation, which has shown the American farmer to be on a high moral plane as well as holding an important industrial place is the fact that he has not taken advantage of conditions to extort unreasonable prices from his fellow Americans. He has patriotically increased his production in order to prevent famine prices instead of keeping production down to force prices up.

He has shamed the food speculator—though unfortunately his example has not been followed by all manufacturers—particularly among the makers of so-called luxuries; though many big manufacturers in this country have followed the farmer's lead.

One of the most noticeable cases among those who have kept faith is that of the makers of Coca-Cola. In spite of the enormously high price of cane sugar—the principal ingredient of Coca-Cola—and in spite of the higher cost of its other ingredients the Coca-Cola Company have not raised the price to consumers nor lowered the quality of that delicious and refreshing beverage one iota. Like the farmers they have kept faith with the people to their own cost.

Perhaps the lessons of fair-dealing and helpfulness that the heads of that institution learned as boys on the farm (for they are products of the soil) have strengthened them to stand firm in this crisis. So let us remember that the beverage Coca-Cola, known as the National Beverage because of its great popularity, has proved itself indeed national by doing its bit to keep down the cost of living.

Fill Any Silo at Lowest Cost

INTERNATIONAL Ensilage Cutters are now made in five sizes, with capacities ranging from 3-6 to 16-25 tons per hour. The line now includes sizes for filling every silo, from the smallest to the largest and highest.

International Ensilage Cutters fill silos at the lowest power cost. Every feature of these cutters, the knives and blowers on the same flywheel, the carefully machined bearings, the complete oiling system, the absence of all unnecessary gears and sprockets, the steady feed arrangements, the fine adjustments that can be made, all tend to make them easy running, and economical of power. A 4 to 6-H. P. Mogul kerosene engine will run a type F cutter up to its full capacity of 6 tons per hour, and the largest International cutter, a type A, requires only 25 Mogul kerosene H. P. to handle its heaviest loads.

When you buy an International Ensilage Cutter, of any size or type, you get a complete machine that will do the work it was built for at the lowest cost, with safety to the operator, and in a satisfactory manner. Our catalogues tell all about the many good features of these machines. A line to the address below will bring you full information promptly.

ALL CLUB RATES WITHDRAWN

Owing to a recent ruling of the postal authorities publishers are required to net a larger percentage of their subscription prices. Because of this many publishers have been forced to withdraw their former low rates to us.

We have given our subscribers the benefit of the best prices we could possibly obtain and have offered at an attractive rate a select list of standard publications.

We are reluctant to be compelled to hereby withdraw all club rates. Before sending your remittance for any combination desired in connection with The Progressive Farmer, please write us first to learn the amount required, because we are forced to withdraw all previous quotations.
