Take a Short Course in Agriculture Next Month.

called attention to Professor Newman's announcement of the special short courses in agriculture to be held at the North Carolina A. & M. College next month; but for fear you did't heed it as you should, we are mentioning it again this week.

There will be a seven weeks' course in General Agriculture, beginning January 12th; and a one week's course in Cotton Culture, beginning January 5th. Tuition will be free in both courses, and rooms will be furnished without cost in the college buildings until all are taken. Board can be had for $2.50 per week. For further information, write to Prof. C. L. Newman, West Raleigh, N. C.

At the Georgia State College of Agriculture, Athens, Ga., a ten days' Cotton School will open on January Stockmen will be in session at the same time. The only charge in either course is a registration fee of $1. Board may be had for 75 cents to $1 a day. Everyone over 16 who can read and write is eligible to admittance. Prof. Andrew M. Soule, President of the College, will be glad to give any information desired.

The University of Tennessee, at Knoxville, offers four two weeks' courses: Course 1, January 3 to 15, is devoted to Soils, Fertilizers, Farm attended these short courses.

AST WEEK we editorially | Crops; Course 2, January 17-29, to Live Stock: Course 3. January 21 February 12, to Dairying: Course 4 February 14-26, to Truck and Fruit Growing. Courses may be taken singly or as a whole, and there will be no cost except for board and railway fare Write Prof. H. A. Morgan, University of Tennessee, Knoxville, for additional information.

The cost of taking these short courses is so small and the benefit to be derived from them so great, that we feel safe in saying the attendance in every State should be ten times as great this year as ever before. Every farmer who is willing to be taught about his work, and every boy who expects to be a farmer can gain information and inspiration enough at one of these schools to make the time and money the course will cost one of the best investments he ever made.

Therefore we would urge every 3rd. A similar Short Course for reader who can possibly do so-and this includes many who think they can't-to make arrangements right now for from one to eight weeks' study of some branch of farm work. Get four or five neighbors and your neighbors' boys to go with you, and go and take the course. If you don't have a thoroughly enjoyable time and don't come back to the farm and do better work than ever before, your experience will be very different from that of most men who have

North Carolina Farmers' Union Meets.

President H. Q. Alexander Re-Elected - Resolutions Adopted for Agriculture and Domestic Science in Public Schools and State Aid for Good Roads—Raleigh Next Place of Meeting.

ers' Union was held in Greensboro December 15th and 16th, the order being reported as in excellent condition. It is extremely gratifying looking to procure estimates and to see that Dr. H. Q. Alexander, who has managed Union affairs in North Carolina as wisely as President Barrett in the country at large, was reelected President. His annual address was highly praised and ordered printed in pamphlet form. The other officers are also men of the same type, the complete list being as follows:

President, H. Q. Alexander, of Mecklenburg.

Vice President, J. M. Templeton of Wake.

Secretary-Treasurer, E. C. Fares, of Cleveland. State Organizer and Lecturer, J.

Z. Green, of Union. Chaplain, Rev. A. C. Davis, of

Union. Doorkeeper, E. T. Cansler, of Lincoln. Conductor, W. T. Swanson, of Guilford.

Assistant Conductor, W. W. Fares, Gaston.

Executive Committee: A. C. Shuford, Catawba County; Orson Morrow; Rutherford; E. P. W. Plyler, Union; W. J. Crowder, Wake; I. P. Coggins, Chatham.

State Business Agent, J. R. Rives, Lee County.

Raleigh was chosen as the place of the next annual meeting in December 1910, and The Progressive Farmer wishes to be first to welcome the representatives of this great organization to the Capital City.

Among the resolutions adopted were three as follows:

For Better Management of Cetton Marketing.

"Resolved, That we recommend lar price $1.60. Order to-day.

N INTERESTING session of the that our State officials take up the North Carolina State Farm- matter with the National officials, looking to fixing the minimum price of cotton as early in the season as possible, and that measures be taken crop reports through the Union."

For Agriculture and Domestic Science in Public Schools.

"Resolved. That we reiterate our interest for popular education and recommend that the members of the Farmers' Union encourage and support all measures calculated to improve and perfect our educational system, and we recommend further that the law requiring agriculture to be taught in our public schools be rigidly enforced, and we further endorse a system of domestic science to be taught in our public schools."

For State Aid to Road Building, and A Highway Commission.

"Whereas, The States of Massachusetts, Connecticut, New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Maryland, and Virginia have adopted legislation giving State aid to those counties or townships which will raise money

"I'm just reveling with the greatest delight in reading 'A Southerner in Europe.' It is charmingly written and holds one's interest easily to the end. My only complaint is, it is entirely too brief, and I wish the author had toured every country of Europe, and part of Asia and Africa, and given us the benefit of his fascinating pen in portraying the results of his observations and experience."

"Resolved, by this organization, that we recommend that the next Legislature make careful and thorough investigation as to the methods adopted by these States with a view to giving State aid to the counties or townships of North Carolina that vote money for road building, either by direct taxes or bond issues.

"2. We endorse the action of the Legislature in appropriating funds for furthering the cause of improved highways and urge the creation of a State highway commission."
