THE PROGRESSIVE FARMER
 THE AGRICULTURAL PAPER OF THE
 SOUTHERN STATES
 ESTABLISHED 1886

A BUSHEL O' EGGS—HER MONEY CROP

REMEMBER—

To put this issue of The Progressive Farmer away after you have read it.
 That running water and washing machines are home necessities.
 That fireless cookers, oil stoves, and electric lights were made to use on the farm as well as elsewhere.

REMEMBER—

That we'll get good prices for our cotton when the buyers get hungry for it.
 That we must have an air-tight co-operative cotton selling organization by next fall.
 To read the California co-operative story on page 19 of this paper, and to look for our new serial story, Big Tremaine, next week.
