

just this thing. Fascinating stories of Bible heroes read at bed-time, the Lord's Prayer repeated together perhaps at breakfast time or some other suitable time, the talking over with Mother or Daddy the little misdemeanors or failures of the day and the asking "Our Father's" help to overcome them; all these things serve to form a sweet and unbreakable bond of sympathy between the parent and child.—Mary C. Terry, in Kindergarten Leaflet.

Shoes for Your Feet

I DO not care how much you bathe or brush your teeth and hair you cannot look pleasant if your feet are paining. Every woman likes pretty shoes, but handsome is as handsome does is as true of shoes as other things. In shoes, also, the rule that the best is the cheapest holds good.

For everyday wear get a good heavy flexible thick-soled shoe with low flat heel. For the house have a pair of nice soft low shoes or slippers; and here too if you study health and economy get low heels. For wear with your best gowns at church or parties get a pair of kid of the best make with moderately high heels. With proper care these three pairs of shoes should keep you nicely shod for a year.

Even with thick shoes, wear overshoes in bad weather. A person's foot in a comfortable shoe and free from corns and callouses goes a long way toward keeping one cheerful, happy, and attractive.

MRS. LOUIS FRANK.

OUR YOUNG MEN AND YOUNG WOMEN

My Future Wife

WHEN I was in France I used to look at the beautiful, vivacious girls and then at their mothers, many of whom had not retained beauty with age, and wondered if there was such a difference between the young and old in America. When I came back to America I found that the mothers here are quite as beautiful as their daughters. That is, they are in the towns, and almost as much in the country. Therefore I am going to marry a girl from a family in which the older women of it keep up in looks and accomplishments.

Second. I want a country girl because I expect to live on the farm always.

Third. I should like a college girl because I want the mother of our children to have the advantage of a mother's trained mind. However, if she is fond of reading good magazines and books and is ambitious the college course is not essential.

Fourth. I want her sweet and affectionate, and I shall try to keep her so by being sweet and affectionate with her. Some men seem to expect something for nothing.

Fifth. I expect her to be a good housekeeper and know how to make a chap comfortable. Until such time as I can provide all conveniences I expect to haul wood, water and do other back-breaking household chores.

Last. She must be healthy in mind and body. I am trying to be equally clean and generous. W. G. C.

A Twinkle in Her Eye

THE qualities I want my future wife to possess, are most dimly defined in my own mind. In fact I do not care whether she possesses any qualities in particular just so she be alive, awake, and have a merry little twinkle in her eye. C. H.

A Love for Home

I WANT my future husband to be a Christian man and to have clean habits. To be proud enough of himself to take the very best care of his physical body. I want him to possess a love for a convenient, comfortable and attractive home. Last but not least I want to be loved and respected as much as a wife as a sweetheart. Why not be as thoughtful and considerate after marriage as before? M. M. B.

In keeping the dairy and farm buildings sanitary—the orchard and fields free from insects and plant diseases, extreme care must be taken to select the right cleansing agents and spray materials.

Likewise in caring for the teeth, progressive farm families, through their dentists and physicians, have learned that the most desirable dentifrice is one which "cleanses" naturally. They select one that doesn't "scratch" or "scour" the teeth with soapless grit.

COLGATE'S CLEANS TEETH THE RIGHT WAY

The combined action of non-gritty, specially prepared chalk and pure soap cleanses thoroughly and does not irritate the delicate mouth tissues or "scour" the precious enamel.

So, if your teeth are "on edge" from using a harsh, gritty, soapless tooth paste, try a safe, common sense dental cream. Try Colgate's Ribbon Dental Cream with its delicious flavor that makes tooth brushing a pleasure—there's no disagreeable "druggy" taste.

More dentists recommend Colgate's than any other dentifrice. You can get a large tube of Colgate's Ribbon Dental Cream at your store for considerably less than fifty cents.

If you wish samples of the other Colgate products mentioned in the coupon, check those desired and mail it to us.
