EDITORIAL NOTES.

The inquest can be held on the election bill just as well now as here-

Mr. Plumb roared gently as a sucking dove when the Force bill was laid in its little grave.

Tanner looks at the looted Treasury with the forceful conviction of a prophet whose prediction have come true.

Fifteen thousand Illinois farmers cheering Hon. Roger Q. Mills are rather a denial of the statement that farmers do not favor tariff reform.

Only think of it. Nearly 37,000, 000 of babies are born every year or seventy a minute. No wonder people get rich out of baby carriages and toys.

The literary "fellers" don't impress Congressmen as good politicians. They buttonhole members to vote for the copyright bill before they have had their morning cocktail.

Then the farmers got angry and swore by their plough handles that they would down these monopolies and the robber tariff that makes them poorer, and any one who fancies that these men will be whipped back into the old high-tariff traces will find himself badly mistaken. They are after monopolies of all kinds. They don't propose to divide their crops equally and give one-half to the railroad and the other half to the millionaire manufacturers of the East. They are in earnest. They are in rebellion .- Omaha World-Herald.

Utterly tired out and brutalized by Reed's dogmatism, the House actually welcomed the disgraceful scenes of 27th, beginning with Cannon's vulgarity and ending with the fisticuffs between Wilson and Beckwith, as affording a moment's brutal amusement. But this time all the members must be utterly ashamed of themselves. But the stigma has been fastened on them. No wonder Congress is tired of the long session, of dictatorship, of divided counsels and of abortive legislative. But the country is even more tired of Con-

The most sensible speech made in the United States Senate during this session must be credited to Senator Quay. During a pause in the prolonged and fruitless talk which has been consuming the time of that body and correspondingly disgusting the country, Mr. Quay arose in his place and said: "If no Senator desires to speak, I would like to vote." To yote. and not to talk, is what Senators and Representatives are sent to Washington for, but thus far it has been pretty much all talk and little voting. All the talk on the tariff has not changed a single vote, while the business interests of the country are jeopardized by the delay in important legislation.

One of the speakers at the Republican Convention pitched into the last legislature because "the South Caroline election law had been introduced and a substitute adopted for it known as the Payne Bill." And so the legislature was soundly berated, not for what it had donebut rather for something it had not done. The election law on our one. It tends to security against are not opposed to fraudulent voting will object to that.

The Farmers' Alliance and Knights of Labor of Atchison, Kas., met as the Peoples' Convention Aug. 26 and nominated three Democrats and one Republican for the county offices, and one Demograt and one Republican for the Legislature. The Convention unanimously adopted the St. Louis platfarm, and the following That it is the sense of this Convention the nominees for the Legislature stand pledged not to vote for the return of John J. Ingals to the of the Force Election bill. United States Senate.

Fifteen thousand people, of whom a large majority were farmers, gathered at Greenup, Ill., Aug. 26th, to hear an address by Congressman Mills, of Texas, on the tariff question. Previous to the address the congressman held a reception of an hour's duration in the hotel parlors. In his speech Mr. Mills did not confine his remarks to the tariff alone, but found time to express his opinion on the Lodge Force bill, which he characterized as one of the most atrocious and malignant pieces of sectional legislation that had been attempt ed since the war, and clearly showed that it is a measure devised by a decaying political party to assure them of continued control by suppressing a free ballot in the Southern States. The farmers cheered until they were hoarse when Mr. Mills concluded.

STATE POLITICS.

Grady, in the third district, has as yet no opposition.

In the first district, W. A. B. Branch has to beat Claude M. Ber-

Capt. Williams has two competitors, Brower and a colored man named Moore.

Capt. Bunn has to contend with Mr. Meacham, Mr. McIver and perhaps Tonnoffski.

Hon. W. H. H. Cowles was renominated for Congress in the eighth district on the 147th ballot.

A large number of negroes in the Second District hate Cheatham and hope Simmons will be put up by the Democrats. They say he can beat Cheatham.

The "bosses" have made up. Mott and Eaves have shaken hands and are on good terms. Eaves is to be again chairman of the Republican State Executive Committee.

The Ninth District Convention unanimously adopted the following: Resolved, That the Democratic party of the Ninth Congressional District endorse the Hon. Z. B. Vance as his own successor for the United States Senate.

The Republican Congressional conyention of the 4th district met again and nominated by acclamation Prof. Alex McIyer, of Chatham, as the Republican candidate for Congress. He is an old teacher and a life-long Republican.

Rev D. P. Meacham, of Wake, is out as a Congressional candidate in the Raleigh District as a Democrat. He is an Alliance man, and hopes to get Alliance votes, evidently, and to avail himself of any Alliance feeling against Bunn.

The prohibition county conven gress. Its members are doing no good | tion Wake was held Saturday and in Washington. They should go nominated S. M. Parish, Esq., for the Senate, and A, H. Yerby, Sion Holleman, W. W. Johnson and C. N. Hunter (col.) for the House. The platform favors the sub-treasury bill.

> At the Congressional Convention for the 9th district, held at Asheville, Vance was strongest on the first ballot. Johnston withdrew on the eleventh, and W. T. Crawford, of Haywood county, was nominated on the fourteenth ballot, receiving 161

> Mr. R. N. Hall, Jr., nominee for the legislature from Orange, is out in a card saying that he will most cheerfully vote Senator Vance. He says "I regard the able fight that Senator Vance is now making on the tariff bill as one that will benefit all classes of our people."

Radam, E-q. : Dear Sir-I wish the afflicted and suffering to know that I positively assert that for twenty-nine years I have constantly suffered intense agony with that most terrible disease known as hemorrhoids, or piles, in their worst form. I have tried every available prescription, but to no curative end. I have taken one jug (which contained one gallon) of Microbe Killer, and it has completely cured me. It now feels like a dream that I ever suffered statute books, is a very excellent with that disease. It also has cured me of an insatiable thirst which I have had all my life. Go try it, all mankind, and fraudulent voting. Only those who don't let your prejudice blind you against this world-renowned medicine. If I possessed the means I would give all the afflicted all and as many jugs as they need to bring about a cure. This testimonial ought to show the Microbe Killer's efficacy.
