HUNT, COOPER & CO., MEADOWS' WAREHOUSE, OXFORD, N. C.

HIGHEST MARKET PRICES--YOUR TOBACCO ALWAYS!

BEHAVING THAT AT THIS TIME it would be greatly against the interests of the farmers to have a big special opening sale, and looking specially after our customers' interests, as we will do at all times, we concluded to take charge of the Meadows on October 1st, 1890, without any special sale.

We do not propose to have any drummers, but to do the work ourselves, so if we have any money to throw away to pay for tobacco on our floor.

We respectfully solicit a share of your trade.

Hunt, Cooper & Co. G. L. W. PEGRAM, Bookkeeper, sept 19 3m.

We learn that Mr. F. B. Hays has withdrawn from the Opera House deal and Mr. O. S. Smoot has taken his place.

The agony is over--Congress has adjourned. It would have been a blessing to the country if it had never assembled.

Mr. J. G. Lunsford, of Person, is again connected with Messrs. Davis & Gregory, of the New Johnson Warehouse.

Miss Hattie Holcombe, one of the fascinating young ladies of Danville, Va., is visiting Mrs. D'Orsey Jones, at the Irwin Place.

Our warehousemen have all been full of tobacco this week, and prices ranged from 10 to 15 per cent higher than last week.

Mr. J. B. Duke, President of the American Tobacco Company and Mr. B. N. Duke, of Durham, were on the breaks Tuesday.

A large number of our excellent farmers were in town on Tuesday, attending the immense tobacco breaks. All our Warehouses were full.

Mr. Robt. Hester, of Adoniram, is now the possessor of another farmer boy at home, and he is said to be exceedingly proud of the youngster.

We learn that Messrs. Ira Hart, Pat. Bryan, John Wells and Harry Cheatham, in one neighborhood in Vance county, cured 90 barrels of tobacco.

The Durham Globe of Wednesday announced that Mr. C. H. Lewellen had died in Oxford on Tuesday. Uncle "Lew" is the liveliest dead man we ever saw. He seems to be in the best of health, and has no idea of bidding farewell to this world for some time.

Mr. R. E. Glenn, one of the most brilliant speakers in North Carolina, addressed the citizens of Oxford, Thursday night. His speech was brim full of good things and his array of the grand old party of fraud and corruption was of a most withering character.

If the breaks of the past few days are a fair sample of the tobacco crop it is a fact that people have certainly made a great mistake in saying that this crop is a fine one. A large portion of the breaks are of a nondescript character, being coarse and rough.

We have received a very handsome invitation to the German, complimentary to the stockholders of the Oxford Land Improvement Company, to be given in the Centre Warehouse, October 10th. It will be given under the auspices of the Glucklick German Club, of which Mr. John G. Hall is President. It will no doubt be a grand affair.

CONGRESSIONAL CAMPAIGN.

Speech of Hon. A. H. A. Williams--Enthusiastic Reception.

Agreeable to appointment, on Monday, the Hon. A. H. A. Williams spoke to a large concourse of people in the Court House in Oxford. It had been advertised that he and Brower would jointly discuss the issues of the day, and people from all over the county were present.

However, for reasons best known to himself, John M. Brower did not put in an appearance. We suppose he was more interested in obeying the commands of fat Tom Reed than in giving an account of his doings in Congress. Capt. Williams seemed to regret the absence of Mr. Brower. He said he did not desire to do his opponent any injustice in his absence, but took occasion, however, to review in a masterly manner the political short comings of the Republican party and then touching up Brower's course as one full of mischief and political transgressions. His arraignment of the Republican party was full of cogent reasoning, unanswerable facts and matchless denunciation. We do not see how any one not steeped in prejudice can listen to the able and eloquent speech of Capt. Williams and conscientiously vote the Republican ticket. He exposed in glittering language the iniquities of that party. He plainly demonstrated that it was a party of plunder and extravagance, that its career was hostile to the best interests of the country and subversive of constitutional liberty. His ventilation of the record of the party on the Blair Bill, the abolition of the Internal Revenue and the Force Bill was at times sublimely eloquent. The party may well be proud of having a champion so able, fearless and unflinching. We are pleased to know that Capt. Williams has such a warm and cordial support at the hands of the people of Granville. The manner in which his friends who love him so much in this county and the zeal with which they rally to his support are but auguries of the brilliant victory in store for him in November.

At the close of Capt. Williams' speech, C. P. Moore, the colored nominee for Congress was called upon, and was introduced by E. W. Cannady, one of the editors of the Independent colored paper the Oxford Times. Moore made a good speech in behalf of the cause he espoused. He said the negroes had been galled long enough by the white Republican who only patted the negro on the shoulder when he wanted office. He said the time had come when his race had to think and act for themselves. In the bitterest terms he denounced Brower and his hypocrisy, stating that he felt it his duty to champion the cause of his misled and oppressed race.

The philosophy and principles of his speech was good and we hope the colored people will, taking his advice, soon reach pure atmosphere of political liberty.

AT JONES' STORE.

Although it rained all Wednesday a good number of voters were out expecting to hear the discussion between Baldy Williams and John M. Brower, but poor Brer Brower could not muster up courage enough to face the people of Granville in the presence of Williams. He will no doubt come to Granville when he strikes Stokes and Surry, and reverse the order of things and allow Williams to canvass those counties alone. We are informed that Brower will join Williams at Allensville, Person county.

Baldy Williams made a fine speech and received enthusiastic cheers from good people of Tally Ho township.

Moore, the colored candidate for Congress, was on hand and Brower negroes said he should not speak, but he is game and could not be downed. He made his speech and created a good impression among the better class of colored people.

LLANO, TEXAS, May 12, 1889.

Wm. Radam, Microbe Killer, Austin, Tex.: Dear Sir--I believe your Microbe Killer a certain cure for rheumatism. Up to a year ago I was down a great part of my time with rheumatism. I began taking your remedy, and after taking two gallons have never been troubled with it since but once. I bought a gallon then, and after taking a few doses it entirely disappeared. I have offered in several cases to pay for the Microbe Killer, provided it failed to cure rheumatism, but have never had to pay as yet, as it invariably did the work. Respectfully,

NEW TOBACCO YEAR.

OUR SIX MAMMOTH BRICK WAREHOUSES.

All Filled to Overflowing with Tobacco--Prices Advanced From 10 to 15 per Cent. on All Grades--The Warehousemen in their Glory.

Wednesday last, October 1st, was the beginning of the tobacco year and a stream of wagons poured in from every direction as well as a large quantity being shipped over the railroads and every one of our mammoth Warehouses presented a lively scene. For hours you could hear nothing but the rattle of the trucks in the hands of expert men unloading tobacco. It was a big day in the history of Oxford and showed that our market was entering upon the new year under the most favorable auspices and with a greatly increased trade. Our corps of buyers are equal to any set in the State. The number has been largely increased, and they are prepared to handle more leaf tobacco than ever before in the history of the market. They hold large orders for all grades and are determined to pay the highest prices for them, and farmers who sell tobacco in Oxford may reasonably expect to get higher prices than they can obtain on any other market. We congratulate them upon having in the very center of the tobacco growing section in the world just such a market as they need, and we say that the farmers of this part of the State cannot be beaten for raising fine tobacco in all the world.

Our six warehouses are managed by the best men in every particular whose skill as handlers of leaf tobacco, surrounded by corps of assistants that cannot be excelled anywhere, together with the splendid accommodations they can offer the farmers makes Oxford the crowning market of this section.

We are amply supplied with money to pay for every pound of tobacco that may be brought to Oxford, so do not listen to those who are trying to gull you with such outrageous lies that we have not enough money in Oxford to pay for tobacco as an inducement to patronize other markets.

The New Johnson Warehouse, Davis & Gregory, Proprietors, starts the new year with B. E. Parham and J. M. Gregory, book keepers, H. H. Blackley clerk, and J. G. Lunsford, floor manager.

Minor Warehouse, Minor, Crews & Co., Proprietors, are ably assisted by Thomas E. Cozart book keeper, Luther Starks auctioneer, and Durell Brummit canvasser.

Meadows' Warehouse, Hunt, Crews & Co., Proprietors. This firm has G. L. W. Pegram as book keeper, assisted by Harry Williams, with T. M. Washington as auctioneer.

Banner Warehouse, Bullock & Mitchell Proprietors. They are surrounded by a splendid team that cannot be duplicated. W. M. Galleck book keeper, W. T. Brogden assistant, J. R. Day floor manager, with T. B. Jeffreys, S. M. Bullock, W. R. Bullock, Robert Hester and A. H. Critcher occupying important positions.

Farmers' Alliance Warehouse, R. F. Knott Manager, who is surrounded by good workers. J. A. Lewis book keeper, D. N. Hunt floor manager and F. B. Blacklock clerk.

Center Warehouse, Cozart, Rogers & Co., Proprietors, who will do their best to make it the center of attraction have as their assistants W. A. Wilkinson book keeper, "D." Meadows auctioneer, and U. H. Cozart manager.

Oxford Property for Sale.

Several vacant lots, several dwellings and stores. A great deal of gilt-edge property in Oxford. John A. Williams, Dealer in Real Estate, Oxford, N. C.

The Center Warehouse.

We are glad to learn that the Center Warehouse will be run this year by a good team composed of U. H. Cozart, a most popular young man, T. C. Rogers, a well known and popular farmer of the Southside, and the old veteran, B. H. Cozart, who has a host of friends all over Granville and Person. This firm will most assuredly sell their share of the tobacco crop, as they will guard well the interest of their friends and patrons.

The old reliable auctioneer, Mr. "D." Meadows, is connected with this house and will do his best to get the very highest prices for tobacco. There is no discount on him--he is safe and reliable.

Mr. W. A. Wilkinson, a splendid book-keeper and a most affable gentleman, will have charge of the books thus assuring accuracy in the making out of all bills.

For bracing up the nerves, purifying the blood and curing sick headache and dyspepsia, there is nothing equal to Hood's Sarsaparilla.

Rattle Snake Killed.

Mr. Rhodes Frazier, who lives a few miles from Oxford, found a large rattler one day last week in his tobacco patch. When he discovered him he was somewhat frightened and called his son who came with his axe and tackled the monster, killing him in a few minutes. The snake had nine rattlers and measured three feet long and ten inches round.

This is the first rattle snake ever killed in the neighborhood and quite a number of people came to visit his snake ship.

GRAND OPENING.

The New Alliance Warehouse Opening--Grand Success.

This is one part of North Carolina in which the Alliance has greater prosperity than in Granville--and it is all right that in one of the greatest agriculture counties in the State the Alliance should be in the most flourishing condition. In the year of our Lord Anno Domini, 1890, the Farmers Alliance, having had great success in running a Warehouse in Oxford since the auspices of R. F. Knott, Esq., concluded that they would build a big brick Warehouse on Main street in the center of the town and soon those enterprising contractors, Messrs. Hundley Brothers, were seen marking off the dimensions and laying brick for a mammoth Alliance Warehouse. This mammoth brick structure has just been completed and is an ornament to Oxford and an evidence of the faithfulness of the Messrs. Hundleys, in doing work in a prompt and efficient manner.

The people of Oxford are all proud of this Warehouse and it is the object of interest to all strangers visiting our town. But to the grand opening sale! It was grand indeed! Mr. R. F. Knott showed that he knew how to handle the farmers tobacco in the most approved style. Wagon load after wagon load of the new crop of tobacco was spread out on the capacious floor and Mr. Luther Stark, the auctioneer, had his hands full, but was equal to the demands upon him.

We noticed on the floor a live set of buyers and a great many of Granville county's best farmers, most of whom were peculiarly interested in the success of the Warehouse. It has been a proud day for the farmers and for all interested in the tobacco trade. We wish every farmer in the county could have been present.

The venerable James W. Lyon was the owner of the finest load of tobacco sold on the floor.

The prospects of this Warehouse are in the highest degree encouraging. The offices are all neat and conveniently arranged, and the rooms upstairs will be comfortably fixed up for the use of farmers. In the passage way is placed in the wall a marble tablet with the following names chisled on it:

Alliance Warehouse, 1890.

DIRECTORS--D. C. White, J. B. Parham, R. H. Marsh, H. Dorsey.

This was Donated by the Durham Marble Works, R. L. Rogers, Proprietor.

This building stands as a monument to the united effort of the Farmers Alliance of Granville county, and we wish it every prosperity.

It was a grand day for the Warehouse, and the floor was filled to overflowing with the product of the following farmers of this section: J. W. Lyon, B. L. Lyon, J. H. Lyon, W. H. Ragsdale, J. B. Watson, A. Stephens, R. A. Gill, P. P. Palty, J. W. Lawrence, Clark & Laws, T. S. Ragsdale, Clark & Rogers, L. H. Moss & Co., J. D. Ashley, N. C. Lyon, J. A. Watkins, Sim Peace, J. D. Clark, P. Coley, Ben Daniel, S. F. Coley, J. G. Hall, Smith Daniel, P. H. Royster, S. T. Dickerson, J. M. Leveaux, J. T. Howell, Hall & Gray, H. E. Lewis, D. Y. Hunt, Harris & Bobbit, Freeman Howell, R. H. Hamme, W. C. Peal, W. H. Hunt, A. C. Parham, J. E. Howell, Willis Meadows, H. Anderson, S. C. Avoret, E. H. Pruett, C. W. Bryan, Mrs. Frances Hester, W. C. Fuller, W. A. Hester, Joe Clark, R. H. Hester, Zeb Fuller.

Queen Victoria has a remarkably fine head of hair, for a lady of her age; but her son, the Prince of Wales, is quite bald. Had he used Ayer's Hair Vigor earlier in life, his head might, to-day, have been as well covered as that of his royal mother. It is not too late yet.

"The Colored Artistry."

On Wednesday night last our people turned out in large numbers to witness the performance of this grand show (?) which had been advertised as one of the best troupes on the road. The audience was composed of our best and most refined citizens, and we are frank to say that they never witnessed a rougher and more uncouth performance within their experience.

We are frank to admit that we are under obligations to the management for free tickets, but in justice to a largely gullible people we cannot refrain from saying that it was, taking it as a whole, the worst fraud in the shape of show we have ever witnessed on the boards in Oxford.

When grandpa went a wooing, He wore a satin vest, A trail of running roses Embroidered on the breast. The pattern of his trousers, His linen, white and fine; Were all the latest fashion: In eighteen twenty nine.

Grandpa was a fine-looking young fellow then, so the old ladies say, and he is a fine-looking old gentleman now. For the past score of years he has been a firm believer in the merits of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. "It renewed my youth," he frequently says. It is the only antedote to benefit or cure, or money promptly refunded. It cures liver disease, dyspepsia, scrofulous sores, skin eruptions, and all diseases of the blood. For lingering coughs and consumption (which is lung scrofula in its early stages) it is an unparalleled remedy.

There are 2,163 Farmer's Alliances in the State, an increase of 289 since January 7th. This is not so great as the increase in 1889, but this year the various Alliances have gained new members, so that there is a great increase in the order. The gain has been largely in the west.

Rheumatism

Is undoubtedly caused by lactic acid in the blood. This acid attacks the fibrous tissues, and causes the pains and aches in the back, shoulders, knees, ankles, hips and wrists. Thousands of people have found in Hood's Sarsaparilla a positive cure for rheumatism.
