Not more so than the demand of a laborer who works around your premises two hours and charges for a days work. Nobody would pay the de mand, and no one should expect what he does not earn. But that's not in it! Mr. Waller does not economize where economy subtracts from the amount which goes into his own pocket. What we object to is the utter disregard of sworn affidavits of good citizens, who after doing work or furnishing supplies as reasonably as they can, many times neither making nor trying to make a cent out of the county, are forced to a settlement on the this or nothing policy. Further, from consultation of the minute books, it will be found that Mr. Waller is always a committee-man when there is any money to be made out of the taxpayers-a monopolist on committee work -which, when the work comes before the consequence of which and the remarks of Board, Mr. Waller as Chairman must pass upon his own work. IN TROUBLE.

The Short Comings of a Well-known Guano Factory -- Our Granville Farmers Stirred Up -- A Shortage in Weight and Analysis.

How many stop to think of this old adage? Is it not appalling to read of the crime, rascality and villainy perpetrated men for the sake of worldly gain? The papers are constantly flooded with sports of the short comings of men who by pursuing the plan of the above head ing, might be an honor to themselves and an ornament and blessing to their race Hu:, alas! the greed for the "filthy lucre" frives them out of an honest course, ared away from the paths of rectitude the glittering bauble of wealth, like the candle moth into the flame, and they thus, unwittingly, seek their own de struction, which, in this fast age, has beome so common, that one is almost breed to believe it contagious. The uestion of the hour is not who "we will trust," but who "can we afford to trust," with an absolute certainty that they will act their part in good faith? The Pub-INC LEDGER believes in home institutions, sind has always advocated home enterprise and home patronage all the time, but when an individual, company or cor poration, takes advantage of the friends who have built them up, and who have reposed confidence in them on account of tieing among us, we unhesitatingly proounce it the worst kind of treachery and feel, at once, our indignation and resentment by the withdrawal of all patronage. Our readers will remember that only week or so ago the Durham Fertilizer Company was overhauled by the State Department of Agriculture, and two car

oads of the fertilizer seized on account pon payment of the amount required by law to tag the sacks, they were released by the Department. Since that time, lowever, the Department has made another discovery, to the effect that all ertilizer sold by this company for some ime past was below standard per cent. aking a shortage in value of 25 cents to ach sack, or about $2.50 per ton, and the company has been ordered to pay the mount of shortage to all to whom they have sold such guano. Some of the farmrs of this county, a few days ago, veighed some of the sacks and found hem to run short-ranging from ten to ifteen pounds in weight, which, together guite a stir among the Granville farmers. who were under the firm conviction that hey were buying a first-class article from eliable parties, and not only that, but there is considerable fear among them that the per centage of tobacco crop will be short. Our people buy, annually. DRY AND FANCY GOODS, about 3,000 tons, and the loss of $2.50 on be short. Our people buy, annually, the ton would amount to $7,500.00, while f we allow the lowest shortage, 10 pounds to the sack of 200 pounds, there would be 100 pounds to the ton, and on the 60.000 pounds or one ton equalling $21.50 cash, which our people have paid for and not received to be still further added. And this, too, from a company who claim to to give me a trial. I shall make good all I promreceived to be still further added. And be the triends of the farmers, and who, as the head of the firm said to us once, when approached for an advertisement, that there was no need of one, as he "did all his business through the Farmer's Alliance!" When men are caught in the act of robbery no paltry subterfuge should exhonorate them. The flame of prosperity was burning brightly, lighting them on perhaps, slowly, yet steadily and surely, and Dame Fortune should be anproached with a cool head and a clear conscience. If some ignis fatuus should GIVE US YOUR EAR FOR A FEW arise on the way, and with frantic flights one attempts to reach the summit by the
