TOWN AND COUNTY.

THE PASSING LOCAL EVENTS OF THE DAY.

What is Transpiring Around and About Us, in Town and County—The Movements and Doings of People You Know, Etc.

The Banner Warehouse is a regular hummer this year.

Granville County Alliance will meet in Oxford Thursday, Oct. 8th.

Read Sale of Tobacco Land in Franklin county in another column.

Big tobacco breaks this week and prices continue to get better.

Dr. Coggeshall has removed his office to the Cooper Bank Building, on Kingsbury place.

Capt. J. A. White is happy as he is now occupying the new passenger depot, which is nice and comfortable.

Oxford will continue to have six leaf warehouses. Messrs. B. H. Cozart & Co. will run the Center Brick the coming year.

Taxpayers read the appointments of Sheriff Crews for the collection of taxes elsewhere and be prepared to meet him with the money.

Remember the big Alliance Rally at Stovall on the 15th of October. Prominent speakers will be on hand and a big time is expected.

Mr. J. Y. Longmire, of Fishing Creek, cured ten barns of tobacco and burned up two, which including the barns was a clear loss of four.

Attention everybody. Take an interest in the Granville Exhibit and get up something to send to Raleigh as you have but a few days now left.

Beeley, Stem & Co., had their opening sale Thursday and it was a winner on quantity and high averages. Bring it right along the boys are on their mettle.

Some eminent reformers believe in reform next year, and others, judging from the company they're commencing to keep, don't believe in reform last year and years previous.

J. M. Hobgood is a large man and has a large heart, and raises large sweet potatoes, and the editor is under large obligations for a mess of the largest we have seen this year.

While a fine mule belonging to Mr. W. L. Walters, of Wilton, was wallowing in a field last week a very vicious hog made for his muleship and disemboweled him. We never heard of such a thing before.

Ralph Currin is creating quite a reputation as a squirrel hunter at Wilkins. On Thursday morning he went out and by nine o'clock killed 14, and friend Geo. W. Coley said it was not a good morning for squirrels either.

Mrs. Ida J. Knott laid a beautiful sample of bright new wrappers on our table Saturday, which shows that she is a good farmer as well as housekeeper. We hope every barn of tobacco she cured will come up to sample given us.

There is no connection North over the Richmond & Danville Railroad and our people have to go 3 miles to the Durham & Northern road, in order to make the proper connection. This is a great injustice to the people of Oxford to be thus deprived of Northern connection over the R. & D. system.

R. A. Yancy, a farmer who resides near Berea, takes the cake on large opossums. He went out a few nights ago and caught four, one of which weighed 26 pounds. The dogs scented him near the house and soon had him cornered. He was no doubt looking for Mrs. Yancy's fat hens as she had been missing them for some time.

We are pleased to learn that the Oxford Female Seminary has now over 100 scholars and new ones are being added to the roll daily. The Faculty is a splendid one and cannot be excelled by any in the State, and we feel sure that parents cannot do better than send their daughters to Oxford Female Seminary where every facility is offered for thorough education.

We ask the indulgence of our readers for the small amount of matter in this issue of the PUBLIC LEDGER owing to the large amount of advertisements now crowding our columns. The merchants and warehousemen have found out that the paper now goes into the hands of the farmers of Granville, and are seeking their patronage through its pages. We will add two more pages the 15th of October.

Friday morning we were walking down Hillsboro street and met Mr. J. P. Bradsher, of Tar River, who held by the hand a bright looking 3-year old boy. We asked him if the ugly man who had him by the hand was his father. He promptly replied, "he ain't ugly; you's the ugliest man I've seen since I got here." We had business elsewhere, and thought what a pity that bright boy had not met Hart Overton before he cast eyes upon the editor.

My Experience with the Modern Barn and its Company.

On the morning of the 12th of August, 1891, I boarded the train at Reidsville, N. C., for the town of Oxford, N. C., where is situated the factory of the Company and also a Modern Barn. I had been interviewed by one of the Company's agents during the spring to know if I would cure tobacco for them during the coming season, which I consented to do and as I then thought was to go to the Western part of Kentucky in the white burly district. But after reporting at headquarters I found the Company wished me to remain at Oxford, which I did with reluctance. After I arrived in Oxford I learned that the Experiment Station at Raleigh wished me to cure an acre of tobacco to test which is the better process, the old way in the old log barn, or the new way in the Modern Barn. So on Monday morning, Sept. 17th, 1891, Dr. H. B. Battle, Chief of the Experiment Station at Raleigh, Mr. Blalock with Mr. Devenish, myself and others went out to Mr. Currin's farm about 3 miles distant and laid off just one acre of tobacco. Now I don't think I have much fears about curing a barn of tobacco under ordinary circumstances, but I must confess that under the present surroundings I never hated worse to tackle a thing in my life. First, because to some extent at least it must effect the Modern Barn Company. Second, it must probably effect the bread and meat of millions of the race, as it is (the cultivation of tobacco) one among the largest industries in this country. And for such a responsibility to rest on my shoulders I must confess was a little more than I wished to carry. Nevertheless, I was into it and I saw no honorable way to get out; so like the fellow whose sweetheart gave him a glass of milk with a bug in it, rather than wound her feelings he swallowed it bug and all. So while I did not swallow the tobacco I cured it, and so the results have gone forth to the world. Now as to the merits of the Modern Barn it would seem like foolishness for me to try to say anything more for the barn than has already been said by much abler pens than mine. Such men as Thos. L. Ragland, of Hyco, Va., and Carr, of Richmond, and a host of others not necessary to mention, who have no personal interest in the matter more than myself and millions of others. But when facts and figures prove beyond all doubt that the Modern Barn is another step forward (and we believe the longest one that has ever been made) why should it meet so much opposition? Because like all other great inventions it will revolutionize the tobacco world. Why, Mr. F. M. Rogers, of Florence, S. C., showed me a sample of tobacco recently that the world can't beat. The color, the texture, the oil, the wax, the everything it seems to me that makes perfection in tobacco was in it. If it lacked anything I could not see it.

He says (Mr. Rogers) that it would be just as hard to convince the farmers in South Carolina that the new process was not right, as it is to convince the farmers of North Carolina that it is right. I see no use of multiplying words about the matter, but one other thing before I am done. Mr. Blalock and myself tried an experiment on 30 plants containing 258 leaves. We cured 129 on the Snow Side and the other 129 on the stalk right side by side and the 129 leaves cured on the wire weighed 3 pounds, 14 1/2 ounces, and the other 129 cured on the stalk weighed 3 pounds, 10 1/2 ounces—just four ounces in favor of the new process. This test was as fair as can possibly be made. We plucked the leaves alternately and if there was a shadow of difference we could not see it.

Now just a few words about the Company so far as I have met it. Politically I do not know what they are, but socially I know they are jolly good fellows. In the office they mean business, in the family and social circle they make you feel happy, and at the table nothing is too good for their wives to put before you. I have been with the Company now six weeks. I leave to-day for home. I shall ever remember them kindly.

G. T. WALKER, Oxford, N. C., Sept. 24, 1891.

Attention, Citizens of Granville.

If I could speak through an ear trumpet to every man, woman and child in Granville county I would tell them that the Southern Exposition is a grander thing than they have any conception of, and urge them, one and all, to make contributions—to give one day at least to the collection and shipment of all kinds of products, whether a monstrosity or not. The Exposition differs from a State Fair in this respect. We want to show the natural products—and all of them. If any one has a prodigy of any kind send it. But don't be deterred from contributing because you may not be able to send one.

Please make shipments at once and advise me by mail as to the same.

Paragrophic Mention of People who are Coming and Going.

Dr. J. M. Hays is on a business trip to New York City.

We are pleased to state that Mr. D. A. Moore is slowly improving.

Mr. Foster Rogers is now a tobacco buyer on the Richmond market.

Mr. R. W. Adecock, of Oak Hill, visited Oxford Saturday and paid us a visit.

Mr. J. E. Callis, accompanied by two of his little sons, called to see us Monday.

We are sorry to learn of the sickness of Capt W. H. Snow at his home at High Point.

We had the pleasure of visit Thursday from Mr. S. W. Waller, of Knap of Reeds.

Mr. A. H. Gregory, President of Granville County Alliance, visited Oxford Saturday.

Mr. Joe Ferrabow, of Stem, accompanied by his sister Miss Lucy, Mr. Sam Jones and Esquire Jack Walters, were in Oxford Wednesday.

Mr. H. T. Watkins, of Henderson, and Mr. S. D. Callis, of Dabney, visited our office Wednesday.

We are pleased to learn that Mrs. Willie Howell, who have been real sick continue to improve.

We are glad to see out again Mr. R. C. Jones, who has been confined to his home with malarial fever.

Messrs. Charley Thomas and E. H. Osborn left Thursday for Greensboro to join the United States Army.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Neal, of Nash county, spent several days with relatives and friends near Oxford this week.

Mr. W. Raker, of Raker City, called on us Friday and reported big things in store for the mining interest of Northern Granville.

Capt. W. A. Bobbitt resigned as member of the State Board of Charities, and Gov. Holt appointed in his place W. A. Blair, of Winston.

Mr. E. G. Brodie, one of the good men of Vance, and Mr. J. R. Young, the great insurance man of Henderson, were on our streets Friday.

Messrs. C. J. Gregory and F. A. Cheek and Major A. S. Lanier have been appointed Assistant Marshals at the Exposition by Col. John S. Cunningham, Chief Marshal.

We are glad to see out Mr. D. J. Gooch after two weeks sickness with malarial fever. Three of his children are still sick. Mrs. Gooch has also gotten about well.

Mr. E. R. Aiken, of Dutchville township, will be the auctioneer at the Alliance warehouse next year. He has considerable experience and will prove himself competent and efficient.

Mr. J. E. Duncan, of Stem, has cast his lot in Oxford, and will engage in the leaf tobacco trade. He is associated with Mr. Pinkney Meadows. We extend to Mr. Duncan a hearty welcome.

Major N. A. Gregory has removed his interesting family to Richmond. They will be greatly missed in our community. The best wishes of a host of friends go with them to their new home.

Messrs. W. S. Cozart and J. P. Thomas two of the prosperous farmers of the Hampton section, were in town Monday.

Mr. Cozart called at this office and renewed his faith in the PUBLIC LEDGER.

Miss Phillips, of Baltimore, is the assistant to Miss Addie Travers in the millinery department at A. Landis & Sons' this season. The department is supplied with all the latest styles in millinery art.

Mr. E. T. Rawlins now has the services of Mr. S. D. Overton, formerly with Mr. Ben Overton. He is polite as well as attentive to business, and will be pleased to wait on his friends at his new quarters.

Messrs. H. M. Hester and S. T. Parrott, two enterprising and successful farmers of Hester's, honored us with a visit on Tuesday. They are among a large number of others who cannot do without the PUBLIC LEDGER.

Mr. E. T. Rawlins, one of the clever and fair dealing merchant of Main Street, is north buying his fall and winter stock of goods which are now daily arriving. Be sure and give him a call when you visit Oxford.

Dr. J. G. Hunt, the courteous and popular tobacco man of the Oxford market, took charge of the Farmers' Alliance warehouse yesterday. We say that the Alliance under his management is bound to be a success. Strip out a load and give him a trial, as tobacco is selling well on our market.

Mr. John Paris, of Paris Bros., spent the week in Baltimore and New York buying good. This is one of the most clever firms in Oxford, and have by their uniform courtesy built up a good trade. We suppose they will extend an invitation to the farmers through the PUBLIC LEDGER to call and examine their new stock.

Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Blackwell spent Wednesday with Capt. A. Landis.

We had the pleasure of meeting Oxford Monday Mr. Garland Webb, one of Winston's live warehousemen.

Mr. H. G. Cooper now occupies the Davis residence on Raleigh Street, and Mr. C. J. Ward has removed to the dwelling vacated by Maj. N. A. Gregory.

Rev. W. L. Cunningham, Pastor of the Methodist Church Henderson, was in Oxford Tuesday and met with a warm welcome by his numerous friends.

The large and warm hearted Capt. C. J. Hayes and family have departed from Oxford and are now among the wide awake people of Chase City, Va. We very much regret to lose the Captain and wish him every success possible.

We met on the streets Friday the following farmers: J. J. Meadows, Sam Howard, W. J. Mangum, B. F. Frazier, N. Hobgood, A. B. Montague, Monro Thomasson, Rowland Gooch, D. W. Adecock, J. J. Thomasson, G. S. Cottrill, E. S. Fuller, E. T. York.

We welcome to Oxford Mr. H. I. Anderson, of Halifax county, Va., who will assist the big hardware firm of Messrs. Owen, Barbour & Smith in supplying the wants of people either in hardware or buggies, phaetons and wagons at the lowest possible prices.

We had the pleasure of shaking hands with the following farmers on the breaks Tuesday: W. T. Hunt, J. M. Phillips, J. G. Shotwell, L. A. Strother, P. Mize, W. A. Parham, W. H. Loyd, S. T. Parrott, S. D. Bragg, M. S. Overton, B. Watson, S. H. Currin.

GATHERED HOME.

Mr. R. W. Lassiter, Sr., Passed Quietly Away on Monday.

R. W. Lassiter, Esq., who had reached the age of 76 died on Monday, 22nd September, of paralysis of the brain. This stroke of the sad messenger of death forcibly reminds us of the family reunion which recently took place at this home. This reunion attracted unusual amount of attention because of the presence of his five sons who were reared in this community where they were all highly esteemed, though only one of them is now a citizen of Granville. Little did these members of the Lassiter family think they joyfully met at the hospitable home of their father that the family circle would be so soon bereaved of its head.

It is true at the time of the said meeting that the father was much stricken in years and of infirm step, yet it was hoped that he might survive at least another year or two to participate again in a family dinner surrounded by his five children; but the decree of Providence was otherwise, and all of his children again assembled at the homestead to mourn his departure across the icy river of death.

Mr. Lassiter had been a very prominent man in Granville county. Perhaps there was no man in the county better known than he was. He had always been popular by reason of his great kindness of heart and his pleasant and agreeable manners. His acts of benevolence prior to the war were many and liberal in being at that time a man of peculiar means. He has filled several important stations in which he proved to be quite useful. He practiced law here a great many years, and was associated as law partner of Mr. John W. Hays. He was always an ardent friend of the Orphan Asylum, and particularly in its early struggles for existence. He was at one time President of the R. & G. Railroad when it took a good deal of executive ability to manage its affairs successfully.

He was a prominent Whig before the war and a strong Union man in sentiment ever after the war commenced, though he was distinguished for his large sympathy with the people of the South, and especially Southern soldiers who always found a hospitable reception at his board. He took a lively interest in the history of the distinguished men of this country, and was unusually well posted on their lives. He was an insatiate reader of newspapers and magazines as suited his taste and by this means had acquired vast fund of historical and political information. As a member of the Legislature from Granville he was quite prominent in the support of such measures as commended themselves to his judgment. He was a member of Senate in 1872 and 1884.

The burial services took place from St. Stephen's church Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock conducted by Rev. Woodson Walker, and the remains were interred in the new cemetery.

Honorary pall bearers were Messrs. J. S. Ania, J. W. Hays, John Johnson, D. S. Osborn, Henry Taylor and A. Landis.

Acting pall bearers, Messrs. A. W. Graham, N. B. Cannady, C. F. Kingsbury, John G. Hall, Willie Landis, A. S. Lanier and John B. Booth.

NEW TOBACCO YEAR.

OXFORD PREPARED TO HANDLE ALL THAT MAY COME.

We Invite Farmers to Come and See Us as Warehousemen and Buyers are Anxious to Sell Your Tobacco, and Will Pay Highest Averages.

Oxford launched out Thursday under more favorable auspices as a tobacco market than at any time within her history. It is well known that our market is reliable and steady and highest figures are always paid for all grades. We are in the lead and intend to stick right there.

All of our six warehouses are under the management of the very best men in every particular whose skill as handlers of the leaf, together with the splendid accommodations they can offer the farmers, make Oxford a first-class market.

There have been several new firms of leaf dealers organized here with large capital besides the addition of the big firm of Hancock, Mooreman & Co., who will buy largely, in addition to the many excellent old dealers who have for years stood by this market and its patrons. Several very wealthy leaf firms have contracts to buy large quantities of the new crop for Western, Northern and Foreign manufacturers. It is safe to say that this market will demand this year double the amount of tobacco sold here in any previous year and will be forced to buy it at the very highest prices, hence it is eagles in your pocket to sell on the market direct and not at the barn door to the pinhooker.

Oxford as a leaf market therefore enters upon the new tobacco year with a greatly increased demand for all sorts and has just cause for congratulation on account of her bright prospects, for indeed the outlook was never more encouraging. Farmers who sell their leaf here may reasonably expect to get higher prices than any other market all the year round, and we congratulate them upon having in the very center of the best tobacco growing section in the world just such a market as they need, and is not too much to say that the farmers of this section for fine tobacco in all the world with the proper season. Ship or haul right in as the boys are anxious to buy.

Let Everybody Attend.

A Grand Mass-meeting of the Alliance will take place in the Exposition Grounds, Raleigh, N. C., October 9, 1891, and will be addressed by Senator W. A. Peffer, of Kansas, National President Polk, State President Butler, and other distinguished speakers. Alliancesmen and their families can buy admission tickets into the Exposition on that day for one-half, 25 cents. Every member who wishes to get these half rates must have the seal of his sub Alliance on a card and present it at the gate. Railroad rates will be very reasonable. Let all who can come in their own conveyances do so and save hotel bills and railroad fare. Grand ball-room ascension and many attractions never seen in this section before. Let everybody go. Hand bills of the schedule of the train will be given out on Monday, the 5th, at the Stockholders' meeting of the Alliance Tobacco Factory.

Mittle M. Tanner, Booneville, Ind., writes: "I had blood poison from birth. Knots on my limbs were as large as hen's eggs. Doctor's said I would be a cripple, but B. B. B. has cured me sound and well. I shall ever praise the day the man who invented Blood Balm were born."

Granville County Exhibit.

We urge every true citizen of Granville to assert their county pride and send something to the Exposition at Raleigh. Do not delay the matter, but get it ready at once, and direct it to Capt. J. B. Hunter, Exposition building, Raleigh, N. C. In a communication to our contemporary "The Day" Capt. Hunter says:

The duty assigned your manager was to look after Granville county's exhibits after they get here; but so great was our interest in this work and feeling the implied obligation resting upon us to make it a success, we have probably transcended our function in urging our people to action in this matter; even further, our humble contributions in kind have been the first to reach here. Others—many and varied contributions—have been promised, and are expected by "next train."

Work in the line of decoration is retarded for want of field and garden products. We say again, please hurry up these exhibit. Everything at the Exposition grounds is in a hurry, and further delay on the part of Granville county's committeemen will lead to confusion—a result devoutly wished to be avoided.

RADAM'S MICROBE KILLER CURES ALL DISEASES.

Because all diseases are the result of fermentation and decay, caused by living microbes in the human system, and whatever remedy will purify the blood by removing the cause of disease and build up the health and strength of the patient, is the one to use.

RADAM'S MICROBE KILLER is nature's remedy, and is the greatest boon ever given to mankind, hence the spurious imitations which follow in the path of its wonderful cures of Consumption, Catarrh, Debility, Indigestion, Rheumatism, Bowel, Bladder, Skin and all other diseases which are quickly and permanently cured by this never failing compound which has done more for suffering humanity than all the prescriptions of poisonous drugs, nostrums, so-called proprietary medicines, etc. All put together, because it removes the cause of disease and insures health. Thousands of voluntary certificates of almost miraculous cures attest these facts, and demonstrate to the world that Wm. Radam, the Great Discoverer in his Wonderful Discovery, has gone far ahead of all other explorers in scientific fields, and has demonstrated beyond a doubt that no disease can exist without a disordered system, and his superb remedy stands at the front because it is

THE ORIGINAL AND OLD RELIABLE Microbe Killer—a palatable and effective system in a natural and healthy condition.

Investigate the merits of this wonderful health giving discovery which has stood the test and cured thousands of all manner of disease; and be ware of all other so-called germ or microbe destroyers, which are often thus advertised to sell their otherwise worthless mixtures, and which are but imitations of this great wonder working remedy.
