A GREAT REVIVAL.

THE FIFE MEETING AN UNPRECE-DENTED SUCCESS.

cumterence-The Result Astounding and Overwhelming in Every Walk

The Fife meeting in Oxford reached a grand success on Saturday and Saturday night and has swelled in volume and importance at each succeeding meeting so far as deep feeling and spiritual fervor are concerned. Oxford has bean shaken up to an extent that is incredible. Nothing has ever been witnessed in the line of a revival to compare with it. The effect is appa rent in every direction. The remarkable evangelist has accomplished a work here beyond the most sanguine expectations of all who joined in the invitation for him to come. He has changed the current of thought from worldly to religious subjects. Men, women and children, including lawyers, doctors and bar-keepers, have yielded to the influence of some unseen power as he expounded the word of God. No audience in Oxford has ever been apparently, yea we say actually under the control of any one man as the congregations who have listened with eager attention to every word that dropped from the lips of Evangelist Fife. We have many ministers of more learning than he, many ministers who can preach abler sermons, many ministers who have as good a delivery, but then T HAVE MANY NEW AND BEAUTIFUL has the singular power that wields the women and children. The rich, the poor, the proud and the humble all yield subtionery, Silverware, Grass and Clover Seeds reliable and true to name. Spices of all kinds missively and irresistably to him at his bidding. Denominational distinctions are wiped out by him at one blow. Sectarianism skulks out of his sight the moment he bids it to leave. His meetings are full of the spirit from above. He re bukes sin in high or low places. He tolerates nothing wrong that is condemned in the Bible and he uses plain English in defining his opposition to the fashionable sins of the day, though there is a palpable love for the sinner while his sins are ex-shows that he can love a wicked man at the same time that he may level his pewerful artillery at his sinful practices. He is bold and outspoken in manner, but kind in his sentiments for poor fallen depraved humanity. He has captured the town people and also the country people who have ridden miles daily and nightly to hear his words of warning, instruction, and entreaty and admonition His congregations were immense and interest increased continuously from the outset, 1,500 to 3,000 attending the services twice a day. The ministers of the various denominations have warmly aphave learned to love him and are pointed, unreserved and intense in their expressions of admiration and appreciation of his able and useful labors in Oxford. Close of the Meeting-The Result Overwhelmingly Triumphant. Nothing in the way of a revival ever approaching it in interest and magnitude. Almost the whole white population of Oxford converted under the preaching of first-class Evangelist Fife. All denominations oined in the meeting with a zeal, energy and earnestness that has never before been witnessed in this town and vicinity. A committee of ten young men who were out of Christ invited Mr. Fife to come to Tinware, Crockery, etc. Oxford, and they were all converted. Still there was curiosity to hear him on all sides and the Mammoth Minor Warhouse having been engaged as the place for the conduct of the meeting large audiences greeted him from the first. The interest however the first day or two did not portend the grand success which was visible. The Christians of all denomi nations were soon aroused from a condi-
