OXFORD, N. C., - - MARCH 25, 1892

FOR GOVERNOR:

HON. S. B. ALEXANDER,
 OF MECKLENBURG.

LIEUT.-GOVERNOR:

HON. R. A. DOUGHTON,
 OF ALLEGHANY.

JUDGE JOHN A. GILMER DEAD.

Judge John A. Gilmer died at his home in Greensboro after a lingering illness on March 17th.

Judge Gilmer was born in April, 1838. His father was Hon. John A. Gilmer, one of the ablest congressmen previous to the war and who achieved a national reputation. Judge Gilmer graduated with distinction at Chapel Hill in 1858 and read law at the University of Virginia. The war came on before he had obtained his license and he entered the Confederate service in April, 1861, as second lieutenant of Company B, of the Twenty-seventh North Carolina Infantry. On the organization of that regiment he was elected Major of the regiment, and as such commanded it at the battle of New Berne. In 1863 he was promoted to the colonelcy of the regiment, and commanded it until he was so severely wounded at Bristow station as to incapacitate him for further active duty. He served with conspicuous gallantry and enjoyed the confidence and esteem of his officers and men.

He came to the bar in 1865, and at once entered upon a lucrative practice. On the death of Hon. John Kerr, judge of the superior court for that district, he was appointed by Governor Jarvis Judge of the Superior Court, and was subsequently twice elected to the same position by the people. His old wound, however, gave him pain, and the long confinement on the bench during the sitting of the court aggravated the trouble, and at length in the summer of 1889 he resigned his commission and resumed the practice of law.

THE WHISKY TRUST NEXT.

Now that the courts have sustained the laws against trusts in the cases of the Sugar and Standard Oil trusts, the Whisky Trust is the next to be attacked. Several officers of this trust have been indicted in the United States District Court at Boston. They were arraigned on Saturday, pleaded not guilty and March 30 was set for the trial to begin, the defendants being held in heavy bail until that time.

The Sugar Trust case in New York and the Standard Oil case in Ohio were tried under State laws, with a similar result in each case, a decision that the trust agreement was contrary both to law and the public welfare. These cases were fought stubbornly and vexatious delays interposed before final awards were made. The Whiskey Trust case is brought under the provisions of the Sherman anti-trust law, and whatever the result, it is likely to be some time before the case reaches final adjudication in the Supreme Court, to which it will doubtless be carried as the business of that court is, and has been for a long time, three years in arrears. There is no danger however that the case will not be thoroughly tried.

According to this if it is possible to get after the Tobacco Trust it would do well to do so at once, in order that the tobacco farmers would not have to half starve more than 3 years before the heel of the despot

—the American Tobacco Company —was taken from their necks. We want to see the day dawn when the farmers of this country will have an equal showing with that of the millionaires. The farmers do the work, but the monopolists touch the button, and all they have made drop into the big hole on Wall street.

David B. Hill is strewing many mouldy political chestnuts through the South, as if he were a minstrel aggregation or a circus concert. He told the people of Virginia for the first time that theirs was the State of Washington, of Jefferson and Madison. He informed them that Jefferson had written the Constitution and that Washington was the Father of his Country, and he got off enough heavy platitudes to sink a canal boat. As has always been the case, David B. has nothing to say about any living question.

The Old Original Remedy Leads.
 Sick people should not be deceived by pretenses who talk about "Microbi," "germs," "bacilli," &c, to sell their preparations, thus preventing people from buying the original tested medicine. "Kadap's Microbe Killer" is what you need. It is now, and for years has been making more cures than all other remedies combined. Investigate it before trifling with your health. Read their advertisement in this paper. Don't be deceived.
