A CARD.

From National President H. L. Loucks.

To the members of the F. A. & I. U.:

On the 11th day of June our order suffered an irreparable loss in the death of that wise counsellor, trusted leader and well beloved brother, President L. L. Polk. Why he should have been taken from us at this time, in the prime of life, in the vigor of manhood, with his ripe experience, enjoying the confidence of organized labor as no other man has ever done; just on the eve of battle when all eyes were turned to him as the Moses who was to lead us into the promised land of liberty for labor, must ever remain a mystery to us. A nation mourns the loss of an uncrowned king. For no other man in the nation would so many tears have been shed as have been and will be shed for our dear departed brother. He had no gold to give, no patronage to bestow, no promises for the future; and yet, this plain man of the people, had more friends who loved him, more people who trusted him, more citizens who longed to crown his brow with a presidential coronet, than all the wealth of Wall street could buy or the patronage of a dozen presidents could influence. He was the idol of our order. It was contagious. He was the idol of organized labor.

We ne'er shall see his like again. We bow our heads in grief under the chastening rod. We drop our tears on his consecrated grave. We mourn the loss of the grandest man this movement has developed. It is meet that we do all this in the memory of our brother. Feeling as he did, that the battle of ages was on; realizing as he did the terrible conflict necessary to avert disaster; knowing as he did that every man who loves this republic must be rallied to our standard to save it from the fate of other nations where the wealth of the nation has aggregated in the hands of the few. He would to-day, were he with us, urge us on in the line of duty. He would plead with us to "step for the fray"—push forward to the goal he has already reached; to receive the reward already his. "Well done good and faithful servant; enter into your reward."

By your choice it becomes my duty to take up the work so suddenly snatched from him. I do so with a very, very heavy heart—courage almost gone—to attempt to follow the incomparable leader. He bids me "strip for the fray." I obeyed his orders when living; I will obey them now, and respond to the call or duty. He has plainly marked out the path I should follow. To emulate his example and follow in his footsteps as far as my abilities will permit will be the surest road to your confidence. There will be no change of policy. I will need your aid and assistance more than he did. There will be a meeting of the National Executive Committee at Omaha, July 1st, when plans for the future will be outlined. I hope to meet and consult with many of our State officers there. In the meantime address all communications to 289 North Capital Street, Washington, D. C.

We can but show our respect and love for our dear brother by consecrating ourselves anew to the cause he loved better than life, each one resolving to redouble his efforts for the grandest platform of principles ever enunciated by any body of men; the emancipation of labor from the power of money to oppress by constitutional methods at the ballot box.

Fraternally,
 H. L. LOUCKS,
 President N. F. A. & I. U.

Hon. Sid Alexander's position.
 HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES, U. S.
 Washington, June 26, 1892.

Col. R. B. Moore, Dear Sir:—Your letter informing me that my position in regard to the government ownership of railroads (an Alliance demand) is not well understood in your city was duly received. I stated that, as between a railroad commission with power to make freight and passenger rates and government ownership, I believed the latter the best, that there is no warrant in the constitution for the government to purchase railroads and that it was too far in the future to warrant discussion now; that is I do not propose to take any action in regard to it. I have not introduced any measure relating to it, nor do I intend to introduce any. Recent information in regard to some of my critics leads me to believe that the gravaman of my offence is really in my being an officer of the North Carolina Farmers' State Alliance, and I doubt if they would understand my position on anything.

In the coming campaign I will do what I can to insure the election of our State and National tickets, and I am sure that when our people realize that the election decides whether North Carolina's vote shall be counted by North Carolinians, or by Federal officers, perhaps from New England, they will not hesitate to do their duty in keeping North Carolina in the Democratic column.

Thanking you for your kindness I am yours truly,
 S. B. ALEXANDER.

A Million Friends.

A friend in need is a friend indeed, and not less than one million people have found just such a friend in Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption, coughs and colds. If you have never used this great cough medicine, one trial will convince you that it has wonderful curative powers in all diseases of throat, chest and lungs. Each bottle is guaranteed to do all that is claimed or money will be refunded. Trial bottles free at J. G. Hall's drug store. Large bottles 50c. and $1.00.

THE PUBLIC LEDGER

Polk Memorial Fund!

GIVE ONE DOLLAR

To Erect a Monument to Perpetuate the Memory of this Brave North Carolinian and Great Leader of the People.

The Polk Memorial Association has been organized, with prominent citizens of North Carolina at the head, to raise a fund for the purpose of erecting over the grave at Raleigh a grand monument to perpetuate the memory of that brave and distinguished North Carolinian and great leader of the people, Col. L. L. Polk.

Knowing that many of his friends and admirers in Granville county and elsewhere would be glad and esteem it a privilege to give something in this direction, the PUBLIC LEDGER has decided to solicit contributions.

We ask for One Dollar contributions—a small sum which everyone disposed to do so can easily spare. Larger sums will also be accepted.

We will deposit all money sent us in the Banking House of J. C. Cooper & Sons, subject to the order of the central committee. The names of the senders and the amounts they give will be published in this column.

A Tribute to Col. Polk.

On concluding his address before the Omaha convention, Chairman Ellington said:

"I believe it is possible for this representative body to meet, take counsel, perform its work and adjourn without one single word of discord, not one of hateful strife to mar and deface its glorious record. We have reached a crisis in our history and this meeting will show whether or not we measure up to the responsibilities of the hour. We are here to-day with the shadow of a great trouble resting upon us. He whom our hearts delighted to honor; our leader, the true, the tried the honest Polk is dead; has just been taken from us when we needed him most.

"Our hearts mourn his loss. No loftier soul ever breathed, none worked harder, suffered more, spent more than he did. He gave his life to our beloved cause and we do not believe it was given in vain. Oh, shade of the loving, great Polk, may the mantle of thy spirit fall upon us to-day in our deliberations to the end that we may be like-minded. I call upon you to-day in his name, that if there be a single vestige, an iota of sectional feeling left in the hearts of any of us, to wipe it out. I charge it sacredly that while we stand in the shadow of Polk's great love, we consecrate ourselves to the great work of reforming this government, and that the man who honestly desires its reformation is our brother and I want to say that we can reform it. I believe that we will reform it." The reference to the deceased President of the organization was received with cheers and when the picture of President Polk was handed to him by chairman S. Otho Wilson, of the North Carolina delegation, and hoisted into view the vast convention with one accord arose and the scene was one of befitting reverence to the memory of their leader.

Deserving Praise.

We desire to say to our citizens that for years we have been selling Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption, Dr. King's New Life Pills, Bucklen's Arnica Salve and Electric Bitters, and have never handed remedies that sell as well, or that have given such universal satisfaction. We do not hesitate to guarantee them every time, and we stand ready to refund the purchase price if satisfactory results do not follow their use. These remedies have won their great popularity purely on their merits. J. G. Hall, druggist.

REGISTER OF DEEDS.

I hereby declare myself a candidate for the nomination of Register of Deeds for Granville county, at the coming Democratic convention.

Respectfully,
 W. P. LYON.
