

ELIAS CARR.

CARR AND JARVIS SPEAK.

SPEAKERS CORDIALLY RECEIVED.

Met at Depot by Long String of Carriages—Solid Democracy as Taught by Our Leaders.

The grounds around the passenger station and Penn avenue for some distance from the railroad was crowded with people in vehicles and on foot Wednesday to greet Hon. Elias Carr, the Democratic nominee for Governor of North Carolina, and ex-Gov. Thos. J. Jarvis, the great leader and campaigner. They came on the mixed train from Raleigh, and were given a warm reception. The committee of the Cleveland-Carr-Williams Club and citizens crowded around them, and for a short while there were introductions and warm hand shaking.

The distinguished speakers were taken to carriages in waiting, and a procession formed and moved up town. The line was a long one and right imposing, and awoke no inconsiderable enthusiasm. The procession turned into College street, thence to Main, down Main to High, then to Gilliam and up Gilliam street to the Osborn House, where Messrs. Carr and Jarvis registered.

The speaking took place 1 o'clock in the large courtroom. Every seat was occupied and many persons stood up. The audience, composed of good Democrats from country and town, was in thorough accord with the speakers and applauded frequently and loud and long.

H. M. Shaw, President Democratic Club, introduced our next governor in a very graceful little speech.

Mr. Carr spoke for an hour, and discussed the issues in a plain, practical manner. His speech was well received and won him the friendship of all who heard him. He was applauded again and again.

Mr. Carr said he is simply a farmer, and he understands the business of the farm, and also knows something of the ills the farmers are groaning under. He spoke of agricultural depression, and that he had cast his lot with the toiling masses and was working for their relief. We have too many political issues, and he fears the people are losing sight of the principal issue—to dethrone the Republican party, which is responsible for the national banking laws, high tariff, demonitization of silver and extravagant federal pensions. The Democrats have not seen the time since the war that they could pass or repeal a national law. The financial policy of the Republican party has always been against the masses and in favor of the classes. They have transcended their power to enact class legislation. A vote for any other than the Democratic party is more than half a vote for the Republican party.

You have heard a great deal about the St. Louis and Omaha platforms. Their demands, except the government ownership of railroads, he approves, and they are good Democratic principles; but the sins of omission of the framers of those platforms are greater than their sins of commission in leaving out a tariff reform plank. He showed the intimate relations between protective tariff and our financial depression, and said our circulating medium will continue to be too small unless we lower the tariff. He did not hesitate to make the statement that if we had a financial jubilee today and divided the money per capita, that in fifteen years the country would be in as deplorable financial condition as at present.

Referring to the opposition to Mr. Cleveland in North Carolina, Mr. Carr said Mr. Cleveland is the nominee of our party and the complete exponent of the tariff reform movement. It is our duty and should be our pleasure to support him. The Third party can do us a great injury by putting the Republicans into power again. "Can the reform we so need be obtained in the Democratic party? God knows I believe so, or I would not be where I am today." He beseeched all his farmer friends to put aside wrangling and stand together for Democracy.

A. W. Graham introduced Mr. Jarvis, saying that he was a governor who did for his State in the way of advancing its industrial interests more than any two governors ever did before, and who was always ready to do battle for the people and for the cause of good government.

Wild cheering attested Mr. Jarvis' popularity, and it broke out afresh when he appeared on the stand. It is safe to say no political speech made in Granville county ever surpassed this one of our really great and truly patriotic ex-governor. It was eloquent, sound, temperate and masterly. It covered the whole field and covered it completely. It met every political issue and met it fairly and squarely, and proved beyond a shadow of a doubt that Democracy was right. It dealt deadly blows to the enemy, but there was no abuse. It unmasked the scheming allied enemies of the Democratic party and showed them up in their true light. Pity it was that every man in our county did not hear it.

Mr. Jarvis said: "I am seeking only the good of the people of North Carolina. I think I can tell the truth. If I believed the Democratic party was hurtful to North Carolina and not better than any other political party I would leave it. If I believed the Third party was calculated to better advance the interest of North Carolina than any other political party I would support it. I have never seen the day that I did not love my State better than I did my party." He was here today to talk plainly, truthfully and kindly of matters of great importance to the people, not to say anything harsh about anybody or any party.

He was in Raleigh yesterday and saw some of the very men in the Third party convention who less than ninety days ago helped to nominate Elias Carr for governor. Can you have confidence in such men? (Yells of "No.") Three months ago the farmers said they wanted a farmer for governor. The Democrats nominated the best and truest farmer in the State. Mr. Carr is nothing else but a farmer. And now what do we see? The Third party convention first nominated a lawyer and as he was in favor of white supremacy he was forced to withdraw, and then they put up a doctor from Wayne. So it seems these men do not want a farmer—they want a doctor. (Voice in the audience: "That is because they are sick!") Well, they will need a doctor on election day. They fooled you at the May convention and they will fool you again if you elect them. They are not to be trusted and they have proved it.

Analyze the Third party State ticket, and about all the candidates are Republicans but one and he is a doctor. The Third party is being run by and in the interest of the Republican party. The most misunderstood and persistently misrepresented man in this country is Grover Cleveland. He is the warmest and best friend of the people of all the statesmen. There are two great principles—burden of taxation on all as light as possible, and the lightest, if any distinction is to be made, on the laboring classes, which include agriculturists. Mr. Cleveland forced this issue upon the American people. He has ever been the friend of the South. He appointed Southern cabinet officers and foreign ministers. Harrison has no use for Southerners, even Southern Republicans. The fight is between the Democrats and Republicans—between Cleveland and Harrison, and the Third party is not in it! Harrison favors high taxes and using the surplus which accumulates to enrich camp followers of the North. Cleveland favors reducing the taxes of the people to the lowest point at which the government can be carried on economically administered. He drew in eloquent words a comparison between Cleveland and Harrison, and said he could not understand how anyone could help even indirectly to elect the latter.

He discussed tariff, trusts, financial reform, force bill and the government ownership of the railroads.

When Mr. Jarvis concluded Dr. E. T. White, on behalf of Miss Emmie Fancette, presented him with a large and beautiful bouquet of flowers.

Mr. Jarvis was happy in his brief response, saying that it was always safe to follow the advice of a man who the ladies crown with flowers.

COUNTY INSTITUTE

At Oxford Next Week—Competitive Examination.

Prof. C. McIver will hold a teachers Institute in Oxford August 22nd, and continue three days. On Wednesday, 24th inst., Prof. McIver will deliver an educational address to the public generally. Everybody is invited. We hope and expect a large attendance.

The law makes it the duty of all white public school teachers of the county in which the Institute is held to attend continuously the session of said Institute, and on failure so to do, without satisfactory reasons, they shall not be certified as teachers for the ensuing year.

Persons now teaching and those expecting to teach during the school year 1892-'93, will attend Monday 22, Tuesday 23 and Wednesday 24.

W. H. P. JENKINS, Supt. August 15th, 1892.

On Tuesday, 23rd inst., at Oxford, I will examine the applicants who wish to attend the Normal and Industrial School for young ladies at Greensboro, N. C.

The applicants are: Miss Ethel Finlaytor, Mrs. H. E. Branch, Miss Jessie Sharp, Miss Hattie B. Brogdon, Miss Luck and W. J. Pence's two daughters. The examination will be competitive.

W. H. P. JENKINS, Supt. August 15th, 1892.

DABNEY DOINGS.

The Meeting Closed Friday—Personal Mentions.

Mr. E. S. Glover is papa to a seven-day-old boy again.

Rain is very much needed now as crops are suffering considerably.

Misses Fannie Fuller and Callie Oakley, of Berea, are on a visit to Mrs. Ella Fuller.

Willie Burroughs is home this week attending the Baptist association at Island Creek.

Messrs. Lat W. and J. L. Burroughs went over to Marrow's chapel Sunday where they heard two most excellent sermons.

Mr. E. N. Crews returned from Buffalo Lithia Springs on the 6:30 train Monday afternoon, where we trust he has been greatly benefitted by the use of the water.

Some of our young men were very much disappointed at not seeing some of the young ladies from near Hargrove down at the protracted meeting last week, as they had been expected.

Rev. W. E. Swain closed his meeting at this place on Friday, and it was a splendid one. He was assisted by Rev. D. A. Highfill, of Kittrell, and Dr. T. T. Ferrell, of Brown's Summit, N. C.

Be sure and put a box of Ayer's Pills in your satchel before traveling, either by land or sea. You will find them convenient, efficacious, and safe. The best remedy for constiveness, indigestion, and sick headache, and adapted to any climate.

NEW TOBACCO.

Primings Sell for $20 a Hundred on Oxford Market.

New tobacco is being marketed and is fetching excellent prices. Some primings were sold Friday for $20 a hundred at Bullock & Mitchell's Banner Warehouse. Nice figures those.

This firm, than which there is no better in the State, is calling for new tobacco and announce in a handsome advertisement in this paper that there is a big demand in Oxford, that the prices, are good and our market is in splendid condition.

Messrs. Bullock & Mitchell are enterprising, trustworthy and experienced warehousemen. They are large buyers, and their patrons are always absolutely sure of the highest market prices. They MAKE tobacco bring its full value. That excellent auctioneer and prince of good fellows, Gene Crews, is always on hand and knows how to Whoop it up. The accommodations and facilities of this firm are unsurpassed. Try the old reliable Banner with your next load.

If the ladies would abandon cosmetics and more generally keep their blood pure and vigorous by the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, naturally fair complexions would be the rule instead of the exception, as at present. Pure blood is the best beautifier.

W. P. EXUM FOR GOVERNOR

NOMINATED BY THIRD PARTY.

Their State Convention at Raleigh—Skinner was Nominated and Withdrew.

RALEIGH, N. C., August 16. - The scenes at today's Third party convention here were unparalleled in North Carolina politics, and will never be forgotten. W. R. Lindsay, chairman of the State Committee, called the convention to order. Marion Butler, president of the State Alliance, was made temporary chairman and J. W. Denmark secretary. Later these were made permanent officers. There were seventy out of ninety-six counties represented by 357 delegates. Chairman Butler said years had been spent in planning and organizing, and that now was the time for action.

The platform was submitted and special applause was given the planks demanding 6 per cent. interest, taxation of all railroads, and the endorsement of the Omaha platform. The convention by a rising vote and with a great demonstration adopted the platform. The next business in hand was the selection of a candidate for Governor, and this, which began in the most harmonious way, resulted in unequalled excitement. Harry Skinner, a lawyer of Greenville, who served in the last Legislature, was placed in nomination, and there was a burst of applause as delegation after delegation endorsed him.

Black and white delegates eulogized him, and one enthusiast declared him to be L. L. Polk's successor. Skinner was then nominated by acclamation. He is a man of fine appearance, and was cheered as he began his speech of acceptance after Chairman Butler had announced him as the next Governor of North Carolina.

Skinner said he was the pioneer in the United States in the financial reform movement, and declared that the Democratic party leaders in making support of Cleveland the test of Democracy had driven him out of that party.

He concluded by saying: "I do not desire office, and before I accept this position I want to say that if I find that the Republican party is by a conspiracy about to divide the white people of North Carolina I must have the fullest liberty to take my stand for the white people and vote the Democratic ticket."

At this startling announcement there was a hush for a moment and then a roar of anger. It was like a bomb-shell, and the convention went wild. Delegates shouted: "Take Skinner down! Put up a purer and a Third party man!" Skinner was again called on to explain, and said the preservation of home government in North Carolina was paramount. A motion to withdraw his name was declared out of order, though fifty delegates seconded it.

Skinner then withdrew his name. Chairman Butler tried to make pledges for his loyalty and declared there would be no Republican State ticket. A leading delegate shouted: "We have been deceived and we richly deserve it." There was a demand for an adjournment, as delegates swore nothing could be done with the furiously angry and surprised convention, and the latter adjourned until 8 o'clock. Republicans are taking an undisguised part in the proceedings.

At the night session the State ticket was nominated as follows: Governor, W. P. Exum, of Wayne; Secretary of State, L. N. Durham, of Cleveland; Auditor, T. B. Long, a Republican of Buncombe; Attorney General, R. H. Lyon, of Bladen; Associate Justice, W. A. Guthrie, Rep. Durham; Judge Superior Court 12th district, W. H. Malone, Rep., Buncombe; Elector at Large, Marion Butler and Harry Skinner; Superintendent Public Instruction, J. W. Woody, of Guilford; State Treasurer, W. H. Worth, of Wake, and R. A. Cobb, of Burke, for Lieutenant Governor.

The following counties were not represented: Alexander, Alleghany, Ashe, Camden, Cherokee, Chowan, Clay, Currituck, Davie, Dare, Graham, Henderson, Jackson, Mitchell, Pender, Polk, Stanley, Stokes, Surry, Swain, Transylvania, Tyrell, Union, Watanga, Yadkin and Yancey.

Loge Harris and other leading Republicans were present assisting in the work of the convention, with the thought uppermost in their minds to give council and encouragement to their aid society.

The chairman on platform, Mr. Butler, submitted the report of the committee as follows:

PLATFORM AS ADOPTED.

That we favor the strictest economy in the administration of the State government.

That we favor the fullest development of our educational system in all of its departments.

We favor the fullest encouragement to the great agricultural, mechanical and manufacturing industries of our State and all enterprises tending to build up our State and to develop its varied resources.

Whereas, the last general assembly of North Carolina failed to pass a bill reducing the legal rate of interest to six per cent, and whereas, we endorse the position of those who used their efforts and votes to pass such a measure, therefore,

We demand of our general assembly at its next session to pass a bill reducing the legal rate of interest to six per cent.

We demand of our general assembly at its next session the passage of a secret ballot law, with a provision in said law that will secure to voters who cannot read an opportunity to vote.

We deplore the corrupting use of money in elections as tending to degrade manhood and to corrupt the ballot box, and we do denounce all attempts to subvert the rights of the people at the ballot box, and all efforts to deprive them of a fair and honest count when the votes have been cast.

Whereas there are large railroad properties and interests in this State now escaping taxation in whole or in part, and whereas, further, it is in the province of the general assembly of North Carolina, making all property in the State bear its equal burden of taxation, now, therefore, be it

Resolved, 1st—That we demand of the general assembly of North Carolina to force, as far as in its power, all railroad property and interests that are now escaping taxation, in whole or in part, to pay its full and equal share of taxes for support of the government of North Carolina as the property of farmers, laborers and other citizens are now taxed.

Resolved, 2nd—That we demand that no further franchises or privileges in the way of amended or extended charters or otherwise be granted any corporation claiming exemption of taxation, until such corporation or corporations make a complete and unqualified surrender of any claimed exemption from taxation.

Whereas it is believed by many that there will be an effort to repeal the railroad commission bill or cripple it by amendments, therefore,

We demand of the next general assembly of North Carolina that it shall sustain the present railroad commission bill, that no amendments lessening or hampering the power of the commissioners shall be passed, and that only amendments (if any at all) such as may or will increase the efficiency of commission and perfect the machinery and details of the same, shall be enacted into law.

Resolved, That this convention endorse the platform adopted by the national people's party at Omaha, July 4th, 1892.

There was applause for each plank of the platform, particularly the one for 6 per cent interest, and for the taxation of railroads, and endorsing the Omaha platform. There was a particularly lively cheer as Chairman Butler read, in a stage voice, the last plank. Then the convention, by a rising vote, and amidst vociferous cheering, adopted the platform unanimously.

The American Eagle must be a gay old bird—he is bald. If you don't want to be bald, use Hall's Hair Renewer, and you won't be. Try it.

Third Party Senatorial Convention.

Announcement has just appeared that the Third party senatorial convention will be held at Berea on August 27. They will also open their campaign at same time and place, and other appointments will be given out.

They claim that they will have good speakers in the field, and will make the campaign a lively one. Dr. Merritt, of Person, will probably be the senatorial nominee of the Thirddites.

A Philosophical Family.

Amelia has pimples, and scres in the head, From humors internal her nose has grown red; She's a boil on her neck that is big as a bell, But in other respects she is doing quite well.

And pa has dyspepsia, malaria and gout, His hands with salt-rheum are all broken out; He is prone to rheumatics that make his legs swell, But in other respects he is doing quite well.

And ma has night sweats and a troublesome cough, That all of our doctors can't seem to drive off; She wakes every night and coughs quite a spell, But in other respects she is doing quite well.

There is nothing like philosophy to help one bear the ills of life, but in the case of this family what is most needed is a good supply of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It would cleanse Amelia's bad blood, cure pa's ailments, and check ma's cough. The "Golden Medical Discovery," by its action on the liver, cleanses the system of impurities. It cures humors, ulcers, boils, scrofula, salt-rheum, erysipelas, and all kinds of sores and swellings. The only guaranteed blood purifier.
