

A TERRIBLE STORM.

Death and Destruction in the Track of a Cyclone.

Georgia was visited by a terrible storm Friday night, which struck in Meriwether county and swept across the State to the sea going out on the coast below Wilmington. The killed in Georgia are— at Piedmont, Miss Daisy Hawkins and a negro man; at Odessa, six persons, names unknown; at Molena, Mrs. Felt, and four negroes; at Woodburg, a white child and two negroes; at Greenville, a negro woman. The number of injured is very great, and at this writing it is impossible to get a complete list.

A telegram from Greenville, Ga., to the Atlanta Constitution, gives some idea of the severity of the storm, as it devastated three-fourths of that town. It says: The cyclone was preceded by a brilliant electrical display that aroused the fears of all. In a few minutes the continuous lightning flashes were succeeded by an ominous roaring sound, and almost instantly the storm swept over the ill-fated town on its mission of destruction. In ten seconds the accumulations of years were swept to the four winds of the earth.

Several people were caught under the falling houses, but, strange to say, there was only one death here from the cyclone.

The residences of Messrs. T. A. Atkinson, O. W. McGehee, H. C. Hall, N. T. Wright, Thomas H. Caudle, Drs. A. G. Floyd, R. F. Hall, C. A. Floyd, W. T. Reville, R. L. Winslow, W. A. Black and John Fowler were completely wrecked.

The residences of Mrs. J. T. Wimbish, H. W. Hill, the Winslow house, Mrs. Gresham, the Baptist church and the storehouses of T. M. Kener, W. L. Pinkston, Mrs. Freeman R. Spisey, C. A. Andrews & Co., A. H. Freeman and Atkinson Bros., were unroofed, and the gable ends of some of them blown out.

The Presbyterian church, the Masonic institute, the postoffice and the two-story brick building of Hon. H. W. Hill were torn bodily from their foundations and demolished.

The Greenville Vindicator that had stood the attacks of political boycotts for twenty years, succumbed to the mighty rush of the elements. Its building was lifted by the wind and mashed into a shapeless mass of ruins.

Many negro houses were blown down. The news that has been received here indicates that the cyclone entered the county at the southwest corner, going diagonally across it, carrying desolation and death in its wake.

Many of the cyclone sufferers are in a destitute condition, having been rendered houseless and homeless by the wind, with not a vestige of clothing, except the garments they had on their backs. They are exposed to the biting cold. Starvation stares some of them in the face and unless aid is given by our neighboring towns and cities untold suffering will result. In one county alone over 200 families are left destitute.

Legislative Notes.

The Legislature adjourned sine die March 6th at 1 o'clock. In the Senate the bill which had passed the House directed at the American Tobacco Company and known as the antitrust bill was indefinitely postponed.

The Senate and House could not agree on a bill making it constitutional for the Railway Commission to apply the penalties for violation of the commission act of 1891, and so it failed to become a law, though it is of extreme importance.

Chairman Spruill, of the House branch of the Railway Committee in a stirring speech said the responsibility for the failure rested not upon the House, but upon Senator Means, of Cabarrus, and that upon an attempt to enforce the penalties the case would not fall to the ground.

The House adopted an anti-hoop-skirt resolution requesting Senators and Representatives in Congress to use all their influence to secure the enactment of a law forbidding its use in the United States. No less than 260 bills were ratified.

The Republicans in the House eulogized Speaker Overman in the highest terms. Just after the Senate adjourned Senator Sherrill, of Catawba, presented to the Democrats of Johnston county a handsome silken banner, given six years ago by Senator Vance to the banner Democratic county and which had ever since been held by Catawba, Senator Poy, of Johnston, accepted it, expressing his pride that last November his county had led the State in the Democratic majority.

The Senator confirmed the following appointment made by Governor Cerr: Augustus Leazar, Superintendent of State's Prison, and as directors—J. E. Green, F. S. Spruill, T. B. Armstrong, A. B. Young, and Frank Stronach. This is an entire change of the penitentiary management under the new act. All the former officials are out of office.

One of the incidents of the closing up of the labors of the General Assembly was the presentation of a beautiful gold pen by the pages of the House to Mr. Julian, the popular and clever doorkeeper. Mr. Taylor of Halifax made a neat presentation speech, which was appropriately responded to by Mr. Ray.

Enrolling Clerk A. K. Smith of the General Assembly was presented with a handsome gold headed cane by the assistant clerks as a token of their esteem and of their appreciation of the manner in which he has officiated during the session. Mr. T. M. Robertson of Randolph made the presentation in well chosen and appropriate words.

Pronounced Hopeless. Yet Saved.

From a letter written by Mrs. Ada E. Hurd, of Grotton, S. D., we quote: "Was taken with a bad cold, which settled on my Lungs, cough set in and finally terminated in Consumption. Four doctors gave me up, saying I could live but a short time. I gave myself up to my Saviour, determined if I could not stay with my friends on earth, I would meet my absent ones above. My husband was advised to get Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds. I gave it a trial, took in all, eight bottles; it has cured me, and thank God I am now a well and hearty woman." Trial bottles free at J. G. Hall's Drugstore, regular size, 50c, and $1.00.

Levi P. Morton is one of the most popular members of the out-going administration. Democrats and Republicans alike have a kind word to say for him. At the time the Republican National Convention nominated Whitelaw Reid it was said that Mr. Morton had been badly treaded. He thought so himself, but he has the consolation of having at least escaped defeat at the polls. His reception to Mr. and Mrs. Adlai Stevenson last week is conceded to be one of the most graceful official acts of the kind known in Washington life.

An Old and Successful Practitioner.—Few physicians ever practice so many years as Pond's Extract has, nearly half a century; still fewer can attain the universal success in treatment which that popular family remedy has, and where the physician prescribes for individuals Pond's Extract is used by grateful millions. Another advantage of the remedy is that, though made perfect by nearly fifty years of experience, it still possesses the vigor youth.

The Watertown, N. Y., Lincoln league has started a fund for the benefit of Major McKinley, on a basis of one dollar subscriptions from grateful republicans. Let every republican who believes in McKinleyism chip in his dollar. It is not fair that the entire burden of a failing tinplate industry should be borne by the author of it. He probably believed in it as much as any one, and this subscription is directly in the line of protection—everybody pays and one man takes the profit.
