

BRANHAM IS DEAD.

The Surgeon's Brave Battle for Life Has Come to an End.

ANOTHER CASE CREATES A PANIC.

Three Thousand People Hurry Away from the City—Passes Issued to the Poor—The Mayor Issues a Proclamation Advising All To Go.

BRUNSWICK, GA., August 20.—Surgeon Branham died today at 5 o'clock after lingering twenty-six hours in an unconscious state.

As soon as the death was bulletined, a large crowd of sympathizing friends gathered on the street corners and discussed the unfortunate man's fate. Surgeon Hutton ordered the finest steel-rolled, silver-mounted casket in the city sent to the house. It was left near the gate and Surgeon Carter and his assistants carried it into the house.

The body was wrapped in sheets, soaked in bichloride of mercury and around the lifeless form a large national flag was rolled. On leaving Washington Surgeon Hutton had a premonition that Surgeon Branham would die and prompted by this placed the flag in his trunk.

The casket and body were brought to the quarantine limits and there Surgeons Hutton and Guiteras, Undertakers Moore & Son placed it in the hearse. It was quickly transported to a grave in the new cemetery.

BRUNSWICK, GA., August 21.—S. H. Harris was pronounced ill with yellow fever at the Presbyterian parsonage today. Immediately afterward Surgeon Hutton assumed control of the case for the government and moved him inside the quarantine limits to City Physician Branham's house. Yellow fever signs were stuck around the parsonage and the house was thoroughly disinfected. Harris's brother, who had been nursing him, was sent to the quarantine station at Sapelo.

Mayor Lamb, as soon as the case was announced, issued the following proclamation:

"To the Public—Whereas, it has come to my knowledge that a new case of yellow fever has developed in our midst, I, therefore, urge every one who can possibly do so, to leave the city."

PASSES FOR THE POOR.

Superintendent Haynes, of the Brunswick and Western railroad immediately notified Mayor Lamb that he would issue a free pass to any of the deserving poor of Brunswick.

Mayor Lamb at once started the ministers of the city to getting the names of members of their congregations who are unable to pay, and gave all that wanted them passes. The old and infirm, crippled, maimed and poor gathered in large crowds around the mayor's office and were accommodated as fast as possible with transportation.

THREE THOUSAND HURRY OFF.

Tonight twelve coaches full left over the Brunswick and Western and later the East Tennessee train went away jammed. About 3,000 people will leave and this alone will prevent it spreading rapidly if at all.

No Other New Cases.

BRUNSWICK, GA., August 22.—The board of health announces no new cases of yellow fever today, and only one case of any kind of fever reported by any of the city physicians, and the city remarkably free of other sickness. The city is nearly depopulated, but there is no excitement among those who are here.

Harris, the fever patient, is now free from fever, but very much depressed.

AT TAMPA, FLA.

One Case of Fever at Quarantine—Several Suspicious Cases.

JACKSONVILLE, FLA., August 21.—A special from Port Tampa to The Times-Union says that the German steamship Markomania, which arrived there from Vera Cruz, Tampico and Progreso last Thursday, was yesterday ordered to the United States quarantine station at Dry Tortugas, with a reported case of yellow fever aboard. Last Thursday night eight of the crew were reported sick with a slight fever, but five of them were up and dressed next morning and about the deck.

Saturday morning all of the eight were up and about, but later in the day one of the sailors grew worse and his pulse went up to 110, with a temperature of 104 degrees; the attending physicians, Drs. Welden and Wall, pronounced the case yellow fever, and President Henderson, of the state board of health, at once ordered the vessel to Dry Tortugas.

There was, of course, a great deal of excitement when it was announced that the Markomania had yellow fever on board, for some of the crew must have been ashore; but tonight all apprehension has been allayed, and President Henderson announces that there is not a case of sickness of any kind in the town.

Denied by the Health Officer.

PORT TAMPA, FLA., August 22.—Dr. Porter, the health officer, has issued a proclamation in which he says: "There is no yellow fever or quarantinable disease at the docks here, in Port Tampa city, in Tampa, or at Ybor City, and that the establishment of a quarantine against this section of the state is entirely unnecessary."

Virginia Farmers' Alliance.

RICHMOND, VA., August 18.—The Virginia Farmers' Alliance was engaged today in amending the constitution in several minor ways after which they elected officers for the ensuing term as follows: President, Dr. B. L. Winston, of Hanover; vice president, G. W. B. Hakle, of Franklin; state lecturer, William H. Geysler, of Page; secretary and treasury, J. J. Silvey; chairman of executive committee, J. W. Ruffin, of Hanover. C. H. Pearson was elected as delegate to the national council, which meets this fall in Harrisburg, Pa.

No Fever in Charleston.

CHARLESTON, S. C., August 19.—Dr. Horlbeck, city health officer, says in regard to reported cases of yellow fever on board a schooner at Philadelphia, that no ships of any description whatever had left this port with any sickness on board. The list of the vessels sailing from Charleston since August 1st does not contain the name of the "Betty Lester." There is evidently a mistake in the name of the port from which the vessel sailed.

TOPEKA, KAN., August 21.—Robert Kincaid, president of the defunct Citizens' bank, of Mound City, Kas., and a partner in other banking institutions, has fled the country. In addition to the money people will lose through the bank failure the people of Lynn county hold his personal notes for about $200,000, all of which it is thought will be a total loss.

The treasury officials are now discussing a plan to supply the threatening deficiency in the treasury, to get rid of the accumulation of 6,000 tons of silver bullion and supply the country with $150,000,000 of new currency.

Negroes Threaten to Strike.

KANSAS CITY, MO., August 22.—The imported negro miners at the Central Coal Company's shaft near Weir City, Kas., who recently took the places of the strikers, have demanded an increase of wages of 6 cents per ton, yearly scale, and propose to strike if their demand is refused.

Two Killed by Lightning.

ANNISTON, ALA., August 21.—Tobe Snow and Ophelia Nolan, two tenants on the plantation of J. H. McClurkin, at Silver Run, Ala., twelve miles south of here, were instantly killed by lightning. The two were standing under a tree in the Nolan woman's yard when the fatal bolt came.

GROWTH OF THE SOUTH.

The Industrial Development in the Week Ending August 21st, 1893.

The Tradesman's review of the industrial situation in the South for the week ending August 21st reports a further falling off in iron production, there being now but ten blast furnaces in operation out of twenty-five in the Birmingham district, and four out of twelve in the Chattanooga district. Mills all over the South are running on short time; some have closed on account of the failure to procure currency, and some are issuing scrip for pay rolls, maturing in ninety days.

There is a falling off in the demand for machinery, but in new industries there is an increase over the preceding week. During the week there were 45 new manufacturing organizations in the Southern States, chief among which were the American Economic Boiler Company, of Savannah, Ga., capital $125,000; the Economy Novelty Manufacturing Company, of Charleston, W. Va., with $100,000 capital, and the T. Dumas Furniture Manufacturing Company, of New Orleans, La., with $75,000 capital.

STOP CROAKING.

A Sensible and Timely Article From the Philadelphia Times.

Stop croaking and get down to business. It is the croakers who are locking up money and distressing themselves and business generally.

We have big crops with a foreign market for our surplus. The people were never more generally solvent. Money is abundant for all legitimate business; but the croakers are on top and cowardice kills where courage would cure.

Let the calamity howlers go to the rear. Many banks and business establishments have suspended, but not one in fifty of them has failed. They are solvent; ready to resume whenever the croakers are through with this work, and soon the calamity organs which have heralded failures in startling headlines will be recording the resumption of the suspended concerns.

Stop croaking. It is as serious for the time as if bankruptcy were upon us as a people, when business could be revived at once if honest and well merited faith in the government, in the country and in industries were restored. Stop hoarding money; put it into circulation by buying, depositing or lending, and don't wait until business has enough money without the locked up resources of the croakers.

We are now adding a million a day to our national bank circulation; we are getting gold from Europe at a rate of a million a day, and money must soon become abundant without the croakers hoarded wealth. In addition to these sources of enlarged circulating medium, Congress will surely give us an enlarged and more flexible circulating medium, and money is more likely to be too abundant than too scarce before the close of the year.

Stop croaking. It doesn't pay; it is all loss and no profit to all, and whenever the croaker shall cease to ply his vocation money will be plenty and business prosperous. Stop croaking.

THE ALLIANCE MEETING.

Result of Annual Convention Just Held—Third Parties Elected to Principal Offices.

The Raleigh Correspondent of the Wilmington Messenger says:

A number of delegates to the State Farmers' Alliance were here returning from the meeting at Greensboro. They report that seventy-six counties were represented and that over a hundred delegates were present. They expressed themselves pleased with their new officers. Pres. Marion Butler was disposed and J. M. Mewborne, of Lenior county, placed in his stead. The latter is one of the leading lights of the Third party. It will be remembered that he was once an independent candidate for Congress in the Second district, and was endorsed by the Democrats. In the last campaign he was one of the Third party electoral candidates. This, of course, please the Third party men in the Alliance.

J. S. Bridges, of Catawba county, is the new vice president. W. S. Barnes, secretary and treasure, and W. H. Worth, State business agent, are both retained. Barnes, it will be remembered, ran the Special Informer in the last campaign, and Worth was the Third party candidate for State treasurer. The personnel of the executive committee is changed somewhat. Marion Butler, chairman, J. J. Loug, of Columbus, and A. F. Hileman, of Catawba, compose the committee. The delegates seemed to approve of the resolutions passed at Greensboro, especially the resolution endorsing Senator Vance's policy in regard to silver. They spoke of President Cleveland's message as a goldbug document. Nearly all favored free coinage of silver, and several said that the Sub-Treasury plan would relieve the situation. One of the delegates proudly stated that the doorkeeper had said that during all the meeting he had not smelt the breath of liquor on a single delegate. Whether this was due to the temperance of the delegates or to the doorkeeper's having a bad cold he did not state.

CASTORIA

for Infants and Children.

"Castoria is so well adapted to children that I recommend it as superior to any prescription known to me." H. A. ARCHER, M. D., 111 So. Oxford St., Brooklyn, N. Y.

Castoria cures Colic, Constipation, Sour Stomach, Diarrhoea, Eructation, Kills Worms, gives sleep, and promotes digestion, Without injurious medication.

"The use of 'Castoria' is so universal and its merits so well known that it seems a work of supererogation to endorse it. Few are the intelligent families who do not keep Castoria within easy reach."

"For several years I have recommended your 'Castoria,' and shall always continue to do so as it has invariably produced beneficial results."
