SALE OF HOUSE AND LOT IN OXFORD.

By virtue of an order of the Superior Court, I shall, on Monday, the 27th day of January, 1890, offer for sale to the highest bidder at public auction at the courthouse door in Oxford, the house and lot of land owned by the late Mrs. Mary B. Taylor at the time of her death, and formerly owned by Rufus Knott. It is situated in Oxford, on the street leading towards Kittrell, adjacent the lots of R. R. Best, Thos. G. Taylor and D. A. Hunt, is 81 feet front on said street, 99 feet wide at the rear, and runs back from street 135 feet. The dwelling is a neat cottage of four rooms, in good condition, with all necessary outbuildings.

Terms: One-third cash, the balance in twelve months, with eight per cent. interest from date.
JOHN W. HAYS,
Ex'r. of Mrs. Mary B. Taylor.

Minor Events, Retrospective and Prospective, Gathered About the City By Our Alert Reporters.
Many of the trees are putting forth buds.

Some fresh, second-growth lettuce was shown us today.
THE DAY is on sale at the Oxford Book Store at three cents per copy.

A cold wave may be expected to strike Oxford within the next twenty-four hours. Have your wraps ready.

Prayer meeting services at the Methodist Church tonight will not begin till 7:30 o'clock, instead of 7:15 as announced on last Sunday.

The Farmers' Alliance of Granville county are holding a convention here today relative to building a sales and storage tobacco warehouse in Oxford. The matter is expected to be settled before they adjourn.

An unusually interesting article, just at this particular time, is that communicated to the Durham Recorder and which we publish today on our editorial page. It shows up pretty well that the combine is a combine, the cigarette men to the contrary notwithstanding.

See either A. J. Dalby, D. C. White, J. E. Reagan, J. G. Hall, W. A. Davis, R. F. Knott or R. W. Lassiter, Jr., committee to find homes for the delegates to the anti-cigarette trust convention, and tell them how many delegates you are willing to entertain. See some one of these gentlemen either this afternoon or early tomorrow.

Rev. T. M. Joiner, who complained to the British Minister of a mob attacking himself and wife in Randolph county, said to a Washington Post reporter: "I went to Oxford, Granville county, in 1869, and it was there I met my wife. I first preached in the schoolhouse where she was teaching and some three years later we were married." Mrs. Joiner was a yankee schoolmarm and taught a negro school here. She is still the owner of some real estate in Oxford.

PURELY PERSONAL.

The Doings and Whereabouts of Some People You Know.

Mr. W. H. O-born is in Oxford, at the Osborn Hotel.

Hon. A. H. A. Williams returned from a visit to Durham this morning.

Mr. J. J. Paris is off for the northern market to purchase a stock of goods for the Paris Bros.

Mr. Van D. Alston, formerly of Franklinton, has position behind the counters of Messrs. A. Landis & Sons' store.

Prof. A. Bellezza and his musicians took their departure for Henderson this morning, where they will conduct a dancing school.

Mr. Hervey McNaair is now in Mr. B. G. Medford's store, taking the place of Mr. L. E. Watson, who has returned to Tolisnot, N. C., his former home.

Mr. Dick Elam, a former citizen of Granville but now of Mecklenburg Va., is in the city, a delegate to the anti-cigarette trust convention tomorrow.

Mr. Jeff Daniel, who is a register of deeds indeed and in truth, has presented with his compliments to Mr. J. Syd Hunt and Miss Annie M. Gordon, who will be married at the Episcopal Church tonight, their marriage license printed on white silk with red ink. It is a beautiful document and an unique and tasty wedding gift.

THE ODD FELLOWS.

Oxford the Banner Lodge of the State—Sermon by Rev. W. L. Cuninggim.

The Oxford Lodge, I. O. O. F., No. 103, is now the banner Odd Fellows Lodge of North Carolina. It has the largest membership in the State. Last year it ranked second, the Orion, of Wilmington, exceeding it by a small number. The reports submitted to the Grand Secretary January 1st, show that the Orion Lodge has 104 members, the Oxford Lodge 106 members.

The installation of the officers elected at the previous meeting to serve for the ensuing six months, occurred last night. The finances of the Lodge were found to be in a most highly satisfactory condition.

On the third Sunday in this month, the 19th inst., Rev. W. L. Cuninggim will preach a special sermon to the Odd Fellows in the Opera House. The members of the Lodge will attend in a body in regalia. The public is cordially invited to be present.

No Meeting Last Night.

The locating committee of the proposed Baptist Female College took their departure on the southbound passenger train yesterday afternoon. Today Durham is showing these gentlemen its sites for the College and exerting itself to make a favorable impression.

We believe it was on the card that a mass meeting was to be held in the Opera House last night, and the subscription books for the College were to be opened with a flourish.

There was no such meeting, not even a call for one.

Soiree Last Night.

Last evening was very much enjoyed by the young people of Oxford. Prof. Antonia Bellezza gave a very creditable soiree to his pupils and also to a goodly number outside of his class. The professor has been with us for five weeks, in which time he has made many friends. The music by his band—it is useless to say—has been enjoyed hugely by those who have been so fortunate as to hear them play. As to his capacity as a dancing master, we need hardly mention, but submit that point to those who understand dancing and have attended his soirees. He leaves for his new field of labor tomorrow with our best wishes. F.

CIGARETTE TRUST.

THE FARMERS' ALLIANCE WILL FIGHT THE MONOPOLY.

Delegates from Virginia and North Carolina Tobacco Counties Meet Here in Convention Tomorrow.

Representatives of the Farmers' Alliance of twenty or more tobacco-growing counties of Virginia and North Carolina will meet in convention in the Opera House tomorrow, to take steps to fight the recently formed and iniquitous cigarette trust.

Some of the delegates are already in the city. The Virginia delegation will arrive on this afternoon's train from the north, and the delegates from North Carolina will come in on the morning trains from the south and east.

At eleven o'clock a. m., public proceedings will be had, to which the people generally will be admitted. Mayor L. G. Smith will receive the visitors and introduce R. W. Winston, Esq., who will deliver an address of welcome. Mr. J. B. Smith, of Caswell county, N. C., District Lecturer of the Farmers' Alliance, will respond. Other speeches will be made by prominent gentlemen, after which adjournment will be in order until after dinner.

The convention will then sit with closed doors, and get down to business. THE DAY, on behalf of the Oxford people, extends the Farmers' Alliance a hearty welcome. May they find their stay in our city pleasant and profitable. May their deliberations result in formulating a plan which will overthrow this gigantic monopoly, and make of it an example which will be remembered by avaricious capitalists for all time to come.

A special to the Charlotte Chronicle last night says: B. O. Jenkins, owner of a distillery near Earl's Station, in Cleveland county, was shot through the body and mortally wounded by J. H. McNeily. The cause of the quarrel is not known and McNeily has escaped.

A special to the News-Observer, from Greenville, says last night at seven o'clock as Sydney Owens was leaving the hotel he was shot by an unknown party who was concealed behind a tree near the hotel. Suspicion rests on John Hatton, a young man who some time ago had a difficulty with Owens. Hatton is now under arrest and it is feared Owen's wounds may be fatal. Considerable excitement in town.

The Philharmonic Society, at its first meeting in the new year, last night in its club room at the Y. M. C. A. building, passed resolutions that cannot but be of great interest to every lover of music in North Carolina, but especially in Charlotte. After a lengthy discussion in which the matter was thoroughly canvassed, it was resolved by an unanimous vote to have a Grand Mid Summer Musical Festival in Charlotte this June, and to invite every musical society in the State to participate.

Before the question had been brought up, letters of enquiry to several societies had been responded to favorably—that they would gladly come here and join in a grand State musical festival, at the time named, June,—Charlotte Chronicle.

He Made it Right.

A boy about ten years old was yesterday observed to drop five postage stamps into one of the letter-boxes in the post-office, and as he turned away, a gentleman asked:

"Why did you do that?"
"To make it all right," was the reply
"How all right?"

"Why, I dropped five letters in here yesterday without any stamps on. We do business in chattel mortgages, we never try to beat a post-office.—troit Free Press.
