SALE OF HOUSE AND LOT IN OXFORD.

By virtue of an order of the Superior Court, I shall, on Monday, the 27th day of January, 1890, offer for sale to the highest bidder at public auction at the courthouse door in Oxford, the house and lot of land owned by the late Mrs. Mary G. Taylor at the time of her death, and formerly owned by Rufus Knett. It is situated in Oxford, on the street leading towards Rittrell, adjoining the lots of R. K. Best, Thos. G. Taylor and D. A. Hunt, is 81 feet front on said street, 99 feet wide at the rear, and runs back from street 1,350 feet. The dwelling is a neat cottage of four rooms, in good condition, with all necessary outbuildings.
Terms: One-third cash, the balance in twelve months, with eight per cent. interest from date.
JOHN W. HAYS,
Ex'r. of Mrs. Mary B. Taylor.

MORTGAGE SALE.

By virtue of a deed of trust executed to me by Charles Turner and wife, registered in Book 28, Page 307, I shall on Monday, the 27th day of January, 1890, expose to sale at public auction, at the courthouse door in Oxford, the two lots of land described in said deed, situated near the town of Oxford, on the South side of the road to Kittrell, adjoining the lands of Dr. C. D. H. F. r. Payton Brandon, Davis & Gregory and others, containing eleven acres, it being the lot of land purchased by said C. J. Turner of R. W. Lassiter, Jr., and wife. Terms cash.
J. M. CURRIN, Trustee.
Dec. 25, 1889.

NORTH CAROLINA, SUPERIOR COURT.
Granville County. Dec. 16, 1889.

Henderson Smith:
Will take notice that he is sued for divorce in the above court from the bonds of matrimony. He will appear at Oxford, at Court House, on 5th Monday before 1st Monday in March, 1890, and answer complaint of Annie Smith, his wife.

GRAHAM & WINSTON, Att'y's.

NOTICE.
It has been ordered by the Board of Commissioners of Granville county that no orders for money be issued to any person who has been returned as insolvent tax payer, and those who buy such claims do so at their own risk.
T. D. WALLER,
Chairman B'd Co. Com'rs.

NOTES OF THE DAY.

THE LOCAL HAPPENINGS SERVED IN SHORT PARAGRAPHS.

Minor Events, Retrospective and Prospective, Gathered About the City By Our Alert Reporters.

Some of our citizens are planting in their gardens.

The United States Senate yesterday confirmed the nomination of Mr. J. M. Sikes as postmaster at Oxford.

A great many of the delegates to the Farmers' Alliance convention take their departure on the afternoon train.

One of our policemen has stuffed his trousers' legs in his boots preparatory to wading into offenders against the law.

This beautiful weather is a constant subject of wonder and remark. Such another winter the "oldest inhabitant" doesn't dare to recall.

The public school of Oxford will open on Monday, Jan. 15th, under the able management of Mrs. R. R. Best, with Miss Lela Routon, assistant.

We have it from good authority that the Hessian fly has done very much damage to the early sowing of wheat in the southern part of Granville county.

The Raleigh amateurs have written to the Opera House managers that they cannot come here to present the "Pirates of Penzance," some of the performers being unable to leave the city.

Mr. Fred Schwartz is driving today the fast trotter, Dick Dawson, who made a fine racing record at the last State Fair. Mr. Schwartz is now sole owner of the valuable horse, having bought the half interest of his brother in Durham.

The Farmers' Alliance Warehouse and Mr. W. E. Owens' warehouse for Messrs. Davis & Gregory, both to be built here the coming summer and both to be extensive, substantial and imposing structures, will give Oxford six large, first-class warehouses, the best and the largest number of any town in North Carolina. As a tobacco market nothing short of a position in the very lead will satisfy our people.

A Magic Pocket Lamp.

An ingenious and useful little invention, placed on the market for the first time today, is the Magic Pocket Lamp and Cigar Lighter, manufactured by the Magic Pocket Lamp Co., of New York. We have an advance sample. In appearance and size it is similar to the ordinary pocket match safe, and is handsomely finished in nickel. By pressing a button on the side the cover flies up, explodes a small cap and ignites the wick. The light will last for an hour, if necessary. It works perfectly, and every man who smokes will want one as soon as he sees it.

It will only be a short while before they will be in use all over the United States. Their success is assured. The first lot manufactured, thousands of dozen, were sold long before the time of delivery, Jan. 10th (today), and more orders are pouring in. Our former town man, Mr. J. E. Kronheimer, owns a half interest the Magic Pocket Lamp Co., and we believe he will realize a big pile from the concern.

PURELY PERSONAL.

The Doings and Whereabouts of Some People You Know.

Mr. L. M. Micheaux is in the city today.

Mr. J. M. Faulkner, of Richmond, is in Oxford on business.

Mr. A. Gump, of Baltimore, is spending the day in the city.

Capt. R. P. Hughes came home on the morning train from the South.

Mr. W. P. Webb, of Clarksville, Va., was in the city yesterday afternoon.

Mr. H. C. Kearney, sheriff of Franklinton county, was in the city yesterday.

Rev. Thos. Drew, who has been in the city for a couple of days, returned to Ohio this morning.

Miss Mollie Thomas arrived in the city on the Durham train today, and is visiting at Mr. W. K. Thomas'.

Mr. Charlie Lipscomb came back to the city last night. He has been taking a long time off for the holidays.

Capt. Thos. D. Jeffress, of Chase City, Va., a lawyer and correspondent of the Richmond Dispatch, was in Oxford yesterday afternoon.

Messrs. R. Hobgood, M. L. Hobgood, E. G. Leach, B. W. Hobgood, F. Knott, C. H. Knott, S. A. Leach, L. H. Leach, Leigh Hobgood, W. Leach, Q. Hobgood, J. Leach, C. A. Hobgood and Mr. J. F. Hobgood and wife, from Va., are guest of Mr. J. F. White.

Richmond Tobacco Market.

RICHMOND, Va., Jan. 9.—There is nothing of interest to report from our market today. It remains painfully dull, and when a small lot or a few packages is sold it is an exception to the rule of "nothing doing."

There are fair sized breaks of loose dark tobacco each day and prices hold up well; in fact they seem to be stiffer than before Christmas. Auction sales of planters' bright corn are quite large and prices are well sustained. The average price obtained this year for the West Virginia crop has probably been over $25.00 per hundred, and it safe to predict that a very large crop will be planted this spring. The farmers are in high spirits.

Coming.

The expert optician, Mr. A. M. Cunningham, the traveling representative of Hawkes' New Crystallized Lenses, will arrive in Oxford the 13th, and will remain only a few days at the drug store of J. G. Hall, the depot for these celebrated glasses.

Mr. Cunningham is thoroughly conversant with the errors of refraction, adjusting to the sight on scientific principles. He guarantees a fit. By consulting him you will be able to arrest, relieve and possibly restore your failing vision. No charge for examination.

CLOSED TO-DAY.

ANTI-CIGARETTE TRUST CONVENTION ADJOURNED.

No Disclosure of the Proceedings Made Public Yet--Resolutions of Thanks Passed.

The Anti Cigarette Trust Convention of the Farmers' Alliance, after being in session in the Opera House in Oxford yesterday afternoon, last night until twelve o'clock and this morning until noon, has adjourned.

The deliberations of the body occurred behind closed doors, and no inklings of the proceedings have been made public. Enquiries made by a reporter of THE DAY resulted only in ascertaining that a publication committee had been appointed, and as much as the Convention desired to reveal would be furnished for our columns in a few days.

The following resolution was offered by Mr. T. B. Lindsay, of Rockingham county, N. C., and unanimously passed:

Resolved, That the thanks of this body be and are hereby tendered the Granville County Alliance and the mayor and citizens of Oxford for the kind reception and hospitality shown us while with them; also that our thanks be tendered the railroad companies for reduced rates given to Oxford and return.

The officers of the Convention were Col. Geo. Williamson, of Caswell, N. C., president; W. T. Adams, of Granville, N. C., vice-president; T. Y. Allen, of Mecklenburg, Va., secretary; T. B. Lindsay, of Rockingham, N. C., a-sistant secretary.

Some of the cigarette manufacturers composing the trust were represented in Oxford during the sitting of the body. Messrs. B. N. Duke and G. W. Watts, of W. Duke, Sons & Co., of Durham, and Messrs. John Pope and Milton Cayce, of Allen & Ginter, of Richmond, were here. They sent some communications to the Convention, looking to a compromise it is understood, but what was accomplished by their maneuvering, if anything, has not yet transpired.

The Baptist Female College.

Mr. C. A. Rominger, of Reidsville, secretary of the locating committee of the Baptist Female College, furnishes the Reidsville Review with a report, from which we make the following extract:

On motion of N. B. Broughton it was agreed that subscriptions be taken from any town or individual to run for three years from Jan. 1st, 1890, to be paid in twelve equal installments, the first to be paid April 1st, 1890, and that these subscriptions be taken in notes without interest.

It was further agreed that eight acres of land is the minimum that can be accepted from any town for a location.

This committee met at the request of the citizens of Oxford and at their expense, and were shown every courtesy and attention that could have been extended.

Adjourned to meet in the city of Durham on the 17th inst. and in Greensboro on the 18th, at the request of the chamber of commerce of each of these cities.

STATE SIFTINGS.

North Carolina Items of Interest Clipped and Condensed from Exchanges.

Today, at 12 o'clock, was the time appointed for the hanging of the white man, Parrish, in Raleigh.

New Bern yesterday voted by a very large majority to subscribe $50,000 to aid in constructing a railroad from New Bern to Wilmington; only three votes were cast against the proposition.

Perhaps the youngest couple ever married in this State were married in Davie county last week. The bride was Miss Elsie Westley, aged eleven, and the groom was John Richmer, aged thirteen years. The parents of both consented to the marriage.

The following North Carolina postmasters were confirmed by the United States Senate yesterday—G. E. Buckman, Washington; W. A. Albright, Durham; J. R. Joyce, Reidsville; J. M. Sikes, Oxford; J. R. Smith, Goldsboro; D. F. Wemyss, Fayetteville; W. E. Clark, New Bern.

The latest is an "inventory party" which was given "Tuesday" evening in Salisbury and is described by the Charlotte Chronicle correspondent. Each guest was supplied with a yardstick and a long roll of ribbon, of which an inventory was to be taken, the point being to see who could measure the largest number of yards in two minutes. After the race the weary racers were refreshed by numerous delicacies, and altogether a most delightful evening was spent.

The Shelby correspondent of the Charlotte Chronicle writes: Rev. T. M. Joiner, who recently appealed to the British Minister at Washington, claiming to have been outrageously treated, lived in the western part of this county from 1879 until December, 1884. While here he preached to negroes, urging social equality, and his wife taught a free negro school. During their residence in the county they frequently came to Shelby, always stopping with negroes. They have adopted and are raising a mulatto child. From here they went to Maxton.

IN A GENERAL WAY.

Important Happenings in Other States and Countries.

The illness of the infant King of Spain has assumed a most alarming phase. Last night he had convulsions and high fever. He is extremely weak. The royal physicians have little if any hope of his recovery.

Judge Wm. D. Kelly, of Pennsylvania, died at 6:20 p. m., at Washington yesterday. He was the oldest member of the House of Representatives in years, and had been elected to fifteen successive Congresses. Recently a cancer on the jaw which he had had removed several years ago reappeared and probably shortened his life, but the immediate cause of his death was intestinal catarrh of recent origin.

An appalling disaster occurred in Brooklyn yesterday morning. The heavy winds of last night shook the new Presbyterian church at 296 Thrice avenue to its foundation, and at 4:30 this morning one of the walls fell with a crash on a three-story frame building adjoining and brought with it death and destruction. The ruined building was tenanted by the Mott and Purdy families. They numbered nine persons. Five of them are reported dead.
