The german given at Armory Hall last night by the Glucklich German Club, complimentary to Mr. and Mrs. Misses Lucy and Annie Webb are J. S. Hunt and Mr. and Mrs. W. H. the gue ts of their brother, Mr. John Hunt, proved to be the most brilliant, not be maintained and that the court successful and enjoyable affair of the season. The management was perfect, the music delicious, the devotees of Terpsichore the very flower of the youth and beauty of our own and neighboring cities.

The dance commenced promptly at nine o'clock, and as the participants glided through the pretty figures in harmony with the sweet strains of music, the scene presented was one to excite the admiration of every beholder. We venture to say that Armory Hall never before contained such an assembly of beautiful women and more striking and rich dresses.

We give below the couples who took part in the german, with some points on the customes of the ladies:
