NOTES OF THE DAY.

THE LOCAL HAPPENINGS SERVED IN SHORT PARAGRAPHS.

Minor Events, Retrospective and Prospective, Gathered About the City by Our Alert Reporters.

A good break of tobacco at the warehouses today.

The soda water fountains are liberally patronized these days.

Chief of Police Rcn has his street force at work on College street.

The dust is becoming aggravating, and the want of a street sprinkler is felt.

The weather is warm enough for some men about town to shed their coats.

Spring chickens—and very small ones at that—are selling at twenty cents a piece.

The wind blew a piece of paper against a horse this morning, and a runaway was narrowly averted.

Great piles of sand are going up on some vacant lots, to be used in the construction of brick buildings.

Register of Deeds' Daniel sold a marriage license this morning to A. H. Owen and Leah Bullock, of the county.

Orders for stock in the Oxford Land, Improvement and Manufacturing Company are being received by every mail.

Mr. T. D. Waller is showing some fine specimens of magnetic iron ore found on his father's place between here and Durham.

The sales of the Oxford L. I. & M. Co.'s stock today amounted to over two thousand dollars. This includes a block from Raleigh.

We direct the attention of the city authorities to some of the residence streets, where the grass is taking undisputed possession of things.

The Granville Grays have not yet definitely decided to attend the unveiling of the Lee Monument, but it is very probable they will go. They want to carry a large company.

A few miles out in the country, this morning, a little son of Mrs. F. R. Knott stepped on a mowing blade and cut his foot severely. Dr. J. M. Hays was called to sew up the wound.

A slight rain fell yesterday evening, not sufficient to lay the dust. The gardeners about town say they want a few good showers just now, and perspiring humanity would like to see them, also, to cool the heated atmosphere.

The petition to Governor Fowle, asking the commutation of Jordan Pritchard's death sentence to life imprisonment in the penitentiary, is being carried around the city and pretty generally signed. It will be presented to the governor one day next week by Messrs. Strayhorn, Hicks and Guley, the condemned man's counsel.

The Oxford delegation of Odd Fellows now at Wilmington will work for the selection of our city as the place for holding the Grand Lodge of I. O. O. F. next year, and feel pretty confident of success. We have here the largest subordinate lodge and camp in the State, and will have completed in time for the Grand Lodge the finest Odd Fellows' building in North Carolina.

Special Rates to the Cattle Show.
The Richmond & Danville R. R. company will sell parties attending the annual convention of the Wake County Cattle Club round-trip tickets to Raleigh, N. C., and return, at the following rates from points named. Tickets on sale May 14th and 15th, and good returning until and including May 17th:

From Charlotte, $4.70; Salisbury, $4.05; Greensboro, $2.85; Winston-Salem, $3.50; Burlington, $2.15; Durham, $1.20; Selma, $1.20; Goldsboro, $2.00; Oxford $2.15. Rates from intermediate points in same proportion.

PURELY PERSONAL.

The Doings and Whereabouts of Some People You Know.

Mr. M. F. Hart is at his post of business again.

Master Ed Landis is home from Townsville for a few days.

Messrs. O. S. Smoot and S. L. Adams went to Henderson on the morning train.

Mr. John Couch went to Richmond, Va., this morning, and will go from there to New York.

Sheriff C. M. Rogers returned this morning from a visit of several days to his plantation in Southern Granville.

Maj. Geo. Poindexter, of Virginia, special agent for United States of the Mutual Life Insurance Company of New York, is in the city.

Mr. H. E. Harmon, editor of the Southern Tobacco Journal, of Danville, Va., is in the city today. He publishes a live and valuable trade's paper, and merits the great success he has attained.

Will Move to Durham.

The Meadows Tobacco Company have decided to move their plant to Durham, and run it in connection with the farmers' organization of that county under the name of the Durham Farmers' Alliance Manufacturing Co. The Durham county farmers will add largely to its capital stock.

Mr. J. S. Carr proposes to lease them a lot free of cost, for any number of years, upon which to erect a building. The removal will be made very shortly.

The Durham proposition was made some weeks ago, and the Meadows Tobacco Co. would have remained in Oxford if given the endorsement of the Granville County Farmers' Alliance. At the Alliance meeting held here Monday, called for the special consideration of this matter, we understand adverse action was taken. Immediately after, the removal of the factory was determined upon and final arrangements to that end made.

There are many reasons for regret at this enterprise leaving our city. Oxford's loss in this instance is greatly Durham's gain.

Police Court.

Mayor Smith had two cases before him this morning which were promptly disposed of.

Burwell Hester, for an assault upon Dock Bass, was fined five dollars and cost.

George Mayfield, for an assault upon Will Howard, also got a five dollars and cost dose.

Both men convicted were unable to pay their fines, and were put on the street force.

Parties wishing to purchase Iron Safes will save money by calling on J. F. Edwards. He is agent for Macneal & Urband's Iron Safes.

Odd Fellows' Orphan Asylum.

The Raleigh Chronicle says: The most important which will come before the Grand Lodge is the establishment of an orphan asylum. The order is enthusiastic over this question and has determined that it shall materialize at an early day. There is already a fund of $2,800 in hand toward the object, and the anticipations are that $2,500 more will be secured at this meeting of the Grand Lodge.

The board of trustees of the asylum is composed of Hon. A. H. A. Williams, of Oxford; Mr. C. B. Edwards, of Raleigh, and Mr. N. Jacobi, of Wilmington. The number will increase to five or seven trustees at this meeting, and they will be requested to secure proposals for location and site, and proceed at once with the building of the asylum. The policy outlined is such that while the care of orphans is to begin at once, the building of the institution may be deferred for a time.

President Mayer, of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad, yesterday morning said: "You may say as coming from me that there is no truth whatever in the rumor that negotiations of any sort are pending between the Richmond Terminal or any other company and the Baltimore and Ohio, for any of the stock owned by the city of Baltimore or the Garret estate. In other words, there is no foundation for the rumor."

A delegation representing the Farmers' Alliance appeared before the ways and means committee yesterday morning to advocate the passage of the Pickler bill to create, sub-treasury in different parts of the country for the reception of staple crops produced by farmers.
