NOTES OF THE DAY.

THE LOCAL HAPPENINGS SERVED IN SHORT PARAGRAPHS.

The Minor Events About the City as Gathered by the Alert Reporters of The Day.

Mr. W. R. Taylor yesterday supplied his table with ripe tomatoes from his garden.

Mr. Irwin Carr presented us this morning with a fine, large, fully-ripe fig, grown in the garden of the Irwin Place.

The literary society meets tonight at the residence of Mr. J. H. Horner. It is expected to add a number of new names to the membership roll.

The fellow working out a fine on the street gang, who slipped his chains yesterday and took to his heels, was not recaptured.

Secretary W. C. Reed says he received a heavy mail yesterday afternoon with large orders for stock in the Oxford Land, Improvement and Manufacturing Co.

Mr. J. M. Currin's tobacco crop, on his farm near the city, is an unusually fine one. The earliest plants set out are now over four feet high. He has two hundred thousand hills.

Mr. J. W. Nelson, a water works expert, was in the city yesterday. He will be here next week to meet the city commissioners in reference to making a preliminary survey to ascertain the cost of putting in a system of water works in Oxford.

It is not the sunset of life that gives to the fair address of the Orphans' Friend mystical lore, for our talented sister is in the heyday of golden-crowned youth; but that she can peer into the future and write glowingly of the coming events her paper this week furnishes convincing evidence. That account of the german, you know.

Deputy Sheriff J. F. Rogers received notice this morning that Governor Fowle has made requisition on the Governor of South Carolina for Bob Powell, the convict who escaped from the sheriff of this county several years ago while being taken to Raleigh. Mr. Rogers will await to hear from Gov. Richardson before starting for his prisoner.

PURELY PERSONAL.

The Doings and Whereabouts of Some People You Know.

Mr. A. W. Graham went to Raleigh yesterday afternoon.

Mr. R. S. Barbour, of South Boston, Va., is in the city.

Mr. S. L. Adams returned to the city yesterday afternoon.

Prof. G. A. Wauchope came back to the city yesterday afternoon.

Miss Annie Jones, of the Orphan Asylum, left yesterday afternoon for Morehead City and Beaufort.

Miss Ella Thomas, of Washington, N. C., arrived in the city yesterday afternoon, and is the guests of her brother, Mr. L. Thomas.

Mrs. S. P. Couch, who has been on a visit to Danville, Va., returned to Oxford yesterday evening.

Mr. W. A. Davis got back home this morning from a successful trip in Western North Carolina for the Oxford Land, Improvement and Manufacturing Co.

Hon. A. H. A. Williams, in response to a cordial invitation, will deliver a public address at the installation of officers of the Reidsville Masonic Lodge on June 24th. Oxonians seem to be in demand for these occasions this year.

Mr. E. E. Paschall, formerly of the News of Oxford, but now in the insurance business at Richmond, Va., arrived in the city yesterday afternoon and is being warmly greeted by his many friends here. He still feels a keen interest in affairs of the Fourth Estate.

THE GERMAN LAST NIGHT.

The Intrusive Sun Surprises the Dancers in Waltz's Entrancing Whirl.

The King of Day was peeping over the eastern horizon with a bright, smiling face when the last strain of sweet music died away and the participants in the german of last night ceased paying court at the shrine of Terpsichore.

The dance was delightfully delightful, so the enthusiastic devotees of the light fantastic pronounced it, and certainly a more brilliant and successful affair of the kind has not been given here this season.

There were some twenty couples on the floor—a notable gathering of most lovely women, richly costumed, and manly, graceful young men.

It was an occasion of entrancing, unalloyed enjoyment, and will linger in the memory of everyone present. A meed of praise is due the splendid management, and the fine music discoursed by the Raleigh orchestra.

Assessing the Railroads.

The chairman of the Granville county commissioners, Mr. T. D. Waller, returned to the city last night. He was in Raleigh Tuesday, where he met the chairmen of the Durham and Vance boards for the purpose of assessing the Durham & Northern Railroad for taxation. The amount fixed upon for the roadbed and track was $4,000 a mile, the same as last year.

Wednesday, Mr. Waller was in Durham to list the Oxford & Clarksville Railroad in conjunction with the chairman of the Durham commissioners. In the absence of the railroad officers they adjourned to meet in Oxford next Thursday.

Next Tuesday that portion of the Atlantic & Danville Railroad in North Carolina will be assessed here by the chairmen of the Person, Caswell and Granville boards.

Next Wednesday, at Henderson, the Oxford & Henderson Railroad will be assessed.

Echoes from Morehead City.

(Correspondent of THE DAY.)

MOREHEAD CITY, N. C., June 18.—Less than four hundred of us—tired, dusty, hungry, but cheerful—reached the Atlantic Hotel last evening at 7:30, for once on time. A hearty supper of soft crab, escalop fish, etc., was eaten, and then came the renewing of old acquaintances and the forming of new ones.

This annual convention is really a smiling oasis in the teacher's life. There is a heartiness of hand grasp, a cordiality of greeting, a sincerity of feeling, a frankness of interchange of experience that make these meetings truly helpful and inspiring. One noticeable feature of the present gathering is the small per cent of distinguished teachers in it. A large number of new faces is seen this year than usual.

Our county has a good representation as to numbers. Some fellow whispered to me that Granville was represented by the handsomest ladies and the homeliest men of any county.

Today the teachers enjoyed a complimentary sail given them by the boatmen of the village. Tomorrow the Assembly will get regularly down to work. Only one mail a day is a serious inconvenience to us who are used to several.

OVER THE WIRES.

A RAILROAD ACCIDENT ATTENDED WITH FATAL RESULTS.

Three Persons Killed and Twenty Others Injured by the Wreck of a Baltimore & Ohio Train.

[By telegraph to THE DAY.]

NEW YORK, June 20.—A Baltimore & Ohio passenger train was wrecked at Child's Station, a short distance from this city, this morning. Three persons were killed outright, and twenty—probably more—received severe injuries. All were brought here.

A Terrible Brute Hanged.

[By telegraph to THE DAY.]

QUEBEC, June, 20.—Rudolf Dubers was hanged this morning. He murdered his wife, mother-in-law and two children at Stalbons last February. He made a full confession of his terrible crime on the scaffold.

Disastrous Railroad Wreck.

Of the accident on the Asheville and Spartanburg Railroad Tuesday night, a later dispatch says: Perhaps the most destructive wreck, both in life and property, ever known in the history of the Western North Carolina Railroad occurred at Melrose station at the southern side of the Saluda mountain about thirty-two miles from this city on the Asheville and Spartanburg, S. C., division last night. The dead are Engineer J. J. Smyra, of Chester, S. C., Engineer Lewis Teenstall, of Yorktown, Va., Fireman W. G. Taylor, of Morristown, Tenn., son of W. P. Taylor, for twenty years conductor on the East Tennessee, Virginia and Georgia Railroad. The injured are C. Bowcock, flagman, thigh broken; George Ricketts, conductor, injuries not serious, escaped by jumping; Wm. Hoe, fireman, slight injuries, escaped by jumping; two colored brakemen, named Foster and Greenlee, painful but not dangerous wounds. From the apex of Saluda mountain to Melrose, the scene of the accident, a distance of less than three miles, there is a fall of fully six hundred feet. This fact has made the railroad authorities specially careful at this point, and an engine is kept constantly there to help all trains up and down the mountain. The track was very wet last night when a coal train started down, and soon after beginning the descent it became evident that twelve loaded cars were too much for both engines to hold, with all breaks down, and the speed gradually quickened under the heavy pressure until a speed of seventy-five miles an hour was reached, when the track spread; and the entire train plunge headlong down the mountain with a terrible crash; burying beneath the broken cars, cross ties and earth the brave men who had stood to their posts.

FRESH FROM THE PRESS.

State and General Items of Interest from Today's Papers.

Raleigh is kicking against the census for that city. The News-Observer says: "If the census enumerators have completed their work, and the News-Observer understands that to be the case, the thing is a complete farce. There are scores of people who have never yet seen a census man."

A dispatch from Houston, Tex., says that the Houston Light Guards are under arms, by order of Gen. King, being in readiness to respond to a call from Sheriff Harmond, of Polk county, in which trouble is expected. The negro, at Livingston, who cut the throat of a white man named Morris a few days ago, was lynched by a posse of armed men. In revenge a band of negroes killed two of the men alleged to be implicated. A bloody race war is feared.

The Greensboro Patriot says: "Just after the match-game of base ball at Warnersville, in the southern suburbs of the city, between the Graham and Greensboro nines, all colored, in which the Grahams were badly beaten, on Monday evening, Doc Watson, the captain of the Graham nine, assaulted Bob. Edwell, a colored spectator, with a bat breaking it over his head. A free fight then took place, a number of the participants being badly used up. Edwell died this morning, his skull having been fractured." Watson has skipped.

It is said that the Southern Republicans in the House will oppose the Federal Election bill. President Harrison is getting scared. Speaker Reed called at the White House and in the course of a conversation with the President the latter very bluntly declared that the course of the House in regard to the Federal Election bill was entirely too rapid, and "smacked too much of a disposition to coerce legislation." It is not that President Harrison is so much a friend of the South; it is that he loves Harrison, and his ambition for a renomination more. He realizes that Reed is making a bold stroke for the Presidential nomination. In pursuing the conversation, the President said he deemed it unwise on the part of the House to press legislation that was apparently antagonized by the Senate. He thought there was antagonism enough already, and that the House had better proceed with more deliberation and make an effort to get in line with the Republicans of the Senate. Speaker Reed took the President's advice in high dudgeon.
