NOTES OF THE DAY.

THE LOCAL HAPPENINGS SERVED IN SHORT PARAGRAPHS.

The Minor Events About the City as Gathered by the Alert Reporters of The Day.

The Literary Society meets tonight at the residence of Dr. M. V. Lanier.

Look out for another electrical storm as a termination of this hot spell.

Little knots of people were gathered about the street last night discussing base ball.

The Oxford Base Ball Club is open for engagements, and is anxious to meet the best nines of the State.

The serenaders were out on College street last night, and some bad boys silenced their music for a while with a "baby waker" which made the earth tremble.

There will be an ice cream party at Mr. D. A. Hunt's residence tonight, given by a number of young gentlemen complementary to their lady friends.

Invitations to the Soldiers' Home Festival at Raleigh next week have been extended the military companies at Goldsboro, Oxford, Warrenton, Henderson and Durham.

The Oxford Land, Improvement and Manufacturing Company got in orders today for between two and three thousand dollars worth of stock. It will only be a short while now before the entire amount is placed and the books closed.

We are indebted to Mr. Job Osborn, the wide-awake merchandise broker, for a new patented potato masher, something that will delight the heart of every house-keeper, and for one of the Daisy Fly Killers, a novel and most effective destroyer of the pestiferous insects. Either of these articles can be bought of Mr. Osborn for twenty-five cents each. He has also a new thermometer and storm indicator that is a beauty.

At the Dental Convention.

We see from the Wilmington papers that on the opening day of the State Dental Association convention in that city, our townsman, Dr. J. E. Wyche, read a paper on "Chemistry and Metallurgy," and on the following day, together with Dr. F. S. Harris, of Henderson, was down on the clinic programme for "Treatment of alveolar abscess by extraction; excision of sac and replantation of tooth, nitrous oxide gas being exhibited in extraction."

Election of Officers.

Allen Encampment, I. O. O. F., No. 23, last night elected the following new officers to serve for the next six months:

- W. D. Lynch, C. P.
- W. T. Meadows, H. P.
- F. B. Hays, S. W.
- J. M. Hays, J. W.
- A. A. Hicks, Rec. Scribe.
- H. D. White, Fin. Scribe.
- C. J. Gregory, Treas.

Fourth of July Rates.

The Richmond and Danville Railroad well sell low rate round trip tickets between all points on its lines within a distance of three hundred miles July 3rd and 4th, good returning until and including July 7th, 1890, on account of 4th July holiday.

Dwelling House for Rent.

Six large rooms. On Main street. Conveniently located. Apply to J. F. ROYSTER.

OXFORD VS. HENDERSON.

The Base Ball Clubs of the Two Places Play Here and Oxford Wins.

The score of the game of base ball played here yesterday afternoon between the Henderson and Oxford clubs was 12 to 5 in favor of the home nine.

It was a very pretty game, and the large crowd present had frequent opportunities to indulge in wild yells of approvals. The Oxford boys outplayed the representatives of our neighboring city at every point.

Lanier caught West without a passed ball, and as usual showed up strong at the bat. His praise was on every lip. His equal is not to be found in the State. West pitched evenly and effectively. Only six hits were made off of him, and the number would have been still less if he had received better field support. While the Oxford players did some brilliant work, they made an unusual number of errors, the result of the want of practice. Cain, at short stop, was quick, graceful and did a full part towards winning the victory. Turner held the first base well, and Meanly gives promise of making a first-class third baseman. Jones was not in his usual form at second base, but redeemed himself with timely hits and fine base running. Devin, Currin and Hunt, in the out field, had little to do, except at the bat, and they got on to Fleming's delivery all right.

On the Henderson side, Overton sustained his reputation as a fine catcher. Fleming was strong in the box and was much complimented by the spectators. Dunn was in good form, but Hart was a little off his customary work at first base. The remainder of the club did nothing to distinguish themselves.

Mr. Tom J. Strayhorn was umpire, and filled the position most acceptably.

The following is the official score:

OVER THE WIRES.

THE BURNING MINE AT DUNBAR REACHED THIS MORNING.

Nine Vessels Wrecked and Thirty-five Lives Lost in a Gale off Scotland—A Murderer Hanged.

[By telegraph to THE DAY.]

DUNBAR, PA., June 27.—The rescuers at the Hill Farm mine succeeded at ten o'clock this morning in reaching the burning mine. There is great excitement. It is hoped to recover the bodies of the lost men, all hopes of finding them alive having been abandoned several days ago.

NEW YORK, June 27.—It is learned that nine vessels were lost in a gale off the Scottish coast. Thirty five lives were lost.

PINE CITY, MINN., June 27.—Brooks, the murderer of Mrs. Combs, expiated his crime on the gallows this morning.

Davis & Gregory, Oxford.

The following is from the Henderson Gold Leaf of this week:

The first brick in the new warehouse for Davis & Gregory was laid to-day. The building will soon rise up, a valuable addition to our tobacco market and an ornament to College street.—Oxford Day, Monday.

This will be one of the largest, best lighted and most thoroughly modern tobacco sales warehouses in the State. The proprietors, Messrs. Davis & Gregory, are among the leading and best warehousemen in North Carolina, fully alive to the best interests of their patrons, and ever on the alert to extend their trade into new territory. As proprietors of New Johnson Warehouse they have won an enviable reputation for themselves, and when they get into their new establishment we may expect still greater things of them.

Bring your orders for tobacco flues to J. F. Edwards.

PURELY PERSONAL.

The Doings and Whereabouts of Some People You Know.

Mrs. Bell Currin, of Virginia, is visiting at Mr. J. M. Cur.in.

Mr. Thornton Yancey, one of Person's solid citizens, is in Oxford today.

Mrs. W. H. Elam, of Mecklenburg county, Va., is the guest of Mrs. Dr. Marsh.

Mr. Thad Manning, editor of the Henderson Gold Leaf, is in the city today, and paid us a pleasant call.

The Richmond Times says a cablegram, dated London, June 24, announced that Mr. John M. Taylor would sail on that day for home.

Dr. J. M. Emmitt went to Buffalo Springs, Va., this morning, being summoned there to attend Mr. John Y. McRae, of Raleigh. The doctor will be absent from home a week or more.

FRESH FROM THE PRESS.

State and General Items of Interest from Today's Papers.

Ex. U. S. Senator, and ex-War Governor Sprague, of Rhode Island, is now Chief of Police at Narragansett Pier.

The Chattanooga (Tenn.) News says: The Rev. Sam Jones' daughter, Annie, and Prof. Wm. Graham, who eloped from Cartersville last Christmas and were married in Chattanooga by the Rev. Mr. Drumbell, rector of St. Paul's Church, have separated. The couple went out to ride Christmas day, drove to a station above Cartersville, and took the train for Chattanooga, where they were married. They married in haste, and are now repenting at leisure. It is rumored that Prof. Graham will apply to have the marriage annulled.

The Wilmington Star says there is a band of highwaymen infesting the road leading to that city. Alex. Moore, a colored farmer, was attacked by three unknown negroes a few days ago and robbed of his money in broad daylight. He was on his way home from market in Wilmington. No particulars were given except that Moore was attacked about noon on the road, was struck on the back of the head and severely hurt, and that the outcry he made for his son, Mack Moore, frightened the robber, who ran off. This is the third or fourth occurrence of the kind reported within the past few weeks.

A special from Columbia S. C., says there is trouble between the races near Bamberg, Barnwell county. On Saturday some negroes went fishing in a boat owned by a white man, after they had been ordered not to use it. When the negroes returned they were set upon by the whites and beaten. In the fight a white man was severely injured. On Tuesday night Robert Kearse and a number of friends went to the house of the negro who appeared to be the leader of the party. The negroes were in ambush near the house, and fired on the whites, wounding eight of them, none dangerously, however. The negroes then fled. It is feared there will be more trouble over the matter.

The Greensboro Patriot says. About three weeks ago a party of revenue officers who were returning from a raid in Stokes and Surry, were ambuscaded in what is known as the Smith settlement, in Stokes county, and fired upon by blockade distillers. One of the party was Mr. Eugene Murrow, of this county a deputy marshal. Mr. Murrow's horse was wounded and reared and fell back on him. Murrow was sick when he left to go on the raid and after being injured by his horse falling on him, was brought here on the train. His symptoms developed into typhoid fever and a few days later he was taken to his home where he died yesterday evening. This morning Dr. Charles Glenn held a post mortem examination and found that Mr. Murrow's death was caused by the injuries received in the encounter with the illicit distillers.
