DON'T LEAVE HOME

To Have First-Class Tailoring Done!

I wish to state to the gentlemen of Oxford that I have made arrangements with one of the largest woolen houses North to prepare for me an extra line of samples for the Fall trade, which will be the finest ever in this market. They will be on exhibition at my place of business about the 10th of August. Do not place your orders until you have seen them or you may regret it.

I Guarantee a Good Fit and First-Class Work or no Sale.

I have already engaged the services of some of the finest workmen in the country. Thanking you for past patronage and hoping to merit a continuation of the same, I am, yours truly,

O. O. WHITE,
Merchant Tailor, - Oxford, N. C.

NOTES OF THE DAY.

THE LOCAL HAPPENINGS SERVED IN SHORT PARAGRAPHS.

The Minor Events About the City as Gathered by the Alert Reporters of The Day.

Prayer meeting at the Methodist church tomorrow night.

There is some fear of too much rain doing injury to the crops.

The soda water fountains have been resting for the past few days.

A light break of tobacco on the warehouse floors this morning.

Regular meeting of Oxford Lodge, No 103, I. O. O. F., tonight.

It is said that W. Z. Mitchell contemplates building a fine residence on Broad street.

Civil cases of no special public interest are now occupying the time of the Superior Court.

The Granville Grays are expected home from Wrightsville on the accommodation train tonight.

Rev. W. S. Black, D. D., of Raleigh, will preach at the Methodist Church next Sunday morning and night.

The fall session of Horner School opens next week. The outlook is for as many pupils as the school can accommodate.

There is a little too much moisture about this weather than is helpful to crops and pleasant to humanity. Some sunshine is wanted now.

The Danville Quartette will sing at the First Baptist Church, colored, tonight. Everybody respectfully invited. Admission fifteen cents.

We call the attention of Chief of Police Renn to the fact that riotous weeds have taken possession of Hays Street. They should be cleaned out.

There are a number of Granville young men in Eastern Carolina superintending the curing of tobacco. They are paid good wages for a month's work.

This is the season when the colored citizen is in his glory and the average white man feels rather more at peace with the world than usual. Watermelon carts in numbers are seen daily on the streets.

The Oxford Book Store has just gotten in a lot of fine legal-cap paper, extra wide and long, ruled on right and left, and lines numbered or plain. Also new line of blank books. The attention of lawyers and business men is called to these goods.

THE DAY is indebted to the Oxford Tobacco Company for several packages of their fine "Ox-Ford" smoking tobacco. It is a pleasant, mild, non-tongue-biting smoke, and as good as the best on the market. The company is making some nice shipments to the various States of the Union and to Canada.

July is on its last legs, and August, the hottest of 'em all, will soon be with us. The indications are that the new tobacco year will open sometime next month, and that our warehousemen will have their hands full handling heavy breaks every day from then until Christmas. Oxford has the best facilities for bright tobacco of any market in the State, and will hold the lead easily enough.

A Few Remarks by Dr. Dixon.

In an account of the Fayetteville District M. E. Conference, held the latter part of last week, a correspondent of the Raleigh Chronicle says:

Dr. B. F. Dixon, president of Greensboro Female College, addressed the convention. In his remarks he said that he was not going to Greensboro for the salary he was to receive, but to do good. Some of the papers had a good deal to say about the salary that he was to get; that everything considered his salary at Oxford was more than he would receive as president of the Greensboro College; that his main desire was not to grasp after the filthy lucre in this world, but to lay up treasure above.

He said that he had been right much scattered for about seven years, and sometimes did not know whether he was a Methodist, Presbyterian, Baptist or Episcopalian; for he had preached in every one of those churches; but that he had gotten back in his old clothes and felt at home where he expected to devote the rest of his life doing all the good he could for his fellow-man. He then proceeded to tell of the improvements that are to be made in the college buildings; that it was to be heated with steam; a steam laundry is to be added, bathrooms are to be placed in the building, and everything now needed to thoroughly equip it as one of the first educational institutions of the South; and that in the near future they would add to their regular course of teaching a domestic system, such as cooking, sewing, &c., to tully equip a young lady for the duties of life.

The North Greensboro Rolling Mills and Improvement Co., capital stock $100,000, has just been incorporated.

Wallace, Idaho, the great mining camp of the Couer d'Alene Mining district, has been completely destroyed by fire.

Hon. F. M. Simmon has withdrawn from the race for the Democratic nomination in the Second Congressional District.

Geo. W. Claffin, of New York, has been appointed instructor of mathematics and drawing at the University of North Carolina.

Perhaps the youngest mother in the country lives at Chapel Hill, N. C. She is not quite 14 years of age and has been married nearly a year. Her husband is only 17.

Capt. Henry Richards, of Hillsboro, was found drowned in Eno River Sunday morning at ten o'clock, says the Durham Sun. His remains were found not far above the depot and are supposed to have been in the water since Saturday.

The Durham Globe of yesterday says: "F. N. Strudwick's life is now despaired of. For several weeks his condition has been most precarious, and the news that his eminent physicians can only hope that he may live a few days longer, is most distressing to his countless admirers."

A singular electrical phenomenon is reported from Americus, Mo. From a small cloud in an otherwise clear sky, a single vivid flash of lightning descended, striking two men standing against a barbedwire fence, instantly killing one and paralyzing the other from the waist downward. A number of horses were hitched to the fence and one was killed and several injured. The shock was felt all over the village, several persons being severely shocked.

The News-Observer says: Treasurer Bain, Dr. Cordon and others who attended the Raleigh District M. E. Conference at Henderson have returned to the city and report that there was a large crowd in attendance and a most interesting meeting. Rev. Dr. Black was chairman of the Conference and Mr. Bain was secretary. The Conference elected four lay delegates to the annual Conference, as follows: D. W. Bain, of Raleigh; G. S. Pritchard, of Henderson; Millard Mial, of Wake; W. H. P. Jenkins, of Granville. It was decided to hold the next district conference at Clayton.

A revolution occurred in the Argentine Republic Saturday. A cablegram from Buenos Ayres says: Gens. Campos and Arredontis, commanding the insurgents, have seized the arsenal, barracks and Plaza Lavalle. Their forces include five military and two citizen battalions and the cadet corps. The government commands seven battalions, and expects reinforcements from Zarate. The street conflicts Saturday were adverse to the government. The losses on both sides were heavy. Many buildings were destroyed. The navy remains neutral. Senor Pelligrini, the vice-president, has assumed the presidency. The populace support the revolution, which has extended to the provinces.

To Manufacturers.
Parties wishing to locate Factories on the lands of the Oxford Land, Improvement and Manufacturing Company can learn something to their advantage by communicating with H. C. HERNDON, President of Oxford.

FORWARD IT GOES!

The Progress of the Oxford Land, Improvement and Manufacturing Co.

The new advertisement in THE DAY of the Oxford Land, Improvement and Manufacturing Company of course will not be overlooked. The company has secured some fine manufacturing enterprises to be located on their property, and will get a number of others ere long. Negotiations are pending with big factory owners, and important announcements may be made in the course of a few days. The directory is determined to have two thousand operatives employed in South Oxford, and they will get them.

The survey of the five hundred and ninety-odd acres of land is about completed, and it is found that sixty acres are in the present corporate limits of the city. The corporation of Oxford is small in territory, and does not nearly embrace the whole town. The next legislature will be petitioned to extend its boundaries.

Since the opening of the new streets the accessibility and desirability for building purposes of the property of the company is better seen, and calls forth expressions of warm praise from every visitor. Unquestionably it is as fine a body of land for the improvements contemplated as can be found anywhere. It is well adapted for factories and for residences. It will have ample railroad facilities and probably a street car line. The streets are wide and regular, the main avenues being eighty feet in width and the crossstreets sixty-five feet in width. A large number of workmen are now engaged in grading these streets and putting them in first-class condition. A park, with a mineral spring, has been located in a beautiful piece of woodland, and will be ornamented.

A visit to South Oxford, even at this stage of its development, is all that is needed to convince the most skeptical that the Oxford Land, Improvement and Manufacturing Company offers the best investment in the South. It is already a big success. Most of the stock has been sold, and it will only be a short while before the books will be closed.
